From the "Louisburg Times" DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVELLION.

This body, at its recent session, adopted, as we supposed they would, a long string of resolutions, denouncing the Whigs, individually and collec tively, as guilty of moral treason, as giving " aid and encouragement to the public foe," as being enemies to their country, on their own soil ; and generally, as guilty of every enormity in morals and politics-and of course lauding the Democrat ic party without measure, as being every thing that is honest, praiseworthy and patriotic. The tone of these resolutions, lugs brious in some particulars, is sufficiently ridiculous in others-the complaints of suffering patriots being nournful and pathetic, while the unceremonious manner in which they appropriate all the achievements of our armies to 'the Democracy,' not excluding the capitulation of Monterey, is amusing at a laughable. We doubt not, our Democratic friends have endeavored to make up in noise and bluster, as they usually do, what they lack in strength-and it almost always happens, that the feebler their demonstration, the greater their turmoil. And that the demonstration was feeble, we need only appeal to the facts, as they appeared from the official proceedings in the last Standard.

We shall glance, occasionally, as our space may permit, at some of the sayings and doings of this-mighty 'Democratic Convention.' And first, we notice one or two of their resolutions

One of them expresses 'unshaken and undiminished' confidence in the President of the United States, and cordially approves 'the policy of the administration both in our domestic and foreign affairs,' and tenders to Mr. Polk and his Cab inet hearty thanks, &c. Another, resolces, 'that any encouragement or countenance gratuitously tendered a public enemy in time of actual war, prompted by whatever motive, is injurious to the best interests of the Republic ; and ought to be stigmatized and known by no other name than that of moral treason.'

That this missile was aimed at the Whig party, there can be no doubt-that it recoils with double force upon the heads of those who cast it, there can be less doubt. Yet thus it is that the bliudness of party involves men in a bewildering labyrinth of contradictions-and our Democratic opponents, in their wholesale denunciations, have struck a very heavy blow at 'Mr. Polk and his treason.

"To prove this, let facts be submitted to a candid world."

The war with Mexico, though begun by Mr. Polk sometime before, was recognized by Congress on the 13th of May, 1846. The Mexicans

From the Episcopal Register.

A CHAPTER FOR YOUNG HUSBANDS. Walking the other day with a valuable friend who had been confined a week or two by sickness to his room, he remarked that a husband might learn a good, lesson by being occasionally confined to his house, by having in this way an opportunity of witnessing the cares and never ending toils of his wife. whose burden and duties, and patient endurance he might never have otherwise understood. There is s great deal in this thought, perhaps enough for an "editorial." Men, especially young men, are call-ed by their business during the day mostly away from home, returning only at the hours for meals. and as they then see nearly the same routine of duty, they begin to think it is their own lot to perform all the drudgery, and to be exercised with the weight of care and responsibility. But such a man has got a very wrong view of the case ; he needs an opportunity for more extended observation, and it is per-haps for this very reason that a kind previdence arrests him by sickness that he may learn in pain what he would fail to observe in health.

We have seen recently a good many things said in the papers to wives, especially to young wives, exposing their faults, perhaps magnifying them, and expounding to them, in none of the kindest terms, their duty and the offices pertaining to a woman's sphere. Now, we believe that wives, as a whole, are really better than they are admitted to be. We doubt if there can be found a great number of wives who are disagreeable and negligent, without some palpable coldness or short-coming on the part of their husbands. So far as we have had an opportunity for observation, they are far more devoted and faithful than those who style themselves their lords, and who, by the customs of society, have other and generally more pleasant and varied duties to perform. We protest then against these lectures so often and so obtrusively addressed to the ladies, and insist upon it that they must-most of them-have been written by some fusty bachelor who knows no better, or the late Whig State Convention. by some inconsiderate husbands who deserve to have been old bachelors to the end of their lives.

But is there nothing to be said on the other side ? jured beings they are so often represented. Men election. sometimes declare that their wives' extravagance have picked their pockets-that their never ceasing tongues have robbed them of their peace, and their general disagreeableness has driven them to the tavern and gaming table, but this is generally the wicked excuse for a most wicked life on their own part. The fact is, men often lose their interest in their homes by their own neglect to make their homes incabinet'-wounding them deeply ' in the house of | teresting and pleasant. It should never be forgotten their friends,' and bringing home to them, with that the wife has her rights-as sacred after mar-out the possibility of escape, the act of "moral risge as before-and a good husband's devotion to the wife after marriage will concede to her quite as much attention as he gallantly did while a lover. If it is otherwise, he is most generally at fault.

