LAW SCHOOL IN HARVARD UNI-VERSITY. THE Spring Term of this School will commence

course of legal education for gentlemen intended for the Bar in any of the United States, and also sayscourse of instruction for gentlemen intended for the | call at Bur embraces the various branches of Public and Constitutional Law, Admiralty, Maritime, Equity, and Common Law, which are common to all the United States, with occasional illustrations of Foreign Jurisprudence. The course of instruction for gentlemen intended for the mercantile profession is more limited, and embraces the principal branches only of Commercial Jurisprudence, to wit: the Law of Agency, of Partnership, of Bailments, of Bills of Exchange and Promissory Notes, of Insurance, of Shipping, Navigation, and other Maritime concerns, and of Sales, and, if the student desire it, also of Constitutional Law. No public instruction is given in the local or peruliar municipal jurisprudence of any particular State; but the students are assisted by the Professors, as occasion may require, in their private study of the law and practice peculiar to their own States. The active labors of instruction are shared equally by Mr. Justice Stout, who is Dane Professor of Law in the University, and by Mr. GREENLEAF, Royal Professor of Law, who has the immediate direction and superintendence of the Law School. No examination and no particular course of previous study are necessary for admission; but the student is expected to produce testimonials of a good moral character. He also gives a bond in the sum of $200 to the Steward, with a surety resident in Massachusetts, for the payment of College dues ; or deposites, at his election, $150 with the Steward, at the commencement of each term.

Students may enter the school in any stage of their professional studies or mercantile pursuits. But they are advised to enter at the beginning of those studies. rather than at a later period, as the most useful to themselves. They may also elect what particular studies they will pursue.

The fees are at the rates of $50 a term, and $25 for half or any lesser fraction of a term; for which sum, without any additional charge, students have the use of the lecture rooms, the Law Library, containing upwards of $7,500 volumes, the College Library, and the text-books: and they are admitted tree to all the public lectures in the University. They may also study any foreign language taught in the University for $10 per annum. The trice of board varies from $2 25 to $3 50 per week, and of room rent from 75 cents to $1 25 per week. Fuel, prepared for use, is furnished at cost, by the Steward, if the students desire it, The Academical year, which commences on the Priday after the fourth Wednesday in August, is divided into two terms of twenty weeks each, with a vacation of six weeks at the end of each term.

All students who have pursued their studies in the Law School for three terms, or eighteen months, or who, after having been admitted to the bar, have pursued their studies in the Law School for one year, are entitled, upon the certificate and recommendation of the Law Faculty; to the degree of Bachelor of Laws.
