

THE TRIBUNE.

J. ABNER MARRELL, Editor.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 23, 1873.

BUSINESS.

To hear men, that too of those who walketh the streets of Henderson daily, say they will do anything in their power, to improve the town, is of frequent occurrence, yet how backward and awkward are the means applied, to improvement.

Here in this place are two lawyers, who with comfort, might make a living, did not many of the people of this section, get their law advice free from those who have constantly paid attention to decisions of the courts and been reading law by peace-meals for years.

We say we want drug stores in town, yet every man who can, seems disposed to keep such medicines as they can sell, thereby rendering the drug business feeble in the extreme.

THE LABOR STRESS.—One of the most unfortunate results of the financial panic is the discharge of hundreds of workmen from various large manufactories in the principal cities.

Again there is an old and valued citizen who has been in this town for thirty-five years, and to say the least, has given to this place, one thousand dollars a year, yet he says he must leave Henderson because so many merchants sell machine made harness cheaper than he can afford to make it.

THE SOUTH.—This is the title of a newspaper whose intrinsic worth, as well as the objects it strives to attain, recommend it to the liberal patronage of our Southern people.

We would prove true to our feelings, did we not give one word concerning the conduct of Capt. R. T. Fulghum, the sprightly Editor and Proprietor of the State Agricultural Journal, also Secretary of the last State Fair.

ghum, has justly won the highest esteem of many of the first men of the State, by his untiring energy in behalf of the Fair, which has done such credit to North Carolina.

It may not be fair to call the following a "fair" item, but here it is: "A State fair is a queen; an agricultural fair is a farmer's daughter; a church fair is a parson's wife; a soldiers fair is the best-looking girl he can get hold of; a charity fair is a female pauper; and the most unpopular fair is that which is furnished at cheap boarding-houses.—Chronicle.

BRIGHTER SKIES.—The financial and commercial feeling both seemed to have improved very much in this city yesterday. Money was convalescent and a little of it was seen on the streets, a little at a time, while the feeling in the produce market shows a marked improvement.

THE SOUTH.—This is the title of a newspaper whose intrinsic worth, as well as the objects it strives to attain, recommend it to the liberal patronage of our Southern people.

Mr. W. J. Woodward, formerly of Fayetteville, is the associate Editor of the paper, and in that capacity, is making a tour of the Southern States, acquainting himself with their resources, corresponding with his paper and, at the same time, soliciting subscribers to it.

We would prove true to our feelings, did we not give one word concerning the conduct of Capt. R. T. Fulghum, the sprightly Editor and Proprietor of the State Agricultural Journal, also Secretary of the last State Fair.

A Roman Catholic priest has been sent to prison for a fortnight in Prussia for publicly preaching that marriage among Protestants is mere concubinage.

Nearly two millions of salmon eggs, taken from California waters are on their way to the Atlantic seaboard, to be placed in hatching houses on the Delaware, Schuylkill, Susquehanna, and James rivers.

PETERSBURG TOBACCO MARKET.—There is but little doing the past day or two without change in prices. A fair demand exist both from exporters and the home trade at our quotations.

ATTEMPTED OUTRAGE.—We learn that a man by the name of Louis Randall, on Saturday week, attempted to outrage a Miss Howalter, residing on the north branch of the Shenandoah, about two miles from Port Republic.
