TO THE REPUBLICANS OF THE THIRD DISTRICT.

The Republicans of the Third Congressional District, will please write me at Wilmington, N. C., and give me a full account of all frauds committed by the Democrats during the last election, giving names of county, precinct, and of poll holders, also names of persons prevented from voting and the reasons for it, whether or not the registers were at their post of duty before the election; in fact I want a full history of all frauds or irregularities of every description, that took place during the election on Tuesday the 21st of November 1880.

O. H. BLOCKER, Chairman District Republican Committee, at Wilmington N. C.

THE REVISION OF THE BIBLE.

The Rev. Dr. Philip Schaff, President of the Revision Committee, addressed at the lecture room of the First Presbyterian Church a large and intelligent audience, on the subject of the proposed revision of the Bible. The proposition is simply to revise the existing texts of the Bible, following that of James I. of England mainly, but availing themselves of all learning concerning the subject from any source. It is not intended to change the character of the Bible but by judicious changes of words and phrases give the real meaning of the original. To this end a committee of learned Theologians and scholars in England, America, Germany, France, and in all nations where there are Christians who believe in the Trinity, have organized in two divisions, one in Great Britain and one in America, to do this work. This great work has now been going on ten years.

The Rev. Dr. Schaff was born in Switzerland, closed his studies in Europe in 1841, and emigrated to America where he was appointed a professor in Theology. At the age of 37 he published "The Principles of Protestantism," and afterwards a "History of the Apostolic Church," "History of the Christian Church, from the birth of Christ to the reign of Constantine," "The Person of Christ, the Miracle of History," and many other works. He is now Professor in the Union Theological Seminary in New York City. Dr. Schaff's learning is marvelous, especially in sacred literature and Theology, and his fame is world-wide.

As to the observations of Dr. Schaff to the audience, they were the recounting of the translations already made and comments. The first translation made in England was in the Saxon tongue, and the next in Norman French. Then came the Caxton's, Tyndal's edition and one or two others, before King James. He showed also how words did not mean the same thing in one age as in another, citing examples. He stated that the New Testament would be printed as revised next February, printed in England by the Oxford and Cambridge University press. The American revisers have given their time and labor without compensation for eight years. Dr. Schaff issues a private circular, from which we take the liberty of copying an extract, stating how any one who desires it, can get the edition of the New Testament which appears in February. Those persons who desire to avail themselves of this advantage can follow the directions given below.

Any friend of the great undertaking who will contribute towards the expense ten dollars or more before the first of March next, will receive a memorial copy of the first University edition of the revised New Testament handsomely bound and inscribed. The money must be sent to Mr. Andrew L. Taylor, Treasurer in the Bible House New York.

The Republicans of the Third Congressional District, are requested to send in all account of frauds to Col. Blocker at this place. We hope they will be sure to do it.

Very high oil prices are found in Nova Scotia, and are bought by Americans.

AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

The President and Mrs. Hayes held a reception at the White House on New Year's the usual order: Cabinet and Diplomatic corps.

The Supreme Court. Senators, members of Congress. At 12 m. the Army and Navy. Then will follow veterans, soldiers, and citizens. Reception to close at 2 p. m.

WHITTAKER'S CASE.

It is announced that a Court Martial in the case of Cadet Whittaker has been ordered to convene at West Point on Tuesday, January 18th. Brig. Gen. Nelson A. Miles is to be President of the Court, with the following other members: Col. A. S. Morrow, 21st Infantry; Lieut. Col. J. M. Bannin, 1st Artillery; Maj. Lewis Merrill, 7th Cavalry; Maj. E. B. Lumsen, 5th Cavalry; Capt. R. Q. Frank, 1st Artillery; Capt. J. N. Craig, 10th Infantry; Capt. Merritt Barbee, 16th Infantry; Maj. A. B. Gardner, Judge Advocate of the Court.

