The Standard. RALEIGH, SATURDAY, OCT. 17, 1857. HOLDEN & WILSON, STATE PRINTERS, AUTHORIZED PUBLISHERS OF THE LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES. Monetary Matters. From present indications monetary matters seem to be rapidly growing from bad to worse. Suspensions and failures crowd thickly upon each other; and it would seem that a general crash is now inev-

Andrew Jackson and revere his memory, and only regret that his policy has not been more strictly carried out in regard to banks. We may talk of sound banks, solvent banks, stocks, and all that; capitol but after all, gold and silver constitute the only currency that is at all times safe. So long as banks issue two or three dollars for one, promising to pay their notes on demand, they promise more than they can perform; and the consequence is, when their notes begin to flow back upon them for redemption, they are compelled to suspend specie payments, because they have not the specie wherewith to redeem their obligations. Gen. Jackson's administration was marked by a successful contest with the monster bank. None but a man of his iron will and unswerving determination would ever have been able to crush that powerful institution. He saw that the good of the people required its overthrow, and he set about the work. He was denounced, threatened and importuned; and every species of opposition that cunning could devise, talent command or money buy was brought to bear against him; but he had put his hand to the work, and he was not the man to look back. He triumphed, and in that triumph the people have had twenty years of prosperity. They have prospered until they have partially forgotten his advice and departed from his policy; and now, as a consequence, a revulsion is upon us. At a recent Democratic meeting in Philadelphia, Hon. John Cadwallader said : "Nearly a quarter of a century ago, at a time of agitation greater than the present, Andrew Jackson, while President, was importuned from every quarter with applications urging him to recede from that policy which has immortalized his name, and immortalized the memories of the Democratic patriots of that period, who fought under his banner the great contest for a lawful currency. His answer to an officer of a bank who, as a remonstrant against the Democratic policy, had visited Washington, was "My friend, go home; tell your neighbors to spend less, talk less, work more, and all will be right."

In the branch including horses and mules there were 34 entries up to Wednesday night. In the agricultural and horticultural departments there were 191 entries. In mechanics, 60 entries, including some fine plows and horse power. In manufactures and household fabrics there were 143 entries. A large number of additional entries were made on Thursday.

Mr. J. R. Wortham, of Warren county, exhibited a gate, invented by himself, opening and shutting by levers acting on other machinery. It 'seemed to us a very ingenious contrivance.

On the whole, the Fair was one of which the County may well be proud; and but for the rain it would have been much better. Our limited time and space prevent a more minute and extended notice.

Hon. Andrew Johnson. We learn from the Nashville Union, says the Washington Union, that the vote for United States Senator in the joint convention of the two houses of the Tennessee legislature stood as follows: Andrew Johnson, Neil S. Brown, 88

Johnson's majority.

The Union, in announcing this gratifying result pays the following carnest, eloquent tribute to the lofty patriotism and exalted talents of one who is truly described as being in every respect "worthy to fill the place of any of those intellectual giants who, during this generation, have passed from the stage of life :"

"Andrew Johnson was yesterday, in convention of the two houses of the general assembly of Tennessee, elected a senator in Congress for six year from the 4th of March last. This is but a formal record of the verdict and election of the people of the State last August. The question was then decided by the great popular tribunal with a unanimity and enthusiasm which has had no parallel since the days of the illustrious Jackson. The action of the representatives of the democratic people was as prompt and as unanimous as would have been the action of the people themselves had they exercised itable. At a time like this the country will think of the power delegated to the legislature. There were no conflicts to be reconciled; no dissensions to be healed. The man of the people is recognized as such alike by the masses for whom he has so long labored and by their representatives in the State

> In this action the people of Tennessee place in the Senate of the United States the first intellect of the day. He goes there worthy to fill the place of any of those intellectual giants who, during tion, have passed from the stage of life. The abilities which have distinguished him here are now to be displayed on a wider field, and the qualities which have made him the idol of his State will assure him the same popular regard from the people of the nation.

NORTH-CAROLINA, •WED NESDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1857.

The Financial Distress.

There is no abatement in the stringency of the money market, and we yield reluctantly to the belief that we have not seen the worst of it yet.

