Bishop Simpson, of the M. E. Church of the United States preached to 8,000 people in Music Hall in Cincinnati His theme was the growth and ultimate triumph of Christianity. As he showed the decline of all other other systems and their inadequacy to the wants of man, and pictured the glorious achievements of Christianity, he so carried the sympathy of his hearers that "amens' were mingled with spontaneous ap plauses. The entire congregation joined in the singing, which was led by two cornets and accompanied by the great organ, producing a grand effect.

The Star has been all along denouncing "A Fool's Errand" written by Judge Tourgee, but now says, "We never read the book through, and relied upon what others said more than upon our own knowledge." The Edenton Clarion notices the death of Capt. Charles Gratiot Manning, the Collector of Customs at that port, aged 79. He was bred to the sea, but having been wrecked on the coast of Texas, settled there, and served in the war of the "lone star" for its independence. Returning to Edenton where he was born about 1844, he was occupied in teaching, until at the close of the war he was appointed Collector of Customs, which place he occupied at his death. He was an honest man, a taithful official, and a Christian gentleman.

The question of Vice President is looming up. Some of the Tennesseeans are pressing Horace Maynard; thirty citizens of Galveston, including Gen. E. M. Pease, have addressed a long circular "to the Republican Party throughout the United States" urging the nomination of ex-Gov. Edmund J. Davis; and the Florida State Republican Convention which sat at Gainesville on the 10th, recommended Judge Settle.

HOAR'S SPEECH ON KELLOGG Senator Hoar has make a very strong speech on the Kellogg case, it being mainly a legal argument on the res adthe political aspect of the case ss striking:-"The voice which it is sought to stiffle," said he, "is that of the last representative of loyalty from the states recently in rebellion. Other Senators from the sceding states tell of the blows they struck at their countty's life, and show the commissions they held from those who led the opposition against their country's flag." He had found the state's credit weak and left it strong; he had raised the state bonds from 25 to 75; he had found the Treasury bankrupt and left it with a surplus, and had added not ene dollar to the public dobt. His Democratic successor had sunken to repudiation. Mr. Hoar then took up the arguments by which the Democrats had sought to overthrow the doctrine of res adjudicata, and showed how revolutionary and without precedent was the section that every Fenator held All communications on businesshould his seat at the will of a party majority, and that the title to his seat could never be conclusively determined by the same. REDEMPTION OF THE TUBLIC DEBT.

[From the Washington Wo:ld.] In November last Secretary Sherman began to apply the surplus revenue to the purchase of our outstanding six per cent bonds. Of these about $18,000,000 are redeemable in December 1880 and $250,000,000 in June 1881. Since this policy was inaugurated about $50,000,-000 of six per cents. have been redeemed and cancelled, involving a saving of $3,000,000 per annum in interest. The rapid increase of the revenue during the last few weeks has enabled the Secretary to increase the rate of re demption to $10,000,000 per month. As the revenue now averages over a mi lion a day, it is probable that the bond will be redeemed still more rapidly.

Of five per cent, bonds outstanding about $505,000,000 mature in May 1881 It is doubtful whether it will pay to refund in bonds of lower interest, in view of their rapid absorption by the Treasury. Thus we see our great national bonded debt gradually fading out of sight. At the present rate of redemption about $120,000,000 per annum can seven years, then, we may expect to see all our bonds bearing high rates of interest withdrawn from the market. The Greenbackers, in their craze, are continually growling at the vast accumulation of coin in the Treasury. They would scatter it to the four winds in order to inaugurate their own partieular boom of universal bankruptcy. They are, however, no longer powerful for evil. Another class are beginning to attack the policy of holding this vast reserve to insure the public credit. A speculative commercial journal of New York hints that the money in the Treasury should all be paid out in the redemption of bonds so that capitalists finding a scarcity of government securities, shall be compelled to invest in railroad bends. enormous rate of railway construction | all surprising to see Mr. Sherman nomnow in progress, a rate far surpassing that of our most active construction years in the past. This movement is in danger of being overdone. It is bad policy to withdraw an undue proportion from the floating capital of the country for investment in real estate. This was one of the precipitating causes of our late figancial difficulty. If then our speedy extinction of the public debt is to play into the hands of a gigantic and dangerous speculation we shall feel less gratification at the result.

But, lately there seems to be a change in the Democratic mind. That party which made the Senate the judge of its had made many promises of the wonderful things they would do in the way of legislation. They were going to review the tariff laws from beginning to end. There was to be no end to relief they were going to bestow upon the inonly two instances had an attempt been dustrial interests of the country. Election laws were to be amended. Fence then there is a growing feeling that they will but own to the whole country that they have nothing to go to people with, if they simply pass the appropriation bills and avoid every one of the issues they have raised. Democratic Senators and Members are now getting letters from all parts of the country protesting against an adjournment until the tariff laws have been amended, and some effort made to redeem their cutstanding pledges of practical legislation. These letters also warn them that a hasty ad ournment would be a confession of werkness in the controlling party which would not only injure it, but it would at the same time increase the confidence of the Republicans in a correspending degree. So once more the Democrats are in a state of indecision.

NEITHER GRANN NOR BLAINE. The bolts by the Grant delegates in Pennsylvania and New York, who refuse to be bound by their instructions, and who say they will vote in convention for Blaine, together with the war of the factions in Illinois, more particularly the split in Chicago, now makes t seem almost certain that Grant will not be nominated at the coming national convention. It seems equally probable that the Grant faction will prevent Blaine from being nominated. It has been urged that Hon. E. B. Washburne would be the coming man. That idea is now hardly worth considering, for the Washburne folks by participating as seconds and bottle-bolders to the Blaine men at Chicago have roused against them the fiercest animosity of the friends of General Grant.

EHERMAN THE COMING MAN. The country has had enough of "dark horses," or third-rate men. Sherman is not only almost as strong as Grant or Blaine, but he would be acceptable to the Grant men, while Blaine never In another article we have shown the would be. Hence, it would not be at inated on the second ballot in Chicago. Indeed, as the Presidential canyass now looks, it is the most probable solution of that political problem. The Secretary's friends, all over the country are greatly elated over the increased brightness of his prospects.

SENATOR BEN HILL Is making a two days speech on the Kellogg case. It exhausts the Democratic side of the argument; and it is as sophistical as it is long. The Republicans will not consume more than two days in presenting their side of the question at issue, and will then urge the Democrats to an early vote. It is a clean case of steal, and beyond putting the Democrats on record on all the points involved there is rouse in spending much time over it.
