We learn that despatches reached this city yesterday from Mr. Barlow our Minister in France. Mr. Edward Griswold of New-York is the bearer—He came over in a vessel, arrived at Norfolk from England, where Mr. G. touched on his return home. We learn verbally that the aspect of our concerns in that country were flattering, though it is said no change had taken place in the actual state of affairs.

WASHINGTON CITY, Jan. 9.

The Senate have rejected all the amendments of the House of Representatives to the Army Bill which go to limit the appointment of officers, &c. by very large majorities. It remains for the House to recede from, or insist on, their amendments.

The House of Representatives have progressed in the digestion and consideration of other preparatory measures suited to the crisis, as will be seen by a reference to the proceedings of the two last days.—The bill for organising a volunteer corps was yesterday debated in committee of the whole. The number authorised is FIFTY THOUSAND; and an appropriation of three millions of dollars is contained in the bill, applicable to the objects it contemplates. The committee made considerable progress, in the bill, but adjourned without reporting it to the House. There is much doubt of its passage through the House of Representatives.

Congress.

SENATE—January 7.

Mr. Smith (Md.) from the committee to whom was referred so much of the message of the President as relates to the evasions and infractions of our commercial laws, reported a bill, in addition to the act supplementary to the act concerning the commercial intercourse between the United States and G. Britain and France, and their dependencies and for other purposes.

The same committee also reported a bill supplementary to the act to regulate the collection of duties on imports and tonnage. Both these bills were ordered to a second reading.

A message was received from the President of the United States inclosing the report of the director of the mint.

JANUARY 8.

The bill in addition to the act supplementary to the act concerning the commercial intercourse between the United States and Great Britain and France and her dependencies.

The bill supplementary to the act regulating the collection of duties on imports and tonnage, were read the second time.

The bill directing the times on which lands sold at public sale, and that revert for failure in payment, shall again be sold was reported by Mr. Worthington without amendment.

The Senate proceeded to consider the amendments of the House of Representatives to the bill to raise an additional Military force.

The amendments to the first section were disagreed to, 24 to 3—as also the 25th section, 25 to 1—it was then

Resolved, That the Senate agree to all the amendments to said bill, except the provision in the first section and the three additional sections, to which they disagree.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Tuesday, January 7.

Mr. Bacon, from the Committee of Ways and Means, reported a bill making appropriations for the expence of equipping and supporting the company of rangers for the year 1812.

Mr. Newton, from the committee of Commerce and Manufactures, to whom was referred the petition of sundry merchants on the subject, reported a bill authorising the importation of certain goods wares and merchandize, under certain restrictions from Great Britain, her colonies or dependencies.

Mr. N. said the Committee of Ways & Means, had for some time delayed making a report upon those petitions, waiting to see the course which congress would take in relation to our differences with Great Britain. Finding the United States are about to take a manly attitude and to maintain their national rights with firmness and spirit, they conceive that all goods, wares and merchandize that were purchased or contracted for by our merchants in the British dominions, anterior to the 2d of February last, ought to be permitted to be imported into the United States, and therefore directed their chairman to report this bill.

The above bills were severally twice read and committed.

A message was received from the senate informing the house that the senate had agreed to all their amendments to the bill for raising an additional military force, except the provision in the first section and the three additional sections, to which they disagreed.

The proviso disagreed to is in the following words:

Provided however, that commissioned officers for 6 only of the said regiments shall be appointed, until 3/4ths of the privates required to complete such six regiments have been enlisted, when the commissioned officers for the remaining seven regiments shall be appointed.

The following are the three sections disagreed to:

That the officers who may be appointed in virtue of this act, shall respectively continue in commission during such term only as the president shall judge requisite for the public service; and that it shall be lawful for the president to discharge the whole or any part of the troops which may be raised under the authority of this act, whenever he shall judge the measure consistent with the public welfare.

That no general, field or staff officer, who may be appointed by virtue of this act, shall be entitled to receive any pay or emoluments until he shall be called into actual service, nor for any longer time than he shall continue therein.

That in the recess of the senate, the president of the U. S. is hereby authorised to appoint all, or any of the officers, other than the general officers proper to be appointed under this act, which appointment shall be submitted to the senate at their next session, for their advice and consent.

Adjourned.

LATE FROM LONDON.

The politeness of Captain M'Neil, of the fast sailing ship Isabella, 35 days from London, his consignee and many of our Mercantile friends, have placed us in possession of London papers to the 20th Nov. (27 days later than before)—The most important contents, extracted from the London Morning Chronicle—the Courier—the Statesman and Time, follows—The King was alive on the 10th November. The Prince Regent has put out of office Mr. Perceval, and who we are informed was very unfriendly to this country.

Captain M'Neil is the bearer of dispatches from the British government to Mr. Monroe, which were forwarded on to Washington City.

The United States frigate Constitution arrived at Port mouth from Cherbourg on the 10th November with Mr. Russell, our late Charge de Affairs in France, on board—on the 20th, the day Savannah sailed, she was at Spithead, ready to sail for the United States.

Passengers in the Isabella, from London.

Mrs. Bradford and family, Mr. Haywood, Doctor Grimkie, Mr. Brown, Mr. Nesbit, Mr. Powell, (Mr. Murrays, Mr. Gibson, of Richmond,) Mr. Hamilton, Mr. Naylor, Mr. Duncan, Master Banks, Master Smith, Master Farnall.

LONDON, November. 9.

The Governor of Ciudad Rodrigo (Gen Regnaud) and eleven Officers of the Staff, taken with him by Don Julian Sanchez, have arrived at Portsmouth.

A vessel is arrived from Gibraltar which she left on the 3d—She has bro't an account of the retreat of the French from San Roque; and adds that the French General Godinot had shot himself.

Reinforcements of British troops are immediately to be sent to Portugal, Cadiz, Gibraltar Sicily, and Malta.

Banks of the Douro, Oct. 20.

There is nothing new in the army of Galicia which continues its organization. Vandermasin's division composed of 5000 infantry and 1000 horse has marched from Valladolid for Madrid, where it will join Marmont. It is impossible that this Marshall should remain where he is, on account of the want of provisions and many sick which he has.

ORDER OF THE DAY.

Head-Quarters, San Justo de Ribas Mar.

October. 14.

His excellency the Marshall lord Wellington, an extract of a letter addressed to him by the Prince Regent our lord. With the utmost satisfaction he communicates its contents to the Portuguese army.

Extract from a royal letter addressed by his royal highness the Prince Regent to his Excellency the Count Vimera (Lord Wellington) Marshall general, dated Rio Janeiro, July 1808.

I desire you to make known to the army under your command how satisfactory it is to me that it has faithfully executed your orders, and thus contributed to the happy issue with which the supreme being has covered with glory the arms of the allied armies."

Extract of a letter from a military member of Congress.

"The Secretary of War informed me that the French System of Tactics of Marshal Ney would be adopted as well for the regulars as for the militia, and that an edition of that work was now in the press. I presume it will not be found essentially to differ from M'Donald's translation."
