TYLER GRIPPE.

We have been permitted to publish the following extract of a letter from the North, in which this savage interloper has received a tolerable lambasting. The letter has much of the spirit of the merry Golemmites; and though not written by Willis, is a good specimen of his style of drollery and fun.
"This wily egotist is taking every advantage that is mean and tricky of our people. Expel him out of your own family, and he runs and seizes the members of another by the throat, and then he holds on unwearied and unyielding, for a whole week or ten days at a time. He waylays the poor old man in the streets at night; pounces like a turkey buzzard on the fair, unsuspecting girl, who sits beside you on the piazza by moonlight, and discourses most sweet music in the shape of romantic and sentimental conversation, with her own sweet lips and her silvery tongue; (oh! the brute!) places his horrid fangs on the breast of your young mother, if she happens to pop her head out of the window late in the evening, to see whether her trout husband comes; makes sad work amongst all the boys and girls; and would you believe it? so jealous is he of any little enjoyment a poor devil has now-a-days, since these raw-boned Temperance Orators have been travelling round the country, that if he can lay hands on you coming home from the theatre, with a couple of inches of whiskey punch aboard, maybe you won't feel the effects of his villainy next day. Perhaps it is on the broad of your back you'll be for the next 48 hours, your head feeling for all the world like an old hat stuffed with lead, both your eyes bunged up, or as red as a Scotch herring, your nasal organs resembling the chimney of a glass-blowing establishment, only not so large, or a stage driver's horn when sounded in frosty weather, and your neck with a most infernally disagreeable raw beef steak feeling apparatus inside. Ten to one, too, if you don't find your shoulders and back pretty sore, for the fellow takes, as I said above, every dirty advantage of his victim, belabouring his bones when his eye is turned from him.
There's my old friend the Captain, who every body knows is a dandy water, after sweating himself to associations to burn the rascal out, as he called it, he has scarcely strength to close his maxillary on a quid of old Virginia. And there's my little student for all the ill of life and that flesh is heir to except her own! why, she has been bathing her tiny feet, bless them! in such hot water and mustard, for so many nights in succession, that not an inch of fair skin is now to be seen on them—no, not seen—found—well; there's no skin there any way, for her waiting maid told Cousin Sally, and she told Lucy Long, and Cousin Long you know, is in every body's mouth up the street—can't keep her out of it. I wish she would only turn her ladyship into a Daguerrtype'd chimney sweep with brush in hand, and go down and clean out my fire which this despoiler of mine resembles much, and I'd be very much obliged to her indeed, as the unsophisticated core was to Columbus for discovering America. And there's my good old grandmother! Was there ever such a wretch! To attack a decrepit, defenceless, harmless and unoffending female! Every sixpence she was saving to give the children at Christmas, is gone in paying Nell Johnson for washing extra handkerchiefs. She uses one dozen every 24 hours, and uses economy at this, for she takes her apron to her eyes. The good old creature! Oh, bless her grey hairs and heavy laugh! I hear it now, sick as she is. Why, the Doctor says she must touch a morsel of animal food for two weeks, and now she eats nothing but mush and molasses; and when she puts her pipe to her mouth and takes the first puff, we have to shut every window and door in the house to keep her from the whooping cough. We're in a nice fix; there's no raising the wind in any shape. But mother is too particular, too fresh entirely in her orders. My monthly roses, for instance, have been sent out of the room that they might not blow there, and we never see a bottle of porter at the dinner table, because there's fixed air in it; and the other day the old man kicked the nigger down stairs for whistling in the passages. Why, the house is like an oven; there is not a breath of air stirring, except the airs that sister Sally gives herself, and they are of no use or harm to any one else. Well, I like my grandmother well enough, and don't want to slander her; but, blow me, if she didn't have the last New York Mirror shoved into the fire this morning, because there were two or three puffs in it.
And there is Parson B. whose voice out-croaks the raven's, preaching, notwithstanding, to his congregation, who can comprehend every word as distinctly as he can himself, and his power of hearing is so far gone that, in the midst of a hymn accompanied by the organ last Sunday morning, he resumed the service.

