He said the speaking lasted for more than five continuous hours; the attention of the auditors seemed not at all to flag. The first person called to the stand was CHARLES MANLY, Esq. who spoke for more than two hours, in TATES, CAN, WITHOUT ASSUMPTION OF FOWER, AND the most convincing manner, occasionally relieving the a new impulse to industry, and rouse into action the gravity of argument by a well-timed, and well told Anecdote. The startling facts which he brought to, light, with regard to the profligate expenditures of the Administration, seemed to make a very deep impression on the crowd, and we have no doubt that the fruits of the Speech will hereafter appear. JOSEPH GALES, sen. Esq. was next called to the stand and occupied it for more than an hour. We shall not be prevented by any false delicacy, from saying that we have rarely listened to a more interesting address. Having had a personal acquaintance with all the Presidents, and most of the distinguished men of the nation from the days of Washington to the present time, he had it in his power to communicate a number of striking historical facts not generally known; and the contrast which he drew between the Republican simplicity of WASHINGTON, JEFFERSON and MADISON, and the costly Administration we now have, was a most faithful one, and exhibited in strong colours the corruption which now exists. He alluded to the circumstance of his having established the first Republican Newspaper, ever printed in North-Carolina, and to the fact of the whole Whig party, (himself included,) being now denounced as Federalists, and proceeded to show by various illustrations, that the Van Buren par-

And if he should be active interest of his Country, he is liable to be assailed, misrepresented, reviled and insulted by his enemies. And cople had come out, not to indulge in excess of any the only lawful means by which this can be effected kind, but to be informed on National Affairs, and he is the faithful exercise of the elective franchise. At honed order and decorum would be preserved. And the polls, the People may now dispel the cloud which the injunction was well attended to, for though the hangs over us, or make a successful retreat from its impending ravages. The election of Gen, HARRISON will restore confidence, revive business, cheer the hopes and brighten the prospects of hundreds and thousands who are now depressed and desponding. It will give dormant energies of the Nation. Yea, I think it will do infinitely more; it will procrastinate the awful catastrophe of Civil War, with all its direful consequences. For, should Mr. VAN BUREN be re-elected, and carry out his principles, this must, sooner or later, take place. His Sub-Treasury Act, his Militia Law, and the introduction of Negro testimony against white men, are well calculated to produce in the South, tame submission or open rebellion. Submission is out of the question-Rebellion then will be the only alternative.

I am, Gentlemen,

With sentiments of very high esteem. Your friend and humble servant, JOSIAH CRUDUP.

THE PRESIDENT IN THE FIELD.

The most remarkable confession which has yet been made of the alarm known to be felt by the Administra tion party is President VAN BUREN's answer, just published, to a letter inviting him to attend a meeting of his partisans held at the White Sulphur Springs in Kentucky, on the 11th of July last. When he left the seat of Government, last year, to pass four months in his native State, though the visit was unusually long, quence. Added to this, music, and painting, and poand though he rather ostentatiously let it be known that travelling as the President of a party, friends argued that the necessity of recreation after severe official toil was an adequate motive for the journey, and objected to any other explanation of it as the offspring of a censorious spirit. The letter to which we have referred, admits of no such apology; unless, indeed, the distinguished writer expected his health to be surpassed. be benefited by "the excitement of composition."-The letter is, plainly, an electioneering document; elaborate, and embodying the ad captandum topics of the political sect of which he is the head. The energy (not to use a stronger term) of the diction, when compared with the courtly moderation which has hitherto characterized Mr. Van Buren's compositions, indicates the pressure of his circumstances. Indeed, this pressure must be severe when a gentleman of his tact and prudence is driven to the expedient of descending from the Presidential chair into the political arena to fight in the ranks. It will perhaps have the expected effect of rallying " the party ;" but, unless we greatly mistake the temper of the American People, the converts whom it makes will be, like those made by his visit to New York, against him, instead of in his favor. The letter shall appear in our next. Since the publication of the above-mentioned letter of the President, we have seen in the Richmond Enquirer of the 7th instant, another letter of his addressed to a Committee in Elizabeth City County, Va. in answer to questions in relation to Slavery, the U. States Bank, the Tariff, Internal Improvements and Poinsett's Scheme for organizing the Militia. His discourse on these subjects fills between four and five columns in small type.

Harrison's character without reproach. He has been my neighbor; I have often been an inmate of his family, and I consider his house one of the best houses, for Ministers, in all Ohio."

