The Tribine Washington correspon tent says that those Republicans in Maine who voted yesterday with the Fusionists can have the satisfaction of inowing that they have given all the old rebel elements of this District a bappy and hopeful day. Men who have been in the background since they came out of the Old Capitol Prison, and men who all through the war richly deserved to be in it, were vigorously clebrating to-day. Men who rejoiced when Lincoln died, and who glorified Wikes Booth, were reeling about the wels and bar-rooms." Is there any danger that the elecval vote of Maine may be lost to General Garfield?"

"Not the slightest. I think this re salt in Maine will belp us, because it will bring the business men of the country to centemplate the possibilities the future more closely and more earnestly, and will greatly add to their stirity. I think the use of money by be coalition was largely in the cities; bat is shown by the increase of their bees. One of the young Irish orators shom I sent to Maine, Captain Patrick Farrell, of Connecticut, who spent much time in the country districts stole me several letters warning me and to count too surely on Maine.

Secretary Sherman has returned from his his western tour. He says that he had large meetings wherever he went, and Republicans everywhere feel confident. He says he is satisfied of the certainty of Garfield's election in November. He thinks the fight is a close one in Indiana, with the chances all in favor of the Republicans, and that there is no shadow of doubt of carrying Ohio in October and November. The Sectary will not leave the capital again before the election, and is at his desk again at work as composedly as ever.

Hon. Daniel L. Russell denies the report that he is going to support Hancock. It is not known, the Judge says, where the lie was started.

The North State gives the following startling state item concerning General James M. Leach:

The Beacon publishes a letter from Gen. Leach in which he gives it as his opinion that "Hancock canno' carry North Carolina or the Presidency. Gen. Leach is conceded to be a very sensitive weathercock, indicating the current of popular feeling, and the opinion which he here expresses is undoubtedly correct. The Newbernian has some curious speculations concerning the 1st, 2nd and 3d Congressional Districts. Amongother things it puts down the Second District majority at 2,806, while it is in fact nearer 10.000. And puts down Union. Russell's majority at 881, when it was 1,100 odd. It says that there is danger that Canada will carry Shackelford's own county, Onslow, and also Carteret, and that "we are forced to the conclusion thrt Col. ## THE MAINE BLECTION.

THURSDAY Sept. 16th. The election in Maine is a surprise to both parties except the machinators who put the $100,000 into the state and deliberately bought up the vote. Asit is, however, both parties are camping on the field, and awaiting the result. We shall write up the news each day until the l'ost goes to press.

DEATHS.

Marshall O. Roberts, a noted mil lionaire and Republican politician is dead, and his eminence is shown by the fact that Mr. Secretary of State Evarts, Hamilton Fish, and Peter-Cooper were among the pall bearers.

Average Loss per Thousand Under Democratic rule $5 17-Under #16 publican rule only 64 Cents. BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 .- The rerised statement of losses under the several Administrations, from George Washington to the present, has been completed and is ready for issue today. It differs from that previously prepared, in that it embraces Grant's full term and two years of Hayes's.

The most striking feature is the unique record of the present Administration from its beginning to June 30, 1879. In the receipts from all sources, including those from cuctoms internal revenue, direct tax, public lands, miscellaneous dividends, interest premiums, and receipts from loans and Treasury, notes, the present Administration did not lose a single cent. In the disbursements, the total loss was House-Republicans 82, Fusion 67, $2,676 81, of which that involved in Post Office accounts, which collects The National Republican significantly and disburses its own revenues, was $1,290 90. Not a cent was lost in war navy, pensions, and Indian disbursements; and in all other miscellaneous disbursements, including those on account of the public debt, interest premiums, and all civil expenses exclusive of the Post Office, the loss amounted to $1,383 91. The rate of loss therefore is 8 mills to the thousand dollars, As an example of the comparative business methods of Democratic and Republican administrations, it is shown that the ratio of loss prior to June 30, 1861, was $3 50 in each $1,-000; from July 1, 1861, to June 30, 1879, $1 58 in each $1,000.

