"LIKE ORIENT PEARLS AT RANDOM STRUNG."

THE FARMER.

BY J. J. BAKER. A farmer's life is the life for me. I own I love it dearly; And every season full of glee, I take its labors cheerly-To plough or sow, To reup or mow, Or in the barn to thrash, sir, All's one to me, I plainly see, Twill give me health and cash, sir.

The lawyer teads a harrass'd life. Much like that of a hunted ofter; And 'tween his own and other's strife, He's always in hot water-For foe or friend, A cause defend, However wrong must be, sir-

In reason's spite, Maintain 'tis right, And dearly earn his fee, sir,

The doctor's styled a gentleman, But this I hold but humming -For, like a tavern waiting man, To every call 'he's coming, Now here, now there. Must he repair, Or starve sir by denying-Like death himself, Unhappy elf, He lives by others' dying.

A farmer's life then let me live, Obtaining while I lead it, Enough for self, and some to give To such poor souls as need it, I'll drain and fence, Nor grudge expense, To give the land good dressing-I'll plough or sow, Or drill in row,

And hope from Heaven a blessing.

TAKING THE CENSUS IN ALABAMA. BY A "CHICKEN MAN" OF 1840.

Our next adventure was decidedly a dangerous oue. Fording the Tallapoosa river. where its bed is extremely uneven, being formed of masses of rock full of fissures and covered with slimy green moss, when about two-thirds of the way across, we were hailed by Sol Todd from the bank we were approaching. We stopped to hear him more distinctly. "Hellow! little 'squire, you a chicken hunting to-day ?"

Being answered affirmatively, he continued-" You better mind the holes in them ere rocks-if your horse's foot gits ketched in 'em you'll never get it out. You see that big black rock down to your right? Well, there's good bottom down below that .-Strike down thar, outside that little riffleand now cut right into that smooth water and come across !"

We followed Sol's direction to the letter and plunging in the smooth water, we found it to be a basin surrounded with steep ledges of rock and deep enough to swim the horse we rode. Round and round the poor old black toiled without finding any place at which he could effect a landing, so precipitous were the sides. Sol occasionally asked us " if the bottom was nt firstrate," but scrambled out, wet and chilled to the bone -for it was a sharp September morningand continued our journey not a little annoyed by the boisterous, roaring laughter of the

We had'nt more than got out of hearing of Sol's cachinatory explosions, before we met one of his neighbors who gave us to understand that the ducking we had just rereived, was but the fulfilment of a threat of Sol's to make the 'chicken-man' take a swim in the 'Buck Hole.' He had heard of our stopping on the opposite side of the river, the night previous, and learning our intention to ford just where we did, fixed himself on the bank to ensure our finding the way into the ' Buck Hole.'

This information brought our nap right up, and requesting Bill Splawn to stay where he was till we returned, we galloped back to Sol's and found that worthy, rod on shoulder, ready to leave on a fishing excur-

"Sol, old fellow," said we, "that was a most unfortunate lunge I made into that hole in the river-I've lost $25 in specie out of my coat pocket, and I'm certain it's in that hole, for I felt my pocket get light while I was scuffling about in there. The money was must get you to help me to get it." This, of course, was a regular old fashloned lie, as we had not seen that amount Saturday,) will go on direct to New York without of cash mentioned as lost, in a coon's age. any delay.

It took, however, pretty well, and Sol conof the Semi-Weekly Raleigh Register | cluded, as it was a pretty cold spell of weather for the season and the water was almost like ice that half the contents of the buckskin pouch would be just about fair for recovering it." After some chaffering we agreed that Sol should dive for the noney 'on Fourth door above Old Slip, near Peatl st. House. shares,' and we went down with him to the river, to point out the precise spot at which our pocket 'grew light.' We did so with anxious exactness, and Sol soon denuded REGISTER, will also appear in the WEEKLY Paper himself and went under the water in the Buck Hole,' 'like a shuffler duck with his wing broke. Puff! puff! as he rose to the surface. 'Got it Sol?' 'No dang it, here goes again'-and Sol disappeared a second time. Puff! puff! and a considerable rattle of teeth as Sol once more rose into 'upper and which he offers for CASH, at a small advance air'- What luck, old horse?' 'By jungs I felt it that time, but some how it slid out of my fingers." Down went Sol again, and up he came after the lapse of a minute, will without the pouch. 'Are you right sure, ing faithfully served. squire, that you lost it in this hole' said Sol, and to sales of Produce consigned to him, upon which getting out upon a large rock, while the Advances will be made, if required. chattering of his teeth divided his words into rather more than their legitimate number of sylables. 'Oh perfectly certain Sol, perfectly certain. You know $25 in hard dollars weigh a pound or two. I did'nt mention the circumstance when I first came out of the river because I was so scared and confused that I did'nt remember it-But I know just as well when the pouch broke through my coat pocket, as can be !"

