WHAT A CLAM BAKE IS LIKE.

The editor of the "North Arkansas," published at Batesville, gives his readers the following idea of what a Clam Bake is—the only one we have met with:

A Western Barbecue is a very good thing in its way, but to our taste the ne plus ultra of rural feasts is a Rode Island Clam Bake. Launch you shoat just by one of the islands, the tide is coming in, catch—which you will do in thirty minutes—a bushel of fish. Let some stout hand dig in the mean time five bushels of clams—them, just under the shade of the beautiful shore trees, on the grass, place a pile of small stones so as to cover the ground, and form a sort of basis,—build a fire on them till hot,—sweep off the coals and pour your well washed and dressed clams and fish on the stones, cover with a rock weed fresh from the water.—Now while they are a baking help the ladies spread the cloths along under that delicious shade, and set out the melted butter,—the "cakes and ale" and other picknicks, or if you prefer, relieve these beautiful snail white hands in stirring the chowder.

The "bake" is done—serve up each for himself, and don't be too willing to let the ladies open the clams for you!

The Editor of the Providence Journal enters in the spirit of these things with his very heart of hearts. Hear how he celebrates the "forgone conclusion" of the season two years ago:

'Tis the last clam of summer,
Left smoking alone;
All its juicy companions
Are eaten and gone.

No black fish are waiting,
No chowder is nigh,
The plates are all empty,
The glasses are dry.

I'll not leave thee, love one,
Away from the shore,
Tho' full to the gutter
I'll swallow one more.

So soon may I follow,
When clam bakes decay
And the glory of Warwick
Shall all pass away.

When oysters have vanished,
And clams have not come,
O who would inhabit
This bleak world alone?

There are occasions, says the Journal, when the heart is too full for utterance—when speech would faintly express the feelings which fill the bosom to bursting. This was such an occasion. No man spoke; even the young ducks were silent; and no gander gobbled. Slowly and sadly they rose from their seats, and "casting one longing, lingering, look behind," bade farewell to Warwick Neck for the season.

FORCIBLE ANECDOTE.

At a recent Whig gathering in Richmond, Mr. Toler, of Lynchburg, spoke upon all the great questions involved in the ensuing contest for the Presidency. Having adverted to the dissensions and divisions of our opponents—the number of their aspirants—the different opinions which they entertained—the irreconcilable hostility, personal and political, of Mr. Van Buren and Mr. Calhoun,—the innumerable inconsistencies of their candidates, and the professed willingness of the party to support any one who might be the candidate of the national caucus—the speaker illustrated their condition by an anecdote of an old woman in Kentucky, who had lost her son. A kind hearted old woman, a neighbor, came to condole with her upon her bereavement, and to offer her consolation. "Do not," said she, "make yourself unhappy; poussum was a very fine young man, and is, I have no doubt, now resting on the bosom of father Belzebub." An old gentleman standing by, who, it appeared, was better versed in Scriptural matters than the old lady, remarked that she must be mistaken—she surely meant Father Abraham; to which the old lady replied "it was a matter of little consequence, as they were both mighty good men."

This forcible anecdote, the paper states, excited much merriment.—Duvall's Reporter.

A VALUABLE PLANTATION is offered for sale, near Tallahassee, Florida. The Subscriber, wishing to remove to a more Northern climate, offers for sale the TRACT OF LAND, on which he resides, situated about 8 miles from Tallahassee, in Leon County. There are 1600 acres contained in the Tract, a very large proportion of which is of very superior quality. The place is plentifully watered, with excellent water; and there are not more than 30 acres of waste land in the body. About 750 acres of land are cleared, from which, with a force of forty-five or fifty hands, in a favorable season, 300 or 350 Bales of Cotton can be produced in a season, and more Corn than would serve the Plantation. The land is so situated, that it can be divided into two separate Tracts if preferred. There is good land enough to employ from seventy-five to eighty hands to advantage. The natural growth is Sweet Gum, Post Oak, Red Oak, Cherry, Ash and Dogwood. The upper terminus of the Rail Road, leading from Tallahassee to Stewart's, is only 8 miles distant, and the Railroad is twenty-three miles long.

The improvements, including buildings of every description, are extensive and convenient. A large white family can be comfortably accommodated; and there are Cabins enough for the convenient accommodation of about 80 Slaves. There is a newly erected Gin House on the place, with all necessary appendages.

The society of the neighborhood is of the most desirable kind, and the lands adjoin the Plantations of the Messrs. Cotten and N. Thompson from North Carolina. There are also several Churches, convenient enough to attend.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA.—Wake County.—Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions, November Sessions, A. D. 1843.

Elizabeth Young, Alex. Utley and wife, William Young and Francis Young, vs.
John Young, administrator of Sarah Young, dec'd, and Robert Young.

Petition to divide Slaves belonging to the estate of Sarah Young deceased.

It appearing to the satisfaction of the Court, that the defendant, Robert Young is a non-resident of this State: It is therefore ordered, that advertisement be made in the Raleigh Register, for six weeks, for the said Robert Young to be and appear at the next term of the Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions to be held for the County of Wake, at the Court house in the City of Raleigh, on the third Monday of February, A. D. 1844, and plead, answer or demur to said petition, and show cause, if any he has, why the said negro slaves of the said Sarah Young, deceased, shall not be divided, or otherwise the petition will be heard ex parte as to him, and judgment pro confesso granted against him.

Witness, James T. Marriott, Clerk of said Court, at Office, the third Monday of November, A. D. 1843.

A PRUDENT COURSE IS ALWAYS THE BEST.—Since there are so many different makers of Piano Fortes, and each one thinks his own manufacture the best, would it not be the most prudent course for those wanting articles of the kind to take them upon trial, before making a positive purchase? The Subscriber is sufficiently acquainted with the character and quality of the instruments to offer them upon those terms. Any one therefore, who may have doubts about their quality can have those doubts removed by trial. He has been eight years engaged in this business—has sold about four hundred Piano Fortes—and never had a bad one.—A large additional stock just received.
