LETTER FROM MAJOR JONES.
PINEVILLE, Feb. 6, 1844.
Mr. Thompson.—Dear Sir—News! News!! Glorious News!!! Hurra for me!!!!

Let the kettle to the trumpet speak.
The cannon to the heavens, the heavens to earth,
For Mary's got a baby!!!
And a monstrous fine boy at that! The king of Denmark, you know, wanted to set all heaven and yearth in an uproar, just because his excellency was gwine to take a drink of licker—but if ever a man did feel like this world wasn't big enough for him to enjoy his happiness in, I think I ought on this important occasion. I never had sich feelings before. When I was 'lected Major of the Georgia Militia I felt a good deal of pride and gratification, and when I married Mary, I thought I was the happiest man in Georgia, but this last business has clasp'd the climax over every thing that ever happened to me in all my born days. It would'n do for people to git much happier in this world than I am, now mind I tell you.

I don't want to brag over other people, and I know it's a old maxim, that every crow thinks his young ones the whitest, but I'll tell you what's a fact; mine is one of the most surpisenest children, that ever was seen in these parts. I aint but jest four days old this evening, and its got a plenty of hair on its head, and the prettiest little feet and hands, with toes and fingers, all jest as natural as grown people's, and when it opens its eyes it rolls 'em all round the room jest like it know'd every thing that was gwine on. Mother says she really does believe the child know'd her the first time she tuck it in her arms, and old Miss Stallions says all she's afraid of is its too smart to live. The galls is almost crazy about it, and sich another pullin and hawlin about it as they do keep. One wants it and 'tother wants it, and they won't give the little feller no chance to sleep for lookin at it and showin it to people and talkin to it, and its all the time, 'come to its any; 'tweest little precious baby; 'tittle sugar candy, dumpy diddle,' and every time I take it they're all scared to deth for fear I'll hurt it some way.

Just as I suspected, the namin has been more trouble than a little, I picked out Henry Clay for his name more'n a month ago, but they all wanted to have a say in it, and every one had a name that they liked the best of any. Mother said she never liked to have any of her family named after great political characters; for she never know'd a George Washington, or a Thomas Jefferson, that was any manner account in her life, except the first ones, and their names would'n be no better than common people's if their characters wasn't. Old Miss Stallions wanted to call him Aberham Stallions, cause that was her husband's, and sister Calline wanted him named Theodore Adolphus, cause they were her favorite novel names, and Sister Kesiah wanted him named Charles Beverly, cause he was one of the most interestinest characters in 'The Children of the Abby.' I wanted all to be satisfied, but it seemed like ther was no fixin the business to anybody's likin, until after they all talked themselves down tired about it, we all agreed to leave it to Mary to decide. Poor Mary didn't know what to do, when they all gathered round her a begin as hard as they could.

'Remember your poor old father that's dead and gone, child,' said old Miss Stallions.
'Oh, don't call him Aberham, that's such a old time name,' sez the gals.
'Theodore is so pretty,' sez sister Calline.
'Oh that's such a outlandish French name, sez all of 'em.
'But Charles Beverly, was such a good character in 'The Children of the Abby,' and sounds so noble,' sez sister Kesiah.
'No Christian child ought to be named a novel name, says old Miss Stallions. 'They're all lies from end to end.'
'Call him what you're a mind to, dear,' sez mother, for you're his mother, and ought to please yourself.
Mary looked up in my face with her pretty blue eyes, and smiled so sweet when sister Calline laid the baby in her arms; and then she sed as she hugged it to her bosom; 'Come to its mudder, my sweet little Henry Clay; it shall be called Henry Clay, so it shall, mudder's pweicions little ringdove, so it is, and it shall be President too, when it gits a man so it shall.

'Hurra for Clay,' sez I, 'Hur—
'Hush-h-h-h, Joseph,' sez mother, 'aint you shamed to shock Mary's nerves so?'
The fact was, I felt so glad I forgot what I was about. But I went right off and rit down in the family record:
"HENRY CLAY JONES,
The first son of Joseph and Mary Jones,
Was born on
The 2d day of February, 1844."
I've been so frustrated for the last week that I hardly know what I'm doin half the time, and I don't spose I shall find time to do much else but nurse the baby for some time to come. Mary's rite piert, and little Henry Clay is making a monstrous good beginning in the world. No more from
Your friend til deth,
JOS. JONES.