The Bishop is well known for his great prudence and in the same conversation, when asked how he thought Gen. Harrison would administer our Government, reblied-" I believe the affairs of this nation would be as well administered by Gen. Harrison as by President Van Buren, or any of his friends." Extract of a letter from a gentleman in Arkansas, his friend in Washington city, dated the 18th ult . . " " The young men of this State held a Convention at this place on the 12th instant, and no language can convey an adequate idea of the exhilarating spectacle which was presented on that day. It is true we cannot boast, like some of our old and densely-populated sister States, of having had a Convention of twenty, or fifteen, or ten, or even five thousand : yet, as the infant of the Union, with a small and scattered population, not much given to pageantry, we think we may justly boast of a great and glorious gathering of freemen in the one thousand 'Log Cabin Boys' who have assembled, at this busy season of the year, to pronounce condemnation against the men and neasures which have deranged our currency, prostrated the industry of our country, trampled upon our rights, and which now threaten the total subversion of the precious institutions under which we live. The spectacle was one which must be seen to be fully appreciated. No mere combination of words can des cribe the electric feeling-the mute eloquence of the heart beaming from the eye—the glowing countenance, or the hearty and heart-stirring response of the assem-bled multitude to the thrilling appeals of patriotic elo-

NEW YORK. AUGUST 5.

Our State Convention assembles in about a week nominate a Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and 42 electors. The present State incumbents will be renominated, I presume, for I hear of no objections. Our Locofoco (city) fellow-citizens have had strange freak within a day or two, viz: the celebration of the gallant defence of Fort Stephenson during the last war by Col. Croghan. They have taken it into their heads to form "a Croghan Association." They abuse Gen. Harrison in the most approved style of Mr. Kendall, but they are not over-laudatory of the brave Croghan. They will gain about as much in this as in bringing Col. Johnson on here, and probably no more.

From Raleigh to the South, there is a daily line of stages running in connection with the Rail Road Cars. To the South West and West, there is a daily line of four house post conches. West, there is a daily line of four horse post coaches which leave immediately on the arrival of the train, and run via Hillsboro' and Greensboro, to Salisbury -from thence a tri-weekly line via York and Abbeville, S. C. to Milledgeville, Ga. There is also a fri-weekly hack line from Raleigh, via Pittsboro and Ashboro to Salisbury. From Salisbury there is a tri-weekly four horse post coach line via Lincolnton and Ruthe fordion to Ashville, and also a tri-weekly back line from Salisbury, via Statesville and Mor-ganton to Ashville. From Ashville to the Warm Springs there is a four horse post coach line six times a week, and from thence a tri-weekly line, via Newport and Dardridge to Knorville,-there is also a semi-weekly line via Greensville to Knorville. At Greensboro'. N. C. a tri-weekly four horse cosch line branches off and runs via Salem, N. C. thence scross the Blue Ridge to Wythe Court House, Vs. where it intersects with the Valley Line. From this line there is also a tri-weekly back fine which branches off at Salem, N. C. and rons via Huntsville, Wilkesboro', Jefferson, N. C., Elizabethton and Jonesboro' Tenn. to Knoxville;

It will thus be seen that there are three stage lines connecting Tennessee with the central parts of North Carolina, and two, connecting South Carolina and Georgia with North Carolina. All these lines final-ly concentrate at Raleigh, the Southern terminus of

AND YET ANOTHER!

Our Log Cabin presented on Saturday last, an im posing array. At 10 o'clock, it was announced, that a body of Horsemen from the patriotic District of Mark's Creek was approaching the City. The Whigs, hastily summoned together, formed a procession with Music, and marched to the suburbs of the town, where they welcomed their friends, and forming in line, marched through the principal streets, presenting an unbro ken column of nearly a quarter of a mile in length .-Our friends from the country brought a welcome offer, ing with them, in the shape of a barrel of Hard Cider. On reaching the Cabin, a halt was made, and the Horses having been disposed of, it was very soon filled t overflowing.

JOSEPH GALES, sen. having been called on, spoke for an hour and a half, and showed in strong light the absolute necessity of a change of our rulers. He was followed by Gov. IREDELL, who gave a most glowing description of the abuses of the Government, and the manner in which freemen must redress their grievances. GEN. HARRISON.

While surrounded by all that is most flattering to noble heart, fame, the certain evidence of the love and esteem of his countrymen, and the sure prospect of the richest and most glorious reward which they bes tow upon him for his past faithful and devoted services to his country, private griefs hang heavily upor his spirit. Heaven, as if to remind him of the empti-ness of earthly honors, is visiting him with affliction in the domestie circle, He has buried, since 1835 three sons ; recently he had consigned to the grave another, a young and promising son just entering the age of manhood ; his youngest and only remaining one is suffering from a severe wound ; his wife, the participator in all the varied vicissitudes of joy and sorrow of his eventful life, still continues dangerously ill, and, it is feared, is about to be taken from im .- N.
