The Position of Republican and Democratic Parties.

A DIALOGUE BETWEEN A WHITE REPUBLICAN AND A COLORED CITIZEN. The following is a dialogue between a newly enfranchised freedman and a sound Radical Republican.

benefit which the Republican Congress has adopted. Q. Is it known by any other name? A. It is also known as Conservative, Copperhead and rebel.

Q. Would the Democrats make slaves of the colored people again if they could? A. It is fair to presume they would, for they have opposed their freedom by every means in their power.

Q. Why cannot colored men support the Democratic party? A. Because that party would disfranchise them, and, if possible, return them to slavery.

Q. How would it suit them to be served in the same manner? A. They would not endure it. They call themselves a superior race of beings.

Q. Do all white people belong to a party which would treat us in that way? A. They do not. There are many who have stood up nobly for our rights.

Q. Are the slave-holders and the leaders of the rebellion members of that party? A. They are and would not regard you as having any right if they were in power.

Q. What are the most prominent principles advocated by the Republican party? A. Equal rights before the law and at the ballot box for all men without regard to race or color.

Q. What has been made of the money which the colored people of the Southern States have paid as taxes? A. It has been used to establish schools for white children; to pay the expenses of making and executing laws in which the colored men have had no voice.

A. You should remember that your labor is worth just as much to the man who employs you as his money is to you.

A. Most certainly I would. Had you not rather suffer, or even starve to death, than to aid a party to re-enslave you?

A. I let me say to you further, that the Democratic party will use all means to get the colored people to put it in power again.

Let Us Reason Together. Are those reasoning or reasonable men who expect, after a war of four years' duration, which established a debt of three thousand millions of dollars...

profit by the knowledge gained by the bitter experience of those terrible years. We now know that Congress, the Supreme power in the State, will not inaugurate a new Confederate dynasty...

There has been a prevalent belief among those who have thrown impediments in the path of reconstruction, that the day is not far distant when the names of all who manifest a complimentary spirit will become a hissing and a by-word.

Every Rebel his own Register. It is hard for every one to comprehend fully the length and breadth of the enormity of the Attorney General's recent opinion on the Military Reconstruction Act.

An important case stated under this law has just been made up in Galveston, Texas, and forwarded to the President for his decision.

The facts of this important case are these: In Texas the rules and regulations for the guidance of persons desiring to register are the same, or very nearly so, as the promulgated by General Sheridan for Louisiana.

They need no money, hence they can be put off till a convenient season, while the milliner's bill must be promptly liquidated.

REICHMOND, July 1. New Wheat in Market--Large Meeting last Night--Remains of General A. P. Hill.

The following is the official reply to General Sickles' request to be relieved: WAR DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, D. C., June 21, 1867.

The following is the "nub" of a yarn which is told about a big whisky guzzling fellow who came home drunk one night and sat down by the fire to warm his feet...

What the Newspapers do for Nothing. The following should be read and pondered well by every man who takes a newspaper without paying for it.

How many professional and political reputations and fortunes have been made and sustained by the friendly, though unrequited, pen of the editor?

They have a bit of Nicholson pavement in Memphis extending two squares. It is greatly admired and brings out crowds every evening to see all the fast horses in the city try their pace on the only decent piece of pavement ever seen by the native.