The decrease in the New York banks for the weel ending October 10th, was as follws; Of loans, $4,-017,930; of deposits, $3,053,190; of circulation, $224,668; by failure of capital, $626,000. Increase of specie for same time, $75,881. The New York Times of Monday last says:

"The mercantile failures to day are numerous and particularly important in the Dry Goods interest, where the feeling of discouragement, on account of the embargo on the Western exchanges and the severity of the pressure at home, is becoming worse and worse every day. Two large and well known firms, who have not suspended, resort to-day to a new course of business to be rid of their stocks on hand for cash. Messrs. S. B. Chittenden & Co., Dry Goods jobbers, put up their stock at auction in their own store. Messrs. Edward Lambert & Co., extensive Silk Goods jobbers in Chambers street, have opened an establishment in Broadway for retailing out their goods for cash at the lowest market prices! The suspensions reported are: Messrs. L. O. Wilson & Co., Dry Goods jobbers and importers, an old house that weathered the storm of 1837, and regarded wealthy until the present time; Messrs. Bliss, Douglas, Wheelock & Co., Dry Goods jobbers, also an old house under various firms, and of high standing up to the present time ; Hall, Dana & Co. Domestic Goods' house of old standing and an extensive trade; J. A. Hearn, Dry Goods; Blackwell, Whittemore & Co., an old cloth house, who stood through 1837; W. Langdon & Co., Dry Goods; Carhart, Bacon & Co., Cloth house; W. T. H. Duncan, Dry Goods; Herrick, Ferris & Co., Gentlemen's furnishing goods; Ludlam, Leggit & Co., produce dealers; and Ames, Herrick, Barnes & Rhodes, stastioners. Among the names, omitted in our morning list, should have been John N. Genin, the wellknown fashionable hatter in Broadway. Among the old members of the Stock Exchange, Dykers, Alstyne & Co., are reported as being unable to meet some of their loans on demand. The firm is understood to have large means, and we hear that the demand upon them to-day was accommodated to their convenience.

This formidable catalogue of individual disasters, and the breaking down of the Grocer's Bank is unhappily not relieved by any appearance of improvement in the exchanges either domestic or foreign .--The Cotton Market here and at the South is utteriv prostrated, for the time being, and the few sales making are at a decline of four cents from the top rate a few weeks ago, and without the change of a fraction in Liverpool. The Corn Exchange to-day suffered severely from the same cause, though it is satisfactory to note increased receipts, and evidences that a very large amount is still on the way by lake and canal. The business in Sterling is done at 95 a 101 per cent. A leading banker is offering to draw short sight at 102 a 1021 per cent. The only redeeming feature in the Money Market -and certainly an important one, as a rallying point -is the steady specie strength and determined specie basis of the City Banks, as shown on the average of the past week, and in the following preamble and resolutions, moved in the Association this morning, by Mr. William F. Havemayer, of the Bank of North America, and unanimously adopted. The declaration is more important, negatively, as an evidence of united purpose and mutual action and assistance, than for any positive promise it holds out of relief to the mercantile community. At a meeting of the Bank Officers, held this day, at the Clearing-House, Thomas Tileston was appointed Chairman, and James Gallatin, Secretary, when, on motion, the following resolutions were adopted : Whereas, There is no demand for specie upon the banks of this City for exportation, and can be none at present; but, on the contrary, with the present low rate of exchange, affording a profit of from 7 to 10 per cent. on its importation, there must be a speedy influx of it from Europe-for whether any body here can draw for it or not, the inevitable laws of trade must be obcycd-and specie will come to the point of greatest demand : And whereas, All demands for specie upon the banks of this City from the interior, so far as they could arise from natural causes, have already been of twenty-five year's standing, who weathered the storm of 1837. The Bank Statement gave much satisfaction as showing a steady specie strength, notwithstanding the large drain of the past week,absorbed only the assistance derived from the California packet of Sept. 5, and the Sub-Treasury .--The drain was renewed yesterday, but was not so general, particularly in aid of the near country banks, as last week. The California packet of Sept. 20, and the Sub-Treasury, will probable again sup-ply nearly three millions of dollars in the course of the present week. The packet is about due. The liquidation of Bank loans last week reached four million dollars, making with the previous week an actual curtailment hard on to six millions since the promised expansion of three millions. The result, though alleged to have been necessary by the rapid drawing down of the bank deposits, adds greatly to the discouragement of the merchants, among whom further large failures are talked of as likely to follow the list presented this morning. The amount of United States stock redeemed at the Treasury Department yesterday was $750,561, of which a large amount was for New-York. The whole amount thus far redeemed is about $3,000,000, and there, remains available under the law only about $500,000 more."

