For Sheriff, STEPHEN H. MANNING.
For Register of Deeds, JOSEPH E. SAMPSON.
For County Treasurer, OWEN BUNNEY.
For Coroner, EDWARD D. HEWLETT.
For Surveyor, EMUEL D. CHERRY.
LEGISLATIVE TICKET.
For Senator,

For House of Representatives, WILLIAM H. WADDELL, EUSTICE E. GREENE.
For Constable—Wilmington Township, ROBERT SWEAT.

Col. B. B. Henderson, the secretary of the Republican congressional committee, is an anti-prohibitionist.

Mr. Nathan A. Stedman, one of the very best stump speakers, and most aggressive orators of the Cape Fear district, is in the city spending some time with his brother.

Let Them Come.
Col. Chas. E. Jones, editor of the Wilmington Observer has announced himself as an independent candidate for congress in the sixth district, and supports the platform of the liberal party.

And Still They Come.
Col. Jno. N. Staples of Greensboro, N. C., a member of Gov. Jarvis's staff, has declared in favor of the liberal party, so we are informed.

Still Another.
Mr. Chas. A. Cooke, a young lawyer of great promise, has declared in favor of the liberal party. The door is still open.

Democratic Convention.
The convention to nominate a candidate for the bourbon Democratic party will convene at Warsaw on Thursday next.

Iowa and North Carolina.
The Republican party of North Carolina is anti-prohibition, and will fight out on that line, notwithstanding the claims of the Iowa Republicans.

Anti-Prohibition.
The Republican party of Iowa is in favor of prohibition, but the Democratic party in North Carolina is the prohibition party. The Republican party in North Carolina is anti-prohibition, and won't you forget it.

JURY QUESTION.
Have the bourbon county commissioners put the names of the 8,250 poor white men in the jury box in the congressional district yet? Have they put the names of those colored men who are qualified by character and intelligence, in the jury box yet?

Hon. O. Hubbs.
We learn from our valued contemporary, the New Berns Ledger, that Congressman Hubbs was expected home on Thursday last, on a visit to his family. We suppose, to look either after his "real business" or "the putting up his house," which we hope he will find in good repair and will not need very much work.

The North State, published at Greensboro, is a splendid paper, ably edited and one of the very best printed in the state, and it ought to be prominent. We clip the following from the last issue of that paper:

We send simple number of this issue to many of our friends and ask them to aid in circulating the paper. This issue is now one of the best of the papers in the state. Our friends are enabled by news from North Carolina. Our friends are run by steam on the "job department" from out here to such any office south of Raleigh.

General John C. Gorman.

We publish the card of this gentleman, on our third page, in which he goes for Capt. Ashe in an exceedingly severe but gentlemanly manner, but one that cannot be misconstrued. We know John Gorman and were very sorry that Captain Ashe, whom we have always regarded with very high respect, allowed General Gorman to be abused in his paper in such a very unfair manner.

General Stephen H. Manning.

We are sorry that the health of this gentleman has forced him out of the city for a short time. The General has been sheriff for the past few years, and he has performed his duty with such exceeding ability and promptness and satisfaction to all classes of our people that nothing can be said against him, either officially or personally; all of our business men, both lawyers and merchants, give him the credit of being the best sheriff New Hanover county has had since the war, and we are delighted to know that he will be re-elected almost without opposition as every good, honest and faithful officer should be. We wish the General a very pleasant and beneficial trip, and return, as he will, in perfect health, ready to continue performing his duties as an officer and citizen.

Mr. Frank H. Darby and lady left yesterday at 3 o'clock, on the steamer for New York; we wish them a very pleasant trip and safe return. The health of Mrs. Darby was such that her physician ordered her north, believing that a change of climate would restore her health.

The steamship Regulator has a precious passenger, to the good people of North Carolina, on board. One who has braved the wrath of the bourbon aristocratic Democracy for the sake of the people's rights, is entitled to the love of every true patriot in North Carolina. Mr. Darby is a Democrat, he believes in the Democratic principles of the fathers, that the people shall rule, and not in the new fangled aristocratic Democracy of the present bourbon stripe. He is the son of a mechanic, who labored for the education of his children, and it would be a great source of gratification to his dead father if he could be here and see the manly and patriotic stand that his son has taken in behalf of the rights of the mechanic and laboring men of this commonwealth. He has the prayers of 140,000 voters in North Carolina for a safe return, which will be in two weeks.

