RINSTON, N. C.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1855.

JOHN COLLINS, Warrenton, N. C., is our authorzed Agent for the American Advocate. A. G. EUBANK, Esq., Pollocksville, is our agent who will collect and receipt for us. S. M. PETTENGILL, & Co., 119 Nassau St. New York, are our authorized agents to receive subscription and advertising.

Half Sheet.

We have had an order for paper standing long enough to have been filled twice. These days of steam and electricity afford very little excuse for the detention of articles ordered from our commercial cities. Utter negligence and downright carelessness is the real cause of the non-receipt of such articles. There is, we regret, this neglect among those whose duty it is to be more punctual, but they knowing that the business passes through one or two other hands, each one seeks to throw the blame on another. We have recently had some of this sort of accommodation ourself-before this matter of our paper. If persons who transact business with such agents would discontinue, instead of receiving their palaver in apology, there would be less of such disappointment.

We are, as yet, somewhat remote from regular Steam boat and Railroad communication and are compelled to submit to such detentions occasionally. Soon, however the Railroad will "be here," when we hope they will be obviated almost entirely.

Who goes to the Fair?

Remember, the State Agricultural Fair will open on the 16th inst., and continue four days. Will not Lenoir county, one of the most fertile in soil, abundant in productions, and in a word, one of the wealthiest in proportion to size, in the State, be represented at the State Fair? We have enterprising farmers who might present many articles, the growth of their own soil which would command a premium, and they should "put in for the prize." Extensive preparations are being made. Railroad fare is reduced to "half rates." There is no excuse for non-attendance- lute and ridiculous absurdity; since a large majority that we know of.

We respectfully ask the Montgomery (Ala.) Journal what it is doing, in the very article headed which we admit were wrong. Whatever may be your intention, what are you really doing? "He that is dred millions of pounds, or FOUR THOUSAND MILLIONS ancy was regained, and prices were a shade better at This mill being your simple." not for, (if he do anything) is against." We are now of Dollars and the rise, the whole story is told; but the close. speaking of things as they are, hoping that the Editor States was less than fifty millions, we should be apt will not throw himself on his "reserved rights." If he to mislead the reader. Federal government, as all do that, we "are off."

We have no returns from the Georgia elections. We presume that the K. N's. have been deany other state in the Union. So many local and sectional questions peculiar to that state render results uncertain. The Administration party will be very small. Several, if not all their candidates for Congress repudiate Gen. Pierce's administration.

We learn from the New Berne News that the subscription by the Commissioners of New Berne to the Neuse River Navigation Company, has been decided to be constitutional, and therefore valid by the Supreme Court, all the objections being overruled. The amount was $50,000 we believe. We hope the work will now go on.

We have just seen a second Card from Gen Singletary wherein he " now also recollects " that Mr. Barringer went on to say that he (Gen. S.) had misfull next week.

The Protracted Meeting

At Wheat Swamp was continued up to last Monday, about forty persons were baptized by Rev. J. T. Walsh and Josephus Latham.

Campbell and Purcell's Debate.

This is a Debate on the Roman Catholic Religion, conducted for eight days in Cincinnati, between A. Campbell, of Virginia, and Bishop Purcell, of Ohio This is an able work, presents both sides of the question; and should be in the hands of all who desire to know what Romanism is. Mr. Campbell, as a debator, has no superior, if indeed he has an equal, in the postage, on the receipt of $1,25.

For the American Advocate. Internal Improvements.

