SKETCH OF THE NOMINEES. Gen. Clinton B. Fiske was born at Griggs ville, N. Y., on the 8th of D. cember, 1828. He is therefore approaching his 61st year. Gen. Fisk's early days were spent mostly in Michi gan, where his father removed in 1830. He felt the grim hand of poverty in his boyhood days, out has struggled up to the af fluence and eminence by dint of perseverence and ability. At the age of 22 he was married to Miss Jeannette A. Crippen, of Albion, Mich. He entered into business partnership with her father, a leading banker Robert Reidy and Boyd Guinter, aged re of that region. From this period General Fisk's prosperity and reputation grew rapidly. He became recognized as a success ful business man of integrity. He was an abolitionist, and he became a prohibitionist only when he found it impossible to obtain prohibition through the Republican party While a Republican he trained with their greatest leaders, was a friend of Grant, Lincoln and Blaine, and held important trusts under that party. He served four years in the Union army and was commissioned major-general by brevet for meritorious services. He has been distinguished because of his friendship to the negro, and the Fisk University at Nashville, Tenn., is a monument to his philanthrophy. His first vote for the Prohibition party was cast in | to be called. Col. H. C. Whitney, her hus-1884. He was educated at Bethany College, West Virg.nia, and graduated in 1855, and he became a minister of the Christian Disciples' Church, and he is a distinguished preacher of his church in Kansas City, Missouri. In 1884 he was the Prohibition candidate for Governor of Missouri against Gen. Marmaduke. He was formerly a Democrat. During the war he was a Confederate chaplain. He has been the supreme ruler of the Ancient United Order of Workingmen. He is a fine speaker and a gentleman of handsome presence.

THE PLATFORM. "The Prohibition party, in national convention assembled, acknowledging Almighty God as the source of all power in government, do hereby declare:
"First, That the manufacture, importation, exportation, transportation and sale of alcoholic beverages shall be made public crimes and punished as such. "Second, That such prohibition must be secured through amendments of our national and state constitutions, enforced by adequate laws, adequately supported by administrative authority, and to this end the organization of the Prohibition party is imperatively demanded in state and nation. "Third, That any form of license, taxation or regulation of the liquor traffic is contrary to good government; that any party which supports, or by regulation, liceuse o tax enters into an alliance with such traffic becomes the actual foe of the State's welfare and that we arraign the Republican and Democratic parties for their persistent attitude in favor of the license iniquity, whereby they oppose the demand of the people for prohibition, and through open complicity

"Fourth, For the immediate abolition of the internal revenue system, whereby our national government is deriving support from our greatest national vice. 'Fifth, That an adequate public revenue being necessary, it may properly be raised by import duties and by an equitable assess-ment upon the property and legitimate business of the country, but import duties should be so reduced that no surplus shall Eleventh, That our immigration laws should be so enforced as to prevent the in-trollection into our country of all convicts, inmates of dependent institutions, and of others physically incapacitated for self-support, and that no person should have the ballot in any state who is not a citizen of the United States. Recognizing and declaring that prohibition of the I quor traffic has be come the dominant issue in national politics we invite to full party fellowship all those who on this one dominant issue are with us agreed, in the full belief that this party can and will remove sectional differences, pro-mote national unity and insure the best welfare of our native land."

CIRCUS TRAIN WRECKED.

Miller & Freeman Meet With Another Smashup-Seven Men Hurt.

The partial wrecking of a circus train at the East Long Meadow station of the New York and New England road, five miles south of Springfield, Mass., has occasioned considerable excitement in said region. The following are the names of the circus men injured:-JACOB MYERS, Troy, Ohio. JAMES A. JACKSON (colored), Sharon-ville, Ohio. CHARLES CRIM, Little Galls, N. Y. EDWARD LOCKSLEY, Springfield, Mass, The Miller & Freeman company left Springfield for Hartford about midnight on Saturday. The train contained the usual number of wild animals, on some twentyfive cars, and 180 people. While passing a switch close by the station at a moderate rate of speed and most of the company being asleep, three cars in the centre of the train left the track, tipped down a bank and into

One of the cars had in it a tank of gasoline and was, of course, quickly burned, as was one of the other cars, the latters loaded with tent poles. The third car was smashed into bits, as were three wagons.