Hon. Kenneth Raynor.

There is a vacancy on the Court of Claims at Washington, that many honestly believe should be given to a southern man, as we have no Representative on the Court of Claims at this time, and believing the President inclined to favorably consider the claims of a southern man, we desire to call his attention to a gentleman whose appointment would please all southerners, and particularly the southern Whigs and old Union men. Judge Raynor is one of the ablest and most distinguished men in the country. Having been a member of congress before the war, he was considered very justly the leader of the Whigs of the south. He is very popular in North Carolina, his native state, where we are looking for a very large break up in the Democratic party. The Whigs have never liked their Democratic associates, and if they are given proper recognition by the administration, through their old honored and beloved leader, they will break from the bourbons and will unite with the liberals and Republicans, and assist in placing North Carolina in line, side by side, with the Union states.

No appointment of the President could make would give such general satisfaction in the south, as the appointment to the Bench of Hon. Kenneth Raynor. And the forty thousand liberal independent in North Carolina will, to a man, endorse this paragraph.

Thomas J. Jarvis, who by fraud and corruption signs himself Governor of North Carolina, to the disgrace of the state, made a speech in the bourbon Democratic convention, at which time with a great flourish of trumpets, the check of a government note and the sign of a Coaling, he declared that he would meet and discuss the political issues now agitating the public mind, with any Republican or liberal of the state. And with the usual brigadoise style of Tom Jarvis he repeated it, as if he desired to convince his hearers that no Republican or liberal Democrat would dare to tackle the bourbon Governor, and that he considered himself self-coronated as had the starch taken out of him when Hon. James H. Harris, one of the ablest and best stump orators in the south, and a colored man at that, sent him (Jarvis) a note last week, accepting the challenge; but poor

Jarvis turned pale and could not speak he was so frightened—this was more than he had bargained for. He only meant to be loud and make his bourbon audience believe he (Jarvis) was a great man, but Jim Harris got hold of his declaration, challenging any Republican or liberal in the state, and took him at his word and offered to meet him, but the poor fool would not reply. His friends went to his rescue and the cry that Harris was only a negro. We suppose, from their own brains that no negro was the equal to the great bourbon orators, that being the case, this was the time beyond all others to have shown it.

If Jarvis refuses to meet Harris because he was a negro, then we have another offer to meet him. The Young will meet him on every stump that he (Jarvis) will attend, and if he don't make him take the words inside of three weeks, we will agree to pay Jarvis's poker bill's the balance of the summer. What say you, Captain Ashe, you seem to be running poor Jarvis, to this offer.

Hon. C. C. Clark.

What a tremendous amount of wrath the bourbon bulldozers are hurling at this gentleman. Only four weeks ago Hon. C. C. Clark was the pet of the eastern Democracy. He was spoken of in the most complimentary terms by the bourbon press. No language was strong enough to compliment him. He was, in their estimation, the best, the ablest and the strongest lawyer, politician and citizen in all this eastern country. But he had the manhood and honesty to write a letter candidly expressing his honest convictions on a measure that was being freely discussed by the press and people of the state, and those sentiments were against the views of the bourbon bulldozers and ring masters of the Democratic party. That was sufficient; now he is, according to the Democratic bourbon press, a nobody. He never had any influence; he never amounted to anything anyway. And no language is strong enough to abuse and belittle him with. The Democrats of North Carolina are made up of a strange set of fellows.

A few weeks ago Frank H. Darby, of this city, like C. C. Clark, was a very excellent fellow, was made Democratic committee, but now "he is no better," (according to the views freely expressed by the bar-room loafers of the bourbon party) "than a d-d negro." But such men as Hon. Chas. C. Clark, and Major George Latham of Newbern; Hous. Thomas Respass, and T. N. Satterwaite, of Washington; Frank H. Darby and E. H. King, of Wilmington; W. H. Day, of Weldon; Chas. C. Cook, of Warrenton; Ed. P. Powers and J. C. Troy, of Fayetteville; Hous. John N. Staples, D. F. Caldwell and Dr. R. E. Gregory, of Greensboro; Maj. Chas. Price and J. J. Stewart, of Salisbury; Col. George N. Folk, of Lenoir; L. F. Churchill, of Rutherford; J. H. Haliburton, W. B. McDowell and S. M. McDowell, of Morganton; Hon. W. M. Cooke and Nat. Atkinson, of Asheville; C. G. Bally, of Yadkin county; Thos. P. Deveraux, John Spellman, Jas. A. Temple and J. H. Renfrow, of Raleigh cannot be bulldozed! They were leaders in the Democratic party and stood by it until they could not do so any longer as honest, conscientious gentlemen, and to day they are battling for the rights of the people; and they say while they are Democrats, they are thoroughly convinced that the only way to obtain what the people want, the right to govern themselves, is to go, heart and soul, into the liberal movement: The color line will no longer frighten these brave men, whose names we publish above, nor their associates. This liberal party acknowledges that the colored men of North Carolina are entitled to the same rights and privileges under the law that other citizens enjoy, and they will fight it out on that line, "for a free ballot, a fair count," local self-government and equal rights before the law.

