MISCELLANGOUS.

A PERSIAN TALE.

Salik Beg was of a good family, handsome in person, and possessed of good sense and courage; but he was poor, having no property but his sword and horse, with which he served as a gentleman retainer of a noble man. The latter, satisfied of the purity of Sadik's descent, and entertaining a respect for his character, determined to make him the husband of his daughter Hooseinee, who, though beautiful, as her name implied, was remarkable for her haughty manner and un- lier. governable temper.

Giving a husband of the condition of Sadik Beg to a lady of Hooseinee's rank, was, according to the usage in such unequal matches, like giving her a slave; and as she heard a good report of his personal qualities, she offered no objections to the marriage, which was celebrated soon after it was proposed, and apartments were assigned to the happy couple in the Nahob's palace.

Some of Sadik Beg's friends rejoiced in This good fortune, as they saw, in the connexion he had formed, a sure prospect of his advancement. Others mourned the fate of so fine and promising a young man now condemned to bear through life all the humors of a proud and capricious woman; but one of his friends, a little man, called Merdek, who was completely henpecked by his own wife, was particularly rejoiced and quite chuckled at the thought of seeing another in the same condition with himself.

About a month after the nuptials, Merdek met his friend, and with a malicious pleasure, wished him joy of his marriage: ' most sincerely do I congratulate you Sadik,' said he, on this happy event!' Thank you, my good fellow; I am very happy indeed, and rendered more so by the joy I perceive it gives my friend. 'Do you really mean to say that you are happy?' said Merdek with a smile. 'I really am so,' replied Sadik .-'Nonsense, said his friend; 'do we not all know to what a termagant you are united? and her temper and high rank combined, must no doubt make her a sweet companion. Here he burst into a loud laugh, and the little man actually strutted with feelings of superiority over the bridegroom.

Sadik, who knew his situation and feeling, was amused instead of being angry. & M friend,' said he, "I quite understand the ground of your apprehension for my happiness. Before I was married, I had heard the same reports as you have, of my beloved bride's disposition; but I am happy to say. that I found it quite otherwise; she is a most docile and obedient wife.' But how has this most miraculous change been wrought? 'Why,' said Sadil, 'I believe I had some share in effecting it; but you shall hear :-

'After the ceremony of our nuptials was over, I went in my military dress, and with my sword by my aide, to the apartment of Hooseinee. She was sitting in a most dig- ken the Store, No. 9, Fayetteville Street, one door nified posture to receive me, and her looks were anything but inviting. As I entered the room a beautiful cat, evidently a great favorite, cam purring up to me. I deliboff, and taking that in one hand and the body in the other, threw them out of the window-then very unconcernedly turned to the lady, who appeared in some alarm. She however made so observations but was in every way kind and submissive, and bas continued so ever siee.".

'Than you, my dear fellow,' said little Merdek, with a significant shake of the head a word o the wise; and away he capered,

Persons wishing to procure Spectacles, or to have new glasses fitted in old frames, are informed that they can be suited with glasses of different sizes, colors and forms, and suited to any age, which he can determine by inspection of their eyes. The glasses which he farnishes he will warrant to hold their power of vieion from five to eight years. From his knowledge of the science of Opics he can determine the glasses suitable for any age. Persons with weak eyes can be supplied with glasses which will greatly benefit them and not strain the sight; also Speciacles for near-sighted persons, and those who have been operated upon for cataract of the eye. He would particularly call the attention of the public to a new sort of glasses and conservers of the sight, made of the best flint and azure glass, and ground perspective. These glasses have been recommended by the most celebrated dectors and professors, as the best in their effects on the eve-They are the best of the kind for preserving and impraying the sight-in continued reading and writing, in which case they not only relieve the eye, but also strengthen and improve the sight. It is not necessary to say more than that he has testimonials of the most celebrated professors of Germany, that his glasses are made of the best and finest material, and that they are ground true and exact. They are, therefore, far preferable to the mass of rough, irregular and unevenly ground glasses that are daily palmed off, and which are very injurious to the eye. Good glasses may be known by their shape, exact centre, and sharp, clear, and high ly polished surface. These qualities are to be found in a high degree in his glasses.

Those in want of any thing in his line will please give him a call. He has now on hand a general assortment of Goods .--Speciacles with Concave and Convex glasses, also with Glasses of each kind. He has but one price for is articles, from which he does not vary. Reference is made to the following Letters:

RICHMOND, September 9, 1840. I have frequently had occasion to recommend per ons laboring under defective vision to Mr. Wise for relief, and always with success. Mr. Wise keeps an extensive assortment of Spectacles and Optical Instruments, and he thoroughly understands the adaptation of glasses to the physical defects in vision, indeed, he has made the Science of Optics and Optical Instruments a special study, and therefore, I have no hesitation in recommending him to the public. Surgeons who may desire Cataract Glasses (15 any focus) for their patients, can be supplied by Mr. W. upon the most reasonable terms.

TH. JOHNSON, M. D., Prof. of Anatomy and Physiology in the Med. De partment of Hampden Sydney College.

Mr. Wise is worthy of extensive patronage, from a long and persevering effort to perfect himself in a knowledge of Optics. He has paid particular attention to the adaptation to Glasses to the defects of Vision, mated, that the benefit of the whole is experienced in and a frequent apportunity of witnessing the success of his efforts in this way, has induced me to give him a certificate of qualification.

All ages, and Glasses suited to Eyes upon which operations have been performed, will be aided in getting back lost sight, as far as artificial means will do it. EDW'D. H. CARMICHAEL, M D.
