SUNDAY MORNING, JULY 9, 1882.

Literary Noce. Our Continent begins its second vol sime with a change of form, and will apmear hereafter as a 32 page quarto, shape much better adapted to the magasine character of the publication and for the display of fine illustrations than was the larger page previously used, The literary contents are not diminished, for the page,s while they are reduced to one-half the former size, are doubled in number. Indeed, the amount of reading matter is rather increased, for the advertisements are now printed separately, in addition to the full 32 pages of matter. The cover is restored, and the publication now appears as a bandsome magezine, a trifle larger than the monthlies, and containing in its fifty-two numbers annually about onethird more matter than the largest of them. It looks now like what its conductors say they propose to offer the public: "An illustrated magazine on the instalment plan, with serial stories coming once a week instead of once a month, contents and illustrations to be furnished by the best available talent the country affords."- The Publishers'

Weekly, N. Y. The first number in the new form is noteworthy as containing the first instalment of Judge Tourgee's new story, "Hot Plowshares," which opens with a most interesting picture of country life in New York state thirty-five years ago. Among other prominent features are the continuation of Julian Hawthorne's "Dust;" E. C. Gardner's amusing and eccentric "House Jill Built;" a curious "Aleskan Legend,"- telling of the mummie found in that remote corner of the New World; and "The Better Soldier." in which a Union Veteran discusses the qualities of the northern and southern soldier in the civil war, in a way that shows a due appreciation of the valor of his late foes, whose prowess be however, analyzes in a novel man-

The illustrations are numerious and good, the most notable being engravings from drawings of Whistle, American English "Impressionist," illustrations by Jessie McDermott of poem, and Prof. Elliott's Alaskan sketches. The number makes a bountiful handful for ten cents.

Congressman-at-Large HON. C. C. CLARK:

The Democratic mass meeting which met at the Court house in Craven county, June 22nd 1882, by a unanimous vote recomended your name to the state convention for congressman at large. It'is with pleasure that we notify you of this action, and in behalf of said convention request this use of your name.

It was the opinion of the convention that this congressional district is entitled to the nomination, and that no one in the state has superior claims either by virtue of services rendered the party or personal qualifications, to the position to yourself.

Very truly yours, J. W. HARPER, F. M. SIMMONS, Com. BRICE IPOUH, New Berne, June 26, 1882.

Gentlemen:-Your letter of the 22nd inst., informing me of the action of the recent Democratic mass meeting of Craven county has been received.

This apontaneous endorsement of the people, among whom I was born and reared, awakens the sentiments of gratitude which I cannot adequately express. It becomes me to give a frank. candid, and manly reply.

Assuming my nomination to have publican ticket. been made-not by any means a probable event-it would be entirely the reso conspicuously meritorious. I should be in a restricted sense the representasecond district.

Important questions are now sgitating the public mind, from which issues will be sharply defined by the opposing parties; and the candidate of the Demodistrict, should to be an honest reprerentative of the district, be in full accord and sympathy with what is concedposing the district.

ould not, gentlemen, conscientious ly advocate any measure of adminitra-tive policy, which I firmly believe to be utterly subversive of the fundamental when the time comes to vote. principle of republican institutions. No legislation, the stowed purpose of which is to confer the power to govern on a minorty— and that too from considerations which meet the most scathing demunciation in the axiomatic truths of the constitution itself can ever find an advocate, or an apologist in me.

I am not an office seeker; and I might roporly add, that I would entertain the most supreme contempt for any man who would concent his opinions, or dis-guise his opinions, or compromise his opinions, from mercenary motives or from sordid and corrupt considera-

The action of the meeting you repre-cent, has afforded me the unly proper concrtunity for referring to this subopportunity for referring to this sub-ject matter, and I have promptly avail-ad my self of it. I would not decrive any-sens—especially the people of my na-

Thanking the people of Craven county whom you represent, again and again, for their continuing confidence in my personal and political integrity, I pledge myself to preserve it untarnished by always advocating and defending, in their behalf, what I believe to be right, and Yours truly, naught else. CHAS. C. CLARK.

DEAR OLD POST:-The political ball has been rolling in the county for some and is now on the verge of bursting. As the troops gather they view the broad field of battle, and from our beroes that lead the ranks, we hear the signal, all's

While going on we wish to speak closely of county affairs politi.: Cur county ticket will be made August 26th; many are our aspirants for the legislature, men full of ambitios. The race will be dedicated to brain and sinew. "The world will be better a hundred years hence," Public centiment.