The list we publish above contains some of the ablest lawyers in the state, and some of the most successful business men. They are all leading citizens of high standing whose characters cannot be impeached, and they are backed by forty thousand liberal Democrats who have never voted any other than a Democratic ticket, and the number is being added to every day. If the Democratic papers will continue their abuse of these gentlemen the number will be doubled.

Democratic Papers.
The following Democratic papers are out against the present county government system, and most of them supporting the liberal ticket, and in favor of the tariff: Observer, Charlotte, N. C.; Enterprise, Laurinburg, N. C.; Argus, Pittsboro, N. C.; Blade, Morganton, N. C.; Recorder, Salisbury, N. C.; New Journal, Newbern, N. C.; San Concord, N. C.; Commercial, Newbern, N. C.; State Journal, Raleigh, N. C. And they are still coming.

READ EVERY WORD.

An Important Matter for Tax-Payers.
From Raleigh News-Observer's Report of Judge Merrimon's Speech.
Republished in the Wilmington Star, and we reiterate that it is very important to tax-payers.

He referred to the great debt, amounting now to over $20,000,000, which the Republican Legislature had in 1868-'69 created by issuing bonds. This debt was so fraudulent that these very Radical legislators were forced by public opinion to repudiate it themselves before they went out of power. Now the bondholders have secured legislation at the north enabling them to bring suits in the name of their states against other states purporting to issue bonds, like those of fraudulent special tax bonds, and such a suit has been argued in the Supreme Court of the United States. It is proposed, if the Federal Court will take jurisdiction, to bring suit against our people. The object of this suit will be to recover from us more than $20,000,000. Now, what are the people going to do about it? Standing in the shadow of their danger, are they going to put back into power the very men who issued these fraudulent bonds? It is a serious question. It addresses itself to every taxpayer and to every citizen.

We ask our readers to read the above from the fact that this man Merrimon was the legal adviser and personal friend and counsel of the set of men who log-rolled with the Republicans and Democrats to get the bonds referred to by him, through the General Assembly. Thos. J. Jarvis voted for the said bill; all the leading Democrats in the Legislature voted for it, and the bonds were issued to Democratic Presidents. Now if Mr. Merrimon can make any capital out of this he is welcome to all of it.

CITY ITEMS.

News is like fish this week, very scarce.

New moon yesterday morning at 47 minutes past 1 o'clock.

To those of business. Send in your advertisements early Saturday mornings.

Messrs. Jackson & Bell are doing a large business in the way of fine printing.

The market was well supplied with watermelons yesterday afternoon, but very dear.

We are informed that our people of the Black River section, had a fine sea of rain Thursday p. m.

Dusters are in season just now, but we had about a half dozen water melons it would look more like it.

We call attention to the advertisement, concerning the statement of the First National Bank, in this issue.

We feel the change since the glorious season of rain, which we were blissed with on last Thursday night. Good for the farmer's.

Be in style and live happy, just give us your name and $2.00, you will get the POST for 12 months. Money received in advance.

We are asked to state that Dr. John T. Schonwald, Jr., was the physician who attended at the misfortune which occurred on the excursion of the 12th, last.

If some of our clothing dealers would get up some coats for this hot weather with ice cream trimmings and cold soda water linings we would endeavor to purchase.

CRAPON & PICKET.—These gentlemen offer for sale all kinds of the very best first-class groceries that can be found in this city. Give them a call and examine their endless variety, and satisfy yourself.

Some thief tried to break into the residence of Mr. Henry Brewington, who was absent last Thursday night, but he says that his wife is thoroughly aroused, and if the fellow succeeds he will be shot certainly.