Take a few examples. Before marriage a young man would feel some delicacy adout accepting an invitation to spend an evening in company where his lady-love had not been invited. After marriage is were without a head and a leader-their army be- he always as particular? During the days of courting commanded by two men, Ampudia and Aris- ship his gallantry would demand that he should ta, the first of whom was a cowardly poltroon, make himself agreeable to her; after marriage, it and the second, though believed to be a brave often happens that he thinks more of being agreeaman, was without the talents and abilities neces. ble to himself How often it happens that married pass unobserved, aud unrewarded even by a smile, and her best efforts are condemned by the fault find- | term of four years. How often it happens, even when the evening is spent at home, that it is employed in silent reading or some other way that does not recognize the wife's right to share in the enjoyment even of the fireside. Look, ye husbands, a moment, and remember what your wife was when you took her, not from compulsion, but from your own choice; a choice | C. Myers. based, probably, on what you considered her superiority to all others. She was young-perhaps the idol of a happy home: she was gay and blithe as the lark, and the brothers and sisters at her father's day of May last, the day on which the existence fire side cherished her as an object of endearment. of war was recognized by Congress, to place Yet she left all to join her destiny with yours; to make your home happy and to do all that woman's rected not to obstruct the return of Santa Anna love could prompt, and woman's ingenuity devise, to Mexico, should he attempt to return' Pres | to meet your wishes, and to lighten the burdens which might press upon you in your pilgrimage-She, of course, had her expectations too. She could The State opers of the Nation contain, and not entertain feelings which promised so much withwill for ever bear, this lasting record, this shame. | out forming some idea of reciprocation on your part, and she did expect you would after marriage perform those kind offices of which you were so lavish in the days of betrothment. She became your wife! left her own home for yours-burst asunder, as it were, the bands of love which had bound her to the father's fireside, and sought no other home than your affections; left. it may be, the ease and delicacy of a home of indulgence-and now, what must be her feelings, if she gradually awakes to the consciousness that you love her less than before; that your evenings are spent abroad; that you only come home at all to satisfy the demands of your hunger, and to find a resting place for your head when weary, or a nurse for our sick chamber when diseased ? Why did she leave the bright hearth of her youthful days? Why did you ask her to give up the enjoyment of a happy home? Was it simply to darn your stockings, mend your clothes, take care of your American name; and who, while he breathes, children, and watch over your sick bed? Was it simply to conduce to your own comfort? Or was there some understanding that she was to be made first, as it is also unparalleled, upon our National happy in her connexion with the man she dared to Nor is it a sufficient answer that you reply that ou give her a home; that you feed and clothe her. You do this for your health ; you would do it for an indifferent house-keeper. She is your wife, and unless you attend to her wants, and some way answer the reasonable expectation you raised by your attentions before marriage, you need not wonder if she be dejected, and her heart sink into insensibility; but if this be so, think well who is the cause of veys, We repeat it, very few women make indifferent expen wives, whose feelings have not met some outward shock, by the indifference and thoughtlessness of be furnished, at least, by Mr. Polk. But we have their husbands. It is our candid opinion, that in a large majority of the instances of domestic misery, the man is the aggressor.

WHIG MEETING IN ANSON.

Pursuant to public notice given in the North Car-olina Argus, the Whigs of Anson assembled at the Court House in Wadesborough this day, (Saturday, April the 22nd, 1848.)

The meeting was organized by calling Philip G. Smith, Esq, to the Chair, and appointing Calvin Myers Secretary.

The object of the meeting having been explained County, on Tuesday the 9th day of May-upon motion of A. Myers, a committee of three persons (to wit, A. Myers, J. R Hargrave and John W. Cameron, Esq.) were appointed to draft and report resolutions for the consideration of the meeting :- who reported the following Preamble and Resolutions, which were nnanimously adopted :

Whereas, It has been proposed to hold a District Convention at Albemarle, in the county of Stanly on Tuesday the 9th day of May, proximo, for the purpose of appointing a Delegate to the Whig National Convention to be held in Philadephia, on the 7th of June next: and whereas, we approve of the time, place and purpose of said Convention ; and deeming it important that the Whigs of Anson county should be represented therein ; be it therefore Resolved, That the Chairman of this meeting appoint fifteen delegates to represent the Whigs of this County in said Convention.

Resolved, That having implicit confidence in the integrity of the great Whig Party of the Union, and well knowing that harmony of purpose and concert of action in its operations can be secured in no other way than through the instrumentality of the proposed National Convention, we will support the proaching him I kindly inquired the cause of his by Himpought not we to prize it ? Shall we pernominee of said Convention.