Our heads have become so heavy that we cannot bear to raise them off the pillows, and we sleep all night long. Some of us mistake the peals of the church bell for the ringing of the breakfast bell, and are roused by that means. As for taste, we have lost it totally; but talking of feel-patters, they have no need of such a sense. We are unable to distinguish one eatable from another; beef might as well be fried eggs, ham a Chesbire cheese, and fresh fish a Bologna sausage. A murky stagnation pervades all our senses except that of feeling.
Old Joe Steel, the miser, having never felt for any one but himself, is now reaping the full benefit of his selfishness, and is the most miserable subject amongst us. He sheds tears the whole live long day, and the boys poke all kinds of fun at him. We do not know where all this suffering is going to end. We have been shooting at the wily enemy lately with Dover's powder, but the fellow is so quick and tortuous in his movements, and has so many faces, that we just as often hit ourselves, as him; so we have concluded it was best to let the chap run his strength out, and then fall on him en masse, particularly since we heard of the fate of your friend T. who undertook to starve him out, and got so starved out himself, and such a battering about the tubular region of the abdomen, that his own father passes him by in the street. Adieu—if I do not write you in a day or two, you may infer that I'm a gone chicken.

FROM HOWIE'S RURAL LIFE OF GERMANY.

COWS.
"It is quite repulsive to our English feelings to see the manner in which the cows are worked in this country. An English lady observed to a German one, that of all things she would not like to be a German woman of the common class, or a German cow, for they were both unmercifully worked. The German lady thought it a good answer to say, that she certainly would in this, as in any other country, prefer being a lady to an ordinary woman, and that she should not choose to be a cow at all. The English lady here again rejoined, "but of all cows, not a German cow." In England, the cow is a privileged and most luxurious animal. She lies down in green pastures, and by the still waters at perfect leisure. In summer she is half buried in plenty. In beautiful fields, fair as those of Apollo, which feed in the meadows of Thracia or of Asphodel, they graze the most famous pastures in the world, and present to the eye of the lover of the country, one of the most lovely spectacles which the country can show. They slowly rove from one portion of their extensive bounds to another, or lie down amid a blaze of golden and purple flowers and greenest grass, pictures of plenty, images and indicators of the farming wealth of England, which nothing can surpass. They stand in company, beneath the shade of drooping willows and polished alders, in the glistering passages of the brook at midnight, in groups rich enough to raise a Cypriote or a Ravidel from the dust. O Devon, or Hereford, Durham, Northumberland, Chester or Gloucester, what country can show meadows like yours! What has this planet to exhibit of fat and milky like yours; enough to make the jolly heart of the English farmer proud, and big, and buttery, as it is? And what would you say did you see the life of a cow in Germany? Here, for the most brilliant portion of the year, she is shut up in close prison. There are no green meadows, no running streams; no roving in sleek, round-bodied, Apple and lowing herds for her. She is cooped up in a little dark stall. Old women and young women, and little children with creels on their backs, go out with books, and cut rough grass and rampant weeds from under bushes in the woods, along the roadsides, and in the corners of fields, for her. Ducks, chervil, rough sedge from the river's brink, anything that is green and eatable, is piled in baskets on old women's heads, and brought home to her. Shut up there, the very smell of August green is enough to make her devour it. In summer, the lower leaves of the dick-ruben are stripped off for her; lucerne is grown for her, and odds and ends of cabbage, carrots, and turnip leaves fall to her share. She cannot rove in fields, for there are none. She cannot climb the hillsides, for there climb the vines; and the plains are full of corn, green crops, and tobacco, without a hedge to keep her from picking and stealing. When she comes out, it is to labour. With a fellow slave she is seized by the horns; a yoke is clapped on the back of her head, one end of which rests on hers, and the other on the head of her fellow: this is strapped fast, and secured to the pole of the wagon or the plough, and thus with her meek forehead fast in the stocks of labour, she is driven a field, or to market, to perform all the work of her peasant-master. It is a pitiable sight to see a couple of these mild and gentle animals tugging along with their heads hung down, and immovable in any direction, "for they must move together, if they move at all," while behind comes the driver, whipping and bawling, "wacht! wacht!" or "yacht! yacht!" out! out! woe! woe! ah! hoo!" and such like sounds. While she lives, this is the lot of the German cow! She has not the satisfaction of her milk flowing in warm and foamy streams into union with that of a score of her fellows, and thence arising piles of rich golden butter, and the splendid masses of Stilton or double Gloucester—such glorious productions as Stilton, Dunlop, or double Gloucester, never enter the region of a German peasant's imagination: on the contrary, her isolated stream goes to furnish only a butter, meagre, pallid, and poor, or cheeses formed in the palm of the hand, and dried on the outside of a window-sill, more like hens' eggs than any thing beside. When she dies, too, miserable cow, she has not even the satisfaction of dying fat!

