FROM MR. JEFFERSON'S MEMOIRS OF HIS OWN LIFE.

January 6, 1821.
At the age of 77, I begin to make some memoranda, and state some recollections of dates and facts concerning myself, for my own more ready reference, and for the information of my family.

The tradition in my father's family was, that their ancestors came to this country from Wales, and from near the mountains of Snowdon, the highest in Great Britain. I noted once a case from Wales, in the law reports, where a person of our name was either plaintiff or defendant; and one of the same name was secretary to the Virginia Company. These are the only instances in which I have met with the name in that country. I have found it in our early records; but the first particular information I have of any ancestor was of my grandfather, who lived at the place in Chesterfield called Osborne's and owned the lands afterwards the glebe of the parish.
He had three sons: Thomas who died young, Field, who settled on the waters of the Roanoke, and left several descendants, and Peter, my father, who settled on the lands I still own, called Shadwell. He was born Feb. 29, 1707-8, and intermarried 1739, with Jane Randolph, of the age of 19; daughter of Isham Randolph, one of the seven sons of that name and family, settled at Dungeness in Goochland. They trace their pedigree far back in England and Scotland, to which let every one ascribe the faith and merit he chooses.

My father's education had been quite neglected; but being of a strong mind, sound judgment, and eager after information, he read much and improved himself, insomuch that he was chosen with Joshua Fry, Professor of Mathematics, in William and Mary College, to continue the boundary line between Virginia and North Carolina, which had been begun by Col. Byrd; and afterwards employed with the same Mr. Fry to make the first map of Virginia which had ever been made, that of Capt.
Smith being merely a conjugal sketch.— They possessed excellent materials for so much of the country as is below the Blue Ridge; little being then known beyond that Ridge. He was the third or fourth settler, about the year 1737, of the part of the country in which I live.— He died August seventeenth, 1767, leaving mother a widow, who lived till 1776, with six daughters and two sons, myself the eldest.—To my younger brother he left his estate on James River, called Snowdon, after the supposed birth-place of the family; to myself, the lands on which I was born and live.—He placed me at the English school at five years of age, and the Latin at nine, where I continued until his death.

My teacher, Mr. Douglas, a clergyman from Scotland with the rudiments of the Latin and Greek languages, taught me the French, and on the death of my father, I went to the Rev. Mr. Maury a correct classical scholar, with whom I continued two years; and then to wit, in the Spring of 1760, went to William and Mary College, where I continued two years. It was my great good fortune, and what probably fixed the destiny of my life, that Dr. Wm.
Small, of Scotland, was then Professor of Mathematics, a man profound in most of the useful branches of science, with a happy talent of communication, correct and gentlemanly manners, and an enlarged and liberal mind. He, most happily for me, became soon attached to me, and made me his daily companion when not engaged in school; and from his conversation I got my first views of the expansion of science, and of the system of things in which I am placed. Fortunately the philosophical chair became vacant soon after my arrival at College, and he was appointed to fill it per interim; and he was the first who ever gave in that College, regular lectures in Ethics, Rhetoric, and Belles-Lettres. He returned to Europe in 1762, having previously filled up the measure of his goodness to me by procuring for me, from his most intimate friend George Wythe, a reception as a student at law, under his direction, and introduced me to the acquaintance and familiar table of Governor Fauquier, the ablest man who had ever filled that office.— With him, and at his table, Dr. Small and Mr. Wythe, his amicus omnium horarum, and myself, formed a partis quarree, and to the habitual conversations on these occasions I owed much instruction. Mr. Wythe continued to be my faithful and beloved Mentor in youth, and my most affectionate friend through life. In 1767, he led me into the practice of the law at the bar of the General Court, at which I continued until the Revolution shut up the Courts of Justice.

MARRIAGES OF KINGS.

The practice of Kings marrying only into the families of Kings, has been that of Europe for some centuries. Now take any race of animals, confine them in idleness and inaction, whether in a stable, or a stable or a state room, pamper them with a high diet, gratify all their sexual appetites, immerse them in sensualities, nourish their passions, let every thing bend before them, and banish whatever might lead them to think, and in a few generations they become all body and no mind; and this too by a law of nature, by that very law by which we are in the constant practice of changing the characters and propensities of the animals we raise for our own purpose. Such is the regimen in raising Kings, and in this way they have gone on for centuries. While in Europe, I often amused myself with contemplating the characters of the then reigning sovereigns of Europe. Louis XVI. was a fool, of my own knowledge and in despite of the answers made for him at his trial. The King of Spain was a fool, & of Naples the same: they passed their lives in hunting, and despatched two couriers a week one thousand miles, to let each other know what game they had killed the preceding days. The King of Sardinia was a fool. All these were Bourbons. The Queen of Portugal, Braganza, was an idiot by nature; and so was the King of Denmark; their sons, as Regents, exercised the powers of government. The King of Prussia, successor to the great Frederick, was a mere hog in body as well as in mind. Gustavus of Sweden, and Joseph of Austria, were really crazy; and George of England, you know, was a There remained, then, none but old Catherine, who had been too lately picked up to have lost her common sense. In this state Bonaparte found Europe; and it was this state of its rulers which lost it with scarce a struggle.
Memoirs of Thos. Jefferson.