Resolved. That we have the most implicit confidence in the sound principles, fidelity, and sterling integrity of CHABLES MANLY, Esq., of Wake county : and that we do heartily approve of his nomination for the office of Governor of North Carolina by

Resolved, That Mr. Manly be, and is hereby invited to call upon his Whig friends of this county, and address them, if it shall suit his convenince Are husbands so generally the perfect, amiable, in- to do so at any time between this and the August

Mr. A. Myers offered the following resolutions which he desired every individual present to consider well, and to vote thereen according to the re- ted his strength. We succeeded at length in repining at her lot, was busy in her household sult of his deliberations. They were unanimously adopted-to wit:

Resolved, That important as it ever is to look not only to the experience of the Presidential Candidate in matters connected with the administration of our own Government, but also to his knowledge of the policy and operations of other powers and forms of Government ;- yet, at this particular time, when many of the nations of Europe are in an unsettled state, and convulsions threaten to follow thoughout the whole of that Continent, by which we may ourselves be involved in difficulties of the greatest magnitude, unless our Government is wisely and skilfully administered, we should more than at any other period in our history require our candidate to be a statesman of experience, of skill, and a large and comprehensive views.

Resolved. That in HENRY CLAY, of Kentucky, we recognize such an individual; that we have every confidence in his patriotism, experience and tried sary for a commander. In this state of things, it men, after having been away from home the live ability; that we hail with joy the announcement of sary for a commander. In this state of things, it is evident, that the greatest boon which could be is evident, that the greatest boon which could be duties, go at evening to some place of amusement, his friends; and that we desire the District Conven-placing his back to the wall, his right foot against acclaum for deeds of strife, and God's admiration and leave her to toil on alone, uncheered and unhap- | tion to appoint to the National Convention, a Delepy. How often it happens that her kindest offices gate favorable to the nomination of Henry Clay to placed himself firmly against the door, and I the surviving partner. the Presidency of the United States for the next | caught his leg and began to pull, gradually yield-The Chairman in conformity to the first resolution appointed as Delegates, A. Myers, John W Cameron, Johnson R. Hargrave, William S. Meachumbling into the ball-room ! am, Thomas Robinson, Thomas J. Smith, Joseph P. Smith, Eben Nelms, Wm. E Troy, Benjamin Dunlap, Wm. P. Jennings, Ellis D Gaddy, Young H. Allen, David C. Lilly, Dr. W. Hollifield and n one of the backwoods counties of Georgia, at not readily discerned, unobstrusive, overlooked, the House of Major S. Being the wealthiest man "born to blush unseen, and waste its sweetness in those parts, he was desirous of giving a great on the desert air." This is true of vegetable pro-flareup, and for that purpose had invited a large ductions, and of minerals. The quiet stars in -which was to app int Delegates to a District Con-vention proposed to be held at Albemarle, in Stanly eldest of three blooming, cherry-lipped, strong the more ostentatious beams of the moon, and, in limbed, clean footed daughters. Among the invi- the overpowering radiance of the sun, they are ted guests I observed the face of Bill P., a repre- wholly eclipsed. sentative of the country at the "University," Thus is it, also human actions. The startling groups and was looking about for a subject of in- the common air of heaven. terest when I perceived Bill sitting like Napoleon The Bible speaks of the ornament of a meek solitary and alone, with a face, the agony of and quiet spirit, which in the sight of God is of whose expressions I shall never forget. Ap- great price. And if this grace is thus regarded distress, and proffered him assistance.

THE TIGHT BOOT : OR HOW A YOUNG MAN WENT INTO

A BALL ROOM

sick ; let us find a room and go to bed "

He grasped my arm convulsively, and limping along we went into a private room which Major mathemas not loud, but drep, upon all gatherings | mirable lines of the sonnet on Chilionin general, and country weddings in particular, divested himself of every garment, and stood unincumbered, save with that one terrible boot. The merriment in the adjoining chamber contrast- and applied them to this young wife, who was ed strangely with the anguish in mine.

The guests had now all gone into the hall-room I could hear every note of preparation made by they were about commencing the dance. By pair. this time Bill had recovered strength. and reof spurs. It was poor Bill !

ing vourself to be a simpleton.

and your sister.

tions.

his bosom.

Lord he will sustain thee.'

Who makes his bed of brier and thorn,

For-all fits of Doubt, Perplexity and Fear.-

that Mr. Polk should stultify himself, by sending to Pillow a letter which Trist wrote home, in con-confidence, his deep convictions in order that the President might learn the truth, respecting Pil.

Must be content to lie forlorn.

