WILMINGTON, NORTH CAROLINA, SUNDAY, JULY 30, 1882. Greene Fading. Geo. Rose and Clark Troy should to Green have mercy shown at the Fayetteville pow-wow. Their speeche killed Green. Able efforts from able men. The contrast was plainly shown. Aid us us again gentlemen. Was there not a purpose in all of it ? Didn't you do it en purpose, gentlemen ? ANTI-BOURBON.

Poor Green.

"I am totally unprepared, gentlemen ; have had only three hours spare time since my nomination," - Col. Greene's opening at the Fayetteville neeting.

This opinion is agreed to almost nanimously. It is the verdict of the people after hearing Col. Green's speech. HARD WORKER.

Bourbon Ratification.

The most amusing thing that occurred at the Cumberland-Warsaw ratification meeting held in Fayettoville on Wednesday night, 26th inst. ; was, at the close of the meeting, a number of the admirers of Greene requested a prominent politician talk to the gentlemen from Warren. The prominent politician said it in this wise : Col. Green, you must, in your speeches hereafter, not dwell upon your aristocratic ancestors in the way you did tonight. It won't take with the farmers, mechanics and laboring men." Too late to amend. Every voter in the Cape Fear District shall know the sentiments expressed at that meeting.

LIBERAL. The Outlook.

Green's chances growing less. The Warren-Cumberland-Green ratification meeting has improved Canaday stock it is rising.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM.

Ha ! ha! So Col. Wharton J. Green is a lawyer after all. The Fayettville Examiner says : He was educated at West Point. After remaining there it with a citizen's in fact of Warren for three years he resigned his position to study law at the University of Viginia. After obt sining licanse be prac tized law for a few years. * * * he is not only a lawyer, but was educatee at the expense of his count y st West Point. That accounts for his aristocratic notions.

We are indebted to Col. W. R. Richirdson, of Baleigh, for the following rolendid report of the joint discussion of Meairs Dockery & Bennett

Col. Dockery had an appointment to dress the citizens of Moore county at Johnston te-day, July 27th. It was not expected that it would be a joint discussion between him and Col. Ben nettt, Chas. Price, Esq, being billed to speak with him at this place. Col Bennet, without notice, however, aptime, which was readily accorded him by Col. Dockery, but with the usual characteristic Bourbourn modesty, all the advantage in the discussion, had made him four distinct proposi tions that Col. Boaneit could be suited. An agreement was figally reached by the following I Lecal concessions made bim : He to lead in a speech of an hour, Col. Dockery to follow in a speech of an hour; then Benuett to have a half an hour rejoinder and Dockery to close with a quarter of an hour.

The arrangement now being satisfactory, the speaking commenced at 1 clock. Ool, B., in opening his remarks, stated that he might be compelled to twke a seat before he closed, which seemed to by an admission, that he had not fully recivered from the wtakness in his knees, from which he suffered so during his speech in Ral-

MR. GUTHRIE ACCEPTS. - Payette-ville, N. C., June 16th, 1882. F M Sorrell, Esq., secretary liberal anti-pro-hibition party. - Dear Sir; I have received yours of the 9th inst, officially informing me that at a convention of the liveral party of North Carolina which assembled in Baleigh on the 7 inst., I was unanimously nominated as a candida:e for Judge of the. Fourth Judicial District.

Appreciating, as I do, the libest son timents of patriotism expressed in the platform of the liberal party, and feel-ing as I do that the action of the convention was something more than a mere compliment to me individually, I accept the nomination. Through you I desire to express the belief as well as the hope that North Carolina is entering upon a new era of rest from bitter political strife, to be succeeded by greater activity in material prosperity, and the practice of those methoks of independent self-governmen, even in minor matters, which underlie the great structure of Ameriwholesome laws. It will be my most if entrusted with the performance of judicial function, to properly appre-bend the duties of the high position, and then to discharge them to the best of my undertaking, and if possible, with credit to myself add satisfaction Land is advancing in Value 50 to 100 udge. We were pleased to observe in the Farmer & Mechanic a very nice compliment paid to our most efficient and surassingly clever Post Master, Col. E. R. Brink. A' shot well directed say we, and all the farmers and mechanics round these parts say the same thing.

Mr. George W. Harper, who resides at the Sound, about eight miles from the city, has already realized about four hundred and twenty-five dollars from of Mr. W. A. Guthrie, owing to the ty- his sales of water melons and cantaloupes raised on two acres of ground, and all the proceeds are not yet in .--

That's pretty good farming.

We respectfully call the attention of the police to the very bad behaviour of crowd of wicked boys who daily make things fearful in the neighborhood of Market and Ninth Streets. A few arrests might serve as a good lesson to them and to their parents aiso, who should keep astricter rein on them. "A word to the wise is sufficient."

On last night, 26th, the Bourbons held their pow-wow to ratify the nomination of Col. Wharton Warrent on J Greene. The attendance was good but the meeting caused what little enthusiasm was for Greene to fall flat. R. S. Houss, Esq. made an eloquent speech W. C. Bourbons are pitcous in the extreme. Rose and Troy are men of ability and, personally, stand as high as any men in the land. They have labored for the Democratic party night and day, and Troy has spent more money for the cause in twelve years than any ten men combined in the District. they do not stand a ghost of a chance for any position-such as Congressman.

They must have felt like orating at their own funeral. Col. Greene of Cumberland and Warren made a _____, I was going to say-a speech, but I do not know what to call it. He made the most misera ble failure to make a speech that ever fell to the lot of a Fayetteville audience to listen to. Not a single idea or