IMPORTERS AND WHOLESALE DEALERS IN
Foreign and Domestic Dry Goods,
RICHMOND, VA.
Having received one of the largest and most general assortments of
FALL AND WINTER DRY GOODS,

A CARD.

TO COUNTRY MERCHANTS AND FARMERS:
J. E. WATKINS,
MAIN STREET, RICHMOND, VA.
Would embrace the present opportunity to inform Country Merchants and others who may visit this market for the purpose of purchasing Goods, that his stock of BOOKS, SHOES, &c. for the Fall trade will be extensive, having been carefully selected by Mr. G. L. DENISON, formerly of Petersburg, who is now in his employ, and has had considerable experience in this branch of business. His stock having been purchased (by leaving orders for their manufacture) early in July, which was previous to the advance in price of Goods in his line, will enable him to offer them 10 or 15 per cent. less than he could if they had been purchased at a later date, which is a difference of no small consideration. His object is to establish himself in business, and he intends using every proper means for the accomplishment of that object; and, to further his purpose, proposes offering his Goods at such prices as will make it to the interest of purchasers to call and examine his stock.
He has received a portion of his stock, and will continue to receive by various arrivals during the season.

MEDICAL COLLEGE.

THE next Session of the Medical Department of the Hampden-Sydney College will commence, in Richmond, on the last Monday of October (30th), and continue until the 2d of February following.
JOHN CULLUM, M.D., Professor of Theory and Practice of Medicine.
L. W. CHAMBERLAIN, M.D., Professor of Materia Medica and Therapeutics.
R. L. BOWMAN, M.D., Professor of Obstetrics and Diseases of women and children.
SOCRATES MAUPIN, M.D., Professor of Chemistry and Pharmacy.
ADOLPHUS L. WARNER, M.D., Professor of Surgery and Surgical Anatomy.
JEREMIAS WEXNER, M.D., Professor of Anatomy and Physiology.
The Library attached to the College furnishes ample materials for practical medical and surgical instruction during the winter. To this is added the public institutions of the city, which are under the charge of a member of the Faculty; to all of which the student has free access. The facilities for obtaining information in practical anatomy and the mode of performing surgical operations are not excelled in any institution of our country.
The Faculty take pleasure in announcing to the medical profession the appointment of Dr. Jeffrey W. Wymann, of Boston, to the chair of Anatomy and Physiology; a gentleman of eminent qualifications as a human and comparative Anatomist and Physiologist.
AUG. L. WARNER, M.D.,
Dean of the Faculty.

PILLS! PILLS!! PILLS!!!