MEEK AND QUIET SPIRIT. There are two kinds of beauty; the one, open palpable, glaringly observed of all observers; the

About five years ago I happened at a wedding other, hidden, wrapt up like the flower in the bud, whom I had known as the butt of his class while incidents of life reveal themselves with an electhere, but who was destined to act a conspicuous tric flash along the horizon of human vision, while part on the present memorable occasion. Bill the more calm, rational and beneficent events, was an original-sui generis. He was peculiar- like dewdrops falling in the silent night, disturb ly attached with curls which resembled less Hy. no ear. From this cause it becomes necessary, perion's than the setting sun in hue. He was at times, to withdraw the veil from the concealed, six foot two in his stockings, with legs meeting to pour light upon the hidden, to give a tongue a long way up, and more resembling a pair of to virtues which are silent, and to ask the world compasses than any thing that I can at present to turn for a moment, from the admiration of more imagine. Add to this he was twenty years of obstrusive forms to bestow a little applause upon age, and recking with verdancy and bashfulness these which seek the shade. To hold up the and you have his daguerreotype The ceremony pale blue violet of the open field, by the side of had been performed, the hour was waxing late the gorgeous exotic, and say, here too, is beauty and all seemed to be enjoying the flow of soul. though its tints are pale, its form tiny and com-I had exhausted the fun from the various mon place, and its fragrance, such as daily fills mit the warrior to monopolize all the admiration "Give me your arm," said he, "I am deathly of the world? No! the meek and quiet spirit shall receive its due meed of applause. We once entered an upper chamber where a poor family had their residence. Upon the bed S. had assigned me as my quarters for the night, lay the husband and father, who had long been soon discovered the cause of Bill's malady, an invalid, and was now drawing near to lite's which was a small pair of boots on his large feet, close. Poverty was there; in the furniture, in worn with the view of curtailing the fair propor- | the few sticks of old sheeting boards which were tions of those members. He endeavored in vain in the fire, in the absence of that aspect of comto release his feet, and it was imposible to get fort which even the flabitations of the poor somethe assistance of a servant. I volunteered to tug : times present. A pale, thin, and care-worn wife, at them myself, when he had completely exhaus- whose countenance, nevertheless, manifested no pulling off one; but the other resisted our every duties and in attention to the wants of her comeffort Bill was in an agony; his foot was bad panion. She had for many months been putting ly swollen, and ye: he did not cut the boot. At off her external and perishable beauty, and putlast he arose, his eyes in a "fine frenzy rolling," ting on the internal and imperishable beauty of a and dripping with perspiration, and pronouncing meek and quiet spirit, and we thought of the ad-

"He faded, and so calm and meek, So softly worn, so sweetly weak, .

So tearless, yet so tender-kind"-- eating the bitter bread of poverty and drinking at the fountain of affliction. I saw her again, after her husband's death. She was calm, thought. the fiddler. Approaching nearer the wall I dis. ful, and resigned ; but there had passed over her. Court House with the impression that Charles Ma covered a door which opened into the room where a wave of desolation, which time could never re- 1y, Esq. would be the next Governor of North Ca

I think, sometimes, of the meek and quiet spircommenced the tug with his boot. In vain he it in the person of a widow whose husband has falessayed every position and attitude. At length len in the battles in Mexico. Many such there

BACON AND GREENS.

BY GREEN PEAS BACON, ESQ., G. B.

I have lived long enough to be rarely mistaken. And borne my full share of life's changeak scenes.

- But my woes have been solaced by good greens hacon
- And my joys have been doubled by bacon greens.

Fol de ri do-bacon and green

With a thrill of remembrance e'en now they awah Of childhood's gay morning, and youth's me scenes

When one day we had greens and a plate full hacon

And the next we had bacon and a plate full greens.

Ah! well I remember, when sad and forsaken.

Heart wrung by the scorn of a Miss in her teen How I rushed from her sight, to my loved green and bacon.

And forgot my despair over bacon and greens

When the banks refused specie and credit shaken.

I shared in the wreck, and was ruined in mean My friends all declared I had not "saved my bace But they lied-for I still had my bacon and gree

Oh ! there is a charm is this dish, rightly taken. That from custards and jellies the epicure weather Stick your fork in the fat-wrap your greens ron the bacon,

And you'll vow there is nothing like bacon , greens.

If some fairy a grant of three wishes would me

So worthless as I, and so laden with sins. I'd wish all the greens in the world-then the bace And then wish for a little more bacon and green

P. S. I turn to confess that for once I'm mistaken. As much as I've known of this world and its scene There's one thing that's equal to both greens a bacon

And that is a dish of good-bacon and greens.

Mr. Manly, the Whig Candidate for Government ddressed a large assemblage of the people of the County of Halifax, on Monday last, in our N Court House. We regret exceedingly that we have not the space to give even a synopsis of a Speen remarkable for its power, eloquence, wit, and h mor-as he advanced upon his subject he grew me and more interesting; profound silence preval during the course of his energetic and thrilling marks, and deeply did his words fall upon the atte tive ear of his audience. He resumed his s amidst murmurs of applause. . We think the Wh were delighted with him, whilst every man left olina.-Roanoke Republican.

FRENCH SPOLIATIONS .- Both the Senate at Assembly of the State of New York have place a resolution urging Congress to do justice to conferred upon the Mexican nation, was the return of their old leader, and their greatest general and most distinguished man, General Santa Anna, then in the Island of Cuba. The Mexicans turned their eyes imploringly to him, ready | ing husband. to give him the supreme command, as well as the confidence and support of the nation.