It is understood that the President consulted Gen. Howard in regard to the Court Martial, and that he was desirous that immediate action should be taken before he entered on his duties at West Point, as he did not desire to be embarrassed by the case. Whittaker will be regularly tried under the articles of war and the rules of the army, and on charges and specifications. It is to be provided in the order creating the Court that at least a majority of the members of the Court shall not be graduates of the military academy at West Point. Also in case of acquittal, Whittaker shall be permitted to enter the next class below that in which he was, and be entitled to a fair chance of graduation.

It is said that the President and Secretary of War are both of opinion that it will be better to have the trial take place at some other place than West Point, where, as experience has demonstrated, the influences are all opposed to allowing Whittaker a fair chance to defend himself. The court martial will be ordered in a few days, and the Judge Advocate General will draw the charges and specifications for the trial of Whittaker.

RIGHTFUL RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

On Monday last a frightful accident occurred on the Air Line Railroad, which runs from Charlotte to Atlanta, Georgia. The scene of accident was about nine miles from Charlotte at Paw Creek trestle.

Two freight trains of the usual size left Charlotte yesterday morning in sections—that is, the one about fifteen minutes behind the other. On the up grade, just beyond Paw Creek trestle, 14 cars of the forward train, under Engineer Anthony, broke loose, and stopped after running only a short distance. In the rear car were the flagman, Robert Griffith, of this city, and six passengers, three of whom were colored. When the detached cars stopped, flagman Griffith jumped off, and having told the train men to inform the passengers that they had broken loose from the remainder of the train, immediately started back to signal the second section, which he knew must be only a few miles behind. He had not gone back far before he heard the engine of the approaching train whistle, and then realized the fact that he could proceed no further, because of the trestle, which is 150 yards wide and very high. He waved the flag as the engine, in charge of Engineer Wisenberry, came in sight, and the engineer expressed his recognition of it by immediately blowing "on brakes." But his train was heavy, and he was nearing the bottom of one of the big grade on the road, hence it was impossible to stop. As soon as he saw this, and before crossing the trestle, he reversed his engine, and continued to blow "on brakes." He left his seat, and standing in front of the fire-box, with his hand on the lever, awaited the shock. It came, and he was partially knocked down by a stick of wood from the tender, but was otherwise unhurt, though almost entirely shut in by the mass of debris which was thrown against the engine. His life was probably saved by the fact that the rear of the tender was thrown to one side, thus diverting the full momentum of the train from the engine to the side of the cut, against which the shattered cars were piled in an inextricable mass.

There were six passengers besides the flagman. The train which ran into them had caught up with them at a wood station a few miles back, and hence when its coming was announced no one felt apprehensive. A flagman had been sent back as an additional precaution, and hence no attention was paid to the approaching train. It was upon them before they knew it. Mr. Griffith remembers that he and Mr. Philip A. Whittaker started to get out, but before he had passed the middle of the car he was knocked down. He managed, with the assistance of a colored man, to extricate himself by lifting the whole top of the car off. The other passengers, Philip S. Whittaker, of this city; Charles Sellers, whose parents live in Pinhook, and a negro named Ned Strong, were killed. The cars telescoped each other and were piled in the greatest confusion. They caught fire, and the remnants of two cars, including that in which Griffith passenger, were destroyed. At least one of the passengers was burned alive, as his cries were heard. The charred body was removed after several hours, but could not be recognized. The hands, feet, and hands were entirely burned off.

Wood from the Fayetteville Engine what was an unexpectedly bold, legal decision of Judge Bennett at the federal Court in regard to the penalty of making all our railroads into the infernal 5 foot gauge.

Judge Bennett recently charged the Grand Jury at Statesville (Iredell County) that it is an indictable offense to change the gauge of a railroad to a greater width than four feet eight and one half inches. The penalty is a fine of $50 per mile for each day during which the illegal gauge remains, as well as imprisonment of the guilty parties. This charge looks to the direction of W. J. Best and his associates, who not long since changed the gauge of the W. N. C. Railroad from four feet eight and one half inches to five feet.