The distress in New York, Philadelphia, and elsewhere North, owing to the throwing out of employment of the laboring classes, is represented as already great. If the present state of things should continue, who can estimate the suffering which must befal these people during the long hard winter months? Not less than twelve thousand persons in New York City alone have been thrown out of employment. Those engaged in the manufacture and sale of luxuries are suffering most. Four thousand cigar makers, for example, have been suddenly deprived of work. We observe also that many of the iron works have either suspended operations or discharged a portion of their hands.

The Wilmington Journal of Wednesday says : Two more of the Banks of Charleston, S. C. suspended on the 12th inst .- the "South Western Rail Road Bank," and the "Bank of South Carolina," A considerable run on the remaining unsuspended Banks was the consequence. The Bank of Charleston kept its door open until 5 P. M., three hours later in the day than usual, in order to accommodate the bill-holders. The total amount paid out by all the unsuspended banks, is stated at $45,000. The following banks had not suspended at latest dates: The Bank of Charleston, the State Bank, Planters' and Mechanices' Bank, Union Bank, Farmer's and Exchange Bank, and the Peoples' Bank all located in Charleston.

We learn that a telegraphic despatch was received here this morning, from New York, stating that twenty-two of the Banks of that City suspended yesterday. By the Constitution of New York, they go into liquidation forthwith.

Virginia Notes in Washington City. WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.-The brokers are throwing out all of the Virginia notes to day.

Latest Intelligence---General Suspension of the Banks in New York and elsewhere North I The money panic reached its climax on Tuesday, and the banks of New York City, fifty odd in number, suspended specie payments. The run upon them for specie had been constant and heavy, and they withstood it gallantly, but were at last obliged to yield. The scene was highly exciting-hundreds of thousands in gold were paid out on Tuesday before the banks yielded.

The Albany, the Buffalo, the New Jersey, the Connecticut, the Maine, and other banks have suspended.

The Farmer's Bank, and the branch of the Exchange Bank, in Richmond, Va., suspended specie payments on Wednesday. The Bank of Virginia was the only bank in Richmond that continued to redeem its notes with specie.

On Tuesday last the panic was making itself severely felt in New Orleans. Heavy suspensions were anticipated. Money was extremely scarce. We learn that the Bank of Cape Fear has suspended specie payments. The Bank of the State of North-Carolina has not suspended. The impression, however, seems to be that all the banks in this State will be compelled to suspend.

Educational.

Below we present, from the Greensboro' Times, the proceedings of a meeting held for the purpose of forming a County Teacher's Association. We trust the example, thus set, will be followed by every county in the State. The advantages from such Associations will be incalculable. A new and vigorous spirit will be diffused among teachers, and among the people generally ; and we venture the assertion that no wember will leave a meeting of the Association without having learned something to profit him in his high and honorable calling. These Associations, as auxiliary to the State Educational Association, will deepen the interest in and widen the influence of that body. But to the proceedings

STATE OF NORTH-CAROLINA, JOINSTON County .- Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions, August Term, 1857,

It appearing to the satisfaction of the Court that James O'Neal is a non-resident of this State, it is ordered by said Court that advertisement be made in the North-Carolina Standard in the suit Reddin Strickland and others vs R. O'Nesl, Adm'r. with the will annexed, and R. O'Nesl, Adm'r, and James O'Neal. You, the said James O'Neal. are hereby notified to appear at the next term of this Court, on the 4th Monday of November next, at the Court House in Smithfield, to plead, answer or demur to this petition, otherwise it will be heard ex parte as to you, and decree made accordingly.