The humiliating story is soon told-the moral Ircason is easily developed. Mr. Polk, of whom our Democratic friends approve, and to whom they tender thanks, shall have the privilege of exposing himself; and these are his very words:

"In view of these facts and circumstances it was, that when orders were issued to the Commander of our naval forces in the Gulf, on the 13th the coast of Mexico under blockade, he was diident Polk's Message to Congress, dated Dec. 8th 1847.

ful aid and comfort to the public enemy-this moral treason, denounced by our Democratic friends, as we have shown, and committed by their President. Talk of speeches, addresses, or any thing else of that kind giving aid and encourage. ment to the Mexicans ! Here is the act which gave to them all they wanted-all the power they had of resisting our troops-a Head and Leader who by the fertility of his resources, his great talents, his military knowledge, his wonderful activity, his stubborn resistance, has rendered fatal and sanguinary every battle-field from Buena Vista to the City of Mexico-and who alone preserved the Mexican army-after the decisive victory achieved by Gen. Taylor and his brave men, who has never yielded, while he could raise troops; who is yet the determined enemy of the will never consent to have peace with us.

There is another Document, indelible, like the annals-which all the blood spilt in Mexico or | love? which may hereafter be spilt in our further conquests all over this continent, will never wash out-equally as shameful and degrading to the Democratic head of this Nation.

That Mr. Polk entered into an intrigue with Santa Anna, when he commenced the war, is beyond all doubt proven, by the documents we quote, although he wisely withholds the correspondence with Santa Anna himself. The PASS he carried, therefore, when he left Havana, may never see the light-we believe it never will another PASS, authentic and undoubted, which proves enough to fix the indelible stigma upon "Mr. Polk and his Cabinet"-which precious document reads as follows:

[Private and Confidential.

United States Navy Department.) May 13, 1846.

COMMODORE :--- If Santa Anna endeavors to enter the Mexican ports, you will allow him TO PASS FREELY. Respectfully, your's, GEORGE BANCROFT. Commodore David Conner, Commanding Home Squadron.

This pass was issued on the very day the existence of the war was recognised by Congress. cordingly the Arab, the vessel on which he took previous to the final shock he received in the

Hon. EDWARD EVERETT, in his eulogy on Mr ADAMS, mentioned the following striking circumstance:

"In November, 1846, while walking with friend in Boston, Mr. Adams felt a paralytic shock. He at once said it was the shock of death. In his journal, he made the entry-' From this day I date my decease. I consider myself, for every more than fifty years, stopped on that day. Four months afterwards he resumed it, under the head of 'Posthumous Memoirs,' and he continued to Well, Santa Anna did attempt to return, and ac- serve his country another year. The evening

Upon motion, P. G. Smith, was added to the delegation.

Upon motion-

Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be sent to the Editors of the North Carolina Argus the Fayetteville Observer, and the Raleigh Register, with a request that they publish the same. Thanks were tendered to the Chairman and Secretary. Upon motion of Wm. S. Meacham, Esq.; the meeting adjourned.

PHILIP G. SMITH, Chair'n: C. MYERS, Sec'y.

vinced---ROAD, HARBOR, AND RIVER IMPROVEMENTS .- The National Intelligencer has a synopsis of, and some comments upon, a document published by the U.S. Senate in January last, from which we make the following short extract:

It is a "statement of appropriations for the construction and repairs of roads, and for the improvement of harbors and Rivers in the United Siates: showing, as far as practicable, the amount expended in each State."

The statement commences with the year 1806. and enumerates all objects of improvement of roads, harbors, and rivers, and the appropriations in their favor for each year, up to and including 1845, going uninterruptedly through every Administration during that long year-a period remarkable for the supremacy of Democratic rule in the Legislative as well as Executive Departments. There were occasional interruptions to the system, by Vetoes upon measures which were ecnsidered not sufficiently national in their scope, and on that account objectionable. But the system prevailed, and received the sanction of every President during that long period except President Harrison, who is well known to have been friendly to the system, but whose death occurred within a month after his inauguration. By referring to this document it appears that the whole amount expended on all these objects during that period, not including expenses of surre was

nder	Mr. Jefferson,
E4	Mr. Madison,
44	Mr. Monroe,
"	Mr. J. Q. Adams,
££	Gen. Jackson,
cc	Mr. Van Buren,
e .	Mr. Tyler,
Ast	his period extends through about make the average ernenditure years, se accounts rather less than $420,000 the year.

