The Opposition North and South.

The ultra Know Nothings and old Federalists of the South and the black Republicans of the North, differing radically as they do on the question of slavery, are still a unit in their opposition to the adn inistration of James Buchanan. In one section the charge is that Mr. Buchanan has " sold himself, body and soul," to the slaveholding States; and in the other section, while the fact that this charge is made is studiously withheld, the administration is assailed on different grounds, and every effort is made to render it unpopular. In proof of this we refer our readers to the opposition papers of the two sections. but so it is, and no sophistry or special pleading can Read, for example, the bitter and uncharitable stric- | change it. tures of the Raleigh Register on the administration, and then read the following from the New York Courier and Enquirer : "To day comes the verdict of four Southern States. South Carolina, Mississippi, Georgia and Florida are to say whether or not they are satisfied with the service of the Buchanan Administration. Everybody knows what that finding will be. The day's sun will not more surely set than these States will give for Buchanan their unqualified approbation for his compliance with their demands; and none will be more emphatic in their approval than the same South Carolina which used to make a regular business of threatening and hectoring. The servility of Mr. Buchanan has been abject enough and officious enough to satisfy the most extreme arrogance. He has sold himself, body and soul, to the work of making Kansas a slave State; and, though he has failed, yet the spirit of the man is appreciated, and there is other work yet to be undertaken. His conduct will be approved, and every member of Congress elected, without an exception, will be on the side of his Administration.'

present to have been drawn from renegades from the sideration or credit who retails private conversations.

Mr. Forney is a very good witness for the Register now, but in 1856, when he was exerting himself to defeat the opposition to James Buchanan for President, the Register regarded him as an enemy and reposed no confidence in his statements. Up to the time when he joined the abolitionists-up to the time when he confederated with the black Republicans, and commenced his passionate, uncharitable, and ungrateful assaults on Mr. Buchanan and the Democratic party, no epithet which the Register could apply to him was considered too cevere. But now, when he is assailing a Democratic administration, and when every blow of his, if it is felt at all, will be felt by the South of which that administration is the friend, he is a persecuted patriot, and Know Nothing sympathy and Know Nothing affection are lavished upon him. The Register and its coadjutors act upon the motto, any thing and any body to injure and prostrute the Democratic party. Opposition to Democracy is the main plank in their platform,-opposition without a why or a wherefore, and to the last extremity. To that complexion has it come at last with the once proud and powerful Whig party.

Pennsylvania voted on Tuesday last for members of Congress and a portion of her State officers. We have not heard the result, but it is probable that Forney's treason has weakened the Democracy in that State. If they have lost, black Republicanism hos gained, and gained through Forney, who is endorsed and commended by the Raleigh Register. We know that our respected cotemporary would be shocked if he were to see the result in this light;

Capt. Chas. H. Thompson has made us a present of a fine gold pen of the "Dumas" patent, Paris, which writes capitally. We have been looking for pens for months which wou'd sustain the rapid and heavy hand which we put on paper, and we find this the best one we have tried. We never could follow the advice of the old copy "bear light your pen," though our hand is as steady as that of the next citizen of forty, come the frosts of next November. Mr. Thompson has just received his fall stock of watches and jewelry, together with many beautiful articles which we have no doubt he would be pleased to show to his customers. Give him a call.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Times says, "Senator Brown, of Mississippi, left here this afternoon for New York. He declares his entire confidence in the success of Judge Douglas." Senator Brown is a disunionist. He professes to be a Democrat, yet he is disposed to do injustice to James Buchanan. He says the President is "weak in the back." The expression is more elegant than true. Mr. Buchanan is one of the best friends the South has ever had. His position on the slavery question is as sound as that of Mr. Calhonn, and we would trust him as fully and as far with the Constitutional rights of the South as we would any man. What has disgruntled Senator Brown? Mississippi is a Democratic State, and her Democrac; will deal with him in due time.

A NEW GRAPE .- Mr. William H. Mish, of Beaufort Co., N C. has sent us some bunches of Grapes from a vine, the like of which is not known in this country. It is a large black grape, and resembles the Muscadine in its flavor. It is quite sweet, and has a tough skin. It is a native of Beaufort county, and is called the Mish grape. We understand that Mr. Longworth, of Ohio, has examined and tasted this grape, and speaks of it in the highest terms.