RESPECT TO THOMAS NEWTON.

Norfolk, March 24.
The political friends of the Hon. Thomas Newton, being desirous of giving a public expression of their sentiments and feelings on the event which has caused his retirement from the station of the Representative of their district in the National Congress, and at the same time of testifying their respect for his private worth, and their grateful estimate of his public services during a period of nearly thirty years, held a meeting at Johnson's Hotel, on Monday week, when they adopted the necessary arrangements for that purpose, and appointed a Committee to carry them into effect.

It was intended that the Committee should have received him on board the Potomac, on his arrival, and escorted him home; but this arrangement was defeated by the lateness of the hour at which the Potomac arrived on Thursday night; the Committee, therefore, assembled on Friday, and proceeded in a body to his dwelling, accompanied by Doctor JOHN HODGES, who was deputed to address him, and by many others. Mr. Newton was sensibly affected by this evidence of the attachment and confidence of his fellow citizens —indeed, the scene is represented to have been one of peculiar interest. We pass over the manner of his ejection from a station, the duties of which he has discharged with a fidelity and ability beyond any eulogy of ours—but the recollections of his long services—his undeviating rectitude and inflexible patriotism—his devotion to the welfare of his country, and his acts for the promotion of the best interest of his immediate constituents—calculated as they are on such an occasion to awaken the best feelings of the patriot, demand in the language of bitter reproof.—Is such the reward of faithful service? Herald.

[The Address of Dr. Hodges, and the Reply of Mr. Newton, are too long for our present space. It seems to be due to Mr. Newton, to copy the following paragraphs from the close of his reply:]

"I return to you deprived, in contravention of law and facts, of the power, and the honors you have legitimately conferred. In my representative character, your suffrages and your rights have been violated. A report which nobody can understand—not even the tyrannical manufacturers of it, has laid the axe, by the operation of faith, at the root of all free government—the constitutional sanctity of the people's representative.

"Every effort to reconmit the report, for the purpose of obtaining a list of the names of the voters allowed as legal, or rejected as illegal, failed; had the names been given to enable the members to apply the evidence to each voter objected to, I hesitate not to say, that I should have had at least a majority of one hundred votes over the opposing candidate. I make this declaration to those who know, as well as I do, that it is founded on matter of fact.
But the political fates had decreed, that the scissors should cut the thread that united our hearts, and connected us together in one common cause, and in one common interest. Principles, often avowed, and as often insisted on, as being sound and correct, were put aside—latitudinarian doctrines to inflict injury were resorted to, while anti-latitudinarian doctrines are practised on, to suffocate the good which the principles of the Constitution embosom for the benefit of all.

"The talent which my fellow citizens put into my hands, and entrusted to me, has been, against law and facts, forced from my possession and management, and placed in hands which the People's power never made to receive and manage it, for them. This contest is familiar to you, as well as all the incidents connected with it. I have endeavored to do my duty towards you, and to myself. I have the gratification of receiving the approbation of my fellow citizens—and what renders that inestimable, is the approbation of my own conscience. Whatever, fellow citizens, may be my destiny, I shall never cease to cherish, for our common country, and its happy political and civil institutions, a patriot's love—and for you, and the rest of my fellow citizens, an ardent and sincere gratitude for the confidence you have reposed in me, and the uniform and steady friendship uninterruptedly exhibited and bestowed for more than thirty years."

Valuable Property for sale.

HAVING determined on going to the North to reside, I will offer for sale to the highest bidder for Cash, on Tuesday the 11th May next, (being Court week,) without reserve, the following property to wit:

Nine likely young Negroes of the following qualifications:

A first rate carriage driver and waiter; an excellent cook, inferior to none; a good ironer and washer; three house servants; a young boy and two fellows, 20 years of age, accustomed to field work.

Also, on a credit of six months, for bond and approved security, a first rate new CARRIAGE, (of Campfield's make,) with good HARNESS and a pair of good and gentle match Hay Horses, only six years old this spring—the Carriage and horses will be sold together or separately, to suit purchasers.

All my household Furniture.

Part of which consists of a Sideboard, Piano Forte, Tables, Bureaus, one do. with Looking Glass, Bedsteads, Chairs, Carpets, Venetian Blinds, &c. together with a good assortment of Cut Glass, dining and tea sets of China Ware.

I will sell any part of the above mentioned property privately before the day of sale should application be made. Those desirous of procuring good house servants, will rarely find an opportunity like the present.

During the same week, I will positively dispose of the whole of my present stock of Dry Goods, Groceries, Hardware, &c.

At a reduction of 10 per cent. under cost. After which, my Store House will be for sale or rent. As a country stand for business, I think it equal to any in this State.

February Term, 1830.

James Simms vs Benjamin Miller.