The first part of the advice' "spend less," contained the true secret of the remedy for such evils as the present. The remedy consists, first and last, in economy; and economy will surely be practiced as soon as improvident banking accmmmodations are withheld, and banking, in other respects, on insecure foundations is checked. Until then there will be no economy.'

"Improvident banking accommodations" have led to wild speculations and extravagant living, and these have led to bankruptcy. Banks have been tempted to over issue, and at the first signal of alarm have suspended. Bank notes and fancy stocks, that were counted as great wealth, are brought to their true value, which is simply nothing, further than as they are based on gold and silver ; and this basis is something like a tale of fiction founded on fact-a grain of truth and a bushel of romance.

But the storm will blow over after a while, and we will lay the lesson to heart and profit by it for a few years. But as long as our present system of banking continues, we may expect a crash every ten or fifteen years.

Fair at Henderson.

We visited the fair of the Granville county Agricultural Society at Henderson on Thursday last. The day was unpropitious, and the attendance, though quite respectable in point of numbers, was not as large as it would have been if the weather had been favorable.

Owing to the rain the fine fabrics of female skill and taste could not be exhibited to much extent, but we noticed some fine coverlids, counterpanes, bed quilts, domestic flannels, &c. The agricultural department was very good, embracing excellent specimens of corn, wheat, black oats, rice, cabbage

The world will call our new senator a successful The causes of his success furnish so admiraman. ble a lesson to the rising generation that they should not be overlooked when his history is read. He owes his success more to his inflexible zeal in behalf of popular rights and the interests of the masses than to the great talent he has exhibited in maintaining these rights and interests. The young men of this day may learn from this that the people are always true to those who are true to them.

It is now twenty-two years since Gov. Johnson entered public life. With a brief interval of two years, he has all this time been in the service of the ble-as member of the legislature, representative in Congress, and Governor of Tennessee. In 1851 a partisan legislature legislated him out of Congress by adding to his district whig votes enough to make the majority of that party apparently impregnable. This action but transferred him to a wider field of influence. The people made him Governor at the next election, and gave the democratic party in the State perhaps the only leader who could have crushed know-nothingism to the earth in 1855. He sowed the seeds of that solid Democratic majority of near twelve thousand which now assures the permanent ascendency of democratic principles in Tennessee, and justly reaps the first fruits of that ascendency in his election to the Senate. We hail the result as a worthy tribute to our greatest leader, and join our congratulations to those with which it will be received by the great body of the people."

The fact that a bank refuses to redeem its notes in specie, is no proof that it is insolvent. On the contrary, bank suspensions at a time like this are calculated to strengthen the banks, for the reason that they thereby hold on to their specie as a basis for future operations. We are not now discussing the system of banking which exists, but we are dealing with things as they are. If our banks should suspend, they will do so to protect themselves against insolvency, or at least to prevent the hard cash from being drawn from their vaults and carried out of the State. We caution the people against any panic about bank notes. These notes, as a general thing, constitute the only currency that we have; and we must consider them good and pass them from one to another in purchasing articles and paying debts, or all business must cease. Do not submit to be shaved. Ask what your bank note calls for on its face, and nine times out of ten you will get it. If the worst should come, which we do not apprehend, the banks would most probably be able to pay all their debts; and this being so, of course their notes ought to circulate as money, even if they should suspend. And do not hoard the specie. Let it out. You can get five dollars for it in the hundred now. Shell it out. Pay your little debts. Let the dollars run from hand to hand, paying as they go. Money thus used will be of service, and of great service at a time like this; but if hoarded up, it can do no good to its holder or to the public.