AN AGRICULTURAL CONGRESS.-It is now certain that nearly every prominent Agricultural Society in the United States will be officially represented at the National Fair, which will commence here on the 25th, either by its President or some other officers. For the Standard. TO THE FAMILIES OF RALEIGH.

Mr. John R. Brooks, of this City, who has been acting as Colporteur in towns, and on Railroads in the Eastern part of North Carolina, is now visiting every family in Raleigh under my employ as General Agent of the American Tract Society. Mr. Brooks is doing this good work for us through the benevo-lence of a few ladies that support him by a donation of $150. The object is to supply every family with the excellent publications of the Society at cost, where there is ability and willingness to buy, and by grant to others. He will hold religious exercises of reading the Scriptures and prayers wherever prudent. He will carry some new and valuable books: "Life of Mary Lyon," 376 pages, 50 cts ; "Sketches from Life," 542 pages, 60 cts; and others easy, beautiful and good for children. One book, "Persuasions to early piety," sold by Mr. Brooks to a promising young man in Washington, was the instrument of his conversion, and also his sister; and young man is now thinking to be a missionary. We bespeak for Mr. Brooks a kind reception at every house, and that these books and tracts, free of sec tarianism, be obtained and read by all. Those who may not want to get for themselves, can buy to give their poor neighbors, by which they may do lasting good to their souls as well as their bodies. The great Daniel Webster uttered a noble truth when he said, that "nothing could be more promotive of the happiness and union of our country than the circulation of religious evangelical publications." "Righteusness exalieth a nation." Yours truly, W. J. W. CROWDER, Gen. Ag't

For Speaker of the Senate, without his knowedge or consent, I take the liberty to nominate George D. Boyd, Esq., of Rockingham county, the oldest member of the Senategentleman whose experience in the affairs of legislation-whose uniform and steady devotion to the best interests of the State-and whose unwavering fidelity to Democratic principles, commend him warmly to the favor of the Democratic party. True, the Register and the other altra Know Nothing papers do not, in so many words, approve this view of the subject thus taken by the Courier and Enquirer : yet they unite with that journal and other black Republican journals in the effort which is making to break down the administration. It is nothing to them that Mr. Buchanan is held up as the servile instrument of the slaveholding States; they assail him as vehemently and misrepresent him as unsparingly as if he were an enemy to their section, instead of a friend, as all his acts and as these denunciations of those black Republican journals prove him to be.

Again, what has been the course of the Know Nothings of the free States? In all their recent conclaves they have adopted as strong resolves against the South as the black Republicans have adopted, and, as a general thing, they have coalesced with the latter and will aid them at the polls. What then? If the national Democracy should be defeated in 1860, or if it should lose the next House of Representatives, what party will be the victor? Not the Know Nothings of the South, for they are in a hopeless minority. They have been forced to dissolve their public connection with the opposition in the free States, and they have no voice in shaping platforms, as they would have none in determining what of the triumph of their allies. It follows, then, that the defeat of the Democracy would be the triumph of a sectional party, of the black Republicans. Will any portion of the Southern people contribute to this result? E ery blow dealt upon the administration of Mr. Buchanan by Southern men, from whatever motive or however intended, is calculated to strengthen and does strengthen our implacable enemies, the black Republicans.

JUDGES BY THE PEOPLE -The longer we live and the more we see of the administration of public justice, the more firmly are we fixed in the opinion that Judges ought to be elected by the people for a term of years. Life offices are repugnant to the fundamental principles of free government. This is a Democratic Republican State. The Legislative power, which makes the laws, and the Executive power which puts them in force, are dependant on the people; and so ought the Judicial power to be, which interprets and expounds the laws. Truth is truth. affect whom and what it may. Let the people be true to themselves,-let them take their own power into their own hands. They are honest, and they always mean to do right. Under the present system their lives and their property are in the keeping of persons who hold office for life, who are above them. and who are not responsible to them or to their representatives for the manner in which they discharge their duties.

One of the Lost on the Austria.

