SEATS IN CHRIST'S CHURCH.—We are requested to state that one of the Vestry of Christ's Church (Episcopal), will always be in attendance to conduct stranges to a seat. None need to stay away for fear of not being comtortably seated, or of appropriating the seats of another.

THAT DIALOGUE .- Our neighbor admits, impliedly at least, that the dialogue between a white republican and a colored citizen had no foundation in truth; and wonders that we were so obtuse as not to see what everybody else, (the colored citizens included,) perceived, that it was never intended for the truth or to be believed by any, but that it was put out by the "Republican Congressional Executive Committee " to catch

We scarcely lco'red for such an admission from our neighbor, and we thank him for his candor, as it saves us from the trouble of dissecting a mass of falsehoods, in detail, and enables us authoritively to declare the whole production fabulous, and totally unworthy of confidence.

MACON HOUSE, BEAUFORT HARBOR.-We wish special attention to the advert s ment of T. A. Granger Proprietor of the Macon House, Morehead City. Mr. Granger is too well known to our hands, assures us that every thing shall be done to make the guests at the Macon House spend their time agreeably, and get more than the worth of the money they slill expend. We are sure none will regret har n given friend Granger a call. We shall alluge to the Hotel on Beaufort Harbor frequently. In this connection we refer to the Card of Messrs Page and Dibble in another column of this issue.

It seems Jackson's mill dam, some distance above, had been cut, to save the mill, and the refuse flood had so widened the current, tha when the engine struck the eastern abutment it gave way, and precipitated the engine and tender from the track; though doing but little damage to them. The baggage car, also, got over with but little damage. The mail car still stands on the culvert with one end knocked in and trucks out of place. The passenger coach stands on the track and received no injury.

Now FIRM-Now SHARY .- The editor of the ! Republican, as councilman, is said to have been particularly severe upon General Order No. 32, or at least upon that part of it which relates to licensed retailers, and we, tri-weekly, have examined the Republican to read the fierce denunment of what he would have done had he been Mayor; nor have we seen in print anything of those wonderful instruments of writing he would as Mayor, have given to the retal residence in the Attorney General holds that the party instructing them to keep open shop in defiance of order No 32, and throw all the responsibility upon his shoulders. Hard Shells.

Several cases of importance were tried in the Person county Superior court in North Carolina. last week, one of which was "a fight" between two preachers in the pulpit over the Bible—they didn't exactly fight but had a scoffle over the the traveling public to require commendation at book. They were both "hard shells"-one, (Oakley) about 67, and the other (Rag and) about 37. Brother Oakly, from some cause, stopped preaching to a corgregation he had served seven years, and positively refused to rlay "upon a harp of a thousand strings" again for the comfort of that church, whereupon it called brother Ragland. Ragland preached there several times and it seems, as soon as he finished his discourse, the spirit as often moved brother Oakley to rise and preach also; but the congregation invariably left him to preach to the walls and three excommunicated brethren. Finally, on one occasion, when Ragland was fulfilling an appointment, Oakley ascended the pulpit and seized the church Bible, which he was allowed peaceable possession of until the time arrived for Ragland to preach, when he wrestled it from the former's grasp. Oakley re-tired immediately from the church, and subse-quently Ragland was prosecuted for the offence. The State Attorney (Settle), Hon. John Kerr and C. S. Winstead, Esq., appeared for Oakley, and Hon. Wm. A. Graham and T. B. Venable, Esq., for the defendant. The State Attorney thought it a most di-gusting case, and so disgraceful on both sides that he declined to argue it; he had no idea of settling such a difficulty for the church; the court house was not the place to settle church squabbles, and he was not the man to undertake tt. He administered a wholesome rebuke to both parties. Mr. Graham defended his client handsomely, and contended that his conduct had not been unbecoming a gentle-The water was within a few inches of the top man. Judge Kerr replied, and the case was given to the jury, which returned a verdict in Ragland's favor .- Danville Times.

LANCASTER. Pa.. June 13, 1867. I think it proper to suggest the propriety of having a quorum in Congress on the 1st proxi-mo. The opinons of the Attorney General seem ciations hurled at the commanding General for to require some explanatory or supplemental issuing any such order; but our neighbor "coo's acts. I need not point out the errors in favor of gently." We have not seen in print an announce-for instance, it is provided that to entitle to be may take nine months when he was a boy and three months now. Andsew Johnson by going a month before the election to North Carolina where he lived thirty years ag , could vote. So with regard to clerks, military and civil officers, and the holding of Confederate officers, while in rebellion. But I will not take time to criticise rebellion. But I will not take time to criticise now. A mistake more objectionable than either is the fact of usurpation by the Attorney General in acting at all in the question, and treating his directions as binding officially. The Attorney General has no more right to interfere than the President had to reconstruct, which pretension Congress has settled, since it has been adjudged that the conquered States are to be treated as subdued territory, as directly without reservence to the right former condition by the legislarence to the r former condition by the legisli uve power alone. It is to be supposed that Con-Goodspeed's line, arrived at the blockade below the city Saturday evening at 9 o'clock, having made the run from New Yirk in fifty-two hours. DEATH OF HON. R. S. DONNELL.

Live power alone. It is to be supposed that Congress is to be appealed to in case of difficulty. It is true that the Attorney General is too good a lawyer to pretend to act under the constitution as it is well decided that, admitting new States. and, of course, rebuilding conquered territory, does not come within the provision of that instrument. His opinion is just as good as any good lawyers, and no better. It is the attempt to retreat its official that is objectionable. When he rules what shall be evidence, if obeyed he does great wrong. He has a tair excuse, howhe does great wrong. He has a fair excuse, however, under the invitation of the commanding generals. I have said this much with great reluctance; but finding my colleagues indiffered to the question, I have not been able to refrain. I feel painful fear least it should be thought that I obtrade my opinions too often in public matters, but any anxiety, possibly, my over excited anxiety, relative to reconstruction, must be my excuse. With great respect, your obedient servant. THADDEUS STEVENS.

It is currently reported in London that Hon.