CROSSING AT NIAGARA FALLS-We have already stated that Mr. Ellett, the constructor, on the 13th inst., crossed to the Canadian side on a wire cord of the new suspension Bridge. The passage is peruseful purpose to myself and to my fellow-citizens feetly easy and safe, and in a few days the line, it is in Pillow a proclivity to villainy, and he not only was James. as dead.' His journal, which he had kept for now stated, will be strong enough to pass over cattle. broke off friendship with him, but wrote home in The contrivance by which this passage is effected is extremely simple and beautiful, according to the following from the "Iris," published at the Falls. The cable itself swings gracefully from cliff to cliff, 250 feet above the rapids. On this cable are placed two iron pullow one of my feet, and obtain my assistance. He for the subdued, resigned and gentie spirit of the

In woman, a meek and quiet spirit is pre-emiing and bidding him make 'a long pull-a strong nently lovely and engaging. To the charms of a pull, and pull altogether,' the boot unexpectedly beautiful person it is an ornament more graceful gave way, and with it the door, and Bill went and winning than geins and golden attire. Who does not look to wonian to keep the public peace;

Such screams from the females, and such conto still the jars of domestic life, to caim the agitasternation among the beaux was never before tions of the church and state, to subdue the spir. seen. In the midst of my mirth uproarious. I it of war? It our homes are to be made happy, heard the clatter of a horse's hoofs, and looking it is by the exercise of this grace. It our churchout of the window I beheld a solitary horseman es are to flourish, the meek and quiet spirit of flying with the speed of a locomotive, his long woman must pervade them. If our neighborhoods hair streaming in the wind, and clothed in full are to be vocal with kind and loving words and Georgia costume, to wit, a shirt collar and a pair actions, this attainment must be conspicuous id the softer sex. If political affairs are to have any thing of a soft and quiet character, woman's spir-REMEDIES - For a fit of Passion .- Walk out must subdue the excitement of parties. If the in the open air; you may speak your mind to spirit of war among nations is to be extinguished, the winds without hurting any one or proclaimit is woman still. Not that man is to forget to put of the Union, can refer to all who have favored the on this ornament, but if we find it wanting in with their custom, and to their work, (consider For a fit of Extravagance and Folly-Go to woman, we may well despair.

the workhouse, or speak with the ragged and The Bible has placed this grace in direct con- have always on hand a full supply of Marble M wretched inmates of a jail, and you will be contrast to the love of costly and ambitious display tels, and new and original Designs for Mounum in female adornments." It pious females would be preserved in the happy medium between ex- forwarded travagance and penuriousness of dress; if they For a fit of Ambition .- Go into the churchwould preserve their own souls from. injury and vard and read the grave stones; they will tell avoid occasion of evil in others, let them heed you the end of ambition. The grave will soon the mjunction of Holy Writ : "Whose adorning, be your bed chamber, the earth your pillow, corlet it not be that outward adorning of plaiting ruption your father, and the worm your mother the hair, and of wearing of gold, or of putting on of apparel; but let it be the hidden man of the For a fit of Repining .- Look about for the heart, in that which is not corruptible, even the halt and the blind, and visit the bed-ridden and ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which in the afflicted, and deranged ; and they will make you sight of Gud is of great price."-Buston Courier. ashamed of complaining of your lighter afflic-

O'CONNELL'S TACT IN CROSS-EXAMINATION. For a fit of Despondency--Look on the good -He was once examining a witness, whose inethings which God has given you in this world, briety at the time to which the evidence referred, and at those which he has promised to his fol- it was essential to his client's cause to prove. lowers in the next He who goes into his gar- He quickly discovered the man's character. He den to look for cobwebs and spiders, no doubt was a fellow who may be described as 'half foolwill find them ; while he who looks for a flower | ish with roguery.' may return into his house with one blooming in

. Well, Darby, you told the truth to this genlemar. ?'

'Yes, your honor, Counsellor O'Connell.' Whether they respect the body or the mind; 'How do you know my name ?'-'Ah! sure Dan whether they are a load to the shoulders, the every one knows our own pathriol.' head, or the heart, the following is a radical . Well, you are a good humored, honest fellow ; Jaco cure which may be replied on, for I had it from now tell me, Darby, did you take a drop of any- 1 Mat the great Physician- Cast thy burden on the thing that day ?'- Why, your honor, I took my Chan share of a pint of spirits.' . Your share of it ! now, by virtue of your oath John TRIST AND PILLOW .--- It is not a little curious.

was not your share of it-all but the pewter ?' Cha "Why, then, dear knows, that's true for you Jam sir.' The court was convulsed at both question and Jane fidence, for Polk's benefit, that he might learn the true character of Pillow in Mexico. He answer. It soon came out, step by step, that the S. H sends this confidential letter from Trist to Pillow. man was drunk, and was not, therefore, a compe- Leon The latter produces it in the Court of Inquiry, tent witness. Thus O'Connell won his case for where it only serves to show, as it does to the his client. public now it is published, that Mc olk is guil-ty of a breach of confidential trust ! He trusted infinite resource in the defence of his clients. In in Trist and Trist trusted in lim. He gave a let- a trial at Cork for murder, the principal witness ter to Trist, introducing him, in cordial terms | swore strongly against the prisoner. He particto his trusty friend Pillow. They became very ularly swore that a hat tound near the place of intimate. But Trist thought he had found out the murder belonged to the prisoner, whose name