We copy the following touching paragraphs from the last Newbern Daily Progress. While at Beaufort in August last we visited the cemetery in that place, and were shown the grave of Capt. Wulf. Turning to a New York paper of September 27, we find among the names of the lost that cf " Miss Helene Wulf, Copenhagen." She was one of the cabin passengers. The Progress has done justice to her sisterly affection and to her amiable and lovely character:

"ONE OF THE PASSENGERS LOST ON THE AUSTRIA .---Some of our citizens will recollect that three or four years ago, a Danish officer of high rank, accompanied by his sister, a young, lovely and most amiable lady, were on a visit to Beaufort. The officer was in bad health, and was traveling in quest of some climate that would restore a shuttered constitution, and the sister whose affection for her brother overcame all the fascinations and allurements of the most refined society of Europe, accompanied him to cheer him in his despondency and to administer to him in his afflictions.

At Beaufort he sickened and died, and left her his guardian angel on earth, alone, far from home, friends and kindred. After seeing his remains deposited in the earth, and after sprinkling the fresh mound over his last resting place, with the tears of sisterly affection, she left for her home in Denmark. After her arrival home she sent a beautiful monument with instructions to have it placed above the brother's grave at Beaufort, which instructions were carried out, and we are told that it now stands over the earthly remains of the stranger's grave, one of the handsomest monuments in the State, with this inscription :

"SACRED TO THB BLESSED MEMORY OF CURISTIAN WULF."

What noble attributes must have characterized that pure being, who, while her brother lived, devoted herself entirely to him, and who after his death, exhibited such holy veneration for his memory.

Since her return to Europe she has held, we learn, frequent correspondence with parties in Deaufort, and that she was only awaiting the com pletion of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad that she might visit this country for the purpose of again bedewing a brother's grave with tears of affection. She had been apprised, we suppose, of the completion of the Road, and took passage in the Austria, the ill-fated Austria, the very whisper of whose name causes thousands of hearts to bleed .--The sequel is told in the fatal sentence : She was not among the saved! How much of purity, of selfshould be the action of the government in the event | denying Christian resignation and God-like attributes perished in the awful and horrid death of HELE-NA WULF !- perished for time and the things of earth, but they shall LIVE with her while with a dazzling crown of light she adorns the society of the cellestial spreres through the countless ages of Eternity !"

A letter from Fort Belknap, Texas, 819 miles from St. Louis, gives the following table of distances from St. Louis to San Francisco, the route of the Overland Mail, which has just arrived :

"Although the announcement of the arrival of the overland mail has been first made from St. Louis, there is little reason to doubt that it also arrived at Memphis, Tenn., about the same time, for (as many are aware) a bifurcated route was adopted; that is, the mail wagons start at the same time from St. Louis, Mo., and from Memphis, Tenn., meeting at a point on the Arkansas river, in Arkansas, known as Fort Smith; thence there is but a single line, that which goes by the 32d degree of latitude, passing through Arizona. The following table shows the distances from point to point on the line. The measurements were made by the exploring party sent out by the Overland Mail Company :

THE COTTON CROP.-The planters generally agree that the Cotton is turning out much better than they anticipated a month ago. The weather for picking has been fine for the last two or three weeks, and if it should continue so for a few weeks longer the greater portion of the crop will be housed. We learn the quality of the Cotton is unusually good. We are of the opinion that the crop in this section will exceed the crop of last year by at least one fifth.-Pulaski (Ga.) Times.

The weather for the past week has been unusually warm for the season, and dry.

The cotton crop in our district must be short. Even a very late fall cannot materially add to the amount of cotton, for the severe drought which set in about the middle of July put an end to the continued production of bolls. Provision crops are generally good, though corn planted late in the season is almost an utter failure.-Clurendon (S. C.) Bunner.

Cotton is opening beautifully, and although the crop may be light, still the upland cotton will be prettier and fairer than has been gathered for many years. We understand from several farmers that the corn is "turning out" much better than was anticipated. We have had a beautiful season thus far for the harvesting. No doubt but that there will be sufficient made to meet all demands.-Pendleton (S. C.) Messenger. MACON, GA., October 9.-For a week past the receipts of Cotton in this market have been very heavy. On vesterday, some 1800 bales were receiveq. The market is consequently very active, so far as receipts and shipments are concerned, though the sales do not correspond thereto. Prices range from 10 to 111: a choice lot would command 111. The crop of the country is now estimated at 3,500,000 bales.-Citizen. CROPS.-We learn, says the Benton (Ga.) Herald, from a gentleman who is an experienced and skilful planter, residing near Benton, that he has already got out more cotton than his whole crop, either of last year, or the year before, amounted to, and that his provision crop will be abundant. We have heard no complaints from farmers in this section. and there is no fear of starvation here next year. Corron .- Last week there were about 1050 bales Cotton sold in this market. On Thursday there were 301 bales sold, prices ranging from 12 to 12.15. On Saturday prices declined to 11.85, in consequence of unfavorable advices from Charleston. Charlotte Democrat.

recommended as Speaker for the House. Mr. Hill's knowledge and experience as a parliamentarian, together with his readiness and decision, would make him an able presiding officer.

