

Selected Poetry.

Epitaph on a poor, but honest man.
STOP, reader, here, and deign a look.
 On one without a name:
 Ne'er enter'd in the ample book
 Of fortune, or of fame.

Studies of peace, he hated strife,
 Meek virtues fill'd his breast;
 His coat of arms, 'spotless life';
 'An honest heart,' his crest.

Quarter'd therewith was innocence;
 And thus his motto run;
 'A conscience void of all offence,
 Before both God and man.'

In the great day of wrath, tho' pride
 Now scorns his pedigree,
 Thousands shall with they'd been allied
 To this great family.

ALL persons are hereby desired to take notice, that a deed or writing, purporting to be a conveyance of all my property,
 both real and personal, to Richard Bleminah Miller, and signed in December 1792, is a void instrument; and I hereby warn all persons not to purchase any property therein specified of William Morris, who now holds the said writings, as neither he, nor any claiming under him, can convey any title to the same.
