THE WAY TO DISMISS MINISTERS.

CASE OF PARSON GERRY. After the dismissal of Mr. Brush, the Church in Stokesville remained for a great length of time unopened. The excitement had been so furious, and the feelings of the religious portion of the community so exasperated, that there seemed to be an indifference whether the church was ever re-constituted.

No one was more forward in this work than Mrs. Meeks, Mrs. Dow, Mrs. Brown, and Miss Polly Sly; those evil spirits, who had by their venomous tongues poisoned the congregation. It was resolved that an old man should be procured; one whom slander could not touch; one who had been tried in the fiery furnace, one, in fine, whose age should render him invulnerable to all the shafts which malice could force or slander direct.

After some weeks, 'Old Parson Gerry' was hit upon as the very man of all others to fill the pulpit in Stokesville. He was about sixty years of age, and as venerable in appearance as the pictures of the apostles. His fine head, quick piercing eye, wrinkled brow and thin gray hair, gave him a reverend and holy aspect. He was installed, and with a family of ten children, comfortably located in the parish house. He was one of those whose fortune it had been, as is too often the case with members of the clerical profession, never to be settled; to be tempest-tossed through the world, without ever finding a port. He had preached in every State in the Union, and in almost every town. He had never been in one spot long enough to take root; and when he came to Stokesville, with his children swarming around him, he seemed jaded out of all spirits; as one indeed, who looked to the grave as the only resting place.

Old Parson Gerry was the town's talk for some months. Every body called upon his family, and every mouth was open in his praise. The old man was extolled as a saint if there ever was one; his wife was a female Samaritan, and his daughters were all beautiful. 'What a good old man Parson Gerry is!' said Mrs. Meeks. 'What an amiable wife he has!' rejoined Mrs. Dow. 'What lovely daughters!' said Mrs. Brown. The whole public sentiment had changed. There was at length a delightful calm after the late terrible storm. Several large parties were given on Parson Gerry's account, and his daughters were hailed as the spirit and soul of them all. Presents were made to the family, and it really seemed for some months that it was impossible to do too much for, or exalt too highly, old Parson Gerry and his incomparable family.

Mrs. Meeks, the husband of Mrs. Meeks, was the first man to break in upon the quiet of the church the second time. It so happened that the old parson on one or two occasions, omitted a portion of the service. Mr. Meeks detected this at once, and was of course struck dumb with horror. He said in the severest sense of the word, and it wounded his feelings, and roused his astonishment, to find Parson Gerry guilty of such sacrilege! 'There must be something wrong about him; he was either no churchman, or else his faith in the discipline of the church was sadly perverted. Of course, a flame was soon blown up, which spread wider and wider; but before it had consumed the old gentleman, some friendly hand extinguished it, harmonized the congregation, and tranquility was restored.

It was soon observed, that in spite of the harmony restored, there was a growing dislike to Parson Gerry and his preaching. The people were about 'getting tired' of him, as the phrase is. His congregation began to drop off, one after another, until scarcely an apology for an audience was left. Every member had his own excuse for not attending church. Some did not like his discourses because they were so long; others disliked them because they were 'pious and dull'; and many said he did not preach the true orthodox doctrine. There were a thousand objections to him; and such one who had an objection found it an excuse for deserting the church, until, as we have said, he had scarcely an apology for an audience left.

It was necessary to find some grave charge to justify the removal of Parson Gerry; and the ingenuity of Stokesville soon framed one. After torturing every act that had ever been committed by the minister or his family, they discovered that Parson Gerry's wife and daughters were extravagant in their dress; and it wounded the feelings of the congregation to see Christian simplicity so outrageously

This was enough. All the church snaped at the bait. This family of Parson Gerry were so extravagant that they were running themselves 'head over ears in debt.' It would never do; the church would be ruined.

'Oh! said Miss Polly Sly, running breathless into Mrs. Dow's just for an afternoon's call; 'oh Mrs. Dow! have you heard the news?'

'Why, what?' exclaimed Mrs. Dow, looking up in astonishment.

'Why! Parson Gerry!—about Parson Gerry!—He owes every body!' exclaimed Polly, holding up both hands with holy horror.

'Why, how you talk!' said Mrs. Dow.

'Yes, every body!—every body! He owes Mr. Tape ten dollars for that beautiful satin his daughter Mary wears; and Mr. Shelby for the gingham; and Mr. Broadcloth for three new suits; and Mr. Worsted for the Lord knows how many goods! And every body says, Mrs. Dow, that he'll never pay; and they say he owes all the merchants here he came from. Did you ever hear the like?' said Polly. 'Did you ever, in all your born days? And they say—'

'But perhaps he means to pay,' interrupted Mrs. Dow.

