FRAULS IN SOUTH CAROLINA. Villainous Transactions in Charles ton by which a bigger Majority was Given against Mackey than There are Democrats in the City.

[By Telegraph to the Tribune.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10,-Every mail brings additional reports of open and systematic frauds and acts of violence committed by the democrats of South Carolina at the election of Tuesday last. The following letter from ex-Congressman Mackey, the republican candidate for election in the Charleston district, will be found interesting: "CHARLESTON, S. C., Nov. 7, '78.

"MY DEAR SIR: Yours of the 5th inst. received. As you anticipated, the democrate have counted me out .--That I received a majority of at least 5,000 there is no doubt; yet O'Connor is given by the election officers a mathe facts in every paper you can.

"In the first place, in the appointment of managers of elections, the democratic commissioners of elections in the several counties in this district district, so that we were compelled to is true we had a United States Supervisor appointed at each poli; and tho' the democratic managers at most of the polls admitted them juto the poll-'ug places, yet they threw every obstathe 'hey could in their way, and in no instance would they allow them to exercise any authority save to stand by and witness the voting. In some instances the authority of the supervisors was entirely ignored. In one case of the polling place, and upon his refusing to go they ordered the state constables to eject him, which they did .-This was at the Mt. Pleasant poll in this county. At the Palmetto engine house in ward three of this city, the supervisor was severely beacen by the democratic voters and driven away rom the polls. The authority of the United States Marshals was treated with utter contempt, and to save them selves from arrest by the city and state authorities they were compelled to refrain from exercising any authority.

"In this city the democratic managers of elections arbitrarily refused to at least 2,000 colored voters the right to vote. Unless a colored man was refused the right to vote unless he could bring witnesses to prove where he resided. Many were turned off under the pretext that they were not twenty-one years of age, or rather that the managers were doubtful of it.

At the last session of the Legislature the two voting precincts in St. Andrews' Parish were abolished, and the 300 colored voters of that section of the county left without a polling place .-The parish is only separated from the city by Ashley river, and used to be connected with Charleston by a bridge, which you will probably recollect was burned at the evacuation of the city by the rebels. The people crossed over to the city of Charleston for the purpose of voting, but the democratic managers would not receive their votes, though he city of Charleston was the only place where they could vote. The Leg-slature also abolished all the voting places on the state road between Charleston and Summerville, and yet when the people came to Charleston to rote the democratic managers denied them the privilege, telling them to go and vote where they lived, although they knew full well that there was no polling place where they received.

polling place where they resided.

"Notwithstanding all these outrages, the republicans carried this county by at least 4,000 msjority, but to their atter susprise, when the ballot boxes

The regular democratic ticket as well as the republican ticket was five times as large. In most instances, especially where very few democratic votes were cast the managers, after counting the ballots and ascertaining the second All advertisements will be charged a he above rates, except on special constaining the excess, returned them to leave them unfolded, and proceeded to draw out the number of ballots in excess. They were careful, however, to draw out none of these small tickets, The subscription price to THE WIL- but in every instance the large repub-MINGTON Post is $1 00 per year; lican ballots were drawn out and destroyed.

At the Mt. Plensant poll 452 Republican bailots were thus drawn out and destroyed, and this poll, where the Republicans had voted five to one against the Democrats, was made to give a Democratic majority of 326.

The most outrageous cases of ballot-box stuffing occurred at the two polls in Ward Turee of this city. At the poll known as the Palmetto Engine House, one of the managers, W. L. Daggett, the foreman of the News and Courier job printing office, stuffed 2,500 of these little tickets in the box after the poll was closed. The managers, finding that there were 3,569 ballots in the box, declined to throw out any. but counted them all, and returned the vote of that poll as 461 for Mackey and 3,108 for O'Connor. At the other poll in this ward the same act was performed, and the managers returned 121 for Mactey and 1,866 fer O'Connor, so that Custom House during the past week. one wad out of the eight in the city was made to give a majority of 4,392 votes for O'Connor. The atter impossibility of voting 3,569 persons at one poil in the space of twelve hours need hardly be argued. As the managers swore each voter separately, and in many cases consumed three or four minutes questioning some voters, it is safe to say that the average time consumed in voting each man was one minute, which would allow 720 votes to be polled, provided there was a continuous stream of voters during the twelve hours the polls were opened, Yet at jority of 7000, and perhaps it may be this poll the managers made a return more. How it has been done I shall under oath that 3,569 persons voted in tell you, and I hope you will publish the space of twelve hours. By this method Charleston city was made to give O'Connor a majority of 6,527, or a majority larger than the gotire Democratic vote of the city. "Throughout this county and the entire district the boxes were stuffed in the same way, not only in : Charleston, absolutely refused to appoint a single but in Clarendon. Not satisfied with republican manager throughout the stuffing the ballot-boxes, the Democrats, finding it impossible to stuff the ballotbox at the Washington Engine House, vote without a single election officer to in Ward Six, because of the yigilance represent us in the entire district. It of the United States Supervisor, put out the lights and stole the box and destroyed it because I had a majority of about 500 there. On Edisto Island, where 1,000 Republican voters reside, and where the Democra's have only about 40 or 50 votes, the Democratic commistioners failed to open the polls, thus actually disfranchising these

"It is useless writing any more of these disgusting details: I see no remedy for the wrongs we are compelled to submit to. The publication of them am afraid will do but little good; but the manager ordered the supervisor out still publish them far and wide, so the world may know to what crimes the respectable Democrats of South Carolina will descend. The inmates of the South Carolina penitentiary would not be guilty of the acts committed on Tuesday by the Democrats of this state. Yours truly, E. W. M. MACKEY."

Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia, Emile Zola" is one of the four great authors in France of the present day, and there he is called the cleverest of the four. His novel, "L'Assommoir," to be issued in a few days by us, has passed through fifty eight editions in Paris, and " Hclene" which is extremely interestingindeed, exciting-has passed into its thirty eighth edition., "Helene" is an extraordinary book. It is admirably written, by a truly great artist. with a powerful realism and absorbing interest, and is full of powerful scenes and life-like delineations of character. It is the great sensation in Paris at the present time, and it is impossible to deny the author's great skill, for every reader will acknowledge " Zola's " great power in " Helene," Besides the story, there are many pages devoted to rapturous descriptions of Paris at sunrise, at noonday, at sunset, and at night, "Zola" has made his pame famous, and he will find plenty of readers for all be writes. They were true ing through the country, and Rainey murdered his companion by crushing his skull with a heavy stick. The murderer, on the scaffold, confessed the crime. Five thousand colored men, womer and children crowded thestreets to ageets. around the jail yard, and when the drop fell they began wailing, shouting and praying. Rainey's neck was not broken, and after several violent convulsions he was, in thirteen minutes pronounced dead."

We inquired of Sheriff Mauning to know if he did the hanging, but he knew nothing about it. We next went to the county jani, and Daniel Howard, the jailor, had never heard of the matter before. We next saw Deputy Sheriff Jno. H. Brown, who swears that he has not sung any one within the past month, Therefore, we suppose that friend Tom was out at a temperance lecture the night before he wrote an account of the hanging.
