RALEIGH, N. C. Tuesday, March 23, 1847.

MR. BADGER'S SPEECH. We are indebted to the "Fayetteville Observer," for the conclusion of Mr. BADGER's Speech on the Three Million Bill, which will be found in this paper. The "Observer" says, the sketch lacks much of the force of language, and beauty of illustration, of the Speech as delivered. It is, in truth, but the naked argument, and, as such, has received Mr. BADGER's sanction.

THE NEW CARPET.

The admirable story of " The New Carpet," published in this paper, if attentively read, will disclose a most useful moral. It may furnish useful hints to young house-keepers, commencing the hazardous voyage of life, over an untried sea, beset with rocks his hands. The Administration then saw their erand shoals, seen and unseen.

ANOTHER GENERAL DECLINED.

Col. CUMMINGS, of Georgia, who was appointed Major General, under the new law officering the ten regiments, has declined receiving his commission. Col. Cummings served in the last war with Great Britain, and was the most prominent hero in the battle of Williamsburg. He resigned his commission in 1815. Several years afterwards, he fought a couple of duels with Mr. McDUFFIE, in both of which Mr McD. was wounded.

EPPES. THE MURDERER. ARRESTED!

Under the above caption, the Mobile Advertiser of the 11th, says: "We learn from the N. O. Commercial Times, that this notorious person was arrested in that city, on Monday last, by Capt. Winter, of the Second Municipality Police. He arrived there in the Steamship Galveston, from Texas."

is now the life and soul of the Mexican Army, OUR OWN DISTRICT We learn from the "Taboro' Press," that Gen. HAWKINS addressed the People of Edgecomb County, at the Superior Court, last week. Whilst the "Press," afraid of the General's popularity, dares not deny that he is "a true and faithful Democrat." it yet reads him the following side-thrust : "Gen. Hawkins was in the Legislature which formed our new District, and announced himself a trict. This attempt to put himself forward in advance, is evidently an effort to take advantage of other aspirants, and of the people themselves."

MR. POLK AND HIS WAR.

The first blunder, in this budget of blunders, was the act itself of commencing this War. It is maintained by Mr. Pots, and Congress was forced to endorse the assertion, that the contest begun by the act of Mexico. The country knows better-the world knows better-and even Mr. Pols. himself, virtually admits the groundlessness of the assertion, by his labored efforts to justify his course. Almost every paper, that comes from his pen, contains a solemn announcement, that Mexico commenced the War. It is interpolated into bills to raise men and money-into Resolutions of thanks to the heroic soldiers-and, in every conceivable shape, has the false charge been iterated and reiterated, until, possibly, some simple souls may begin to believe it true. What means the long recital in the last Annual Message, of the old grievances against Mexico, which had all been settled by Treaty? Were they the cause of the War? And, did the President make the War for this cause? He dares not urge it directly. He would be impeached if he did, and he knows it. He would not have the hardihood to war with Mexico, and for three months after its teravow so bold an usurpation upon the rights of Congress. If Mexico assailed us, is not this long recital at least impertinent ? Is it not beside the question ? Why not rather boldly take the bull by the horns, and declare that we are fighting in self-defence ?-Where is the necessity of justifying self-defence?

What was the next blunder? Was it not in sending Gen. TAYLOR to the Rio Grande to engage the enemy, without furnishing him with the means necessary to the pursuit of a flying foe? After the glorious battle of Resaca de la Palma, the victorious General could only drive them into the River, but had no way of pursuing them over, and capturing them on their own soil. Neither boats nor Ponton Bridges, for which he had importuned the Government, were at his command; and he was obliged to stand on the banks and see the enemy escape from ror, and endeavored to retrieve it, by afterwards sending on the necessary means. They came too late. They can now only be of service in a retreat and retreat is a word not found in old Zack's Dictionary.

Another blunder, which has covered with shame and contempt this Administration, was the free Pass, given to the three controlling spirits of the Mexican War, Santa Anna, Almonte and Rejon, who were then in exile at Havana. The reasons for this and there in the bosom of my family, live and die. I strange way of aiding and comforting the enemy, have not been divulged The only assignable reason is, that Mr. POLK was persuaded that Santa Anna would be recreant to his people, and a traitor to his native land. And is this the way to maintain Texas. the honor of the Stars and Stripes? Is this characteristic of the proud American Eagle? Who can hold up his head, after this, and talk about glory and national honor? But, as might have been known, Santa Anna has deluded the President, and

INSURRECTION AT TAOS.

