TALES FROM SHARSPEARE.

BY CHARLES AND MISS LAMB. HIS celebrated work has already passed through eight celebrated editions in London, and is shortly to be issued here in a very superior style with en ornemental initial letter to each story; the narrative to be embellished with elegant engravings, from the Illustrated Shakspeare, and the pages surrounded with beautiful fancy colored borders. Charles Lamb and his sister are well known to the literary world as accomplished writers; and long may they be remembered for having reduced to plain prose, so far as prac ticable, the beautiful stories of

A Key to Shakspelle would have been a more expressive and truth telling title for this valuable works for no person can read any one of these without as once realizing that he understands and relishes better than he has ever done before the beauties of "the great author," the "world's Poet," "the bard of Avon," the immortal Shakspeare," who wrote not for a day, but for all time. Notice to Travellers going North, via Portsmouth and R. R. Road and Bay Line Steamers.

E would respectfully state to the travelling public, that we are disposed, and will carry them as cheap as any other line, to Portsmouth or Baltimore.

Our Road is run over with as much success as any in the country-our Boats on the Bay are of the first class, and commanded by experienced and attentive officers ; the Stages and Teams (between Sledges and Weldon, 14 miles,) are good-drivers obliging, and the road a good one; and the traveller may rest assured nothing shall be wanting on our part to make heir trip pleasant and safe.

We shall not be governed by what may be charged the traveller from Guston to Battimore, but what he is charged from Weldon.

Should any further reductions be made by our opponents, with a view to divert the travel from this comfortable and expeditious route, we ask the travel to come over to Weldon, and they will only be charged from Sledges' what others pay from this place.

Our not defaming the upper route, I am satisfied, will not do violence to the feelings of the travelling community. We cannot play such a game. Such neuns to secure patronage is not sanctioned by the Passengers are guarded against getting Tickets in

Travellers are particularly cautioned against believing the slanderous reports circulated by interested persons against the Raleigh & Gaston Rail Road Having undergone extensive repairs, and great improvements in its marhinery and Coaches within the last year, it is passed over with as much ease and