HEALTH THE TRUEST RICHES.
THE CELEBRATED
Hygienic Vegetable Pills,
Can be had at the Store, JOHN PRIMROSE, FAYETTEVILLE STREET, RALEIGH, N. C. MOAT'S MORISON PILLS.
THE GENUINE HYGIENIC VEGETABLE UNIVERSAL MEDICINE—Accurately prepared by Dr. H. S. Moat, of New York, from the original recipe used for many years by his late father, Mr. Thomas Moat, Vice President of the British College of Health.
Twenty years' successful administration of these celebrated medicines in Europe, and more than twelve years in the United States, have established their high reputation. Thousands of both sexes, who have been restored to health—the numerous sufferers rescued from premature death—and volumes of certified cases of cure, embracing every disease in the long catalogue of human misery; must convince the most incredulous of their superiority and the truth of the Hygienic theory, resulting from scientific research and experience, namely, that man is subject to only one real ultimate impurity of the blood.
The Medicines being composed entirely of herbs or vegetable matter, purify the blood, and carry off the corrupt humors of the body, in a manner so simple as to give every day ease and pleasure.
Man will be so to-day of bias, compared to what has hitherto been his lot, weighed down as he has been by disease, infirmities, and sufferings which no earthly power knew how to alleviate, until this discovery was presented to the world. The weak; the feeble; the infirm; the nervous; the delicate; are in a few days strengthened by their operation, and the most obstinate complaints are removed by perseverance. Adapted to all circumstances and situations, they are the best Medicine ever invented for Families, or to take to sea, preventing scurvy and costiveness, requiring no change of diet, particular regimen, or care against taking cold.
The propensity of these medicines, has induced many speculators to attempt imposition on the public, by forging the labels, or forcing their Imitations into notice through the medium of the Press. Some of them pretend to Hygienic principles, by stealing from the writings of the Hygienist, and copying wholesale pages into their fulsome advertisements.
But as they cannot copy the medicine, their specifics or their deleterious nostrums prove to be unavailing, their puffing and piracy become evident; disappointment to the afflicted is eventual, and with just obloquy the pretenders sink into oblivion.
The Hygienic medicines, first introduced into this country by H. S. Moat, in 1830, have for the last four years been prepared by him, and the increasing sale attests their intrinsic merit; they comprise two sorts of Pills, No. 1 and No. 2, in single boxes of each at $1.50 and 50 cents; and Packets containing both sorts, at $1.50, or $3. The Vegetable Cleansing Powders, in large boxes, at 37 1/2 cents, with printed directions. Each packet has a fac simile of the signature of H. S. Moat, and to prevent counterfeits, are signed with a pen by the district agent and sub-agent on a label of yellow paper.
None are genuine unless they have these signatures, and are obtained from sub-agents, who can produce their written appointments from the district agent, and whose names are advertised in their respective districts.
H. S. Moat,
Principal Office, 50 Canal St.
All orders will be promptly filled at 20 per cent. less than retail prices for all sums over twenty five dollars, for cash.
Some persons in every Town and Village, ought to keep this valuable medicine, for the benefit of their fellow men. One individual sent ninety miles to procure them.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA.

WILLIAM PEACE, Clerk and Master's Office, Aug. 11, 1843.

JOHN M. PEACE AND OTHERS.

