

THE CAROLINA FLAG

BY JOHN W. GORMAN.

CONCORD:

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 13.

A red mark on the margin of the paper, will be a warning to those whose term of subscription has expired, that unless they soon come forward and renew, their names will be erased from our books.

Our thanks are due Prof. G. F. Schaeffer, of Mount Pleasant, for a bottle of Ink of his own manufacture. It is a beautiful black; flows freely from the pen, and is as good if not superior, to any ink made in Yankeeedom. As long as we can procure ink of this kind, manufactured in the South, the Yankees' ink shall moulder on the shelf for us.

Richmond Dispatch.

This valuable and much-sought for paper, comes us to this week, in an entirely new dress, having cast off its ancient garment. The circulation which it has will surpass any other paper in the South. It is filled with the most correct and reliable information, and is one of the best publications known to us. It assumed the flag of separation, from the first moment the issue was presented, without hesitation, and bore it aloft, and has been fighting for that flag and exerting its influence for its defence, ever since. Continued success to it.

We learn from a correspondent of the Fayetteville Observer, writing from Morehead City, that a British vessel, with 5,000 sacks of salt, landed at that port a few days ago. Several other vessels, we have since learned, landed with a cargo of the same article. We presume that salt will become much cheaper than it now is. A vessel also arrived at Wilmington a short time ago with a cargo of Coffee, Sugar, Salt and Molasses. These are indispensable articles and we are glad to hear with what success they are being sent into port through the blockade.

A Bad Practice.

The bad practice of publishing the exploits of our privateers, and where they land their prizes, (says the Charlotte Democrat), has already been demonstrated. But there is another practice indulged in equally as bad, that is, giving the number of sick soldiers in the various camps. We recollect to have seen it stated in a letter published in some of our eastern exchanges that one regiment at York town had 900 sick, another 700, &c. This was no doubt an exaggeration but it was almost an invitation for Gen. Wool to attack the post. He might calculate if sickness prevailed in the camp to that extent, that it afforded a first-rate opportunity for an attack, and if our men really were sick in as great numbers as reported, the resistance could not amount to much. The number of men unfit for service in camp, especially when large, should never be made known to the public outside.

AN ORDER FOR SULLIVAN'S ISLAND. —The Charleston papers publish the following from Brig. Gen. Ripley:

Citizens residing on Sullivan's Island will hold themselves in readiness to proceed to the city on short notice. Circumstances only can determine when or at what moment it may be absolutely necessary to order a removal from the Island.

Died, at his residence near Red Mountain, Orange county, on the 7th inst., the Honorable Willie P. Mangum, aged near seventy years.

Mr. J. W. Thomas

This so-called gentleman, who was in New York a short time ago buying up claims against Southern Merchants, is getting his name up. It was reported, and we believe it to be true, although he denies it, that he was arrested while there. No doubt he anticipated a large speculation by this operation, and it never once crossed his mind that this illegal course which he knew he was pursuing, he could or would ever be detected in it, or if he was, that the charge would never be brought against a man of his standing. He has greatly deceived himself and the people, and a stain as visible as the sun and as black as hell itself, is upon his character which time can never obliterate.

The Charlotte Bulletin speaks of him in this wise:

"The Salisbury Watchman, in quoting our remarks in reference to this person, a Collecting Agent for a rank Abolition firm of New York, remarks:

"Mr. Thomas has forwarded for payment a Northern claim against the mercantile firm of McCubbin & Foster, of this place. It will not be paid to Mr. Thomas. There is considerable indignation here against this speculating gentleman."

Perhaps it will not be uninteresting to give the readers another instalment of accumulating evidence going to convict the Hon. J. W. Thomas of complicity with Yankee Abolitionists, whose Agent he is.

If the Senate needs any more proof let a Commission be sent to Charlotte and gentlemen of the highest respectability.—Clergymen and Merchants,—will pile upon them sufficient evidence to prove that J. W. Thomas, were he the devil, is a very bad man.

He exposed his plans to at least one gentleman in Charlotte, when he was going to New York, some six or eight weeks since, which so disgusted him that he concluded that Mr. Thomas was competent to engage in the very business he intended to prosecute.

By circulating his Union speeches at New York he convinced the Abolitionists that he was a very good Black Republican, and they have shown their confidence in him by making him their Agent in North Carolina. But to the additional evidence referred to:

THOMASVILLE, N. C., Sept. 3, '61.

Messrs. Elias & Cohen—Gents: I had a claim against a house in New York who could not pay, took paper on Southern men. I received of William H. Lee & Co. one account on you for $1,406.70 in part payment. If convenient please remit. If done soon N. C. money at par will be received in payment.

Yours truly,
J. W. THOMAS.

W. H. LEE & Co.

We learn, (says the Raleigh Register) that Capt. W. R. Richardson, Clerk to our State Treasurer, has received the more lucrative appointment of Secretary of the North Carolina Railroad Company, salary $1,500. Capt. R. will enter upon the duties of the latter office about the 15th of October. Capt. Richardson is very popular in this city, and many will hear of the appointment with regret, as his acceptance of it necessitates his removal to the Company Shops.

The sword of Commodore Barron, captured at Fort Hatteras, has been presented to President Lincoln.