. By virtue of your oath, are you sure that this is the same hat !'- 'Yes.' Joh "Did you examine it carefully before you swore W.

low from one in whom he had confided. Mr. in your information that it was the prisoner's !'- Sara Polk disregarding the confidence which the na- 'I did.' ture of the letter imposed, and also the trust he . Now, let me see.' said O'Connell, as he took long neglected claimants. It will be recollect that the law was passed last year, and veloed by the President.

We perceive by the Henderson Kentuck ian, of Saturday last, that Mr. L. W. Powell, on of the Locofoco candidates for Governor, ha made a number of appointments to address the people at various points in the lower part of th State.

Marble Work.

HE attention of gentlemen desirous of purch ING MARBLE MANTELS, MONUMENT or STATUARY, is requested.

The subscribers, having been engaged in the Ma ble business for the last thirty years in Philadelph and having manufactured work for almost every p of which has been put up in this place.) and other work, copies of which, with prices, w

All work shipped is insured from breakast They can refer to any Mercantile house in P delphia for standing and character as workmen.

JOHN STRUTHERS & SON. No. 360, High Street, Philadelphi Feb. 28, 1848.

N. B .- There is nothing in their line which cannot furnish, either domestic or imported.

SHERIFF'S SALE

WILL sell at the Court House door in Cont on the 3d Monday of May next, the follow Lands, or so much thereof, as will satisfy the Pul County and Poor Tax for the year 1846, with theo thereon :

Hui

W.

Dan

Link

Names of owners	No. Ac's.	Tax.		Near or on waters
Huam Blackwelder	47	8	35	Dutch I	Buffeloc
George Dey	50		61		do
W. C. Ludwick	39	1	691	do	do
Daniel D. Ridichours	147	1	075		do
Elisha Smith		1	85	do	do
Jacob Udy	200	100	25	do	do
Mathias Cline	341	1	20	Hamby	Run
Charles Haglor	121	12	93	Rocky	River
Daniel Linker	229	12	57	do	do
John H. Biggers	114	1	311	do	do
Charles Dorton	92	2.03	69	do	do
James A. Garmon	800	9	56	do	do
S Garmon	635	5	59	do	do
ane Gray	313	1	58	do	do
S. H. Gray	55	11	76	do	do
Leonard Hartsel	132		85	do	do
Linker & Reed	100		61	do	do
A. R. Orr	279		691		do
Timothy Reed	76	2	30	do	do
M. Reed	271	1	38	do	do
Franklin Turner	125	19	314	do	do
Robert Caldwell	172	1	46	do	do
Jos G. Foard	45	1	27	do	do
J. Harris, Trustee	7		124	. do	do
R. W Harris	180	3	45	do	do
J. M. Ingram	78	1	124	do	da
A. C. McLellen	260	2		do	da
John Russel	250	4	37	do	da
W. S. Alexander	97		85	and the second se	creek
Sarah Black's G'ard	82	11	14	do	do
John Gingle	210	4	35,	do	da
H. Galaways Estate		3	20	do	do was $17,199,223. Of	this amount there was nJed—

er Mr. Jefferson,	$48,400
Mr. Madison,	250,800
Mr. Monroe,	706,621
Mr. J. Q. Adams,	2,310,475
Gen. Jackson,	10.582 882
Mr. Van Buren,	2.222,544
Mr. Tyler,	1,076,500
	rough about forty years, penditure on these ac-