We are requested to ask the pretty fellows who air themselves on the Parcell house piazzas to please desist from the use of tobacco, or if they will not do that please carry along a spittoon. The ladies, mind you, are interested in this matter.

We notice numerous flocks of geese in our streets, and we are glad of it. They are good scavengers; but we notice a's many of them with broken wings. What does that mean? Simply that our bad boys have been guilty of bad deeds, and that our policemen are not sufficiently careful. Where a policeman sees a boy throwing rocks in the streets he should stop him, even if he is not throwing at anything; and especially should he not only stop him, but he should arrest him, where he sees him attempting to do injury to property.

Mr. C. H. Moore, our general agent, will leave here Monday, stopping over at Goldsboro, Wilson, Tarboro and other points along the Wilmington & Weldon railroad line in the interest of the Post. He will call upon those indebted to the paper, and we hope that every such one will respond promptly with the obligated amount.

Next day after to-morrow the Sumter Light Infantry will pass through our city en route for Smithville where they will go into summer camp for a few weeks as is their general custom. They are a fine company of clever gentlemen, and we almost look upon them as fellow-citizens. A happy time we wish them.

Quite an affecting scene happened Wednesday afternoon on our streets. An unfortunate dunstard, a woman (God save the mark!) was carried to the lock-up through our most public highways in a state of beastly intoxication with a policeman under each arm, and her little innocent offspring, a girl about 5 years old, following along in anguish and in tears.—Oh!

He who extends one day of life to a human soul, may add an eternity of joy to an undying spirit. In this train of thought we are thinking of the chivalrous action of Captain John Harper, of the steamer Passport, in so gallantly rescuing the drowning children on the excursion of Wednesday last. A thousand words could express no more than this. Captain Harper you are a hero.

Mr. J. W. Taylor has inaugurated a novelty in the saw mill business. He has purchased the old "Davenport," a floating machine, and proposes, with adaptable machinery to operate her along the river, sawing up valuable woods, and opening up a new kind of trade. We are delighted to note this, and while hoisting Mr. Taylor as the pioneer, we hope but is only a forerunner of a large business in that direction.

On Wednesday night at 8 1/2 o'clock, a large number gathered at the St. Luke Methodist church to witness the Brown-Waddell marriage ceremony, the pastor in charge officiating. The contracting parties are residents of the city and enjoy the warm friendship of a large circle of friends, who wish them much joy and happiness on entering their new sphere of life. May they live long and be prosperous.

The Star has lately had much to say about proper names. We would like to know from the lofty Star, or from any other humbler source, if there be any standard for proper names? If there be any rule for spelling them? We can ask more questions on this hand if we at present desired, but we withhold all the twinkling Starlight is turned on, and it becomes the mournful duty of a stray gal a way from home to follow the sorrowing procession to a King's burying.

THE LITTLE ONE THAT DROWNED.—We drop a tear of earnest feeling for our unfortunate friends, Samuel and Solomon Bear. We know how the stricken heart feels in distress, and had we a balm to apply we would hasten to heal. Empty words are all we can extend, but we feel them, and we extend them most heartily. Their boys were promising boys—we knew them, and we admired them. We would make a full report, and more extended notice were we a daily, but as sad news has gone already from home to home, from hamlet to hamlet, before we get to press, we can only bow in reverential kindness, wishing peace to the souls of the children, and consolation to the hearts of their homes.

The stockholders of the Clinton & Point Caswell railroad, will meet in the City Hall on Tuesday the 18th, for the purpose of effecting an organization. If we had three hats and three chairs, we'd just "commote" the atmosphere with them. Hurrah! not for the railroad itself, but hurrah for the railroad and for the enterprise of Wilmington too! Hip! hip!—Enterprise, energy, and labor will flourish in its bosom, and be happy!

Mr. E. C. Taylor, superintendent of the National Cemetery, has received a leave of absence for thirty days, and proposes to enjoy it among the Western hills, and highlands of Minnesota. We are pleased to note this, for we really have felt anxious about our good friend Taylor, and we were glad that he received a furlough instead of an exchange. No man of his age to our knowledge has more true, warm friends in this city than E. C. Taylor. We don't wish to puff him beyond his merits, but we do wish to let him and the public know that he is worthily beloved. A merry trip and a profitable one we wish him.

Chickens and eggs are coming in plentifully.

A little more rain would be gratefully received.

