A SOLID NATION. It is nearly a certainty, as any future event was that depended upon circumstances not absolutely certain.

THE CALUMNY OF GARFIELD. The black-guards who have been placarding "329" around our streets have got a set back.

I can not have preference, I am necessitated to call on one of another party. I am anxious to have it published; I am anxious that the whole world, and Gen. Hancock in particular should know that there is one man, at least, in the South, an Ex-Confederate soldier at that who does not feel under obligations to Gen. Hancock or any other officers, or privates of the U. S. Army or Navy, for any part they may have taken against the unfortunate Confederate States.

Now Mr. Editor if you will publish this letter to the Post, together with the enclosed communication and also send a copy of the Post, containing the same, one to Gen. Hancock and one to myself you will greatly oblige, FRANK P. MCINTIRE

CHATTINGS. The Inter-Ocean of the 14th says: Mr. Landers was on the streets this afternoon as forlorn a looking an object as one sees in a day's travel.

Alex. McClure demands the withdrawal of English. Poor old Senator Thurman "informed an interviewer to-night that he had not lost hope notwithstanding the loss of Ohio and Indiana.

Gen. Hancock does not yet believe that Indiana has gone Republican, but says if it has it won't make any difference with November.

General Hancock says what will surprise the average mind, "I think the assumption not fully warranted yet in Indiana, but should it even turn out so the Democratic party has no cause for discouragement."

In the Indianapolis Journal on the 15th inst., a powerful sheet owned and conducted by Hon. John C. New, who is also chairman of the State Republican Committee, commented on the Indiana victory in an article as fiery in its eloquence, as is ever seen.

There is no longer any doubt in regard to the result of Tuesday's election. The Democracy have met with a Waterloo defeat. They are routed, horse, foot and dragons. A mere reduction of the Democratic majority would have been a Republican victory, but instead of this the Republicans have carried the state by a majority which is absolutely conclusive of the November election.

VICTORY! Ohio and Indiana GONE REPUBLICAN!

A DAY OF TRIUMPH. OHIO, gone Republican by 25,000 majority. INDIANA gone Republican by 5,000 majority.

OHIO is now represented by 9 Republican Members of Congress, and 11 Democratic. She has gained 5 Republicans if not more. INDIANA has gained 3 Republican Members of Congress.

THE WATERLOO. The following is the Republican state ticket which is elected. THE ELECTED STATE TICKET: Governor—Albert G. Porter of Marion.

CONGRESSIONAL DELEGATION. The Congressional delegation, thirteen in all, will stand as follows: First District—William Hellman, Republican.

It will be seen that the Republican have elected 9 out of the 13 members of Congress—a gain of three. The majority on the state ticket is between 5,000 and 7,000.

The Legislature stands, Senate 25 Rep. to 25 Dem. and House 57 Rep. and 43 Dem. 14 on joint ballot.

OHIO. The average majority on the state ticket are probably not far from 23,000 for the Republican candidates for Secretary of State and two Judges.

At Weldon on October 9th one of the largest and most enthusiastic meetings was held that has ever been seen in that place before; between five hundred and one thousand people were present.

WEST VIRGINIA. There is nothing from West Virginia beyond the merest guess work. KORNEGAY GONE OVER TO HANCOCK.

SHACKELFORD. Has taken to the woods and refuses to canvass further with CANADAY. He has lost his pluck, and several Democrats will hereafter go around with him as nurses, keeping smelling bottles to his nose.

COCK ROBIN. Who killed "Superb"? I said protection, With the Indiana election, I busted "Superb".

REGISTER! REGISTER!! Let every Republican be careful to register. See for yourself that your name is on the check list.

Political-State. Our correspondent in Caswell writes that Judge Buxton made a smooth "to-the-point" speech at Yanceyville at his visit there, showing knowledge of the affairs of the state, and capacity to govern it.

On the night of the 12th inst., Judge Watts delivered one of his most brilliant speeches to the residents of Fayetteville and surrounding country, in Cumberland county.