P. S. I haint had no time to think about politics lately; but you may be sure things is gwine on strait enough down here. There's monstrous few lokyfokys in our beat, and what few ther is, is so split up they don't know who they belong to. They used to say they 'longed to the Baltimore Convention, but sense Mr. Calhoun's tuck it into his head 'to give it up,' they don't know nothin about it, only they don't belong to the Coons. Poor fellows, they're in a rite bad box. Van Buren's fooled 'em about the tariff and they hant got no confidence in him about abolition, and they can't go for him. Calhoun's gwine to Nullify agin and it went do for old union men to jine him in that. Ther's no accountin for the taste of the lokyfokys, and ther's no tellin what they will do; but my opinion is, if they don't cometo ther senses afore long, and vote for Mr. Clay, they'll be like the lost tribes of Israel—not to be found.

CANDLES AGAIN. We have a fresh supply, which will be sold low for cash.

EXTENSIVE ASSORTMENT OF PIANOS.
Probably the largest in any one Establishment North or South.
IN purchasing so costly an article as a Piano Forte, would it not be well to order from one who has been engaged in the business some 8 or 9 years, has sold, upon trial, to different persons in Virginia and North Carolina near four hundred instruments, without selling a bad one, and who offers to take all the responsibility of selecting for you, and to grant you the privilege of returning in case you are not pleased? Would it not be well to order direct from the seller himself, in place of depending upon an agent, particularly if that agent is to select for you hereby leaving the responsibility of the seller, whereas if you leave him to himself he is without excuse.
Prices vary from $250 to 600.

ST. MARY'S SCHOOL,
RALEIGH, N. C.
Right Rev. L. S. IVES, D. D., Visitor.
Rev. ALBERT SMEDER, Rector.
THE Fifth Session of this School will commence on the 1st day of June, and continue five months. A punctual attendance of the Pupils, at the opening of the Session, is very important, and is particularly requested.
The principal building of this Institution is of brick, about 90 feet by 60, three stories high, with a basement. The wings are of granite, 36 feet by 55, and two stories high. These buildings are on elevated ground, in the midst of an Oak Grove, of nearly 80 acres, one mile from the City of Raleigh—a situation perfectly healthful at all seasons of the year.
The Saloon, the School Room, and the Dormitories are each 23 feet by 57. The Dormitories are divided into alcoves, each designed for two pupils, and securing to them a closet for their prayers, and privacy for the duties of the Toilet.
The Chapel is furnished with an Organ, a Chancel, and an Altar, and is exclusively devoted to religious worship and instruction.
The course of Studies embraces the Ancient and Modern Languages, Mathematics, the Natural Sciences, Mental and Moral Philosophy, &c., and may be pursued in any branch, and to any extent that may be desired.
It is the aim of the Rector to give to every department of his School the highest efficiency, and to render it eminently worthy of the patronage it enjoys, and of that which it inspires.

TERMS.—PAYABLE IN ADVANCE.
For Board, including washing, lights, &c., with Tuition in English, and in the Ancient Languages, if desired, per session, $100 00
Tuition in French, 13 50
" in Music, on the Piano or Guitar, 25 00
Tuition on the Harp, 30 00
" with $10 00 for the use of the instrument, 10 00
" in Singing, in Classes, 25 00
" in Drawing and Painting, 15 00
For a course of instruction in ornamental needle work, 5 00
N. B. Beds and Bedsteads are furnished by the School; Pupils are required to furnish their own bedding and towels. The clothing of Pupils should be distinctly marked with the owner's name. Mr. Smeder will superintend any purchases Parents may authorize their children to make in the City, but no account will be opened at any Store, without the express sanction of parents, or guardians. The Religious services of Sunday, being held in the Chapel of the Institution by the Rector, Pupils have rarely occasion to visit the City, and the plianes arrive in all that they require. They are allowed to accept invitations in the City for the day, only once a month, and never, for the evening. They have opportunities of seeing their friends, and acquiring ease of manner in society, at the Societes, which are stately held during the season.