By the river, we have St. Louis papers four days n advance of the mail, with accounts from Santa Fe, conveying important news. There has been an extensive insurrection of the Mexicans at Taos-All the Spaniards who evinced any sympathy with the American cause, had been compelled to escape. Gov. Bent, Stephen Lee, Acting Sheriff, Gen. El-Not Lee, Henry Leal, and twenty other Americans, were killed, and their families despoiled ; the Chief Alcalde was also killed. This all took place on the 19th of January. Gov. Bent had gone up to Tace a few days before, to look after a farm which he owned in that vicinity.

The insurrection had made formidable head, and he disaffection was rapidly spreading. The insurrectionists were sending expresses all over the country to obtain assistance. The number engaged in the outbreak at Taos, was about six hundred. At its commencement, the Alcalde of Taos sent word down to the Alcalde of Vagus of their movements, and wished him to join them. He would not; but sent an express immediately to Santa Fe. advising them to be on their guard, as the mob, who were composed of the lowest rabble, and whose desire was plunder, were hurrying on to the Puebla Indian villages and settlements to arouse them, and march directly to Santa Fe and take possession of that place and all that was in it. The Americans at Santa Fe had there only about four hundred effective men: the rest were on the sick list, or had left to join Col. Dohiphan. Such being their situation, they could not send succor out, as they were hardly able to defend themselves. It is therefore supposed that ity, and I think it my duty to let it be known. Santa Fe must be captured, as neither the fort nor block-houses are completed.

It is announced as the intention of the insurrectionists who captured Taos, to take possession of the ward our supplies, and thus cut off all communication.

The representations made to Col. Doniphan that Chihuahua would be an easy conquest, were evidentv intended as a lure to entrap him, beget a spirit of ecurity, and lead him far into the interior, where he might be easily cut off. It is the universal opinion in Santa Fe, that if Gen. Wool had gone direct to Chihuahua, there would have been no trouble in New Mexico.

Col. Doniphan had possession of El Passo del Norte on the 28th of December. Letters had been received from the Governor of Chibuahua, stating that Gen. Wool was within three days' march of the capital. This too was doubtless another ruse to lure Col. Doniphan on in confidence, and cut him off from all chance of escape or of falling back upon Santa Fe, to relieve it in its emergency.

The Mexicans are bold in their tone and confident of capturing Col. Doniphan and his command, which consists of about six hundred men-five hundred of them being of his own troops, (the first regiment of mounted Missouri volunteers.) and a detachment of one hundred men from Santa Fe, under command of Lieut. Col. Mitchell, of the second regiment, consisting of thirty men from Clark's battallion of light artillery, under command of Capt. Hudson and Lt. Kribben, and seventy from Col. Price's regiment and

ANOTHER IMPORTANT LETTER FROM GEORGIA-READ IT.

We are daily receiving testimony like the following from the North, South, East and West.

Messrs. Reese & Ware-Gentlemen-I was afflicted with asthma for fourteen years, and had tried every remedy in the country; I had also been to several physicians, and found no relief whatever. I was afflicted at times so severely, that the blood would gush from my nose, and my breathing was difficult. Indeed the disease had gained so much on me that I despaired of ever getting well, when I chanced to get a bottle of "Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry ;" which effected a perfect cure, and I now consider myself perfectly sound. For the Removal and permanent Cure of all Diseases, arising from an impure state of the blood, or habit of the system.

THIS MEDICINE is constantly performing alnost incredible cures of diseases arising from impurities of the blood and general system. It has arrested and cured numerous cases of scrofulous affections. diseases of the skin, rheumatic gout. diseased liver. chronic rheumatism, sore throat, chronic constitutional disorder, dyspepsia, jaundice, fever and ague, and various other disorders arising from impure secretions. It is also a speedy cure of Nervous weakness, Bilious and Typhus Fevers, Female Complaints, Costiveness and Hereditary humors.

In this preparation are strongly concentrated all the valuable properties of Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry, on which its activity depends, compounded with other remedial agents, selected from the vegetable kingdom, the whole strength of which is extracted on an entirely new principle, which has cost many years of labor and much expense. The great object desired is now triumphantly accomplished, in the production of a remedy possessing a controlling power over supposed incurable diseases, heretofore unknown in

A Proclamation,

By His Excellency, WILLIAM A. GRAHAM. Governor of North Carolina.

