PROSPECTUS OF THE SOUTHERN QUARTERLY REVIEW. In commencing the Fifth Volume of this publication, the Editor wishes to urge, with earnestness, its claims upon the paironage and support of the Citizens of the South. Its circulation. always respectable, but never large, requires to be, and, it is believed. may be, much extended, and the work be thus rendered a more efficient organ in maintaining the rights and sustaining the literary reputation of the Southern States. The discontinuance of other periodcials, which have divided the public patronage, renders the present time stated, immediately after the arrival of the Cars. It a peculiarly appropriate one for presenting such conwill be well for the Civizens to charge their servants, siderations as will awaken a new interest in it, and for making such efforts to extend its circulation as will place it on a permanent basis.

It may be proper to state, briefly, the leading b jects which such a Periodical proposes to accomplish and also the reasons, which show the importance and necessity of sustaining one with energy, at the present time, at the South.

The general objects of such Periodicals are pretty well understood. They serve to embody the opinions of enlightened minds on all great questions in which the interests of the arts, sciences, letters and politics are involved, at certain periods in the history of the country. Their aim is, not only to review books, and, in the spirit of thorough and impartial criticism, to decide upon their merits, but also, in the performance of this duty, to discuss important subjects in such a manner as to make deep and permanent impressions upon the character of the people and destinies of the age ; to diffuse knowledge, not to foster prejudices ; to create, direct and control, not to ech-, opinions ; and finally, to canvass principles and maintain truth in a calm and dignified manner, and 'in a informing them that he has returned to this place, and style chaste, luminous, nervous and appropriate. The olfspring of a high state of civilization, they furnish evidence of intellectual advancement, and are the ub ject of a just and honorable pride, regarded as the ex ponents of the literary standing and character o communities.

The importance of sustaining such a work at the South, with ability and effect, is equally obvious. cheaper than they can be done elsewhere.