Spring Hill, N. C. Sep. 20, 1855. Now if there are any of our readers, who still remain skeptical as to the probability of the debt of North Carolina being yet increased to an indefinit amount, we earnestly invite all such persons, to go to a good map of the State and there, where they can with little trouble to themselves, or any body else, see at a single glance all that has been done, attempta careful, calm and dispassionate view, of the whole matter, and see if by a thorough reconsideration of this interesting and important question, in your own minds, you are not at last forced to the conclusion that we are right, and that you were in error. We have no desire to hasten any one in this investigation, None whatever. On the other hand, we greatly prefer that you should take your time, patiently to investigate, carefully examine, and duly ponder and consider, every point and particular, in any way pertaining or belonging to the question in dispute. We make the process of the pr intelligent man, who, when he shall have become thoroughly acquainted with the peculiar location; schemes of the present FOUNDLING SYSTEM of this State; but will admit, that a rapidly increasing debt is the only result that is sure to flow to us from the present misresult that is sure to now to us from the present miserable system. A system that has more than once been with loathing and contempt by both parties, that well nigh ruined the State, and surely did disgrace the bringing it into existence a system. System well nigh ruined the Stave, and surely did disgrace themselves by bringing it into existence;—a system, that is more cared for, as is always the case with ILLE ctrimate, principally by strangers; citizens of other States, who have been cunning enough to take the advantage of our party feuds, quarrels, miserable sectional squabbles, parsimony and general nigardliness; and so people, and a slight show of liberality on their part, to have all their boasted works, by their peculiar location and uniless, fortunately: for the State, they should hereafter be legitimatised by some special acts of hulsome Legislatures, Carolina. We repeat, if this is not done, the many strong inducements that their peculiar situations and advantage of our party feuds, quarrels, miserable sectional have upan the Treasury or credit of the State, will be found to be too strong to be resisted. Can any one doubt this for a moment, after reading the report of the Senates Committee. from which we quoted in our last number? For our own part we doubt not but there will be a desperate effort made in the next Legislature, to pass all the bills necessary for the con-struction of all the Rail Roads and other improve-ments that get through that body last winter? How ridiculously absurd and foolish therefore does it appear, after reading the report just named, and calling to various scenese that transpired in the Senate Chamber last winter, on the subject of Internal Improvements, to have any one especially a man of sense, prating about the prudence of our people, and the timidity of our legislatures being a sufficient barrier to protect us under existing circumstances, from extravagance and bankruptcy! Exceedingly simple. At any rate, we will venture to predict, that it will require all the prudence, timidity and fortitude, that can be trumped up in the next Legislature, to resist the strong combinations that will, we repeat again, be found by the members who hail from counties that have had little or no benefits, from any of all the appropriations that have been heretofore made from the Treasury of the State, and whose constituents have been goaded into the wildest excitement by their previous defeats, and the continual increase of taxation on their depreciating property. Instead of instructing their representaives to devise ways and means to assist in bringing up the stock in our present works to par, and thereby make them paying Improvements, as they most assuredly ought to do—and agree to vote for no more appropriations to works of Internal Improvements until this desirable end is attained. We incline to the opinion that they will come to the conclusion, of the Senate's Committee, that the only way to have justice done is to increase the State debt, until we have borrowed money enough to construct Rail Roads, Plank Roads, and River Improvements, in every nook and corner of State. But perhaps there remain some stubborn enough still to question the truth of the conjectures we have made on this subject. If so, we ask them most respectfully, to point to a State in the Union, if they can, that has borrowed money and constructed one or more Rail Roads with it, that has not continued to go on from that day to the present hour. to increase her debt and extend her roads,-even if they have had to sell their bonds at considerable discount, unless it be the States that repudiated. Of course these States by that act destroyed their credit, paralized the engergies and enterprise of their people; their growth and prosperity for years to come, if not forever, and consequently have not increased their

We are aware that there are but few persons, even among the most intelligent classes in our country, that entertain a just idea of the immense amount of the aggregate debt that has been contracted by the different States of the Union and their respective corporations, for the purpose of constructing Internal Im- er indifferent about accepting present rates, and should provements of different kinds in their borders. So anything like a fair demand exist, an improvement true is this in fact, that we find many making it a matter of boast that America is almost the only government in the civilized world which is not deeply plunged in debt. So far as it relates to the United State, in its federal capacity, their boasting is well market was so unsettled, and opinions were so diverse founded; but so far as it relates to the one and thirty | that it was almost impossible to get any reliable fig-States, of which the Union is composed, it is an absoof these commonwealths are now deeply if not inextricably in debt. We hear this bit of bragadocia so frequently, that it is worth while to devote a few moments to show its folly, and open the eyes of many, f we can to take some notice of the direction in which we are drifting. In England, France, Austria, and "Georgia Canvass" (and some others) it is taking the in all other consolidated nations, there is, we observe, Chronicle and Sentinel "through" for certain things but one Exchequer to meet every want of government. There is, consequently, but one National debt. When if we should assert that the entire debt of the United are doubtlessly aware, is what is technically meant by the the term United States, and having only circuming order and dispersing law among the people at large, most of this great burden falling on the separate members of the confederater. feated in that state by a large majority. There is members of the confederacy—who have no other more instability about the Georgia vote than almost means of raising revenue, than by direct taxation, as matters now stand. To give a correct idea of the indebtedness of the natian, therefore we must include the debts of the several States. A brief sketch of which we will try and give in our next number. INVESTIGATOR.