The Richmond Whig, the ablest of the liberal papers of Virginia, says bluntly and truly, in the teeth of the whole family of Southern "damphools":

Senator Pugh of Alabama, advances to the political front, and in his new capacity makes bold to assert that the South is, and should remain, solid in support of Northern Democracy. He claims this to be the only hope of the South. We suggest that if the South had not tied itself so fast to Northern Democracy and leaned so much upon that broken reed before 1860, we would have had less "blood letting" in the late little unpleasantness between the North and the South.

According to the State Returning Board, Treasurer Worth leads Jarvis 1334, and is the highest on the state ticket. The next highest is Scarborough, who falls 271 below Worth. The next is Roberts, who falls 333 below Worth. Kean is next, falling 336 below Worth. Next is Robinson, who falls 451 below Worth, and the last is Saunders, who falls 489 below Worth—and then the leader of the ticket falling 1334! Hancock leads Jarvis 3,351 votes. The two candidates for Superior Court Judges, Bennett and Gilmer, being sort of illegitimate appendages to the state ticket, both walked up into the big majority, getting respectively 15,415, and 13,407 majorities.

The candidates for Senator from Minnesota had been S. J. L. McMillan, the present Senator, ex-Gov. C. K. Davis and Gen. John B. Sanborn, all of St. Paul. McMillan would have had an easy walk-over if the friends of Alex. Ramsey, the present Secretary of War and ex-Governor and Senator, had not announced him. It came like a bomb-shell upon the aspirants and now all is confusion, Ramsey rather leading and possibly, looking to a re-election.

The following are significant figures: Seventeen counties in Alabama show a white increase of 18.20 per cent., and a negro increase of 27.69 per cent. The white increase in South Carolina is 35 per cent., while the negro increase is 45.50 per cent. In 25 counties in North Carolina, embracing the heart of the cotton, tobacco and manufacturing region, the whites increase at the rate of 25 per cent., while that of the negro is 35.70.

Hostilities are imminent between Turkey, Greece and Albania. Serious trouble in Transval.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 30.—An imperial decree is published, reducing the import duty on salt, increasing that on foreign goods, imposing a tax on trade goods, and doubling the storage dues on merchandise deposited in the Government warehouses. The decree will take effect Jan. 13.

A telegram from Panama says there are now 17,000 Chilians at Pisco, and 15,000 more are expected. An advance will be made on their arrival. The Chilians are plundering estates and towns wherever they go. No resistance is offered; but this, the Peruvians say, does not prevent outrages on the part of these vandals.

Representative William P. Fry has written to friends in Maine that he is not ashamed to confess that he greatly desires to be elected to the United States Senate, but that he will not neglect his duties in Congress to go home and electioneer for the place when the Legislature meets. "It may lose me the Senate," he says, "but even if it does, I shall still have the satisfaction of knowing that I have not neglected pressing public duties merely to advance my personal interests and ambitions."

Judge Settle is being pressed for the vacancy caused by the promotion of Judge Woods to the Supreme Court. The Judge has numerous admirers and devoted friends in this state who would be gratified at his appointment to the Fifth Circuit, which consists of the states of Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas.

Yesterday, New Year Day, was very generally observed as a holiday.

Major-General Pitt Rivers, the memory of whom was honored on Tuesday last at New York, now sleeps beneath a statue of himself not unworthy of so brilliant a career. There was present at the unveiling Gen. Grant, Sherman, Gen. McPherson, as well as the two Dons from New Jersey, also ex-Senator Bingham and other distinguished gentlemen. He was killed at the battle of Chancellorsville at the age of 47, and would have been 65 if he had lived till now.

IRELAND.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—A correspondent at Dublin says: "Public interest in the state trial has considerably abated. There was little or no excitement in the neighborhood of the court, and a large number of Irish members of Parliament who attended Tuesday did so apathetically."

The barrack accommodation in the county is insufficient for the increased number of soldiers, and temporary barracks will, therefore, be fitted up at Rathkeale, county Limerick, and Ennistymon, county Clare, for detachments of infantry, each comprising two officers and fifty men. Another detachment will be sent to Loughrea, county Galway, as soon as quarters for them have been provided.

