

Ten Dollars Reward
STOLEN from the subscribers on the night of the 30th ultimo, a light colored horse, about five feet high, a star or white spot in his face, eight or nine years old the coming spring, one hindmost foot white. (The left I believe) fast set in bad order, and a little splir, the left has the appearance of having received a wound near the outer edge, something like a chisel had been stuck in it. He works well in Cartage, Cags, &c.

I will give the above reward to any person who will be the cause of my obtaining possession of the above described horse.

SUBSCRIPTION
 For encouraging the introduction of the culture of the Grape Vine into the United States.

MR. ALPHONSE LOUBAT, having considerably enlarged his Vineyard, on Long-Island, six miles from New-York, on the road to Fort Diamond, where he now has, in full cultivation, a Vineyard of forty acres of ground, containing a stock of 65,000 Grape Vines, and a Nursery of 72,000 Grape Vines, comprising six or seven varieties, selected in Europe, between 40° and 50° N. latitude; and having also the peculiar advantage of being enabled to procure the best species of Root from his Father's extensive Vineyard and Nurseries, in the departments of Gironde, Lot, and Garonne, in France, 45° N. Lat. proposes to the numerous friends to the cultivation of the Grape Vine in the United States, a subscription.

Mr. A. L. will engage to furnish subscribers with their Grape Vine Roots, before the first of April next. The Roots will be three years old and will produce considerable fruit the second year from the time of their being planted. They will be carefully classed and packed, which will greatly facilitate the thriving of the Roots, when transplanted.

Orders will be punctually attended to: the subscribers designating the quantity and species of the Grape Vine Roots they wish to have. They will engage to pay for 1000 roots or more, at the rate of 125 cents for each root; for less than 1000, at the rate of 15 cents; and 25 cents per foot for less than 50. Roots only two years old shall be paid for at the rate of 9 cents each, for 1000 or more; 125 cents for less than 1000; and 18 cents for less than 50 roots.

Payment to be made on delivery of the roots. Letters not received unless POST-P.AID.

Mr. A. Loubat's Book on the Culture of the Grape Vine, and on the Making of Wine, may be found at the principal Booksellers of the United States; and his Agents will furnish them, gratis, to subscribers.

Mr. Loubat has selected the following species as the best; the choice of which is left to subscribers.

PROCLAMATION.
 By the Governor of North Carolina.
Two Hundred Dollars Reward.

WHEREAS It has been made known to me, that a murder has been committed in the county of Nash, and State of North Carolina, on the 23rd day of March last, and that a certain MEREDITH MESSER, late of the county and State aforesaid, stands charged by the finding of a Grand Jury upon a bill of indictment, with having perpetrated the same on the body of a certain Elijah McDaniel of said county; and as it is further represented, and made known to me, that the said Meredith Messer, hath absconded, and fled from the jurisdiction and limits of this State, and thereby eluded the arm of Law and of Justice.

Now, therefore, to the end that the said Meredith Messer may be apprehended and brought to justice, the above reward of Two Hundred Dollars will be given to any person or persons, who will apprehend and confine the said Meredith Messer in any jail in this State, so that he may be brought to justice; and I do moreover hereby require, command and enjoin all officers whatsoever, as well military, as civil within this State, to use their best endeavours to apprehend and take or cause to be apprehended and taken, the body of the said Meredith Messer, and him safely and securely keep, so that he may be brought to justice.

Meredith Messer is about 27 or 28 years of age, about 6 feet high, brown hair, much freckled on his face and hands, has a scar on one of his hands (not recollected which) occasioned by a blow and some of the bones of the hand broken, has remarkable eye teeth, and a singularity in his voice which would at once strike strangers, being at times large and full, and at others weak and effeminate.

Given under my hand as Governor, and under the great seal of the State, at the City of Raleigh, this 18th day of November A. D. 1829.

PROCLAMATION.
 By the Governor of North Carolina.
Two Hundred Dollars Reward.

WHEREAS It has been made known to me, that a murder has been committed in the county of Currituck, and State of North Carolina, on the 4th of September last, and that a certain IVEY WILKINS, late of the county & State aforesaid, stands charged by the verdict of a coroner's inquest with having perpetrated the same on the body of a certain Penelope Wilkins, of said county;—and as it is further represented and made known to me that the said Ivey Wilkins hath absconded and fled from the jurisdiction and limits of this State, and thereby eluded the arm of the law and of justice:

Now, therefore, to the end that the said Ivey Wilkins may be apprehended and brought to justice, the above reward of two hundred dollars will be given to any person or persons, who will apprehend and confine the said Ivey Wilkins in any jail in this State, so that he may be brought to justice; and I do moreover hereby require, command and enjoin all officers whatsoever, as well civil as military, within this State, to use their best endeavours to apprehend and take, or cause to be apprehended and taken, the body of the said Ivey Wilkins, and him safely and securely keep, so that he shall be brought to justice.