Our New York Correspondence. New York, Sept. 22d.

The rolling seasons of the year have brought us back the autumn time. The golden autumn, as the dwellers in the fields may truly call it—but alas! the gold is dross here among the brick walls and cold hearts of the "city fall." True, there is gold, but there are dragons that guard it in Wall St. Not the gold of the evening sky, nor the golden apples on the trees, nor the bright crops of the harveet fields. Third nature there spreads her bounteous stores and a gentle angel alone keeps watch, and asks only the password "Industry." And yet home, how many there are who rush here to this vast mart to try the hoards they may never clutch. Better, far better, nature's conceived his purpose," a fact which he states "had kind angel-sentinal, than the dark keepers of the escaped his memory." We shall give the letter in mammon heaps. The heats of summer have left New York faint and languid. With the equinoctial gales, however, the city is bracing up, and new life and vigor returns to her wearied limbs. Merchants and bankers, clerks and speculators are again filling their olden haunts. Trade and occupation are crowding our thoroughfares and the bounties of Providence are filling our granaries. From every golden orchard, and every grain-crowned plain, streams of our country's wealth are flowing into this ocean of America's plenty, and from the great warehouse and countingroom down to the laborers humble dwelling. God's gifts are shedding the dew of happiness and peace over all. And yet the years of plenty may have their dark future of want. And as the world may soon come to us to replenish their empty sacks, so let us be Joseph in foresight to prepare for the death.

It seems as though the spirit seekers had evoked from the shadowy world the restless shades of a thousand O'Connells. Agitate! agitate! agitate is the rule of action of an army of theasy intellects. This comprised Instruction in French, a large section of land lying along the North River on the eastern shore of our city, extending from Trinity Church away to Greenwich village. The old Royal government gave this to the their existing church establishment, and placed it in trust in the hands of Trinity Curch, then the largest religious society in the city. Thus it has continued until it is no longer a farm, but an immense area of brick and mortar, intersected with streets and avenues, comprising the most valuable portion of New York. The agitators have discovered that there are those who can with more or less claim of justice assert their rights ed or proposed, or likely to be soon accomplished in the way of Improvement in this commonwealth, take doubt but that the trust reposed in time honored corporation refered to has been administered with benefit to the spiritual wants of this great community and State. It is constructed with eight pieces of timber, from five to eight feet long; four ieces of plank, from four to six feet long; and about 1500 pounds of iron; besides two long bed pieces, a carriage, some small wooden fixtures, pulleys, etc .-No building is necessary except a shed to protect it from storms, and no mason work is required for the machinery. The common np-and-down saw, 6 1-2 or 7 feet long is used, without sash-gate or mulley, and

This mill, being very simple, and having but few bearings, has, consequently, but little friction, and will saw as much as any other mill, with much less power, and saw smoother and straighter than any other mill in use. It is easy to be taken apart and moved to any desired location, requires no more labor to run it than any other mill, is much less liable to get out of repair, and any mechanic can repair or

One great point of superiority of this mill over any other now in use is its portability-the ease with which it can be moved from place to place-taking the few pieces of which the mill is composed to the logs, instead of hauling thousands of logs, often from long distances, to the mill. Besides, such a mill can be transferred from hand to hand, and is consequently more saleable property. When one has sawed all the lumber he wishes, he can sell his mill to go to any other location.

These mills will be sold for $1,200 to $1 400 per mill complete, they have been frequently timed by the watch and will saw fifteen feet of inch plank in one minute. All information with be given by addressing us at Kinston, Lenoir co., N. C. Kinston, September 7th, 1855.