"Fresh cases of 'Boycotting' are continually reported from Ireland. A large meeting was held at Cranghwell, county Galway, last night to protest against the state prosecutions. The Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, President of the Board of Trade, has received a letter from Dublin threatening the lives of himself, Mr. Gladstone and Mr. John Bright, if they continue to oppose coercion."

WEDNESBURY, Dec. 30.—A man named Patrick Hennelly has been arrested at Tipton, charged with the murder of Lord Mounmorres, in Ireland, in September last. It is said that Hennelly's description also answers that of the man who recently shot an Irish laborer near Birmingham, it is supposed, in compliance with the order of a secret society. Hennelly is the son of a butcher at Clonbur, near the scene of the murder of Lord Mounmorres.

LONDON, Dec. 31.—A dispatch from Rome says the Vatican has sent peremptory commands to certain of the Irish episcopacy to obtain from language tending to cause belief that the Pope approves of the operations of the Land League.

The policeman who was fired upon and wounded at Holford, in the County Tipperary, is in a precarious condition. The news, discussing the coming session of Parliament, says: "A coercion bill must be passed first, and the Land bill second. We believe that when the explanations of the Ministers are heard, it will be found that no effort has been spared to make the existing laws sufficient for Ireland."

The last of the Chinese lepers in San Francisco, Cal. 14 in number, were placed on a steamer on Tuesday, Dec. 21, and sent back to China. The arrangements for the shipment were made secretly, and the other Chinamen seemed perfectly willing to allow a free departure when they finally learned of the plan.

Ex-Gov. R. K. Scott, of South Carolina, now living in Naples, Ark., recently shot and killed a young man named Dowry. Scott claimed the shooting as accidental.

SENATOR KENNAN'S SUCCESSOR.

COMPLAINTS THAT CUSTOM HOUSE PATRONAGE IS USED IN BEHALF OF W. A. WHEELER.

The followers of Senator Conkling are badly complaining that they no longer get any of the patronage of the Custom House. They say that all the recent appointments there have been of anti-Conkling men, and are mostly from St. Lawrence and the adjacent counties. Herbert E. James, a son of Congressman James, of Ogdensburg, and Frederick D. Winslow, a son of State Senator Winslow, of Watertown, are among the appointees. Thomas Lawlor, a relative of General Patrick, St. Lawrence county, is also appointed to succeed an officer recommended by District Attorney Phelps and Colonel George Bliss. The older Customs officers say that the son of Senator Winslow was appointed because his father controls one vote for the next United States Senator. He was kept on the Customs pay-roll while pursuing his studies at a law school. A few days ago he was promoted over the heads of gray haired and experienced clerks to Irish position of revenue clerk in the South district, at $2,500 a year.—N. Y. Sun.

Grant has developed a talent for after-dinner humor that surprises everybody. If he lives ten years the latent capacities that have lurked beneath his apparent stolidity and indifference will astonish the world. Grant is still a growing man.—Philadelphia Times.

There is small choice between that or nothing in the way North Carolina "sales" bonds. A New York gentleman relates that he sent a bond of $1,000, with twelve years at 6 per cent, to Raleigh to be recalled. The total sum due, principal and interest, was $1,720. He received back a five-cent bond for $150. The best bond can be sold only at 25 per cent discount.

IN TROUBLE.—Mr. D. O'Connor has recently been the victim of misplaced confidence. For months past Mr. O'Connor has been missing small sums of money from his safe, and his suspicions finally rated upon George Williams, colored, who had been in his employ for the past three years. Until recently Williams was considered thoroughly trustworthy, and his employer had much confidence in him. When Mr. O'Connor moved to his present place one of the keys to his iron safe was lost or stolen, and has since then been in the possession of Williams. A trap was set for Williams on Thursday and he walked directly in it. He was caught in the act of stealing the money and subsequently made a full confession, stating that he stole the key and since it has been in his possession abstracted about $50. Mr. O'Connor has two safes, one a combination lock, in which he kept his bills, etc. A duplicate key of the inner door of this safe was found in Williams' possession. Williams states that it was his intention to use it if he could at any time find the outer door of the safe open. He is now in jail in default of bond.