Whereas, by the Acts of the General Astembly, at its last Session, entitled " An Act to lay off and establish a County by the name of ALEXANDER," and an Act supplemental thereunto, it is provided, that an enumeration of the popula lation of the County of Caldwell, within its own proper boundaries, exclusive of the inbabitants of that part of its Territory which had been added to the County of Alexander, shall be made by three Commissioners, to be appointed by the County Court of the said County of Caldwell, a majority of the acting Justices thereof being present: And the operation of both of said Acts is made to depend, as a condition precedent, upon the said County of Caldwell being found, by such enumeration, to contain a clear and undoubted Federal population of Five Thousand souls."

And whereas H. Alspaugh, Charles McD. Dixon, and J. N. Boon, who are certified to have been duly appointed and qualified Commissioners in that behalf, have reported to me, under their hands and seals, that upon said enomeration being made, as that the said County of Caldwell proper, contains a Federal population of Five Thousand, Nine Hundred and Three sonis.

Now, therefore, I. WILLTAM A. GRAHAM, Governor of the State of North Carolina, in conformity with the requirements of the aforesaid Acts of the Legislature, do hereby proclaim, and make known the fact thus ascertained, and that the operation of said Acts no longer depends on any condition, but that the seid County of Alexander is absolutely established;

In testimony whereof, I have caused the Great Seal of the State of North Carolina to be affixed to these presents, and signed the same with my hand.

SUPPRESSING OF GAMING.

Mr. CALHOUN met his fellow-citizens of Charleston, last Tuesday evening, at the Theatre in that City, which was packed full to meet and greet him. The two lower tiers were filled with ladies. When he made his appearance upon the stage, such a shout of rapturous welcome was sent up, as made the walls re-echo with its gladness ; and it was long before the outbursts of feeling, again and again reiterated, could be sufficiently repressed to enable Mr. Calhoun to return his acknowledgments for his kind reception. Col. HAYNE from the Committee appointed for that purpose, having submitted a Report, embodying, in forcible and eloquent language, the sentiments of the meeting, in obedience to their wishes, Mr. Calhoun addressed them at some length. The breathless silence of that vast assembly, only interrupted by the occasional outbursts of enthusiasm, bespoke the deep and absorbing interest of the subject, and the deference paid to the opinions of him whom they have so long regarded as the embodiment of Southern patriotism, chivalry, and statesmanship.

MR. SENATOR BUTLER. A very large and enthusiastic meeting was held at Columbia, S. C. on the 15th inst. to welcome back Mr. Senator BUTLER. In the course of a long Speech which he delivered on the occasion, he explained (says the "Chronicle,") the causes which had produced the late schism in the "Democratic party," which, as a party, he denounced in the most unmeasured terms, as utterly devoid either of political decency or political honesty, and which he thanked God he had severed himself from forever. He repudiated the very name of that party, and said he claimed that of Republican for himself and his party. Of the New York "Democracy," which he considered the special exponent of that sect, he spoke much in the tone of Coriolanus of the Roman rabble-voice, words and gesture, all indicating the most profound disgust .-He said the war against himself, commenced on his refusing to vote for BENTON as Lieut. General, and in a happy vein of blended mockery and sarcasm, denounced that measure, declaring his own stern refusal to elevate such a man as BENTON over the heads of the gallant WORTH and TAYLOR.

IF Mr. BENTON acted with great asperity to the 9th instant. The "Louisville Journal" states ward Mr. CALHOUN, in their recent collision in the that the gallant General thinks the American force Senate, and charged him with having caused the war, too weak to advance on San Luis Potosi. TAYLOR's volunteers will be on the point of said Mr. CALHOUN. The war was certainly unpop- expiring, and thus TAYLO2 must be unable to march ular, or the Senator from Missouri would never have upon San Luis to co-operate with Scorr. laughing in his sleeve at the gullibility of the carpet warrior, whom he has so signally fooled.

These are some of the shameful errors of this Presidential War, which have destroyed all confidence in the skill and patriotism of him who began it for his own advantage, and who now finds himself utterly incompetent to the task of continuing it with credit to himself, or honor to the country. His Candidate, before the people in some parts of the friends have fallen from him. In the councils of the councils of the country, he stands almost alone. Shuddering the country, he stands almost alone. Shuddering at the storm he has raised, he looks around for his friends to give him "aid and comfort." He bows to the great Senator from South Carolina, but receives a cold shoulder, and is left to his own resources .promises him aid, provided he will give up to him the entire management of the War, and promise not to interfere. Prostrate as he is, he cannot quite do that, and "Old Bullion" turns on his heel, and bids him good-bye.