The Plaintiff's Bill in the above entitled cause, states in substance, that Joseph Peace of Raleigh, hath lately departed this life, intestate, unmarried, and without issue: that the plaintiff and the defendants John M. Peace and Pleasant Peace are brothers of the said Joseph; that he had in his lifetime, one other brother, named James Barr, and four sisters, Elizabeth Barr, Nancy Barr, Mary Peace and Lucy Peace, who all died many years before the said Intestate: That James Barr left a daughter Nancy, intermarried with one Fuller, (whose Christian name is unknown to the plaintiff,) and resides in Shelby County, Tennessee; and that James had a son named Thomas, who is dead, leaving two children, who reside in Alabama—one a son named John G. Barr, and the other, a daughter, whose name is unknown to the plaintiff. That Elizabeth Barr was twice married; by her first husband, one William Pater, she had issue two children, one Robert and Margaret, who are believed to be dead without issue. And by her second husband, Dr. Miles King, she had issue four sons, John, Edmund, Alexander and William, all of whom are dead—the three last named, in the belief of the plaintiff, without issue; and John, leaving a son, Leonidas King, residing in Alabama or Tennessee, and the plaintiff believes, other children, but if so, their names are unknown to him. And she had also four daughters, Julia, who intermarried with one Piggies, (now deceased,) and who is residing a widow in Pontotoc, Mississippi; Harriet, now the wife of one Harman, whose Christian name is unknown to the plaintiff, residing in Munroe County, Georgia. Mary, now the wife of one Min-ton, whose Christian name is also unknown—residing in Marshall County, Mississippi; and Elizabeth, now the widow of one Coke, and residing in Pickens County, Alabama. That Nancy Barr died leaving issue in North Carolina—That Mary Peace intermarried with Isaac Kittrell, and removed to Alabama, where she left issue one brother, and one sister, and one son, whose name is wholly unknown to the plaintiff; and said Mary had other children, who are dead, but whether with or without issue, is unknown to the plaintiff. That Lucy Peace intermarried with Lewis Lemay, and (besides other issue) had a son named John P. Lemay, now of Deoto County, Mississippi.
And the said Bill further shews that the said Plaintiff and the said John M. Peace and Pleasant Peace, with the issue of the said deceased brother and sisters of the said Intestate, are his heirs at law: That the Plaintiff and the Intestate in his lifetime were partners under the firm of "Joseph and William Peace," and, as such, were seized in fee simple of divers Lots and Tracts of Land in Raleigh, and in the Counties of Wake and Granville, and which are particularly described in the said Bill, which are a clear surplus of the said partnership effects, of which the said Plaintiff in his own right, is entitled to one moiety, and with the said issue of the said deceased brother and sisters of the said Intestate, is entitled, as heirs at law, of the said Intestate, to the other moiety, between them to be divided according to their several interests. And the scope and prayer of the Bill for certain reasons therein set forth is for the sale of the said Lot and Tracts of Land, in order, that the proceeds of such sale may be divided in like actual partition.
And the Plaintiff, having this day filed his said Bill, in the office of the said Court, and supported the same by his affidavit, in writing, L. Perrin Busbee, Clerk and Master of the said Court do, at the desire of the said Plaintiff, and according to the Act of Assembly in such case made, by this advertisement to be six weeks inserted in the Raleigh Register, hereby notify and warn the said Julia Piggies, the said Minton and Mary his wife, the said Harman and Harriet his wife, the said Fuller and Nancy his wife, the said John G. Barr, the said Harriet, daughter of the said late Mary Kittrell, and her husband—and the said John P. Lemay, as well as all other persons not residents of the State of North Carolina, who may have or claim any interest in the premises, to appear before the Judge of the said Court of Equity, at the Court to be held at the Court House in Raleigh, on the first Monday after the fourth Monday of September next, and plead, answer or demur to the said Bill, otherwise the same will be taken as confessed by them respectively, and to be heard ex parte.
Witness, the said Perrin Busbee, Clerk and Master of the said Court, the 11th August, 1843.

COMMUNICATED.