A Novel Sight

The Avalanche, published at Memphis, Tenn., says:

"A procession of several hundred stout negro men, members of the 'domestic institution,' marched through our streets yesterday in military order, under the command of Confederate officers. They were well armed and equipped, with shovels, axes, blankets, etc. A merrier set never were seen. They were brimfull of patriotism, shouting for Jeff. Davis and singing war songs, and each looked as if they only wanted the privilege of shooting an Abolitionist.

An Abolitionist could not have looked upon this body of colored recruits for the Southern army without strongly suspecting that his intense sympathy for the 'poor slave' was not appreciated, that it was wasted on an ungrateful subject.

The arms of these colored warriors were rather mysterious.—Could it be that those gleaming axes were intended to drive into the thick skulls of Abolitionists the truth, to which they are willfully blind, that their interference in behalf of Southern slaves is neither appreciated nor desired; or that these shovels were intended to dig the trenches for the interment of their carcasses? It may be that the shovels are to be used in digging ditches, throwing up breast-works, or the construction of masked batteries, those abominations to every Abolition Paul Pry who is so unlucky as to stumble upon them.

For the Carolina Flag.

FORT JOHNSTON, Sept. 7, 1861.

MR. EDITOR: Permit me through the medium of your paper to acknowledge the receipt of a nice lot of woolen socks, comforts, &c., from our esteemed friend, Mrs. John McDonald, of Concord, for the sick in the Hospital at this place. Any favors of the same kind will be thankfully received, from any of the ladies of the patriotic old county of Cabarrus.

I have the pleasure of saying that our regiment is in good health (generally speaking) and ready for any emergency that presents itself.

Respectfully your obt. serv't.
Richard S. Harris.
R. Qr. Master.

From the Potomac.

The Richmond Examiner of Monday last furnishes the following highly gratifying items of news:

Before many hours have elapsed, the Potomac will be effectually closed by powerful batteries, and the water avenue to Washington put under strict blockade. The reason for not doing this at an earlier period was simply that we had no available force sufficient to protect our works, which would be likely to encounter such a formidable movement on the part of the enemy to destroy. The Potomac has been shut up, and a force is there, ample to defend our batteries and defy all comers. The river is no longer navigable to Lincoln's craft. Those that try it hereafter are apt to be sunk and have their crew and passengers dispatched to "Davy Jones' Locker."

Gen. A. Sydney Johnston has, as we anticipated several days since, been assigned to the department of the West, and put in immediate command of the operations now in progress on the upper Mississippi. A better selection for so important a command could not have been made.

The Mobile Tribune, of the 2nd inst., says that while men were employed in getting the dry dock ready to be raised, they were fired on from Fort Pickens, first a blank, then a solid shot, and then with a shell. The last came near doing some damage, and the men accordingly left speedily. The Tribune indignantly demands—"is not this an outrageous act of war?"

News from Missouri.

The news which we have received from Missouri indicates some bloody work there soon. Gen. Pillow with a force of 13,000 has advanced as far as Boston. Gen. Jeff. Thompson with 300 men, is stationed between Canton and Commerce, and has erected two masked batteries, commanding the Mississippi above Cairo. Gen. McCulloch's forces, 17,000, and Hardee's, 8,000 are slowly advancing to form a junction with Gens. Pillow and Thompson. The Confederates now in Missouri, is about 50,000, and is rapidly reinforcing. The strength of Gen. Jackson and Gen. Price, and their whereabouts, is not generally known.

Gen. McCulloch.—The Salisbury (N. C.) Banner, of the 3d, says:

An article has been going the rounds that Ben. McCulloch is a native of Tennessee. This is an error. He is a native of Halifax county, North Carolina. It has not been many years since Maj. (now General) McCulloch paid a visit to his relatives in this State, living in and near Weldon.

We have been requested by Senator John W. Thomas, to state that he has been honorably acquitted by a unanimous vote of the Senate of the charges preferred against him.—Raleigh Register.

DEAD.—Wm. H. Jordan, Co. E., 2nd Regiment N. C. Volunteers, died yesterday and his remains were sent on home by the cars this morning.—Portsmouth Transcript.

The stock of salt now on hand in New Orleans is sufficient to cure eight millions of hogs. What's the use of any more?

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,

CABARRUS COUNTY.
Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions,
July Term, A. D., 1861.

G. L. Moody, vs. William J. Aiken, and E. C. McCulloch.

Attachment levied on two tracts of land, the property of Defendant, Wm. A. Aiken and E. C. McCulloch, lying in Cabarrus County one tract of about 400 Acres on Caldwell and Adams' Creek, adjoining W. S. Pharr, R. M. McEachern, J. S. Black and others, and the other tract of about 6 acres adjoining R. H. Morrison, D. A. Penick and others.

It appearing to the satisfaction of the Court, that William A. Aiken and E. C. McCulloch, the Defendants in this case, are not inhabitants of this State: It is ordered by the Court, that publication be made for 6 weeks in the Carolina Flag, a newspaper published in Concord, N. C., notifying the said Wm. A. Aiken and E. C. McCulloch to be and appear at the next Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions, to be held for the County of Cabarrus, at the Court House in Concord, on the 3d Monday in October next, then and there to stand to and abide the judgment of the Court, or judgment will be taken against them pro confesso, and the property levied on sold for plaintiff's use. In witness whereof I, Nelson Slough, Clerk of the Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions for Cabarrus County, have hereunto set my hand and seal, this 3d Monday in July, A. D., 1861.