'Pay?' said Polly, 'no! he never means to pay. Why that's the way every body says he gets through the world. Folks you know, trust to his honesty because he is a clergyman; and then he runs away and cheats them. Such men as we have to fill our pulpit is really too bad.'

'Yes, but don't let us condemn him until we are assured of his guilt,' replied Mrs. Dow, trying to pump up a Christian spirit of forbearance.

'But don't you believe me?' exclaimed Polly, 'everybody says he is condemned already.' Your husband, Mr. Dow, and Mr. Meeks, and Mr. Brown, and Mr. Jones and two thirds of the church members, and every body else thinks so. He don't never mean to pay. And there's his girls; I saw them flitting through the streets this very day with their silks and satins, all of which he owes for. And he's got a new sofa, and I dare says he owes the cabinet maker for that, and his wife keeps a hired girl; and pays her a dollar a week. There never was such a man.'

'And she sunk back for a moment completely exhausted.

'Just as Polly closed, in came Mrs. Meeks. 'Didn't call to stay,' said Mrs. Meeks. 'Polly heard Mrs. Meeks' voice and up she jumped, caught her by the hand; and was so glad to see her; it was so comfortable to see one's friends; there was so much trouble in the church, it was reviving to find a person who could revive her spirits.'

Mrs. Meeks was out on precisely the same business, to cry down Parson Gerry's extravagance. Mrs. Meeks had 'making calls' for two hours, talking all the time as fast as her tongue could rattle. She was as happy to meet Polly Sly as Polly Sly was to meet her.

'What are we to do with our ministers?' exclaimed Polly to Mrs. Meeks, as soon as she got through welcoming her. 'Mrs. Dow and I have been talking about it. I've been telling her all about him; how he owes every body and can't pay; how the church is disgraced, and how every body talks about it—'

'And how,' said Mrs. Meeks, suddenly cutting Polly short, 'heavy demands have been sent on for collection from abroad to Lawyer Brief, who holds them in his hands, but don't want to make trouble.'

'Mercy's sake!' roared Polly; 'is he going to be sued? Well, I expected it. I told them he owed here he came from. Don't say any more, Mrs. Meeks, I shall go distracted.'

'What's that?' exclaimed Mrs. Dow who just began to enter into the spirit of the occasion.

'Well,' said Polly, 'I must be going.'—And Mrs. Meeks said she 'must be going too,' and both bidding Mrs. Dow 'good morning,' talked scandal to the door, and then to the gate, and finally broke off the subject by bidding Mrs. Dow 'good morning,' and departing.

The next day the storm of scandal raged still higher. Several persons were to be seen talking at the corner of the streets, beraating Parson Gerry and his family. Some said that the old man ran away from the last parish where he preached, to avoid the service of civil process from debt; others said that the Bishop had dismissed him for the same cause, and that he was preaching without license. Wherever he had been, the same extravagance is said to have been indulged in. The story was revived which originated with Mrs. Meeks, that heavy demands were sent for collection from abroad to Lawyer Brief; and two or three of the church reprobates, who were in the habit of enquiring into the matter, Lawyer Brief pronounced the charge false; but no one believed him, for they thought he acted from interested motives; that he was fearful of endangering the collection of his debt, by adding fuel to the fire of persecution which was already consuming their victims.

The excitement in Stokesville lasted for some weeks. It was finally resolved that the good old man must be dismissed at once. He had, of course heard of the charges which were in circulation against him; pronounced them untrue, and was willing to submit them to an investigation. He admitted that he was somewhat in debt, but it was necessary alone that had driven him into it. He nevertheless declared himself able to pay all.

He denied that he owed a cent to any one abroad, or that persecutions had been commenced against him. But it was of no use. The fact had gone forth. It was determined that Old Parson Gerry should leave the parish forthwith.

A covered wagon was shortly after seen moving out of Stokesville containing the scanty furniture of Parson Gerry. His family was seated in a couple of carriages, which followed behind. They had been absolutely driven out of the place, and driven out, too, by those who were so sensitive in matters of religious duty that they considered themselves doing God service in the course they had pursued. They supposed they had purged the church and cleansed it for the reception of another pastor.

Injury.—A little wrong done to another is a great injury done to ourselves. The severest punishment of an injury is the consciousness of having done it; and no man suffers more than he that is turned over to the pain of repentance.

Hath any one wronged thee?—be bravely revenged; slight it and the work is begun; forgive it, and 'tis finished. He is below himself who is not above an injury.

