

From the NEWARK GAZETTE.

TO OUR PATRONS.

THIS said a horse will surely die,
If living without hay;
Nor can the PRINTER paper buy,
If he's depriv'd of pay.

The tedious winter came in haste;
A good fire has a charm:
But if the fire no wood can waste,
How can we keep us warm?

"O could we sing like Father French!"
In strong terms we would utter—
Give quantum sufficit of peace,
And pounds of pork and butter.

If we have credit, creditors
We certainly must have;
But give our creditors no pay,
Our credit finds a grave.

O let our patrons take the hint:
Nor think our rhyming trash:
For we attest: (there is truth in't.)
We live not but by CASH.

From the FEDERALIST.

Oyes! Oyes! Oyes!

Citizens and Citizens of America, Friends to good Government and the Rights of Man, Enemies to tyrants, Guardian of the sacred flame of Liberty, Jacobins, Democants, Demagogues, and Republicans, Whisky Boys, Frenchmen, Dutchmen, Irishmen, Scotchmen, Welchmen, Africans, &c. attend!

A MOST horrible plot has been discovered. The most nefarious attempts against our sacred rights have been brought to light. The enemies of genuine liberty, working in secret, have been striving to undermine the great pillars of republicanism. They have already forged one link of the chain which was to bind us in eternal bondage. The constitution of the United States the safeguard of our precious privileges, says, that "Congress shall pass no law abridging the freedom of speech" and yet the Legislature of the state of New-Jersey, not minding their oath to support the constitution, but intending to overthrow it, and to bury us under its ruins, and daring and assuming to themselves powers not possessed by Congress, have passed a law for the punishment of crimes, in which, among other things, they say, that "no man shall curse or swear, or revile the gospels, under penalty of fine and imprisonment." So daring an outrage on your privileges, ought not to pass unregarded. Is not one of your indiscribable rights snatched from you? Is not the freedom of speech abridged? Arouse my fellow-citizens! this act is unconstitutional and void; arouse and do not let it be carried into effect. This infernal Gag Bill, is one step towards despotism. Bye and bye they will say you shall not speak at all. Have they not already said, you shall only speak as they please? Arouse then! Call upon the "magnanimous republic," and she will assist us.

DIALOGUE.

Should the Emperor reject still a peace,
Cries Pitt, "I must grant him a Loan;"
But, cunning Dundas, cries "cease Willy, cease,
"You'll do wiser to let him alone."

FOR SALE,

THE THOROUGH BRED HORSE

DOLON,

IN FULL PERFECTION!

WILL stand the ensuing spring season, to begin the 10th of March and end the 10th of July—the one half of his time in my stable at Bannockburn, in Chatham county, about two miles from Pittsborough, N. Carolina; the other half of his time at Samuel M'Daniel's, on Rocky River, in said county: the terms when at Rocky River, to be known of Samuel M'Daniel; and when at Bannockburn to be known of the subscriber.

DOLON is a beautiful chestnut sorrel, rising eleven years of age, fifteen and an half hands high; in point of figure, stature, strength and beauty, judges allow him to be equalled by few and excelled by none—indeed the most capital judges who have seen him, pronounce him to be the handsomest large bodied horse they ever saw in North Carolina, or even on the continent of America: his colts are much admired, particularly for their size—some of them got when owned by Colonel B. Williams, in 1797, measured 3 feet 6 inches as soon as they stood up; and it is reduced to a certainty, from undoubted authority, that Dolon's colts are now in as high estimation as any stud's colts that ever stood in the State of Virginia—some of which are now held at the price of 500 guineas, 2333 dols.

DOLON was got by Tipoofoah, who was got by Delancy's imported Lath, out of the Brandum mare dam of Pilgrim, Clodius, Buckskin, and Colonel O-gelby's Cellat, who was the sire of Mr. Marmaduke Johnston's celebrated running gelding that was lately sold for 1500 dollars to Colonel Hampton. Dolon's dam was got by Old Partner, her grand dam by the imported Janus, her great grand dam by the imported Valiant, her great great grand dam by the imported Jolly Roger, out of the imported mare the property of the late Hon. Peter Randolph: Dolon's dam was also dam to the late Andrew Mead's running mare Sila, and grand dam to Oracle, that distanced the field at New-Market Races in May 1793.

Extensive Pasturage, and all possible care and attention given to the mares, but will not be answerable for escapes or accidents of any kind.

J. PATERSON.

March 8. 55 ff

WILL stand at the stable of the subscriber, the ensuing season, an elegant, full bred and well formed STUD HORSE; his sire is the old imported Flinnap, and his dam a full blooded imported mare: he is a beautiful bay, eight years old, of a good constitution and in high perfection, and will be let to Mares at four dollars the single leap, eight dollars the season, or twelve dollars to ensure a foal, and one quarter of a dollar to the Groom.

Good Pasture for mares sent from a distance gratis, and all reasonable care shall be taken of them—but not answerable for accidents.

JOHN SIBLEY.

Fayetteville, March 2. 54 ff

SIXTY DOLLARS REWARD.

RAN-AWAY from the subscriber, two Negro men named PHILIP & SHADE; Philip is somewhat of a yellow complexion, and has a scar on his forehead near the edge of his hair, about 22 years of age: Shade is of a more black complexion, spare made and tall, about 25 or 26 years of age. Any person that will deliver the aforesaid Negroes to the subscriber in Georgia, Hancock county, shall receive the above reward—if not convenient to deliver as aforesaid, have them secured in some goal, so that the subscriber get them—on so doing and sending me word, by line or otherwise, shall receive one half of the above reward, and in proportion for either of them. The subscriber will pay all prison fees.
