We think it probable our candidate will be one of the above named gentlemen.—Whether any of them would accept a nomination, however, we do not know. This much we feel morally certain of—either of them is able, sustained as they would be by the Republicans of the district, to distance Senator Brown, Col. Reid, or Squire Hill. Greensboro' Patriot.

CONGRESS.

EDITOR'S CORRESPONDENCE.

Washington, February 5.

The Treasury Note Bill passed the House of Representatives this evening about half past eight o'clock. It was brought out of the Committee of the Whole at seven, after a highly animated and interesting discussion. Mr. Rayner, of your State, addressed the Committee in a speech, remarkable for the valuable information it presented, for cogent argument, and unaffected and glowing eloquence. It was, indeed, one of the finest displays of oratory witnessed in the House during the present session. Mr. RAYNER has already won a high reputation, and is decidedly among the most promising men that have recently come into public life. The good sense, practical views and cultivated taste which he exhibited to-day, secured for him the approbation of the most discerning judges in the House.

After the bill was reported from the Committee of the Whole to the House, the votes were taken on the several amendments which had been offered—all of them were rejected except the following, which had been proposed by Mr. WISE:

Provided, That in case the Treasury notes outstanding and unredeemed, issued under former laws of Congress, added to the amount of such notes issued under this act, and actually expended or issued to meet payments due and payable before the 4th of March next, shall, on the 4th of March next, exceed the sum of five millions of dollars, then the President of the United States be, and he is hereby, authorized to issue, by virtue of the provisions of this act, such further amount of the said notes as will make the whole amount issued under this act, and applicable to payments falling due after the 3d of March next, the full sum of five millions of dollars.

The bill was then ordered to be engrossed for a third reading, and finally passed, and the House immediately adjourned.

HON. EDWARD STANLEY.

We find the following Communication in the "United States Gazette," printed at Philadelphia, which we transfer to our columns, for the purpose, simply, of showing the estimation in which our talented young Statesman is held abroad.

Mr. CHANDLER:—I observe that Mr. Stanley, of North Carolina, is spoken of in connection with a seat in the Cabinet. Should Gen. Harrison determine to select a member of his Cabinet from the South-Eastern States, for myself I know not the man that would be more acceptable to the Whigs, or even to the country at large. Mr. S. has, during his Congressional career, distinguished himself as a prompt and efficient debater, and an eloquent speaker, and proved himself as fearless as he is irreproachable. North Carolina certainly deserves a representative in the Cabinet, and no one of her Statesmen has a stronger hold upon the affections of the people, than her "noble Stanley."

STATE OF DELAWARE.

Gov. Cooper, in his late comprehensive and instructive, yet brief Message to the Legislature, states, that Delaware has never known what a State debt is, having uniformly refused to embark in any scheme of Internal Improvement which would render it necessary to anticipate the resources of a succeeding generation. That the State has an available surplus of more than half a million of dollars, and does not owe a debt which will not be paid on demand. That the Government has collected but one small State tax since the adoption of its amended Constitution; and, unless War shall visit the Country, it is probable, with ordinary prudence, it may never be found necessary to impose another!!!

The bill to give the State's guarantee to a loan of $250,000, to be made by the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Rail Road Company, for the purpose of extending that Road to Aquia Creek, has been rejected in the House of Delegates of Virginia.

TAKING TIME BY THE FORELOCK.

We learn from a friend at Washington, that the Postmasters throughout the country, are resigning almost by hundreds. Having been mostly appointed on account of their partisan services, they take it for granted that their services will not be needed under the new Administration.

The Correspondent of the "New York Journal of Commerce," writing from Washington, says: "Mr. Clay and Mr. Webster dine with the President to-day, thus evincing whatever difference of political opinion may exist between those going out and those coming into power, that genius and virtue command respect even here."

THE NEW SENATE.

In conformity to usage, the Senate of the United States has been summoned by the present Executive, to meet at the Capitol on the 4th of March next, for the transaction of such business connected with the new Administration, as may be brought before them.

The new Senate will have a decided majority in favor of the new Administration. We annex a list of members elect whose terms commence on the 4th of March, or who hold over from previous years, with a statement of the time when their various terms expire. Those names in italics are friends of Gen. Harrison:

Of the 48 Senators elected, 26 are friends of the Administration, and 22 are supposed to be opposed to it. The five vacancies will mostly, perhaps, all, be filled by friends of the coming Administration.