PETERS' PILLS.

THESE UNRIVALLED PILLS having now acquired a celebrity and a popularity unequalled in the annals of Medicine, and also having obtained the entire confidence, and being used in the private practice of almost the whole body of the Medical Faculty in the United States, Europe, Asia, South America, the West Indies, and a great part of Africa, it is unnecessary to advertise them at length, or to say any thing further of their merits, than by stating the complaints which they are most effectual in the cure of, and which are as follows:—yellow and bilious fevers, fever and ague, dyspepsia, croup, liver complaint, sick head-ache, jaundice, asthma, dropsy, rheumatism, enlargement of the spleen, piles, colic, female obstructions, heart burn, torred tongue, nausea, distention of the stomach and bowels, ineffectual diarrhoea, habitual constiveness, loss of appetite, bloeth or yellow complexion, and in all cases of torpor of the bowels, where a cathartic or an aperient is needed. They are exceedingly mild in their operation, producing neither nausea, griping nor debility.

The above Pills are for sale in the city of Raleigh by Messrs. Williams & Haywood, and at the Drug Store of N. L. SITH, and in Fayetteville by E. J. Hale, at New York Price.

RICHMOND MEDICAL COLLEGE.

The winter term of Lectures in this Institution, will commence on Monday, the 31st of October, and continue 4 months. JOHN COLLIER, M. D. Professor of Theory and Practice of Medicine. L. W. Chamberlayne, M. D. Professor of Materia Medica and Therapeutics. J. L. Bohannon, M. D. Professor of Obstetrics and Diseases of Women and Children. Th. Johnson, M. D. Professor of Anatomy and Physiology. Aug. L. Warner, M. D. Professor of Surgery and Surgical Anatomy. S. Maupin, M. D. Professor of Chemistry and Pharmacy. Professors Collier and Warner, will each deliver two Clinical Lectures a week, in the Infirmary, at the College; Professor Johnson two a week, at the Alms House; and Professor Chamberlayne occasional Lectures at the Penitentiary and City Hospital, as interesting cases present themselves. These Institutions furnish a large number of instructive cases, and the numerous Clinical Lectures, to all of which the Student will be admitted without charge, will afford him rare advantages for becoming acquainted with the types of Southern Diseases, and witnessing the appropriate treatment. The Surgical cases, admitted into the College Infirmary, afford the Professor of Surgery, opportunities of performing many of the Major and Minor operations before the class. The facilities for the study of the practical Anatomy are unsurpassed any where. The material for dissection is most ample, and the extensive Anatomical Museum is well stored with healthy and morbid preparations. The Chemical Apparatus and collection of specimens in Materia Medica are very complete. In fine, the Institution offers facilities for the prosecution of Medical studies unsurpassed by any similar Institution in the country. Fee $20 to each Professor. The price of Board including fuel, lights, Servant's attendance, &c. is from $25.50 to $50.00 per week. AUG. L. WARNER, Dean of the Faculty. August 5, 62-21.

Halifax Sulphur and Chalybeate Springs, Va.

SULPHUR SPRING CASES.—'Sulphurated Hydrogen, Carbonic Acid, Sulphate of Lime, do of Magnesia, Carbonate of Lime. CHALYBEATE SPRING CASES.—Carbonic Acid, Peroxide of Iron, Carbonate of Lime. The first of these is a very valuable Sulphur Water, and the second is a no less valuable Chalybeate. The strength of both is as great as desirable. They possess all the properties for which simple Sulphur and ferruginous Waters are celebrated. The Chalybeate is the purest I have ever met with, and consists of Peroxide of Iron held in suspension by Carbonic Acid Gas—the amount of Carbonate of Lime being exceedingly small. In the hands of a Physician, these Waters can be turned to the best account for the benefit of the community; and I cannot conclude this letter without offering you my congratulations on the excellence of the Mineral Waters of which you are the Proprietor. Your humble servant, D. R. GARDNER, M. D. Prof. of Chemistry in Hampden Sydney College. To Dr. EARLE, Black Walnut. August 5, 1842, 64-21.

MEDICAL COLLEGE OF THE STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA.

U. Shepard, M. D. The School for Practical Anatomy has been re-organized, and will be under the charge of Prof. Holtrook, assisted by Drs. Deconquest, Ghent, Sinkler, Gardner, and Ravenel, and will be opened on the 15th of October. Clinical Instruction at the Marine Hospital and Alms House. HENRY R. FROST, Dean. August 3, 64-2w.

Brandreth's Pills.

