

From Chambers' Edinburg Journal. WE ARE GROWING OLD.

We are growing old—how the thoughts will rise,
When a giance is backward cast
On some long remembered spot that lies
In the silence of the past:
It may be the shrine of our early sows,
Or the tomb of early tears;
But it seems like a far-off isle to us, In the stormy sea of years. Oh, wide and wild are the waves that part Our sleps from its greenness now, And we miss the joy of many a heart, And the light of many a brow; For deep o'er many a stately bark Have the whelming billows rolled, That steered with us from that early mark— Ob, friends, we are growing old.

Old in the dimness and the dust Of our daily toils and cares; Old in the wrecks of love and trust Which our burdened memory bears; Which our burdened memory bears;
Each form may wear to the pussing gaze
The bloom of life's freshness yet,
And beams may brighten our later days,
Which the morning never met.
But on the changes we have seen,
In the far and winding way;
The graves in our path that have grown green,
And the locks that have grown gray! The winters still on our own may spare The sable or the gold; But we saw their snows upon brighter hair—And, friends, we are growing old.

We have gained the world's cold wisdom now, We have learned to pause and fear; But where are the living founts whose flow Was a joy of heart to hear? We have won the wealth of many a clime, And the lore of many a page; But where is the hope that saw in time But its boundless heritage? Will it come again when the violet wakes, And the woods their youth renew? We have stood in the light of sunny brakes, Where the bloom is deep and blue; And our souls might joy in the spring time then, But the joy was faint and cold, For it ne'er could give us the youth again Of hearts that are growing old. FRANCES BROWNE.

THE FREED BIRD.

Among the superstitions of the Senecas, is one which for its singular beauty, is already well known. When a maiden dies, they imprison a young bird until it first begins to try its powers of song, and then loading it with kisses and caresses, they loose its bonds over her grave in the belief that it will not fold its wing, nor close its eye, until it has flown to the spirit land, and ed and lost." It is not unfrequent, says the Indian historian, "to see twenty or thirty birds loosened at ouce, over one grave."

Speed away! speed away! on thy errand of light! There's a young heart awaiting thy coming to-night, She will fondle thee close, she will ask for the loved; Who pine upon the earth since the "Day Star" has

She will ask if we miss her, so long is her stay; Speed away! speed away!

Wilt thou tell her, bright songster, the old chief is

That he sits all the day by his cheerless hearth-stor That his tomahawk lies, all unnoticed the while, And his thin lips wreathe ever in one sunless smile; That the old chieftain mourns her, and why will she

Speed away? speed away!

And oh! wilt thou tell her, blest bird on the wing, That her mother hath ever a sad song to sing, That she standeth alone in the still, quiet night And her fond heart goes forth for the being of light, Who had slept in her bosom, but who would not stay? Speed away ! speed away !

Ge, bird of the silver wing! fetterless now; Stoop not thy bright pinion on you mountain's brow But his thee away o'er rock, river and gien, And find our young " Day-Star" ere night clos

Up! onward! let nothing thy mission delay! Speed away ! speed away !

Shucks. TO THE PLANTERS AND MIL LERS OF NORTH CAROLINA.

HE undersigned has obtained Letters Patent to enable common Mill stones (or rocks) now n use, to grind CORN, COB and SHICK. into meal, for Horses, Mules, Cattle Hogs, &c. thereby saving more than one third of a crop, which is an important item with planters. The machinery used for the above purpose is simple and dutable, and cannot, with fair means, get out of order. It will last as every five years. To enable the common Mill Stones to grind ear corn into meal, requires no new buildings or extra power. It can also be applied to Hune Mills, Treshing Machines, Gins or any given power known. The same Mill will grind one-third more of Corn meal by the introduction of this Machinery, and can be changed from grinding Corn and Cob. to grinding Corn Meal in the space of thirty seconds -Corn alone, when fed to stock, is said to be by the most practical and scientific Planters, constipating in its effects, producing founders, cholics and various other maladies which are incident to stock. Grinding cols with the Corn, makes a food congenial with their nature, and cannot produce any of the serious results above mentioned. Stock, when fed on Corn exclusively, are deprived of the benefits of distension (so necessary to the proper health of animals,) by their being unable to est a sufficient bulk to produce distension before the animal becomes gorged. Cobs ground with the corn, produce this necessary distension, without any danger of diveases arising from overcating. Corn and cob meal is improved by scalding, and still more by boiling, and yet more by a partial-fermentation. All the preparations facilitate digestion for Hogs, But Horses and Mules will not eat fermented food, consequently they will require it dry or partially wet with cold water Horses, Mules and Oxen, when fed with unground food, void much

Raleigh, Feb. 20, 1845. CERTIFICATE. Having been solicited by Maj Collins to have my Mill adjusted to grind Corn in the Ear and Shuck. I consented that he should do so as an experiment; and f am able to say that it grinds Co-n in the Shurk at the rate of 30 bushels per hour; and the dressing of the stones is so improved, that it grinds shelled Corn more than twice as fast as before, and by my watch, at the rate of 15 bushels per hour, and the meal finer than usual. I deem it a valuable improvement, and shall purchase the right to use it, as it will sflord me a speedy way of feeding my houses as d cattle, and