The record of disbursements is even methods. Prior to the first inaugura- defeated repudiation in Arkansas, tion of Mr. Lincoln, the loss was $5. 17 in each $1,000; subsequently it has been 46 cents in each $1,000.

Concerning Gen. Hancock. Major Gould, a Paymaster in the Army, was n Hancock's headquarters when the news from Vermont arrived, and watched closely the effect of Gen. Hancock, who gravely said: "This is not as I wanted it. The campaign was managed badly on our part. If I had had my way I should have put our ablest speakers in Vermont-not that I expected that we should carry it at all, but in order to keep the Republican majority down in the remainder of the north. This is a bad showing for us in the beginning. It demonstrates that the Republicans are holding their own in the north, and that I shall make no gains from the soldiers. Their party is solid in the north." Gen. Hancock, the Major says, looks gloomy and depressed.

Gen. Albert Gallatin Lawrence of Newport, Rhode Island, who lost an arm at Fisher while on Gen. Terry's staff, and who belongs to the great family represented by William Beach Lawrence, the sage of Ochre Point, who is his father, has announced himself as a supporter of Garfield. In his patriotic letter to the Garfield and Arthur Club of Newport, he said: "If the solid south should succeed, half the blast furnaces of the country would be shut off; on every hand the effect would be felt; every mercantile venture would suffer. The pioneer breaking up the soil in the distant west would drop his plow, knowing the markets would be closed to his products, the unfinished railroads remaining as monuments of the folly-of 'change.' It is the duty of every one who worked to save the Union to continue to endeavor to preserve the Nation,' more favorable to Republican business Democratic bubble that Democrats to Asheville and spend the month of the late vote before the people, on an amendment to the state constitution. The amendment was passed through the legislature by a strictly Democratic vote, only three prominent Democrats opposing it, and was voted down by a solid Republican vote, which was cast for nothing else. The majorities were all from Republican counties.

The Massachsetts Republicans held their State Convention at Worcester on the 13th. Gov. John D. Long was renominated for Governor, Byron Weston of Dalton for Lieut. Governor, A. B. B. Gleason of Mediord for Lienbuits Charles P. Ladd of Springfield for Auditor, and Gearge Marston was renominated for Attorney General.

Paul A. Chadbourne and M. Forbes were nominated electors at large. The Convention was then addressed by Attorney General Devens in an eloquent speech.

Colonel Codman, from the Com-Littee on resolutions, reported a preamble in favor of brotherhood with the South, with compromises and concessions, but not to the sacrifice of principle; denouncing the violation of suffrage in the South; and opposing the the giving over the control of the nation-to the Democrats. The resolutions congratulated the state upon the prosperity of the country; denounced the course of the Democrats so far as they had recently exercised power; objurgated inflation and rag money; and denounced the Democratic attempt to usurp the government of Maine and the Democratic revolutionary attempt to "starve our the government," by refusing appropriations. Gen. Hawley of Connecticut then addressed the Convention, his subject being the twenty years record of the Republican party.

The Republicans of Missouri met a St. Louis on the 15th inst., and the following ticket was nominated. For Governor, Colonel D. P. Dyer of St. Louis; Lieutenant-Governor, Milo Blair of Pettis county; Secretary of State, J C. Breadwell of St. Louis; Auditor, L. A. Thomas of Montgomery county; Treasurer, W. O. Dallmeyer of Cole county; Attorney-General, H. H. Harding of Jasper county; Railroad Commissioner, Howard Barnes (colored) of Cole county; Supreme Judge, J. E. C. Carnes of Jackson county, and Register ot Lands, Adam Thies of Marion county.

The Democrats of New Hampshire have nominated Col. Frank Jones for Governor. Harry Bingham, Col. John H. George, and other old Democratic wheel-horses were in the convention.
