for December. have received the December 'sunder of the Thilade'phia Musical Walt hished by Wnit Nuneviller, N. D. Chestnut street, Philadelphia. haghandsomely gotten-up periodical, Lafwith just such reading matter as able calculated to n erit the attention of those interested in the news and good of the musical world. Everythings bright, breeze, interesting and FALL AND WINTER GOODS reliable. The provements of singers, the doings of composers and the manper ip which new musical works have been received are all pleasantly related. Europe c'aimieg attention as well as America. There is a column of local triels of especial interest to Philadelphans, but the Journal is in the broadet sense cosmopolitan and will please thry body everywhere. The editorials ate alse in character and independent in tone. A capital little serial, "The Sabat Marter," giving the life story of Pergolese, the composer, is commenced milif number and will be concluded | Novelties and Shades in in theresaue for January. It was transand from the French by George D. Cor, whose translations have been highly commented by the best critics f all fections. The music in this numiet, wenty pages in all, includes "Une. Petite Fleur," "May Bells Ringing," The Magnet and the Churn," (a popas song from Gilbert and Sullivan's Talence"), "The Bhimpar zee Waltz," ind that leautiful ballad, "The Blue d satian Mountains." The very modtrate forms of the Philadelphia Musical formifire ten cents a single copy or ofe dollar a year in advance.