Ivey Wilkins is about five feet 4 inches high, stout made, light hair, blue eyes, full face, and has lost a part of his toes from one of his feet; he is a carpenter by trade, and is supposed to be in that part of Virginia near Currituck county.

Given under my hand as Governor, and under the great seal of the State, at the City of Raleigh, this 17th day of November, A. D. 1829.

WHEREAS It has been made known to me, that a murder has been committed in the County of Halifax, and State of North-Carolina, on the 21st day of October last: WHITMELL GOTTON late of the County and State aforesaid, stands charged by the finding of a Grand Jury, on a bill of indictment, with having perpetrated the same on the body of a certain John F. Harris of said county: And as it is further represented and made known unto me, that the said Whitmell Cotton hath absconded and fled from the jurisdiction and limits of the State, and thereby eluded the arm of the Law and of Justice:

Now, therefore, to the end, that the said Whitmell Cotton may be apprehended and brought to justice, the above reward of $200 will be given to any person or persons who will apprehend and confine the said Whitmell Cotton in any jail in this State, so that he may be brought to justice. And I do hereby, moreover require, command and enjoin all officers whatsoever, as well civil as military, within this State, to use their best endeavors to apprehend and take, or cause to be apprehended and taken, the body of the said Whitmell Cotton, and him safely and securely keep, so that he shall be brought to justice.

Whitmell Cotton is about 6 feet high, of light complexion, slender and erect in person, speaks with much apparent precision, is about 48 years of age, and is supposed to have fled to the State of Alabama.

 With their symptoms, causes, cure, and means of prevention: common cases in Surgery; the management and diseases of Women and Children; a Dispensary, for preparing Family Medicines; and a Glossary explaining Technical terms—Also, the Nurse's Guide.

The Seventh Edition.
 Revised, enlarged, and very considerably improved.
 BY JAMES EWELL, M. D.

On the important subject of domestic medicine, many books have been written, which, though excellent in other respects, have greatly failed of usefulness to Americans; because they treat of diseases which, existing in very foreign climates and constitutions, must widely differ from ours. The book now offered to the public has, therefore, the great advantage of having been written by a native American, of long and successful practice in the southern states, and who, for years, past, has turned much of his attention to the composition of it.

To every family, more especially those in remote situations, the possession of this book must unquestionably, be of incalculable value: for, conducted by such a guide, it will not be presumptuous to say that any person of tolerable capacity, and reasonable attention, may be enabled to practise with safety and advantage, in those cases of simple diseases most incident to our climate.

HAVING been solicited by my friends, I will hereafter be prepared to accommodate with Board and Lodging, transient persons, whose stay in the city may be limited to a short period. I shall also be glad to receive Boarders by the week, month or year. My Table shall be well furnished, my Stables supplied with good provender, and my charges adapted to the pressure of the times.

I have at present boarding with me, a Professor of Music and his family. My house offers, therefore, great facilities to young Ladies from a distance, who wish to receive instructions in this polite branch.

Boydton Male Academy,
 Mecklenburg County, Va.

THE Subscriber, who was some time a Tutor in the University of this State, has taken charge of the Boydton Male Academy. The Exercises will commence on the 19th inst. In addition to the Branches of Learning usually taught in the best institutions of this grade, instruction will be given to such as desire it, in the French and Spanish. Terms of tuition, for the Languages and Mathematics $12 00; Common and English Branches, as Grammar, Geography, &c. $10, for the Session of five months. Board may be obtained in respectable families at $5 per month. When every thing is furnished to Students, as fuel, washing, candles &c. the expence in no case will exceed $35 dollars a session. From its great healthfulness, moral and refined society, central situation and convenient access, Boydton possesses many advantages for a permanent literary establishment. The Academy is very retired and remote from the bustle of the town, and the inhabitants will cooperate with the teacher in the suppression of vice and the preservation of order. As the morals of those committed to my care will be strictly guarded, none of notoriously bad character need be sent, as they will not be permitted, by remaining, to contaminate others. Of the eligibility of its situation, the fact of its having been selected as a location for the contemplated College, is sufficient evidence. With a view to the design of which institution, to bring liberal learning within the reach of persons of moderate fortunes, the Board and Tuition have been fixed at low rates.

Of my competency to teach the French and Spanish, I have satisfactory testimonials from the Professor of Modern Languages at Chapel Hill.