It is with no little pleasure that we are enabled to inform the public, through the medium of your columns, that a cure has been at length discovered for the most painful and harassing of all nervous affections, Neuralgia or Tic Dolorens. The many unfortunate patients whose sufferings we have witnessed, and who are ignorant that those sufferings can be relieved by scientific means, induce us to make this communication. The number of cases already cured by Dr. STRINGFELLOW, of this City, prove conclusively the success of his practice, which is as novel as it is efficacious. His residence in the Capital of the State, will make it convenient for him to be consulted by almost at a distance, who are afflicted with a disease, almost as prostrating to the mental as to the physical energies of the human system.
STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA.—WAKE County.—In the Court of Equity. Clerk and Master's Office, Aug. 11, 1843.
William Peace, et al.
John M. Peace and others.
The Plaintiff's Bill in the above entitled cause, states in substance, that Joseph Peace of Raleigh, hath lately departed this life, intestate, unmarried, and without issue: that the plaintiff and the defendants John M. Peace and Pleasant Peace are brothers of the said Joseph; that he had in his lifetime, one other brother, named James Barr, and four sisters, Elizabeth Barr, Nancy Barr, Mary Peace and Lucy Peace, who all died many years before the said Intestate: That James Barr left a daughter Nancy, intermarried with one Fuller, (whose Christian name is unknown to the plaintiff,) and resides in Shelby County, Tennessee; and that James had a son named Thomas, who is dead, leaving two children, who reside in Alabama—one a son named John G. Barr, and the other, a daughter, whose name is unknown to the plaintiff. That Elizabeth Barr was twice married; by her first husband, one William Pater, she had issue two children, one Robert and Margaret, who are believed to be dead without issue. And by her second husband, Dr. Miles King, she had issue four sons, John, Edmund, Alexander and William, all of whom are dead—the three last named, in the belief of the plaintiff, without issue; and John, leaving a son, Leonidas King, residing in Alabama or Tennessee, and the plaintiff believes, other children, but if so, their names are unknown to him. And she had also four daughters, Julia, who intermarried with one Piggies, (now deceased,) and who is residing a widow in Pontotoc, Mississippi; Harriet, now the wife of one Harman, whose Christian name is unknown to the plaintiff, residing in Munroe County, Georgia. Mary, now the wife of one Min-ton, whose Christian name is also unknown—residing in Marshall County, Mississippi; and Elizabeth, now the widow of one Coke, and residing in Pickens County, Alabama. That Nancy Barr died leaving issue in North Carolina—That Mary Peace intermarried with Isaac Kittrell, and removed to Alabama, where she left issue one brother, and one sister, and one son, whose name is wholly unknown to the plaintiff; and said Mary had other children, who are dead, but whether with or without issue, is unknown to the plaintiff. That Lucy Peace intermarried with Lewis Lemay, and (besides other issue) had a son named John P. Lemay, now of Deoto County, Mississippi.
And the said Bill further shews that the said Plaintiff and the said John M. Peace and Pleasant Peace, with the issue of the said deceased brother and sisters of the said Intestate, are his heirs at law: That the Plaintiff and the Intestate in his lifetime were partners under the firm of "Joseph and William Peace," and, as such, were seized in fee simple of divers Lots and Tracts of Land in Raleigh, and in the Counties of Wake and Granville, and which are particularly described in the said Bill, which are a clear surplus of the said partnership effects, of which the said Plaintiff in his own right, is entitled to one moiety, and with the said issue of the said deceased brother and sisters of the said Intestate, is entitled, as heirs at law, of the said Intestate, to the other moiety, between them to be divided according to their several interests. And the scope and prayer of the Bill for certain reasons therein set forth is for the sale of the said Lot and Tracts of Land, in order, that the proceeds of such sale may be divided in like actual partition.
And the Plaintiff, having this day filed his said Bill, in the office of the said Court, and supported the same by his affidavit, in writing, L. Perrin Busbee, Clerk and Master of the said Court do, at the desire of the said Plaintiff, and according to the Act of Assembly in such case made, by this advertisement to be six weeks inserted in the Raleigh Register, hereby notify and warn the said Julia Piggies, the said Minton and Mary his wife, the said Harman and Harriet his wife, the said Fuller and Nancy his wife, the said John G. Barr, the said Harriet, daughter of the said late Mary Kittrell, and her husband—and the said John P. Lemay, as well as all other persons not residents of the State of North Carolina, who may have or claim any interest in the premises, to appear before the Judge of the said Court of Equity, at the Court to be held at the Court House in Raleigh, on the first Monday after the fourth Monday of September next, and plead, answer or demur to the said Bill, otherwise the same will be taken as confessed by them respectively, and to be heard ex parte.
Witness, the said Perrin Busbee, Clerk and Master of the said Court, the 11th August, 1843.