DYSPEPSIA.
TO soothe the sufferings of humanity, to ameliorate the pangs of disease, is the grand object of medical science. This is chiefly demonstrated in the healing virtues of DR. BENJAMIN BRANDETH'S PILLS. The cures effected by this medicine would fill volumes.
Views on Indigestion as a source of various Undeveloped and Irregular Nervous Sensations.
" Ills, small at first, grow larger from delay;
" And slowly eat their sad and cankering way;
" Thus by successive throes, the frame is torn,
" Till health and peace of mind alike are gone."
The nerves of the human body—those necessary and mysterious agents which immediately connect man with—external nature are singularly prone to have their functions disordered by an oppressed condition of the stomach; the minute termination of that portion of the nerves expanded upon the organs of digestion conveying the morbid impression to the Brain. And although the Head can, undoubtedly, like other organs, be the seat of primary disorder, yet, in the great majority of cases, the uneasy sensations there experienced are symptomatic of disordered Stomach; and, further, there is abundant evidence to prove that cruditates in the Stomach and Bowels can, in every grade of human existence, give rise to spasmodic action in every organ of the body; and whether we survey it in the agonising form of the Doloureux—the alarming convulsions of the Epileptic seizure—or in that irritable condition of the nerves of the heart occasioning nervous palpitation—they can all frequently be traced to the source above mentioned, and be cured by mild evacuant and tonic remedies. To relieve a state of so much suffering and distress (in which body and mind also participate) BRANDETH'S PILLS are confidently recommended; as, by combining aromatic, tonic and cleansing properties, they remove all oppressive accumulations, strengthen the Stomach, induce a healthy appetite, and impart tranquillity to the nervous system; and in fact, by their general purifying power upon the blood, exert a most beneficial influence in all cases of disease. Read the following:
DYSPEPSIA CURED.
BEXBROOK, Vt. Dec. 5th, 1843.
Dear Sir—I wish you to add my testimony to the host of others that you have, in favor of your valuable Pills. In the year 1838, I was attacked with that disagreeable complaint, the DYSPEPSIA, which so affected me that I could not take the least particle of food, without the most unpleasant and uncomfortable sensations in my chest, head and bowels. My chest was so sore that I could not bear the slightest pressure without giving me pain. My health was most miserable: many physicians told me they thought I was in the consumption, and that if I did not give up my business, and change climate, I could live but a short time.
I tried every thing in the shape of medicine, and consulted the most skillful physicians, but found no permanent relief. I became discouraged, gloomy, sad, and sick of life; and, probably, ere long, should have been in my grave, had I not fell in with your precious medicine. A friend of mine, who had been sick of the same complaint, advised me to try your pills; but, having tried most other medicines without obtaining any relief, had but little faith that your Pills would be of benefit to me; but, at his earnest solicitation, I procured a box and commenced taking them.
The first produced little or no effect, and I began to despond, for fear that your medicine would prove like others I have taken, but my friends argued that one was not a fair trial, and I purchased a second, and before I had taken the whole box, I began to experience a change; the pain in my chest began to be less painful, and my food did not distress me as much as formerly. I went on taking them until I had taken six boxes, and my DYSPEPSIA was gone, and my expectation of an early death vanished, and I felt like a "new creature." I was then, and am now, a healthy man. I have never since been troubled with the Dyspepsia. I have administered your Pills to the members of my family, and to my friends, and in all cases with good success. You can publish this in it will be of any use to you.
I am, dear Sir, truly yours,

8031 ACRES OF MISSISSIPPI COTTON LANDS FOR SALE.—The subscriber offers the above number of acres, situated in the Counties of Newbold, Atala, Winston, Carroll and Choctaw. These lands were selected some years since, by Expressions CORREX GOWANS, with special reference to the quality of land, its fitness for cotton, and its proximity to water to market; located from three to seven miles from the County seats. As such, they are well suited for sale on the most favorable terms. A large portion of the purchase money may remain on Bond and Mortgage at 5 per cent. per annum.
To any party who may wish to purchase, the opportunity is rare one, so far as a small investment may secure a large and valuable Estate. The same will be sold in lots to suit purchasers. For further particulars, address