SUDDEN DEATH OF A SHERIFF .- The Salisbury Watchman, of the 18th, says that Caleb Klutts, Sheriff of Rowan county, died suddenly on the 10th inst. He had been slightly indisposed for a few days, but transacted some official business but a few moments before he died. He rose from the table where he had been writing, complained of a pain in

And whereas. The exchanges with every part of the country are in favor of New York, creating a current of specie towards it for the payment of debts and the purchase of goods;

And whereas, We are in the semi-monthly receipt of large accessions of gold from California, sent here for the payment of debts;

And whereas, The United States Treasury is rapidly disbursing coin in the public expenditure, and for the redemption of the public debt;

And whereas, In this state of things every natural and healthy tendency is to accumulate specie in the banks, and to enable them to diffuse it through ont the country, as the basis of credits by which the abundant crops Providence has given, more bountiful than ever, may be brought to market, confidence may revive, the circulation of commodities be resumed, the internal exchanges restored, the wheels of industry be set in motion, and employment once more be given to labor ;

And whereas, In the judgment of this meeting, there exists at the present time no obstacle whatever to the accomplishment of objects so desirable, unless it be in an unfounded and unnecessary alarm, which keeps specie from its natural uses, and from performing its appropriate functions:

Therefore, Resolved, That the banks of the City of New York are determined, at all hazards and under all circumstances, to perform their duty to the country, and all its great interests, in the maintenance of specie payments, and that all classes of the community should sustain them in carrying out this determination.

Resolred, That in the judgment of this meeting, even for this object, no further contraction of loans is necessary, nor will there exist any obstacle to such an expansion of them, as will afford the necessary aid to bring forward the crops, and alleviate the present commercial distress, unless it shall be created by the demands of a causeless alarm.

T. TILESTON, Chm'n. JAMES GALLATIN, Sec'y. Monday, Oct. 12, 1857.

There is no market for paper, from which to make a reliable quotation of rates. There is some money being raised upon pledges of New York State Stocks, or Country and City Bank Notes, secured by such stocks, but the terms are private. New York and Ohio Sixes were in demand at the Brokers' Board to-day and moderately firm. But the sacrifices on some of the other State Stocks were perfectly frightful, and there was no effecting large sales but by concession on one sale after another. At the Second Board Missouri Sixes were done at 59 per cent., and

We presume that some definite understanding will be had between the Banks in this place to-day. We know there is a strong feeling amongst a portion of the Bank officers and merchants in favor of suspen sion. Others, we are aware, have all along been opposed to it. We are however, of the opinion, that a general suspension will be the inevitable result. It may not take place to day or to-morrow. If the reports from New York be confirmed, there appears to be no other alternative, however much opposed to it the people at large may bc.

While on this subject, we had as well state that seven thousand dollars of the "Bank of Wilmington" notes, sent down here by the " Bank of Fayetteville," were protested yesterday.

We have implicit confidence in all our banks, and persons owing us cannot do us a greater favor than by sending us the amount of their indebtedness. We will give receipts with no little pleasure for bills on any of them. We will not hesitate to take even South Carolina wildcat bills."

The Charleston Mercury of the 12th says:

"SUSPENTION OF THE BANK OF THE STATE.-Notice was given on Saturday, by the Directors of this institution, that during the existing pressure, its notes would not be redeemed in coin. However much we may regret the necessity of this proceed-ing, it has not taken us by surprise. Causes entirely foreign to the operations of our Banks, have worked with a suddenness that scarcely left any opportunity for successfully meeting them; but the immediate reasons for the suspension are fully and satisfactorily stated in the article below, which evidently comes from one familiar with the subject. The solvency of the Bank is, of course, unquestionable, unless it be maintained that the State itself is insolvent. But the Bank itself has been too often and too jealously scrutinized by Legislative Committees, to allow a doubt that its assets are amply sufficient to meet all its liabilities."

We find the following advertisement in the Mercury of the same date :

CHARLESTON BANKS .- All Charleston Bank bills will be taken at a premium of fire per cent., at my Dry Goods establishment, for all purchases of five dollars and upwards; and the Goods will be sold as cheap as they can be had at any other House in WILLIAM ROCHESTER, the city.

Southern Bank. There are rumors this evening of some failures, but they are not authenticated. Business is unsettled.

More Bank Suspensions. NEW YORK, Oct. 13 .- Eight Banks have suspended here to day, viz : the Marine, the Pacific, the New York Exchange, the Merchants' Fxchange, the North River, the Citizen, the Irving and the Ocean.

More Suspensions, &c.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13 .- E. Fish & Company, Brown & Casey, merchants; also the Chatham and Bull's Head Banks have suspended. The Marine Bank stopped by an injunction of its customers. It is presumed the others were stopped in the same manner. By this means the penalty of winding up, which attaches to suspension, is evaded; and it is rendered probable that suspension in most cases will only be temporary. This understanding relieves excitement.