James A. Jackson, a negro, who lay on one of the cars under a wagon, was thrown into the mud, part of the wagon falling on top of him. His cries for help during the half hour which it took to extricate him were heartrending. He received internal injuries and was taken into the depot, were he lay with three others, Jacob Myers, Charles Crim and E. Locksley, a Frenchman, who joined the company at Springfield, a few hours before, They were taken to the Hart-ford City Hospital during the forenoon, Richard Ormond, Harry Kurnes and John Mingue were also slightly hurt. A wrecking train from Hartford cleared the track of almost every sign of the accident early in the afternoon. Miller & Freeman were, it is said, smashed up in a railroad accident near Columbus, Ohio, five weeks ago. Then the company paid them handsomely for the damage done. It is probable that all the wounded will re-at a Lawyer. A tremendous sensation occurred in Judge Jamieson's court at Chicago, Ills. While the docket was being called Mrs. Meckie L. Whitney at once disappeared under the table. The shot was followed by four more in rapid succession, and Mrs. Rawson was seen pursuing Whitney with a Smith and Wesson 38 calibre revolver. Mrs. Rawson succeeded in emptying her revolver at Whitney before she could be captured. Two of the balls hit the lawyer, one taking effect below the groin and the other in the left leg. The wound near the right groin will probably be fatal, Judge Jamieson ot once ordered Mrs. Rawson's arrest, and she was immediately taken to jail. When the officers arrived at the jail with their prisoner, Mrs. Rawson had every appearance of being an insane woman. Her eyes were red and bloodshot and she complained of being cold and faint. As soon as the search had been completed she became more composed. It is understood that Mrs. Rawson has been in a desperate state of mind since the Appellate Court refused to grant her solicitors' fees, and said in passing upon the merits of her pending divorce suit, that the tessimony was overwhelmingly against her. It is also understood that Mrs. Rawson claims that lawyer Whitney trumped up all the testimony which went to show that she had been guilty of infidelity to her husband. This occurrence recalls the sensational shooting that occurred last winter, when Ralph Lee, a nephew of Mrs. Rawson, shot five bullets into Banker Rawson as he was eaving the third Presbyterian Church after the Sunday morning services. Rawson still has the five bullets in his body, escaping death by almost a miracle. Lee is now serving a brief jail sentence for the crime.

Annette was stricken down with measles, which finally developed into a dangenrous type of dysentary. A regular physician attended her and soon had the disease under control.

At this juncture Miss Mattie Gordon came to the vicinity lecturing on prohibition and holiness, and claiming to be a faith healer. Miss Gordon soon induced the child to leave off the doctor's medicine and adopt the faith remedy. The mother protested, but the child, encouraged by Miss Gordon, refused to take the doctor's medicine. The disease took a firm hold, and when at length the family recalled the regular physician it was too late. The unfortunate girl died. # KIDNAPPERS AT WORK.

No Trace of Little Annie Redmond, who was Stolen Over a Week

There are strong reasons to believe that here is a traffic in kidnapped children in Chicago, and that little Annie Redmond, the six-year-old daughter of John Redmond, the blacksmith, on South State street, was stolen by a professional kidnapper. She was stolen a week ago, and the police are still in the dark regarding her wherabouts.

be the abductress, cannot be found. The abduction was similar in many respects to that of little Lilly Schaefer, on July 3, 1885. S 19 was being wheeled up and down the sid-walk in front of her father's house by her brother when a woman carried her away and she has not been seen by her paren ts to this day. The police say they will not rest until they have run the kidnappers down.

CYCLONE AND FLOOD.

Life, L'mb and Property Destroyed By the Elements.

Reports of a destructive cyclone in Washington county, Ark., are coming in. The town of Evansville, a place of 500 people, was partly destroyed. The residence of Messrs. Goodrich, Wall, Denton McClure, Hoeman, Flynn, Mathewson, Ferguson and others were completely wrecked. J. R. Flynn's house, a two story structure, was blown to pieces, and the family were seriously injured. Several business houses were carried away. A partial list of the injured include Miss Luiu Flynn, dangerously hurt, Mrs. J. R. # FATAL EXPLOSION.

A Pilot Kille I and Three Men Mortally Injured.

The boiler of the steamer Fulton exploded with disastrous effect, instantly killing the pilot, Ed. Perkins, fatally-wounding Captain W. H. Riddle and Jake Landey and A. Watson, two negro deck hands, and demolishing the boat.

At the time of the explosion the Fulton was in the Gulf, off the mouth of the river, on her way to New Orleans. She was under an ordinary head of steam, and the accident cannot be accounted for by the engineer and survivors. Fortunately there were, only survivors. Fortunately there were, only seven persons on board at the time. Pilot Perkins was at the wheel and was instantly killed. Captain Riddle was struck by fragments of the wreck, while the deck hands, Landey and Watson, were solded by escaping seam. The injured men were taken to the quarantine station.

The boilers of the Fulton were examined last week by Inspector Vanaghlood who last week by Inspector Youngblood, who pronounced them in first-class condition. The steamer was built at Memphis seven years ago and was regardel as a stanch on the Subject of Omens. William Esmond, one of the wealthiest farmers of Murray county, Ga., and a man of considerable intelligence has gone perfectly crazy over witchcraft. He employs a number of hands, and has never shown a weakness except on this one subject.

He came home a few evenings ago and discovered a green stick standing against his door, which some one had left there on purpose, and before it could be removed be went into convulsions. It is said that a few marks made on the ground in front of his door, if given a peculiar turn, are sufficient to keep him from entering by the front door for two weeks. His family are in telligent, well educated people, and it is a continual source of mortification to them to see the head of the house acting in such a It is said that when he was a child, being an orphan, he was cared for by an old negress who for a long time had lived on his father's plantation and who imbued his mind so thoroughly with the superstitions of her race that he has never been able to overcome her early teachings. He is a good conversation-alist, presents a splendid appearance when discharging the duties of a host unless the conversation happens to turn on signs and omens, when he immediately evinces such an interest, becomes so nervous, talks so fast and inc herently that it is painful to witness him.