Mr. Linn, of Missouri, has recently introduced into the United States Senate a bill, the object of which is to pave the way for the occupation of that vast region of country, known as the Oregon Territory, stretching from our present Western frontier to the Pacific Ocean. The bill provides for the establishment of a line of military posts from Fort Leavenworth to the Rocky Mountains, and for the appointment of an Indian Agent; grants 1000 acres of land to every white male inhabitant who shall occupy and cultivate the same for five consecutive years; and authorizes the President to take immediate measures to have the boundaries of the United States on the Pacific frontier ascertained and fixed.

One of the most bold and selfish remarks that ever dropped from that selfish quarter, may be found in Mr. Van Buren's Annual Message. Among other things he congratulates the country, that the old Revolutionary Soldiers are dying off so rapidly, as to relieve the Treasury of the great burden of the Pension List.

INAUGURATION CAKE.

The National Intelligencer calls the favorable attention of the Public to a most ingenious and beautiful specimen of confectionary, prepared at great cost, as an appropriate ornament to the festal board at the approaching national festival.

It is a correct model of the Capitol; its length nine feet, breadth eight and a half, height to the top of the dome six feet.

The workmanship throughout is excellent; the statues of War and Peace, the figures on the tympanum, and even the smaller architectural ornaments, are executed in a style which does great credit to the artist. The interior is filled with pound cake of a superior quality—the weight about 800 pounds.

FOR THE REGISTER.

Mr. GALES:—Will you permit me, when convenient, to express in the Register, the great pleasure it gives me as a citizen of the State, to see so many of the moral and religious Journals of the day, in nearly every direction of the country, giving, with signal approbation, extracts from Gov. MORRHEAD'S late Inaugural. Without intending disparagement to any of his very excellent predecessors, we do not recollect to have seen any former Address of the kind, made the subject of so much public remark, especially on its good tendency to the permanency of our Civil Institutions, through Literature and Religion, as recommended by his Excellency. PHILLO.

Editorial.—The editors of New York and Boston make their editorials of late as long as a Dutch costuming; in which it is said one of the parties always sleeps while the other talks. Long editorials and long sermons pay a poor compliment to the intelligence of the reader, and the writer too. The drivelings of a long article are worse than the droppings of the eyes on a man's bare neck in a January thaw. Monks may count their beads, ruminators read long editorials, but business men have time for neither. They want the pea and not the pod. Philadelphia North American.

Christiandale Dairy burnt.—We regret to learn that the large and complete dairy establishment at Christiandale, near this city, belonging to Mr. S. D. Langtree (established and heretofore carried on by the late Mr. Hill), and from which the inhabitants of Washington were in part supplied with milk and cream, was completely destroyed by fire at 10 o'clock on Sunday morning, the 7th inst. The fine stock of cattle, embracing all the best milk breeds, was saved, including the mammoth Durham and Holstein bull Nero, said to be the largest in the world, weighing 4,008 pounds, but the capacious barn, stable, and a distillery attached, were entirely consumed, together with the entire stock of hay, fodder, oats, meal, agricultural implements, &c. No part of the property was insured.—Nat. Intel.

HONORABLE.

The Hon. Henry A. Wise, in a circular to his constituents, states that his district will be entitled in March next, to send a cadet to the United States Military Academy, and he invites applications so that he may make the proper nomination. He says, "In making the nomination, I shall be governed, next to the intellectual and moral character of the applicant, by his condition and connexion in life. All else equal, I shall nominate the penniless and friendless youth, especially if he be fatherless or if his father have rendered signal service, or made great sacrifices for the country. Not for a moment, if it be possible to drive it out of my mind, shall a thought of the politics or party of his friends be made a consideration."

MAMMOTH UMBRELLA.

An Umbrella has been manufactured at Bristol, England, the stick of which is four inches and a half in circumference, and the Umbrella itself, 17 feet in diameter. It is intended as a present to an African prince.

WASHINGTON.—His temperament was ardent, his passions strong, and amidst the multiplied scenes of temptation and excitement through which he passed, it was his constant effort and ultimate triumph to check the one and subdue the other. His intercourse with men, private and public, in every walk and station, was marked with consistency, a fitness to occasions, a dignity, a decorum, condensation and mildness, a respect for the claims of others, and a delicate perception of the nicer shades of civility which were not more the dictates of his native good sense and incomparable judgment than the fruits of a long and unwearied discipline.—Sparks.