Thus re-assured, Sol took to the water again and as we were in a hurry, we requested him to bring the pouch and half the money to Dadeville, if his diving should prove successful.

"To be sure I will," said he-and his blue lips quivered with cold and his whole frame shook from the same cause.

The "river ager" made Sol shake worse than that, that Fall!

But we left him diving for the pouch industriously, and no doubt he would have got it, if it had been there!

Ouce, as we were about to leave a house at which we had put up, the night previous, one of the girls-a buxom one of twentyfollowed us to the fence, and the following tete-a-tete ensued:

"Now squire they say you know, and want to tell me, ef you please-what will chickens be worth this fall ?"

" How many have you?" "The rise of seventy, and three hens a-settin!"

" Well now, Miss Betsy," said we, 'you know how much I set by the old man your and me always got along-and Jim and Dave, you know we was always like brothersand yourself, Miss Betsy, I consider my particular friend-and as its you I'll tell you!"

"Do 'squire, ef you please; they say Van Buren's going to feed his big army on fowls; PORTRAIT, MINIATURE and some folks say he's going to take 'em without payin' for 'em, and some say he aint -and I thought in course, of he did pay for em, the price would rise !"

"Well, the fact is-but don't say nothing about it-the army is to be fed on fowls; the roosters will be given to the officers to make em brave, and the hens to the common soldiers, because, you see, they aint as good." "In course !"

"So you see, the hens, will be worth about three bits, and the roosters a half a dollar, and ready sale at that."

She was perfectly delighted, and we do not hesitate to say, would have rewarded us with a kiss, if we had asked it; but in these days, modesty was the bright trait in our character. As it was, she only insisted on our taking " a bit of something cold" in our saddle bags, in case we should reach town too late for dinner.

celebrated medicines in Europe, and more than twelve STRINGFELLOW, of this City, prove conclusively the years in the United States, have established their high reputation. Thousands of both sexes, who have been restored to health-the numerous sufferers rescued from premature death-and volumes of certified cases of cure, embracing every disease in the long catalogue almost as prostrating to the mental as the physical of human misery; must convince the most incredulous, of their superiority and the truth of the Hygeian rience, namely, that man is subject to only one real disease-impurity of the blood.

The Medicines being composed entirely of herbs or vegetable matter, purify the blood, and carry off the SOC TES MAUPIN, M D, Professor of Chemistry | corrupt humors of the body, in a manner so simple as to give every day ease and pleasure.

The weak, the feeble, the infirm, the nervous, the delicate, are in a few days strengthened by their operation, and the most obstinate complaints are removed by perseverance without the expense of a Physician. Adapted to all circumstances and situations, they are the best Medicine ever invented for Families, or to take to sea, preventing scurvy and costiveness, requiring no change of diet, particular regimen, or care against taking cold.

The prepotency of these medicines, has indured many speculators to attempt imposition on the public, by forging the labels, or forcing their Imitations inter notice through the medium of the Press -Some of them pretend to Hygeian principles, by stealing from the writings of the Hygeist and copying whole pages into their fulsome advertisements. But as they cannot copy the medicine, their specifics or their deleterious nostrums prove to be unavailng, their puffing and piracy become evident; disappointment to the afflicted is eventual, and with just obloquy the pretenders sink into oblivion. The Hygeian medicines first introduced into this country by H. S. Moat, in 1830, have for the last four years been prepared by him, and the increasing sale attests their intrinsic merit; they comprise two sorts of Pills, No. 1 and No 2, in single boxes of each at 25 or 50 cents; and Packets containing both sorts, at $1, $2, or $3 The Vegetable Cleansing Powders, in large boxes, at 37 cents, with printed directions.