passage, being overhauled by one of our vessels	Hall of House of Representatives, he had read to	placed two from pulleys, with grooves in their cir-	to I we Their course the latter which The tot 1	How, let the ace, said o connent as he took	H. Galaways Estate 320 3 20	do do of war and examined, was suffered to proceed on	him Deter Witherforme's Sarmon on Time	cumference ; and from these pulleys is suspended	had put in 1 rist, sends the letter which 1 rist had	up the hat, and began to examaine it carefully in	McLean 231 231	do da
her way. Com. Conner in his despatches states.	That must a last night he passed under his own	an iron car or basket of commodious and amosful	written to apprise him of things which he deem-	the inside. He then suelled the name of James	Lohn C 1 hanne 000 1 100	do do that he could easily have boarded the Arab him-	That wastne last night he passed under his own	Iorm.	ed it most prudent the President should know,	slowly, thus-'J-a-m-e.s. Now, do you mean	A W Stool 102 1 06	do de self, but he preferred not to be known in the ad-		The iron car for passengers hangs about four feet	back to Mexico, to the very man concerning	those words were in the hat when you found it ?	Wm Coleman 11 683 B	Buffalo creek mission of Santa Anna in Mexico. He landed,	NAPOLEON'S PROPHECY.	welow the cable, and about twenty feet above the	whom it had been written! Why did he do this?			old water cres therefore, and the "moral treason," as our Dem-	The state of the s	rock on either shore; and is approached by a stair.	Possibly, it was with a view that his two tools	'Did you see them there ?''l did.'	Israel Frazier 124 3 08 B
ocratic frends call it, was complete! This great		Case leading to a landing on the ennorting frames.	wints like the illustrated and are in Care H.			Cold water do man, this accomplished leader was given to the	a statistic base stands foldlad a	white the platform for ireight is stinched by longer	destal Freedoh and esthiging search at Old Pal	' Now. my lord,' said O'Connell, holding up	Estate 195 1 37	do do do
Mexicans by President Polk! Do our Demo-	"In less than twenty-five years from the present	cords and swings nearly level with the tops of the	lows' Hall, "eat each other up !" Ball. Pat.	the hat to the bench, ' there is an end of the case ;		do do do
cratic friends thank him and his cabinet for that!	time, the whole European system will be changed.	The second second		there is no name watever inscribed in the hat."		do do do
Yet it must be booked with the rest of his deeds.		A HO DUSCING WAS INSUE IN LOSE THAN ANA TANATA	A Transition (Fr.) Farla	Provide the second s	Wm, Moor 6 641	do do de and the unenviable position in which it places	off, as my Arabian steed would any stranger who	the United States and at any other ferry between	A TORNADO The Maysville (Ky.) Eagle		Jno. A. Patterson 24 18	do do de and the unervisore position in which it places	would darg to mount him. Then, if my son be in	The form is now in	says: A violent storm passed over the town of	Lige and Lines of Connett.		do do de
him, were nothing, were it not humiliating to the	CAIDecheel ne min be course on the the start and	The ferry is now in constant and successful use	Minerva, a few days since, and a wind like the	A Down The full is a		do do de
Nation to have him at its head-a miserable in-			rumbling of thunder, was heard for some moments	I Discont and following is both pretty and po-	Test in a star to	do do de triguer with " the public, enemy."	go back to a Republic ; for no other hand will dare	He (Mr. Manla) is minure 11 m	before its dreadful effects were seen and felt. It	etical-with a savory dash of originality. Who the	Jacob Cline 25 61 H	lamby's Rus and the second state of th	to seize a sceptre which it cannot wield. The Or-	of view for he was defeated a line" in one point	swept over a track about 200 yards in width, de-	and the second se		uffalo crerk
A native of the Emerald Isle, the other day, on	leans branch, though miable, are too much like	of view for the was defeated for the Senate in this	stroying fifteen barus in one neighborhood, and			do do
	I OTHER DOURS, WHIL TOUL SHUTE THE SUME THE. II LIEV	county, among his own neighbors, in 1844, in	scattering their contents. Orchards, forests, hay-	had a my sectious vaing is a biuse, that a word,		locky River
the king and his family the triumph of the domos	do not choose to live as simple citizens under what-	the most "inimitable" style - Standard.	stacks, &c., bent before its angry blast, and many			uffilo creek the ang and the antablishment by the people of a	ever changes takes place. France once more a Re-	James K. Polk we presume was not beaten in	lives were endangered by its suddenness and vi-	tion over the cheek, like the soft tints of a summer		old water cree tropinional and the establishment overlained to De St	public, other countries will follow her example-	his own State and County in the latter part of	olence; but the presence of mind of many persons	sunset! Strange, too, that it is only the FACE-the	Martin Stough 54 1 10 d	to de
Petrick and standard the thing the	Gerulaus, Frussians, Poles Italiang Danes Swedes	the same year of the Weldon Haust	who threw themselves on the ground, saved	human face-that is capable of blushing! The hand or foot does not turn red with modesty or	Alien Suthan China long 0 00110	uffale creek
Ireland and is not that just the thing that sweet	and Russians, will join in the crusade for liberty."		them. One man, however, had his arm broken	shuma one more than the glove on sock which car	Martin Stough. " 52 52 Co	old water cre
Ireland wants ? A provisionary government for		A Report from the Land Office shows that the	off by being struck with a piece of timber from a	ers it. It is the face that is Heaven. There may	. 291 26 Bu	uffalo creek ever ! By the powers, the only government she		State of New York still owns more than 400 000		be traced the intellectual phenomena with conditence	. 2941 20 10	HITE Shife
now has is a starrationary one."	promise an unusual yield.	acres of uncultivated land.		amounting to a moral certainty."	Canada April 14 1940 Pr 44	- S20 32 ¹⁰
•		•		servering to a more overland.	Concord, April 14, 1848. Pr. Adv
-						1.1