We have a fresh supply—We were about say, of this valuable Medicine—but to those who have tried them, it is unnecessary to say so, and those who have not tried them would be sorry perhaps to believe so. It is, however, a serious fact, that we could name at least one family, where their regular use for several years past, has made the Physician's visit 'few and far between.' Our new boxes contain 25 Pills each; the old only have 21. WILL. PECK, Raleigh, March 1st, 1842, 18.

GRAY'S INVALUABLE OINTMENT.

For sale by wholesale or retail, by N. L. SITH, Raleigh, August 10, 1842, 69-6c.

WATER LEAD.—Just received a supply of superior WATER LEAD, which I can sell cheaper than ever. N. L. SITH, Raleigh, August 19, 1842, 69-6c.

UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA.

The next session of this Institution will commence on the 1st day of October, and terminate on the 15th of July following. The Schools of the University, with their respective Professors, are: 1. Ancient Languages—Dr. Gesner Harrison. 2. Modern Languages—Dr. Charles Kratzer. 3. Mathematics—Mr. Edward H. Courtenay. 4. Natural Philosophy—Mr. Wm. B. Rogers. 5. Civil Engineering—the subjects of which are divided between the Professors of Mathematics and Natural Philosophy. 6. Chemistry and Materia Medica—Dr. John P. Emann. 7. Medicine—Dr. Henry Howard. 8. Anatomy and Surgery—Dr. James L. Cabell. 9. Moral Philosophy—Mr. George Tucker. 10. Law—Judge James S. Gooch, Teacher. In both Schools of Languages are also taught the literature of the respective languages; and Ancient and Modern History; in the School of Mathematics is included mixed Mathematics; in that of Engineering, Mineralogy and Geology; in that of Moral Philosophy, Belles Lettres, Logic and Political Economy and in that of Law, besides Municipal Law in all its branches, the Law of Nature and Nations, the Science of Government and Constitutional Law. To be admitted into this institution the applicant must be sixteen years of age; but the Faculty may dispense with this requirement in favor of one whose brother is a student. Every student is free to attend the schools of his choice; but if he be under twenty-one years of age, he shall attend at least three, unless authorized by his parent or guardian, in writing, or by the Faculty, for good cause, to attend a less number. All students under the age of twenty-one years are required to board within the precincts. By a resolution of the Faculty, Ministers of the Gospel, and young men, preparing for the Ministry, may attend any of the schools of the University without the payment of fees to the Professors. The students which lately quitted students to wear a prescribed uniform have been suspended. Every student resident within the precincts, must, on matriculation, deposit with the Patron all the money, bills, drafts, &c. under his control, intended to defray his expenses while at the University, or on his return thence to his home; and the amount so deposited must be sufficient to pay his fees to professors, dormitory rent, for use of the public rooms, three months board, a contingent fee to cover fines and assessments, and to purchase the text books, &c. He may wait at the commencement. All funds subsequently received by him must be deposited with the Patron, who has charge of his disbursements; and upon all deposits a charge of two per centum commission is authorized. The act of the Legislature, prohibiting merchants and others, under severe penalties, from crediting students, will be strictly enforced. The license to contract debts, which the Chairman of the Faculty is authorized to grant, is confined (except where the parent or guardian shall otherwise, in writing request) to cases of urgent necessity; and, where it is granted, it is limited to the amount of the student's deposit, and is not to be renewed, except by the timely supply of the requisite funds. Religious services are performed at the University every Sunday by the Chaplain, who is appointed in turn from the four principal denominations of the State. The expenses of the Session of nine months are as follows: Board, washing, lodging and attendance, $140. Rent of Dormitory, $16; for hall, if occupied by two; 15. Use of public rooms and matriculation fees, 15. Fuel and candles, estimated at, 20. If only one Professor be attended, $50; if attended by each Professor, $50; if more than two, to each $25, &c. 75. Total, exclusive of clothes, books and pocket money, $225. In the School of Law there is an extra fee of $80, payable by students attending the senior class. The allowance for clothes is limited by the enactments to $100, and for pocket money to $45. WILLIS H. WOODLEY, Tutor. And Patron of the State. 65-2w.

UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA—MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

The Plan of instruction in this department of the University, presents peculiarities to be found in no other School of Medicine in the Union. The Lectures commence on the 1st of October, and terminate on the 4th of July ensuing. Owing to the length of the Session, which embraces a period of nine months, three Professors are enabled to perform all the duties which in other medical institutions are usually assigned to six; and the students are seldom required to attend more than two lectures on the same day. By this arrangement, the students have an opportunity of being well grounded in Anatomy, Physiology, and other elementary branches of Medical Science, before they investigate their applications in connection with the study of the practice of Medicine and Surgery. Immediately before each lecture, the students are subjected to a full and rigid examination on the preceding lecture, or on portions of approved text books. It is apparent that the plan of which the business have been briefly stated, is one which allows the student to commence as well as to complete his medical studies in the institution; and presents a happy combination of the advantages of the system of instruction by private pupillage and that of public lectures. Any person of approved moral conduct may offer as a candidate, and receive the degree of M. D., without reference to the time he has been engaged in the study of medicine, or of joining the school, provided he undergoes in a satisfactory manner the various examinations prescribed by the enactments. John P. Emann, M. D., Professor of Chiantry, Pharmacy and Materia Medica. Henry Howard, M. D., Professor of Pathology and Practice of Medicine, Obstetrics and Medical Jurisprudence. James L. Cabell, M. D., Professor of Anatomy, Physiology and Surgery. WILLIS H. WOODLEY, Proprietor. July 25, 65-2w.

UNIVERSITY DEPARTMENT OF MARYLAND.

The Regular Annual Course of Lectures in this Institution, will commence on the 1st of October, and continue four months. The Preliminary Course of Lectures, to which Students are admitted without additional charge, will commence on the first Monday in September. These Lectures are wholly independent of the Regular Course, which is complete in itself. The term will be considered entire to all who enter before the 10th of November. NATHANIEL POTTER, M. D.—Professor of the Theory and Practice of Medicine. ROBERT WILLIAMS HALL, M. D.—Professor of Medical Jurisprudence and Obstetrics. WILLIAM E. A. ALEXIS, M. D.—Professor of Chemistry and Pharmacy. NATHAN K. SMITH, M. D.—Professor of Surgery. GEORGE CHASE M. D.—Professor of Medicine. JAMES RAY, M. D.—Professor of Special and General Anatomy. SAMUEL CHRYD, Dean. June 30, 65-2w.

DISEASE-A-KIND.

Inquiry of the BLOOD is the only Disease. HOW simple yet how wise, how good and beautiful are all the laws of nature! Simplicity and truth are mingled upon every law of the creation. The mighty world which we see in every degree of variety and grandeur, is all pervaded by the wisdom of nature. This principle of wisdom, the human body, Brandreth's Vegetable Universal Pills, attract all impurities of the blood to the bowels, which organ expels them from the body. Attraction and disease are both units. All accidents or infections only affect the body in proportion as they occasion impurity of the blood. The bowels for instance are inactive—the most important organ is closed—the consequence is a great accumulation of impurities, which, as they cannot get out by their usual passage, are forced into the blood, occasioning impurity of blood. Thus Fevers, Cholera, Rheumatism, Gout, and Colds are often produced. But let Brandreth's Pills be used in such doses as will effectually evacuate the bowels, and health is restored at once. The unworthy have contributed the Doctor's Medicine extensively, that his traveling Agents have taken in all the old boxes, and putting new ones of a different light, with 22 Pills in their place. Some are just received at WILLIAM PECK'S Office, Raleigh, March 1, 1842, 18-1y.

Have you a Cough? Don't neglect it!

Chickens' Cough Lozenges. Are the best, most sure and effectual remedy for Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Tightness of the Lungs or Chest, &c. The proprietor has never known of instance where they did not give perfect satisfaction. Several thousand boxes have been sold with the last year, testifying to health persons in almost every stage of consumption and those laboring under the most distressing coughs and coughs. They do not check and dry up the cough, but render it easy, promote expectoration, allay the tickling or irritation, and remove the proximate or exciting cause. They are made from a combination of the most valuable extract, or cough medicines, and are unobscuredly superior to everything in use for these complaints. Hundreds of testimonials of certificates have been obtained from several hundred persons, from those who have been cured from an untimely grave, and restored to perfect health by using them. The above Medicine may be obtained at the Drug Store of Messrs. Williams & Haywood, and of Dr. N. L. SITH, with full directions accompanying each box.

WATER LEAD.

More than 400,000 cases to be healed by the use of certain water-leads, medicines ever discovered. Many diseases arise from worms and irritation long and intense suffering and even death, without their being suspected; a great number, and very often attended with them, are cured for various complaints, without any benefit, when one dose of three Lozenges would speedily cure them. For sale in Raleigh by Williams & Haywood and N. L. SITH. W. PECK'S WATER LEAD, just received, the property of the State Dispensary, West by the State, and full Retail. For sale only at N. L. SITH, Druggist, Raleigh, April 18, 69-6c.