Original attachment.—Levied, &c.

IT appearing to the satisfaction of the Court that the defendant in this case has removed himself out of the State, so that the ordinary process of law cannot be served on him; it is therefore ordered, that publication be made in the Raleigh Register for six weeks, that unless he appears before the Justices of our Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions at the next Court, to be held for the County of Wayne at the Courthouse in Waynesborough, on the third Monday of May next, then and there to reply and plead to issue, final judgment will be entered up against him.

NOTICE.

Twenty Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber on the 10th of February last, a white Slave, named CUL-LIN, or CULLIN MEDLIN, as he calls himself.
He is about 23 years old, 6 feet high, weighs about 165 lbs. his neck, hands and mouth are of a reddish look, gray eyes, light hair, and kinky thick feet; he stammers when talking, has a small scar on the first joint of the great toe on his right foot, occasioned by the cut of an axe.
It is probable that he will alter his name and try to pass among the lower class of white people, as he is bright himself; his cheeks are very very white, with yellow spots; his clothing was he last heard from consisted of a blue satinet coat and pantaloons, and white fur hat.
Likely he is in Robeson county, on Drowning Creek, as he has relations there, or in Cumbercounty, on Cape-Fear.

I will give the above reward for his delivery to me in Lenoir county, free of any other expense: or to have him secured in any Jail so land that I get him again.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber, living in Sussex county, Va. about two months since, a Negro Man Slave, named BEN. The said negro was purchased by me of Captain Thomas Gray, Jun of Southampton Who, I think, brought him from the neighborhood of Raleigh, N. C. where he is, I expect at this time, as he has near relations at or near Mr. D. Gray's—Ben is about 5 feet 8 inches high, stout and compactly built; very black, with quite a full head of hair, which he keeps combed very high in front. As I was in possession of this fellow but a few days, I know of no marks by which to designate him. He carried off no clothes.

I will give a reward of $25 for his confinement in Jail, so that I get him—or $40 if delivered to me. W. M. F. WYCHE.

A Caution to the Public.

SOME two or three years last past, a man by the name of AUGUSTIN or AUSTIN BLA-LOCK has been living in this neighborhood (Northampton county, N. C.); his occupation was, alternately, a House Carpenter and Overseer. During his stay in this neighborhood, he married an industrious, respectable poor woman.
The day after she was delivered of her first child, he absconded without any known cause whatever. The said Blalock is fond of ardent spirits, and when under the influence of liquor, is disposed to be quarrelsome. No doubt he will attempt to marry again if he can meet with an opportunity. He may be known by the following description, viz. He is supposed to be between 45 and 50 years of age, of light complexion, yellow hair, the middle finger of his right hand is contracted so as to be drawn down on the palm of the thumb; he has also lost the first joint of his hand on his left hand by means of a white-low. The last account that was heard of him he was in Guilford county, N. C. at, or in the neighborhood of a place called New-Garden.

Money Lost.

ON Friday last, the Subscriber, while travelling in the Stage from Raleigh to Fayetteville, lost a Packet of Money and Papers, the precise sum not known, but believed to be between two and three hundred dollars, consisting of Treasury Notes, several one dollar Newbern bills, two dollar State Bank bills, several five and ten dollar State Bank bills, and five and ten dollar bills on South-Carolina Bank; 4 or 5 ten dollar bills on the United States Bank, one distinctly recollected to be signed by John Huske, and one by Jones. Also, a five dollar Cheraw bill, folded in a paper, and endorsed "D. Maak, to whom it belongs. There was also a Justice's Judgment for $90, in favor of Stackburgher's Executors against Mr. Legrand of Anson, with credits thereon.

The whole was folded in a sheet of blank paper, and snugly tied up. A liberal reward will be paid to the person finding the same, and delivering it to the Editors of the Register, Raleigh, the Editor of the Observer, Fayetteville, or to the Subscriber.

EXCHANGE, NORFOLK, VA.

SITUATED on Main Street, the most op-acious and beautiful in the whole Borough, and convenient to all the Steam Boats and Public Places, whether of pleasure or business. This extensive establishment has been enlarged and improved. The furniture is new and elegant, and the Parlours and Chambers are furnished in the first style. The House, under its present arrangement, is equal to any, and inferior to none in the United States. The Public Rooms, Chambers and Parlours for private families, are handsomely fitted up and well furnished.

A Reading Room, and a Letter Box for the Post Office, are also attached to this establishment.
STABLES and CARRIAGE HOUSES with every appendage necessary for the convenience of the gentleman and traveller.

ALL THE STAGES

will start from this House, and a general office will be kept on the premises, from whence the numerous stages for north and south will start.

The convenience, beauty and accommodation of this establishment, and the premises are acknowledged to be superior to any in the place. The proprietor pledges himself that no exertion on his part shall be wanting to promote the comfort of guests and visitors. Thankful for past favours, which he received while at the north, the subscriber confidently hopes, by attracting attention to merit a continuance of public patronage.