We lose about thirty-five minutes of day-light this month.

Good reports comes to us of the crops generally in this section.

About the middle of the past week was extremely warm, but we are glad to think it is most over.

TIME IS MONEY.—To all who have not paid up their subscription, will save us time by so doing. Remember time is money.

We are informed by Mr. Charley Pridden, who was just from his farm on Black river, on Tuesday, that the crops are beautiful.

Why is fruit so high in our market? We love fruit, but we really can't induce our pocket and our appetite to come to terms just yet.

An excursion party from the line of the W. C. & A. railroad, was in our city Wednesday and took the advantage of a pleasant ride to the Sea side on the steamer Passport.

We learn that Mr. A. J. Dinkins, a compositor, who was employed in the Messenger office at Goldsboro last year, will hold the same position again on or about September 1st.

An unfortunate colored man had "a fit" and fell on the corner of Water and Dock streets Monday evening. He was properly cared for and we hope will not suffer the like again.

A large excursion from Goldsboro and thereabouts is expected here about August the 1st. Come along—and when you do come, we will raise the hymn, "Oh then we'll be joyful! joyful! joyful!"

There seems to be much complaint against certain city officers in refusing to grant or allow competent security in cases of arrests. The matter had better be looked into by the proper authorities and the proper remedies applied—Look sharp.

A FAITHFUL OFFICER.—Stacey VanAmeyre has not left his office nor been away from his official duties three days in all the space of four years. Can any county in North Carolina show up such faithful attention to official duty? Bestow honor where it belongs!

James C. McRae of Fayetteville, has been appointed by Governor Jarvis, Judge of the Fourth District to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of R. T. Bennett. Indeed, Jimmie, we wish you well; but make good use of your time our quondam friend for your day's are few and full of trouble and trials.

STRANGE FEARS.—As we were walking down Water street Monday morning we were amused at the antics of a young horse which boldly walked into the house and nosed around as if he were seeking for something to drink. Quite a stir was aroused for the moment to drive him out, and he finally strode away happy in the fact that he was "pony-beer."

A MAN SHOT TO DEATH.—An old colored man named Titus Davis, aged about 72 years, was shot and killed Friday morning about 3 o'clock by another colored man named Andrew J. Walker. Many rumors are afloat about the matter, and after careful searching into the affair, we find this to be the main truth. Walker had been missing chickens for some weeks, and he determined to make a look-out for the thief, and for several nights would sit up armed for the occasion watching for his man, but without success till the morning mentioned, when sitting in his kitchen with the window ajar he heard his gate open and saw a man stealthily feeling his way along by the house side through the alley. He called to him to halt, but he ran, and he repeated his call several times, and finally to stop him by calling he fired, hitting him almost instantly. We examined the body of the unfortunate dead and found his back from the neck to the spine just perfectly perforated with shot holes—(apparently the size of duck shot), and we counted 106 perforations. The body was still warm and bleeding, but life was utterly extinct. We have complained for several hours about the numerous robberies in our city and we think this calamity will be a terrible warning. Walker immediately after the shooting sought out the officers of the law and delivered himself up to them for examination.

Andrew J. Walker, (colored), who shot old man Titus Davis (colored), had a preliminary trial before His Honor Mayor Smith, at 12 o'clock on Saturday, after which he was bound over in the sum of $1000 for his appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court.

Deaths during the week—Wm U E Glaymeyer, 9 months, gastric enteritis; Louisa Johnson, 8 months, unknown; Jos L M Merrick, 33 years, consumption.

The following marriage licenses were issued during the past week: J H Brown and Caroline Waddell.

A man by the name of Morse died suddenly with heart disease, at the City Hospital last Wednesday afternoon.

In Brunswick burning up or to the just getting red hot for the campaign. There is plenty of smoke over there, and from the nightly curtaining of the canopy there seems to be plenty of fire.

We regret to learn of the death of Joseph L. M. Merrick, which occurred in the city of Philadelphia Tuesday. He was a very worthy colored citizen of this place for many years. Peace to his ashes.

DEEDS, MORTGAGES, &c.—The following deeds, mortgages, &c., were probated during the past week by the proper officer:

Deeds—Ed Kidder to E Green; N B Rankin, commissioner, to Fred Krew; F W Kercher, President and others, to George Brandt; Ed Kidder to A R Hanby. J G Bagley and wife to Flate Hall.

Mortgages—John A Holt to S H Manning.