Three more banks, the Tradesman's, the Market, and the St Nicholas, have suspended. Boston, Oct. 13 .- Lyman & Brothers, china merchants have suspended.

Pennsylvania Legislature.

"THE EDUCATIONAL CONVENTION .- On last Saturday a respectable attendance of teachers and friends of Education met in this place for the purpose of organizing a Guilford County Teacher's Association, auxiliary to the State Educational Association. Below we present the proceedings which were merely initiatory to a full organization. On Saturday 31st October, we expect a large attendance and an interesting occasion :-

Guilford County Teachers' Association .- In accordance with a notice previously given, a meeting was held in the district school house, in Greensbsro', on Saturday, Oct. 10th, 1857, for the purpose of forming a County Teacher's Association.

On motion, E. W. Ogburn, Esq., was called to the chair : and J. D. Campbell was appointed Secretary. It was then moved and carried, that a committee of three be appointed to prepare a constitution and report at an adjourned meeting; whereupon, the Chair appointed Messrs. C. H. Wiley, Robert M. Bartley and James N. Hodgin.

Messrs. Wm. M. Wiley and J. D. Campbell were appointed to read essays on the subject of Teachers'

Associations, at our next meeting. It was then moved and carried, that we adjourn, to meet in the School-room of the Greensborough Iligh School, on Saturday Oct. 31st, at 10 o'clock, A. M .- at which time, all the teachers of the County, and other friends of education, are earnestly requested to attend.

THE ELECTION IN KANSAS .- We were under the impression, and so stated in our last, that the Democrats had carried all the Kansas elections; but it appears they have only the Legislature, and that Parrott, black Republican, has been chosen delegate to Congress. The following despatch is from the last Washington Union :

"LEAVENWORTH CITY, Oct. 10 .- The democrats have a majority of one in the territorial council, and two or three in the lower branch-thus the black Republican power for mischief is checked. Mr. Parrott's majority is from four to five hundred .-The convention to frame a State constitution will re-assemble on the 19th inst,'

DUEL PREVENTED .- We learn that the contemplated duel between Mr. L. Blackmer, of Salisbury, and Lieut. Jones, of the U. S. Army, was prevented by the civil authorities of South-Carolina. Mr. Blackmer and Dr. Nesbit, his second, were arrested near the ground appointed for the meeting. Mr. B. R. Moore, Lieut. Jones' second, was arrested in Columbia. All were bound to keep the peace. We have not learned the whereabouts of Lieut. Jones.

PENNSYLVANIA ELECTIONS .- The returns are by no means full, yet enough is known to indicate the election of Gen. Packer, the democratic caudidate for Governor, by a large majority over David Wilmot, black republican, Many thanks to the noble Democracy of the "Keystone State."

We direct attention to the advertisement of Dr. E. B. Haywood, in this paper. He has quite an extensive assortment of drugs, perfumery and fancy articles, and a general variety of such things as are usually kept in a drug stre.

 Irish, yam and Spanish potatoes, tobarco, cotton, beets; parsnips, squashes, pumpkins, bacon, &c. &c. Mr. J. J. Wyche exhibited about 60 different specimens in the agricultural line, some of them very curious—perhaps more curious than useful. There were also good specimens of leather, harness, saddles, &c. Mrs. J. M. Barnes exhibited about 40 specimens, including bread, cakes, pickles, soap, grapes, &c.— Mr. A. C. Parham exhibited a mammoth beet, nearly as large as a half bushel measure. Mr. J. P. Hunt a pumpkin weighing 90 lbs. The stock was not very good. The horses were mostly in thin order, and the cattle seemed to have been on short allowance. We saw some very fine pigs, and one large fat hog. The poultry was very good. 	York Central, Delaware and Hudson, Rock Island and Galena, were done at about Saturday's terms. Illinois Central sold at $101 for the $40 shares.— Panama, 621; Bank of Commerce, $701; Bank of New York, 76; America, 75; Metropolitan, 58; Phenix, 55, and American Exchange, 55.