The best we can hope is, that, inasmuch as he has been furnished with men and money-all he askedthat he will send them on the competent commanding Officers now in Mexico, and give up the management of the War to them. The Commander-in-Chief may then sleep in the White House, and the sounder his repose, the more will the country rejoice. The old heroes now in the field will do their duty; if let alone. The victories already achieved, shew the mettle of which they are made, and augur a series of successes in future. And though we cannot see any prospect of ending this fruitless contest, we shall have in its progress some glorious triumphs, which can be rehearsed every year, on the 4th of July, to us and our posterity, possibly until the War is ended.

MR. POLK AND SANTA ANNA.

The Washington Correspondent of the "Baltimore Patriot" understands that Mr. Polx "fully and firmly believes that Santa Anna is working, manœuvering, and humbugging the Mexicans and the Mexican army, all for the advantage of the United States ! and with a view of getting into his possession the Three Millions which Mr. Polx proposes to hand over to his keeping! They think he evacuates, first Saltillo, then Tampico, and now Vera Cruz, all for the advantage of the United States! They think his demonstration towards Saltillo and Matamoras is a mere ruse to deceive and mislead the Mexicans, and is done solely for the benefit of the United States ! They think that a treaty of peace is as good as already made, and only lacks signing by the parties interested ! Such is their faith and belief in the precious hypocrite, Santa Anna."

MR. I was quite at a loss to discover his objection to so humane an admonition, until to-day, in looking at some old "Patterns," I found on one of them, cut out of a Standard, a paragraph, in which the Editor confesses that though he never "went a bird-nesting," yet he used to "hunt by moon-light and by torchlight-with the bo narro and the cross-bow." "All this," he says he "remembers, and a great deal more." When I read this, I thought I had found out why that little "Bird" article should have riled him so I thought that, perhaps the bare mention of the shooting" one of these little feathered songsters, had called up in his mind the murder of one of them, with his "bo narro" or "cross-bow," or some other thing of the "great deal more" which he remembers had harrowed up his soul, and made him feel mean about it.

I send you this, as I do not suppose you keep file" of that paper, and will not, therefore, likely find a cue to his snarlishness. with all their troops, were latterly ordered to join General Scott's movement against Vera Cruz .-This reduction of the army of the Rio Grande rendered it necessary for Gen. Taylor to concentrate Valuable Theological Works. &c. sequently abandoned. Santa Anna, perceiving the exposed situation of Gen. Taylor's flank and rear, pushed in large forces upon Victoria under Gen. Urrea, and thus turned the American flank. From this point detachments have been thrown upon the unprotected portions and the valley and at the last dates threatened the whole length of the river. The communications between the army and the supplies at Camargo were completely broken up, and such was the danger of passage between these points that orders were received from Gen. Taylor that no detachments under a full regiment were to be sent for-

to take possession of and fortify Victoria. He marched thither himself, subsequently, leaving Gen. Butler at Monterey, and Gen. Worth at Saltillo. with forces strong enough to guard these points. In a military sense, the possession of Victoria was as military road connected the valley of the Rio Grande with the sources of Mexican strength. Gen. Taylor, seeing this, had Victoria invested and captured. The safety of his operations at Saltillo required it inasmuch as the loss of Victoria would expose his flank and rear to the whole Mexican army. Gen-

OF Hon. REVERDY JOHNSON, in his great Speech on the Three Million Bill, uttered the following language while declaiming against our present unnecessary war. It deserves, says the Louisville Journal, to be written in letters of gold :

"Public virtue has given us great prosperity .--Let that virtue fail us-weaken the moral sense of the nation-indulge an unbridled lust of dominion and as sure as there is a God who rewards virtue be upon us."

Q .-- For what were Offices created ? A .- For the immaculate James K. Polk to bestow upon his sattellites, who worship at his footstool, and sing " Te Deams" to his praise.

Q .- To whom does all political glory belong? A .- To Gen. Kearney and James K. Polk, who conceived and brought forth a Nation in a day. Q. IN A CORNER.

A MILLINER'S CARD. When lovely woman longs to marry, And snatch the victim from the beaux, What charms the soft design will carry? What art will make the men propose? The only art her schemes to cover, To give her wishes sure success, To gain, to fix a captive lover, And "wring his bosom," is-to dress.