PROSPECTUS

North Carolina Christian Advocate. THE North Carolina Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, having deternamed to issue a weakly paper, bearing the alere same, the subscribers are authorized to issue this pro-

It is intended to publish a family newspaper, which while it shall be religious in tone and semiment, and n aintain the doctrines and u-ages of the herbodist (burch, shall be devoted to all the interests of Nor h Corolina, and furnish intelligence for every class of readers. In size and appearance the new periodical is to be equal to any of our thurch papers while it will surpass them all in adaptedness to the wants of our people. The entire insufficiency of the existing "Ad. vocates" to the necessities of our position forces us to the publication of our own paper, and we confidently expect the hearty co-operation of the Members of our t hurch in all parts of the State and Conference, and hope to make the paper so interesting and instructive as to attract patronape from the public generally.

The "Advocate" will be jublished at $1.50 a year and the first number will be issued as early as practisable after the next Session of our Conference. It is believed that the publication will be commenced on the 1st of Jahuary, 1856. It is desirable that as large a subscription as possible be obtained before the conference, and the Ministers and all others interested in the enterprize, are respectfully urged to secure and forward the names and address of subscribers, particular attention being paid to correctness in writing the rames of persons, jost offices and counties. Those who may have no opportunity of subscribing, through the gency of our Ministers, may write directly to Rev

M. E. PELL, l'avetteville, N. C. The payment will be expected upon the issue of the first number. The location of the publishing office will be determined at the Session of Conference.

GAZETTEER OF NORTH CAROLINA.

THE undersigned is engaged, in conjunction with others, in the preparation of a Gazetteer of the State of North Carolina, and desiring to render the work as complete and satisfactory as possible, respectfully solicits the continuance and aid of the citizens of the State in futhering the undertaking. The miscellaneous character of the materials out of which a Gazeteer of the State must necessarily be constructed, suggests the importance of securing the co-operation of persons in every county, who may be able to furnish such minute and local information as could be obtained from no common source. Relying upon the intelligence and public spirit of our citizens, the undersigned takes this liberty to request that persons in any part of the State will at their earliest possible convenience, furnish him in detail as much information as they possess or can obtain on the following

1. The names of the Post Offices in your county and the distance and direction from the County Town; 2 The names of the rivers and creeks, giving the

and Fisheries and the principal article of export.
7. The number of Lawyers, Physicians, Merchants and other professional men. 8. The general character of the timber and the soil in different parts of the County. To those who have responded so promptly to the above request the subscriber returns his sincere thanks, and hopes that many others will communicate as much valuable information as they can collect, on all and any of the foregoing subjects of enquiry.

It is admitted on all sides, that such a work is a great desideratum in our State, and it is in conscquence of the inquiries on this subject, that the undersigned have embarked in the enterprize. The only attempted work of this kind is that of McRef, published in 1833; and since then, the counties, towns, roads, and post-offices have increased in number, and all our works of internal improvements, with small exceptions, been set on foot.

It is intended that the new map, now proposed to be published, shall contain, accurately laid down, all the natural features of the State-the inlets, harbors. sounds, lakes, rivers, creeks, mountains, &c. Also, the public improvements, and artificial divi-post-offices, cities, villages, post-roads, and canals, colleges, academies, &c., &c. The map will be ready by the summer of 1855.

Inquiries Answered. IN reply to numerous inquiries, relative to the Goldsboro' Female College, I take this method of saying to all whom it may concern. First, the buildings for school purposes are complete. Secondly, arrangements are made to secure accommodations for the young ladies, in the first families of the place, at the same price and under the same regulations as pertained in the College. Thirdly, the Faculty is efficient as heretofore, the health of the place is unsurpassed, and lastly, the school will commence on the first day

WHEREAS, it has been made apparent to the Board of Commissioners, for the town of Kinston that the Small-Pox exists in Newbern, and that its ravages are such as to cause consternation and alarm to our citizens, in consequence of the daily communi-cation which is kept up between the two places. AND WHEREAS, it becomes necessary, in order to the protection of our citizens, that some regulations should be adopted, and restrictions imposed, to intendict such communication while the disease is known to exist in Newbern. To prevent its being introduced in our midst, the following Ordinance is therefore adepted, in order to prevent, as far as possible, all communication between the two places, during the continuance of the contagion, to wit: THAT from and after the publication of this Ordin ance in the AMERICAN ADVOCATE, published in the town of Kinston, no person shall be permitted to come to our town from Newbern, or the vicinity of the infected 15 00 region.
