December 5,-97 Petersburg, Va. Warrenton Male Academy.

THE RINTH Session of this Institution w co m mence on Monday, the 8th day of Januar y 1844 The terms of Board and Tuition are the same a here tofore published.

The undersigned takes great pleasure in informing the patrone and friends of the School and the public generally, that he has rented the large and commodious building formerly occupied by Mrs. Jenkins as a Boarding House, situated immediately opposite to the Academy, and that he will, by this means, be enabled to board as many Students as may be sent to the village from adistance, He pledges himself to the public, that the morals of all the boys entrusted to his call at immediate care and control shall be strictly guarded, and, to accomplish this desirable end, no Student from the Boarding House shall visit the Town, except on special occasions, and never without the permission of the Teacher. It is desirable that all Boys, who have no near relatives in the Town or its vicinity. shall board with the Principal, upon whom devolves the great responsibility of preserving the merals of the Students. It is confidently hoped that the well established character of Warrenton for health, its contiguity to the lower regions of Virginia and North Caroli ne, its facility of access by the Rail Road, the long experience of the Teacher in the profession to which he devotes his undivided time and attention, the reasonable terms of the Institution, and the high order of morals enforced, will all combine to secure to the other Candies Soda, Butter and Water Crackers School a large and generous patronage. SOUTHERN QUARTERLY REVIEW. Country, for the liberal patronage heretofore extended. In commencing the Fifth Volume of this publication, to him, in his line of business, begs teave respectfully to the Editor wishes to urge, with earnestness, its claims announce to them, that he has taken a house on Fay- upon the patronage and support of the Citizens of etteville Street, directly opposite the Market House, the South. Its circulation, always respectable, but and next door to Mrs. HARDIE. He will keep con- never large, requires to be, and, it is believed, may stantly on hand Fresh Oysters, directly from Nor- be, much extended, and the work be thus rendered a folk, received daily, and Fresh Fish in season. To more efficient organ in maintaining the rights and sustaining the literary reputation of the Southern States. Oysters will not be carried round the City for sale by The discontinuance of other periodcials, which have servants or others, but can be obtained daily, as above divided the public patronage, renders the present time if they desire my Oysters, to give them particular in- making such efforts to extend its circulation as will place it on a permanent basis.

It may be proper to state, briefly, the leading t jects which such a Periodical proposes to accomplish and also the reasons, which show the importance and necessity of sustaining one with energy, at the present time, at the South. The general objects of such Periodicals are pretty well understood. They serve to embody the opinions of enlightened minds on all great questions in which the interests of the arts, sciences, letters and politics are involved, at certain periods in the history of the country. Their aim is not only to review books, and, in the spirit of thorough and impartial criticism, to decide upon their merits, but also, in the performance of this duty, to discuss important subjects in such a manner as to make deep and permanent impressions upon the character of the people and destinies of the age : to diffuse knowledge, not to foster prejudices; to create, direct and control, not to echo, opinions; and finally, to canvass principles and maininforming them that he has returned to this place, and style chaste, luminous, nervous and appropriate. The offspring of a high state of civilization, they furnish evidence of intellectual advancement, and are the ob ject of a just and honorable pride, regarded as the ex

ponents of the literary standing and character o communities. The importance of sustaining such a work at the South, with ability and effect, is equally obvious. The South, like the North and the other sections of the Union, owes a duty to the age and to the country in behalf of her literature. She requires an able and Southern Commonwealths. But, more than this, their entire satisfaction. our institutions are peculiar, and require a district organ through which they may be defended with power and spirit, when assailed as they often are, by other sections of the American Confederacy. This aggressive conduct on the part of our Countrymen, so prejudicial to the general harmony, requires to be met and repelled by argument, first, and by action, if necessary, afterwards. The South is an agricultural country, and her position is different from that of other sections more particularly devoted to commerce and manufactures. Her views of her peculiar interests should be known, and require to be maintained and defended with ability, through some such channel. The Southern Quarterly Review is issued, at Charleston, in January, April, July and October. Among its pledged Contributors, are Dew, Bachman, Burnap, Davezac, Upshur, Cushing, Tucker, Simms, Cartwright, Elliott, Garnett, Phornwell, Grayson, Holmes, Everett, Breckenridge, Brantley, King, Sevens, and other distinguished American scholars, residing chiefly in the Southern States. The style of its typographical execution is not surpassed by any work either foreign or domestic. An appeal is confidently made to the generous and patriotic feelings of Southern citizens in its behalf.

Terms-$5 per annum, payable in advance. No Subscription taken for less than a year, and all notices of discontinuances to be forwarded before the first of October of each year, or the Subscription will be binding for the succeeding year, DANIEL K. WHITAKER.