For clerk of the superior court, we again. still offer our gallant old standard bearer, John T. Gregory, he is a noble structure in the good old party; his nomination is certain.

For register of deeds, we look with pride on our worthy aspirant, John H. Hannons, a young man of the colored element, a noble worker, a daring advocate of humanity, and will undoubtedly do honor to his race and his party. The two elements are binding closer, our county is in the van. Mr. Hannons will be nominated by acclamation, his election will be sure. United element sure to stand.

There will be some contending for the sheriff's office, but we will settle official quotations of the day:

The liberal movement takes well; we are pitching our tents, brightening our armor and getting ready for the war. Look out, old bourbons, we are coming.

Since the trial of the focs of free ballot and fair count, there has been a great disturbance in the Democratic family, prominent members are leaving and are joining the paramount party of the world. When the terrible unjustness of Democratic rule shall be made known to the poor, illiterate es, masssu it soon will be, she will no longer predominate over the right. But her superficial head will be overthrown, and the world will look in her corrupt face aud cry shame! shame! to the cursed cargo of wrong and infamous calamity.

The old county will assuredly give a strong majority in the next election for the upbuilding of the cause of right and principles of justice, that are alone invested in the triumphant old Republican party.

We would like to say more, but for fear that we have already trespissed, we sign yours for the party of right and equal rights before the law, liberalism, and the endorsement of Hon, James E. O'Hara fo Congress.

OLD HALIFAX.

KENANSVILLE, N.C., July 1882.

MR. EDITOR:-Please allow me space n your most worthy paper to give a statement of the political workings of the Republicans of Duplin county. must say according to the present lockout and feature of things that the Republcans of this county appear to be cemented more closely. Again I must say that they appear to be highly gratified in having the Hon. W. P. Canaday as the nominee from this congressional district, and O. H. Dockery for Congressman at large. This appears to meet the hearty approval of the united Republican party of this county. As for myself, I am a Republican and am known as such, and shall do all in my power for the election of the above named gentlemen, and the entire Re-

I must say a word concerning flon. W. P. Canaday to the many readers sult of a just consideration given to the and friends of the Post, as a Repub claims of the second district, which are lican and friend of Canaday, that if Cotton. this district and state does owe the Spirits Turpentine, honor to any one man, as a vindicator tive of the wishes and sentiments of the of their rights, it is W. P. Canaday. And for that reason I think that the people will prove to be honest at the next election, by depositing their ballots for him. Mr. Canaday has proved in every respect to be the people's cratic party, if elected from the second friend, especially the colored and poor whites, in vindicating the juror question so bravely as he did through the columns of the Post. He has also ed to be the demand of a large portion, proved to be a triend to education, by if not a majority, of the counties com- the profound arguments he has used in that respect. For these and all other good reasons he has proved to be the people's man, and we shall prove it

> Where is Canaday, and where i Dockery! Sir, I can safely ty that 'an aday is now using his pen In the goal of the nation, and also spangling it all through his columns. Friends, I cannot marshal words to give him the honor due him. As for O. H. Dockery, he with his masterly language and profound arguments, is out converting the ole as he zoes.

Mr. Editor, for fear that I may tree pass on your columns I must close, but am not half through.

We hope to elect our legislative ticket this year. I had the honor of being the nominee of my party the last campaign, for the Senate. Allow me to acreribe myself as your partner in the publican light, now and always. E.S. W. SIMMONDS.

June 29th, 1882. EDITOR POST: -Allow me epace in your paper to say a few words concerning our county; although, I am no politicianer. The Republican party seems to be very much satisfied with the nomination of W. P. Canaday for congress from the third congressional disgress from the third congressional dis-trict, and O. H. Dockery for the state Spirits Turpentine at large. Now Mr. Editor, I propose time, and as she rolls she gathers heat, to say but little upon this subject, one reason why, feeling as I do so conscious of the fact, that the ticket will carry the strength of the party. I think there is a few liberal men in this county, and that is a rare thing for Dup'ie; so every one of them that votes with us counts two. So he that is not for us, is against us. So in this campaign we must show an unbroken front, march in one solid" phalanx, and at the closing of the polls victory will be perched upon the Republican banner. This is enough for this time, and you shall hear from me Yours &c. A. J. NIXON.