THE PAST TO THE FUTURE.—The following sentence, from President Quincy's address, at the second centennial celebration of the settlement of Boston, is significant and impressive:—"The great comprehensive truths, written in letters of living light on every page of our history,—the language addressed by every past age of New England to all future ages, is this,—Human happiness has no perfect security but freedom.—freedom none but virtue, virtue none but knowledge; and, neither freedom nor virtue, nor knowledge, has any vigor, or immortal hope, except in the principles of the Christian faith, and in the sanctions of the Christian religion."

"In this country," says an English editor, "it is considered the height of folly for a man to get drunk and lie across a railroad with the idea of obtaining repose." The same opinion prevails to a considerable extent in America.

JAMES B. SHERMAN, Esq. of this City, is appointed to deliver the Annual Address before the two Literary Societies of Wake Forest College, on June next.

A man by the name of HOGAN, of New York, lately shot himself through the heart with a musket. His wife on coming in and finding him dead, immediately ran to a chest, from which she took a vial of corrosive sublimate, and swallowing the contents, was in a few minutes with her husband in eternity.

A preacher who had been a printer is said to have concluded a sermon thus: youth may be compared to a comma, manhood to a semicolon, old age to a colon, to which death puts a period. This is almost equal to a lawyer, who turned preacher, and commenced his prayer, "may it please your honour."—Highland Messenger.

AN AFFLICTED FAMILY.—A family residing in Briar Creek township, Columbia county, (Penn.) has been visited by a series of extraordinary afflictions. The father is a thrifty farmer named John Knorr. The Bloomsbury Register says:—

A fever of a most malignant character commenced its ravages in the family some time in December, by which the life of William Knorr, a son aged about 30 years, living near by, was terminated on the 3d of January, instant, leaving a wife and several children. On Monday morning of last week the earthly career of Miss Esther Knorr, a daughter aged 10 years, was terminated by the same disease. At the time of the demise of this young lady, two of her brothers, to wit, Peter and Samuel, were lying so lowly prostrated that little or no hopes were entertained of their recovery.

The two young men continued under the unabated influence of the disease until Friday morning last, at about three o'clock, when Samuel, in a high state of delirium watched an opportunity (when his attendants were in another part of the house preparing a dose of medicine, and who were not more than five minutes absent) to escape through a window from the house in his night clothes, consisting of shirt, drawers and stockings, placed on his feet to keep mustard plasters in their place. On discovering his absence, pursuit was instantly made. They were enabled to trace his course with precision by his tracks through the recently fallen snow, which led through slush and water mid leg deep in the canal—on the bank of which they found one of his stockings—and from thence over high banks of broken ice to the river, into which he had evidently plunged, thus ending his life, and baffling further pursuit during the darkness of the night. His remains were found at one o'clock, P. M. the same day, about 150 yards below the place where he had entered the river, in water 12 or 14 feet deep. On Sunday, Peter Knorr was still languishing in an almost hopeless state of prostration, influenced by the same fever.

ACCIDENT.—The Lowell Souvenir gives the particulars of a most lamentable occurrence which took place in Alstead, N. H. on the 8th inst. They relate to a Miss Caroline Murphy, aged 17 years, who was drowned in Cold River. The circumstances are given as follows:

"She had set out to attend a cotillion party that evening in company with a young man by the name of Anderson. They were in a wagon, and in attempting to pass where the water came into the road, and the current was swift, the wagon was upset, and both were precipitated into the stream. The young man clung to the cloak of the young lady with one hand, and with the other he grasped a root or a branch of a tree. The young lady's cloak, however, came off over her head, without hooking, and she was washed down the stream. The young man was soon rescued, but the body of the young lady was not found till the next morning.—She had been carried down the stream, and when found, one hand was grasped around the limb of a tree, and frozen. Her body was exceedingly bruised and mutilated.

This calamity is solemn and awful. Here was a young lady, beautiful amiable and accomplished, decked in her ball room attire, seated by the side of her lover, to whom in a few short months she expected to be united in the holy bands of wedlock, doubtless meditating many years of happiness and social enjoyment with him who sat by her side, when, suddenly, and at once, both were precipitated into a world of spirits. We learn that her family were of great respectability and of high standing in society. How suddenly they are called to mourn the loss of their beloved daughter—and what heart-rending emotions must pervade the bosom of young Anderson. "In the midst of life we are in death."

DEATHS.

