The subjoined article, is from the July number, 1840, of the American Journal of Dental Science. PIVOTING METHOD OF INSERTING ARTI-* FIUIAL TEETH.

Our object in adverting to this subject, is merely to totice a plan proposed by Mr. L. S. Stringfellow, an ingenious and skilful practitioner, for giving egress to matter, whenever formed, within the root of a tooth on which an artificial crown has been placed, and by which the supervention of alveolar abscess may, i almost every instance be prevented. For this purpose, instead of cutting a groove on the side of the pivot, as recommended some years ago by Dr. L. S. Parmly, of New Orleans, he cuts it on the side of the tooth; and has invested an instrument by which it ments invented by Mr. S. for the exervation of carious portions of teeth, preparatory to filling, we may take occasion to describe in a future number of our Journal. COMMUNICATED. It is with no little pleasure that we are enabled to inform the public, through the medium of your columns, that a cure has been at length discovered for the most painful and barsssing of all nervous affections, Neuralgia or Tic Doloreux. The many unfortunate patients whose sufferings we have witnessed, and who are ignorant that those sufferings can be relieved by scientific means, induce us to make this communica-tion. The number of cases already cured by Dr. STRINGVELLOW, of this City, prove conclusively the success of his practice, which is as novel as it is efficacious. His residence in the Capital of the State, will make it convenient for him to be consulted by many at a distance, who are afflicted with a disease. many at a distance, who are afflicted with a disease, simust as prostrating to the mental as to the physical

High compliments have been paid, in the American Journal of Dental surgery and other periodicals, to the elegant finish and perfect adaptation to the purpose of his plugging instruments, yet those invented since his arrival in Raleigh are certainly superior, in every respect, to all heretofore used, since by them the requisite degree of force, for consolidating the gold into a firm and dense plug, can be applied without danger of jarring the tooth, or at unputs and wounding the mouth of the parient.

Specimens of teeth set an pivots or gold plate, from one to a full set, with aprings or upon the principal of allows pheric pressure, may be seen and examined at any time, as well as a complete stock of incorruptibile diamond teeth, 20,000 in number, from which any shade at natural teeth can be exactly matched, so as to recorr the difference when in the mouth, absolutely impressible.

Dr. Henner: Dear Sir: It affords me much pleasure to inform you, that my daughter is permanently relieved by the operation performed by you.—

She had been to her distressed mother and myself, a source of the most painful unessiness for years; having been subject to frequent and violent attacks of croup. During the last twelve menths, she has had seven attacks, manifestly increasing her stready enlarged tonails and clongwest uvula—and evidently tending to the destruction of her constitution. The slightest cold would bring on one of those attacks. She is now the picture of health, and her voice and wonted vivacity restored. I cannot sufficiently thank to for the blessive con hard sufficiently thank and for the blessive con hard sufficiently thank to for the bless wonted vivacity restored. I cannot sufficiently thank you, for the blessing you have conferred on us, in the excision of the organs above named, nor can I do jus tice to the expedition and skill, with which you per-formed the operation.