To Members of the Bar

THE Subscribers beg leave to call the attention of legal gentlemen throughout the United States to their American edition of English Common Law Reports, edited by Thomas Sergeant and John C. Lower, Esquires, of the Philadelphia Bar.

The constant reference to the recent English Reports, in the arguments of Counsel and the decisions of the American Courts, particularly on commercial matters; and the analogy that must necessarily subsist in questions arising in two countries, whose legal principles and forms are in many respects the same; clearly evince the utility of the above mentioned publication. There is probably no American Jurist who would not desire to possess the convenience of referring to the points decided in England, as early after their authentic publication as possible.

But few members of the American Bar purchase all the Modern English Reports, partly because their enormous price, and partly because more than one half of their contents is of no interest in this country; of this description are cases upon the antiquity act, tithes, particular acts of Parliament, special customs, branches of Common Law peculiar to the political and ecclesiastical organization of that country; and others that might be enumerated.

With a view of removing this inconvenience, and the necessity of purchasing useless matter, this publication has been undertaken, and has been conducted on the most economical plan, appearing in full, only those cases which are applicable to this country; and retaining of the others only the names and marginal notes.

Fourteen volumes of the work are already published, furnishing a series of Reports in the Courts of Common Pleas, King's Bench, and Nisi Prius from 1813 to 1829; and from the arrangements the publishers have made for obtaining the English Reports by the earliest opportunity, they think it will be in their power to republish them here, within four months after their appearance in England.

The fifteenth volume will be issued from the press in three months, and will contain 5th Bingham and 8th Barnwell & Creaswell.

Subscription price six dollars per volume, handsomely bound in calf, or five dollars per volume in paper covers.

Subscriptions, or orders for complete sets of old volumes, received by the publishers, by J. Gales & Son Raleigh, or any of their agents.

North American Arithmetic.

BY FREDERICK EMERSON
 Principal of the Department of Writing and Arithmetic, Boylston School, Boston.

THIS little Book, has elicited the strongest expressions of approval from individuals whose judgment the Publishers can rely, and to extend its circulation. The Preface to Part First, will show the purpose of the work, and the subjoined remarks, extracted from voluntary notices which have come under the observation of the Publishers, will show the estimation in which the book is held, wherever it is known.

"This little work is one of the most attractive, and consequently useful tracts of the kind we have yet seen. It furnishes instruction in a guide so fascinating, that by its aid, the little learner will have attained the elementary principles of this branch of education, before he himself is aware of his progress. The elements of the science are elucidated in a very happy manner by cuts, or prints of objects, with which every child is familiar; these are so arranged, that by the slightest inspection, he will immediately acquire ideas of the properties of number, which by a more abstract method, a mere lecturer might not be able to impress in a course of many weeks. We cannot recommend too highly this little treatise to the notice and patronage of teachers, parents, and others interested in the advancement of juvenile education."—Boston Advertiser.

"We have never seen a school book better adapted to the present volume, is to introduce children at a very early age, to a familiar acquaintance with the elementary principles of Arithmetic. His method is so natural, and his illustrations so well suited to the infant mind, that we are confident that any child of ordinary capacity, of five years old, may be taught by it, all that it purports to teach."—Concord Advertiser.

"The merit of Mr. Emerson's performance is, that principles are so explained and simplified, that the study of Arithmetic may profitably be pursued in our infant and Elementary Schools. By the introduction of cuts to illustrate the questions, he has hit upon an admirable method of engaging the infant mind, and enabling it to comprehend principles which it would be utterly at a loss to understand if represented in their more abstruse shape."—American Manufacturer.

"This is the most curious and amusing book for elementary instruction in Arithmetic, which we have ever witnessed. Not only are figures introduced, but the science of numbers is illustrated by pictures arranged in the most judicious manner, and calculated at once strongly to impress the youthful mind."—It seems to us that it would impart the science of computation to the understanding of Dulness itself.

Columbian Star.
 Let any parent amuse himself by the attempt to instruct a child, wholly ignorant of numbers, from this little book, and he will be delighted and surprised at the easy progress that will soon be made. The study of arithmetic, generally, the most unpoplar and discouraging with children, on this plan, becomes a pastime. We have been particularly pleased with the mode of teaching a child to read figures; a knowledge which they acquire with great difficulty on the old system, and which is left to mere chance in most of our schools. Mr. Emerson has rendered it as easy as to count one's fingers; and a child of six years may be taught the figures in half an hour. We believe it will be a real acquisition to early schools, and hope to see it generally introduced."—Rhode Island American.