Near Tarboro', after a brief illness of three days, Joseph R. Lloyd, Esq. President of the Branch of the State Bank in that place. The deceased has left a wife and five small children to mourn his loss. In H. Co. County, on the 3d of February, Mr. Israel S. Watson. Blessed is the man that walketh not in counsel with the ungodly.—Ps. l, v. 1.

INFANT SCHOOL.—The Infant School, under the superintendence of Mrs. Pratt, from Philadelphia, will be opened as early in the Spring as the weather will permit. The abuses which have crept into the system will be rejected, and the plan of Pestalozzi will be pursued as much as possible, namely, to develop the powers of the mind by presenting ideas, and not a mere mass of words. The memory will be exercised, but not overtaxed. As central a location as can be procured, will be chosen for the School. Children will be admitted from the age of three to seven. Terms.—The first Class, which will embrace the elements of Natural History, History, Natural Philosophy, Arithmetic, Geography, Grammar, Writing, and Drawing, per Session, $15 00. Second Class, $5 00. Third Class, $3 00. Those who wish their names to the School, will be so good as to send their names to Miss Melrose, at Mr. Lemmon's, corner of Market and Salisbury streets. SARPEDON.—This Superior English Race Horse and Stallion, will make the season of 1841 at my Stable, Granville county, N. C. 18 miles West of Warrenton, and the same distance East of Oxford, at $80 the Season, and $100 to pasture, with $1 cash to the Groom in every case. Pasture gratis, and Mares will feed at $10 per month, which however must be paid before they are put to pasture. Colours of the stallion will be banded for charge. The insurance money will be claimed as soon as the Mare is ascertained to be in foal, or parturied. This Season has now commenced, and will expire on the 1st day of July at which time the money for his services will be due. It is probable that this is the last Season for some years that Sarpedon will make in this country, his services being in great demand elsewhere; and I would earnestly and candidly recommend it to breeders to avail themselves of this occasion to obtain some of his stock. I believe I can safely assert that for game and wind, his colts are equal to, if they do not surpass, those of any horse within my knowledge. Sarpedon never had a show for a Stallion, having covered only a few well bred mares, yet his colts have run and won at all distances, from one to four mile heats, and at broken heats in Kentucky as well as in this country; and perhaps his best show of colts are now three years old, and will be on the Turf during the present year, and from private trials the owners of some of them would not decline engaging them in heavy sumps. It is not deemed necessary here to give his own performances, as they have been repeatedly before the public, and may be seen in the English Racing Calendar. He was the property of Gen. Groves, noted for his want of skill in training and managing, nevertheless, Sarpedon won eight times against capital horses, and in several of his races the Sporting works of that country remarked that "he was fat enough for a Smithfield Cattle Show." His owner ran him for every engagement and never paid forfeit. In omitting his memoir, I do not find that he was ever beaten but once, (and then by Priam,) except when he gave odds in weight. To see his Pedigree, as below, is of itself enough to convince that he ought to get valuable stock. Sarpedon in color is rich brown, full 5 feet 3 inches high, with a most beautiful neck, eye and ear, and game appearance, though extremely quiet and cool tempered. His back and loin perhaps the best I ever saw, and in all other respects a splendid horse. PEDIGREE.

Sarpedon was got by the famous Emilius, the best Stallion in England, and sire of Scipio, Priam, Mango, Riddleworth, and a host of winners; his dam Icaria by the Flyer, grandam Parma by Dick Andrews, the sire of many renowned winners, Mack by Henningbrook, winner of the St. Leger, and perhaps the best son of King Pegu; himself the best son of Eclipse; Promise by Mambino's Cricket by King Herod; Blank out of Lord Leigh's Diana by Second; Hanger's brown mare by Stanpur's Arabian, out of Gipsy, by the No-tongued barb, Market's Royal Mare. The Flyer was got by Vandyke Junior, his dam by Bennenbrough; Hyflyer; Goldfinder by Marack; Blank; Regulus; Lindalade bay Arabian; Bay Bolton; Darley Arabian; Begerly Turk; Tufflet barb; Place's White Turk. Natural barb mare.

Vandyke Junior was got by Walton who covered at 50 gu. a mare, his dam by the famous Pot 8; Hyflyer; Hebe by Chrysolite, out of Proceperis, full sister to Eclipse. Thus it will be seen that his blood is all of the stoutest and best that can be found in any other horse. Sarpedon was foaled in 1825. B. will not be responsible for escapes or accidents to Mares.