It is usual to select one Speaker from the West and the other from the East; and this, I think, would give satisfaction. George D. Boyd is put in nomination by a Sens-

CHAPEL HILL, Oct. 14, 1858. MESSRS. EDITORS: The publication in your last paper of the proceedings of the Board of Trustees in expelling Mr. Land, in connection with the exaggerated rumors of the extent of the outrage, may possibly lead to the misapprehension abroad of the condition of things here, and thus do injustice to a large majority of the students. It is well known here that only a small number of persons were engaged in the disturbance, and that it met with the decided disapprobation of the great body of their fellow students has been clearly manifested by what has been understood to have been since done by the two Literary- Societies. STATE ELECTIONS. - Elections were held yesterday. October 12th, in the three great States of Pennsyl vania, Ohio and Indiana, for members of Congress, besides several State and local officers. No Governor, however, was to be elected in either. In Pennsylvania, there has been a "fusion" of all parties opposed to the Democrats on the State ticket, and a similar union for Congress, except in three of the Philadelphia districts, where the Democrats, Americaus and Republicans, each run candidates. In the first (Florence's) district there are two candidates. This is the case also in the eleventh district. The majority in the State for Buchanan, over Freemont and Fillmore, in 1856, was only 1,025. The Democratic majority for Canal Commissioner, same year was 2,754, while for Governor, last year, the majority was seve al thousand larger.

In Ohio and Indiana the Republicans and Democrats have regular nominated State tickets, but in the former there is a pretty general "fusion" on Congressmen. In 1856 the vote of Ohio stood Fremont 187,497; Buchanan 170,847; Fillmore 28,126. Indiana voted 118,670 for Buchanan; 94,375 for Fremont; 22,386 for Filmore.

The Territory of Minnesota also voted yesterday for members of the legislature.

MURDERER ARRESTED. - Jonas Brantley and Carson Pucket were arrested in this city on Monday morning last by Sheriff High. Brantley is the man who cilled a man named Perry in an affray at an election precinct in Nash county, on the 5th of August last, an account of which was published in the Register at the time, and who has eluded all efforts to arrest him until the present time.

It is not known that Pucket has been guilty of any misdemeanor, but he was in company with Brantley at the time of his arrest, and failing to give a satisfactory account of himself, was committed until an investigation could be had. Both he and Brantley were armed with double barrelled guns and rifles, and were on their way, when arrested, to the Central Depot, where they intended taking the cars, but for what place we did not learn .- Register.

FREIGHTS .- Just as we are going to press, the merchant who furnished us some weeks ago with a statement about the amount of freight paid on Bacon between this place and New York, via Newbern and via Charleston, informs us that he has found out through the Agent of the N. C. Road, that he paid a portion of the bill twice ($17 60), which reduces the difference against the Newbern route to $8 70. It appears that a portion of the bill was collected by two differents agents. We make this statement with pleasure, as we have not the least desire to affect, in an injurious manner, the transportation business on the Newbern route; and we feel certain that none of our merchants have such a disposition. for they have recently been disposed to give that route a trial. We hope some one will yet be able to explain the $8 70 difference still remaining .-- Char. Democrat.

General Cass and the Nicaragua Minister.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 .- Gen. Lewis Cass having recovered from his recent illness, was at his post today in the State Department, where he was to have had an interview with Jerrez by appointment; but the latter sent an apology for not fulfilling his engagement.

One of the conditionns an which he was received as a special Minister from Nicaragua was, that he should deliver the original Cass-Ysarri Treaty. This stipulation he has denied to various gentlemen, but the State department is in possession of the names of those whom he made the declaration. If he much longer delays to comply with this condition, he will be dismissed. The general impression here is, that some foreign influuence is at work in that quarter.

An ill-natured country editor remarks that Weed never does anything without fitting place of abode for those spirits against whom a personal object in view, and that the reason he proposed the winner should give the money to the we shall know where to look for Brownlow after he | Institution in question, was that he expected some day to become an inmate of it.
