MISCELLANEOUS.

THE CHILD'S SHOE.

One of the sweetest pleasures brought to the mind, is that induced by metaphysicians term 'association.' Every man has the power to bring this about, and it only requires a little attention to make it a constant source of delight. As the way-farer passes along the streets, he has ample opportunities for such solace, and there are many who pass the day pleasantly, by this means, without being aware of the peculiar tone and tendency of their disposition, they are prone to involuntary association. It is this which lies at the bottom of all wit—it points the arrow of repartee—tints the flower of sentiment, and it is the brightest feather in the plume of joy. We know how powerful association is, when we fall into deep grief at the loss of beloved ones. The vacant seat at table and the appliances of their daily life as they meet our view, paint vividly to mind, the face, and form and manner of the lost ones. The lover looks into the boudoir of his departed mistress, and tears sanctify while they dim his view. There lie the thousand evidences of female taste. The guitar upon the sofa—the lace frame with the name on which she last wrought, half finished—yea, the needle sticking in the lace!—the appliances of the toilet are there. There stands the golden ink-stand—there lie the pearl-handled pens—the powder box is there—and the pin cushion, 'heart formed'—perhaps the initials of his name are seen pinned into form, in a moment when her soul's thought was on him. What he feels none but one in his place can fancy. But ah, there is the cologne, or the 'thousand flower water'—he smells it. How that calls up the absent one! No power is equal to that produced upon memory by the presence of odor. It limns the lost one, even to the curls and braids of hair—it gives the living remembrance of her eyes—and teeth—and neck—and dimple arms—and flower stalk fingers—and tinkling feet! So with parents, who have lost a child.—The dirty boots that he came in with, from plashing in the mud at the edge of the stream—his hat, indented by boisterous mirth—his play things—all his articles of dress—How they shoot renewed pangs to the heart, with every renewed remembrance!

WORMS—WORMS—WORMS!

Sherman's Worm Lozenges, proved in more than 400,000 cases to be infallible; the only certain worm-destroying medicine ever discovered. Many diseases arise from worms and occasion long and intense suffering and even death, without their ever being suspected; grown persons are very often afflicted with them and are doctored for various complaints, without any benefit; when one dose of these Lozenges would speedily cure them.

FANCY MILLINERY.

Direct from Philadelphia and New York. Mrs. Ramsay, respectfully informs the Ladies that she has just received her Winter assortment of Fine Bonnets, Dress Caps, Head Dresses, French and American Flowers, and a general assortment of Fancy Goods usually kept in her line; all kind of Trimmings and the latest Fashions for Dressing. She respectfully requests the Ladies to call and examine her assortment as she is determined to sell low.

For further particulars, see hand-bills and printed directions around each bottle. For sale at the North Carolina Book Store, Raleigh. TURNER & HUGHES. 28 October 6, 1842.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS.

We have a fresh supply—we were about to say, of this valuable Medicine—but to those who have tried them, it is unnecessary to say so, and those who have not tried them would do well to believe us. It is, however, a serious fact, that we could name at least one family, where their regular use, for several years past, has made the Physician's visits few and far between. Our new boxes contain 25 Pills each, the old only have 21. WILL PECK.

William Thompson,

Cabinet and Furniture Warehouse, RALEIGH, N. C.

THE Subscriber has now on hand at his furnishing Ware Rooms, just in the rear of Messrs. Purdie & Hughes' Book Store, a general assortment of Articles in his line, made in the most faithful manner, after the newest and most fashionable patterns, and which will be warranted. They will be sold at such prices, as to leave no excuse for sending to the North for Furniture. WILLIAM THOMPSON. Raleigh, Nov. 4, 1842.

ALICE and KICKING!

FOWLER'S REMAINS, OR LOCUST SHADE, No. 2, North-west corner of Capitol Square.

THE SUBSCRIBER would respectfully inform his old friends, the Members of the General Assembly, and the 'Universal Yankee Nation,' that notwithstanding the torch of the incendiary, and the malignity of the midnight fiend, have endeavored to destroy both himself and establishment, yet Phoenix-like, he has arisen from his ashes, and is ready to do service in the soul-enjoying cause of BRITANNIA.

He has fitted up the Rooms, a few feet North of his old stand, in a comfortable manner, and is still ready to furnish something more than 'hospitable' entertainment and 'good cheer.'

His BAR is supplied with the choicest, purest and unadulterated WHISKIES and WINES, which the Northern market can produce.

His TABLE will be unsurpassed for the rareness of his Viandas—from the magnanimous 'CANVASBACK,' and 'AMERICAN OYSTERS,' to the plump PART-ROAST and 'SAUVIGNON.'

In fact, to start up all in a few words, if accommodating and polite waiters, attentive Servants and unremitted exertions to please, deserve encouragement, the Subscriber feels confident of success.

The Subscriber appeals to a generous community for a liberal support, and thus enable him to make some amends for the injury done him by the black-hearted villain who hoped he had burnt him out of 'house and home.'

Call at any hour day or night, and you will always find a 'tip-top' 'FINE'—the best of LIQUORS, WINES and SHOWERS, and the best ENTERTAINMENT that ever came along.

WM. L. FOWLER, North-west corner of Capitol Square, Raleigh, November 22, 1842.

THE Subscriber offers for sale six Thousand six hundred dollars, payable in one and two years, and satisfactorily secured with interest, for Negroes (field hands) the following Property:—His Dwelling House and the Lots attached to it, containing between ten and twelve acres. It is situated about six hundred yards East of the Capitol, on Newbern Street, in a beautiful Grove of Forest Trees, and without the limits of the Town. It contains four apartments in the basement, including the Dining room, and five above and two passages. It is new built of choice materials, and of superior workmanship. The out-houses and enclosures are also new. In the back yard, is a Well of most excellent water.

An unimproved Lot of 9 1/2 acres at the end of Newbern street, fronting the Capitol, and at the distance of seven or eight hundred yards. It is one of the most beautiful sites in the vicinity of Raleigh.

Another Lot of about fifteen acres, lying east of the City, adjoining a Lot formerly the property of the late JAMES GALE, and a Lot belonging to JAMES O'BRYEN. There are two small framed Houses upon it, including a rent shop, which would make the property a good investment at the price as it is estimated, and upon the Street, facing by Dr. J. O. WATSON, are two handsome building situations.

A tract of between thirty and forty acres, about three miles south of Raleigh, abounding in abundant supply of Wood, and much valuable Timber. Persons wishing to purchase, can address the Subscriber at Halifax, and after the meeting of Congress, at Washington City, or can make personal application to the Messrs. BERRY, in Raleigh, who will take pleasure in showing them the premises. J. R. J. DANIEL, October 22nd, 1842. 85-11

OYSTERS—OYSTERS!

FRESH From the Oyster-banks.

THE Subscriber, direct from Norfolk, begs leave respectfully to inform the citizens of Raleigh, and the surrounding neighborhood, that he intends remaining here, better to advance the Oyster trade, with interest to the buyer, as he wishes with safety to the consumer. He will furnish Oysters every other day, or four times per week, at customers' order, by the keg or gallon. In order to serve the citizens with the above luxuries, he has taken a small House, open door to Mr. FRANKLIN, where he will retail Oysters by small measure, from a quart to a gallon, and in all cases, will warrant the Oysters fresh. Country Towns, from Gaston up to Raleigh, in the neighborhood of the Rail Road and its Depots, I will engage to furnish principally three times per week, in six gallon kegs, and also engage to furnish all those Towns, lying South and West of Raleigh, viz: Smithfield, Chapel Hill, Hillsboro, Greensboro, &c. three times per week. To those who may favor me
