Col. W. J. Green, of Lillington, said: "As for protecting American labor and American manufacturing, I utterly repudiate and despise."

The appointment of Hon. Charles Price for this city has been changed. He will speak here on Monday night, the 16th of October.

It is conceded that Maj. Price is the finest speaker canvassing the state during the present campaign, and all who miss hearing him will long regret it.

Hon. D. L. Russell and R. H. Lyon will address the citizens of Brunswick county, on Tuesday night next. Every body and his friends should turn out and hear these distinguished gentlemen.

Let every poor man's child be educated, is the policy of W. P. Canaday. He is in favor of the national government furnishing the money to educate our poor children. Mr. Green opposes this policy, he don't want universal education.

William P. Canaday is in favor of educating the people. He wants to see every man's child thoroughly educated, and if he is elected to congress he will support a bill appropriating money to run the public schools of the state at least eight months in a year.

William P. Canaday is in favor of protecting American labor and American manufactures. He is opposed to putting our mechanics on a par with the pauper labor of Europe; and being a mechanic himself he will always labor for the elevation of his class of people.

Mr. Green says, "as for protecting American labor and American manufactures, he utterly repudiates and despises." Mechanics, do you see the difference between the two men? A vote for Canaday is a vote for the elevation of a mechanic. A vote for Green is a vote for an aristocrat, who has no sympathy for you.

W. J. Green said at Jacksonville that he voted against the Prohibition bill. We can prove by the official records that he did not vote on the question at all. The poll books show that Mr. Green did not vote for or against the bill; he dodged the question. Nor is this all; he has never cast a vote in this congressional district, so we are reliably informed. He wants to represent a people that he has voted with. At the last election he was not even a citizen of the district. At the time of his nomination he did not know twenty men in this district outside of Cumberland county. The other day in traveling from Fayetteville, where he now resides, to Lillington, some twenty-five miles, he got lost within fifteen miles of Fayetteville, so ignorant of the public roads of the neighborhood; and yet he expects to represent this district. The people want a man in Congress who is well acquainted with the people and their necessities.

HON. CHAS. PRICE.

The gentleman above named will address the people at the following times and places:

Beaufort, Carteret county, Monday, October 9th.

Sanders store, Carteret county, Tuesday, October 10th.

Sneed's Ferry, Onslow county, Wednesday, October 11th.

Richlands, Onslow county, Thursday, October 12th.

Baumerman's Bridge, Pender county, Friday, October 13th.

Smithville, Brunswick county, Saturday, October 14th.

Chadbourne's, Columbus county, Monday, October 16th.

Wilmington, at night, Monday, October 16th.

Point Caswell, Pender county, Tuesday, October 17th.

Shade Wooten's store, Columbus county, Wednesday, October 18th.

Bladenboro, Bladen county, Thursday, October 19th.

Carthage, Moore county, Friday, October 20th.

Lillington, Harnett county, Saturday, October 21st.

Sanford, Monday, October 23d.

Everybody should turn out and hear Mr. Price. He is one of the ablest speakers in North Carolina, and those who desire to be thoroughly posted should attend his appointments.

In yesterday's issue of the Star we read that the Democratic speakers in the Fifth ward meeting were interrupted by Republicans. The only interruptions we heard came from Democratic working men, who persisted in asking the speakers questions, and laughing at the claims put forth by the speakers, why working men should support the Democratic ticket.

The Star local does not mention the disgraceful conduct of one of the city policemen who, sent there to preserve order, had to be restrained by his Captain from committing a breach of the peace.

Whatever interruptions occurred were made by white working men, who had a right to ask the speaker questions. These gentlemen came over to make votes, and if unable to answer simple questions it is their fault, not the people's.

The liberals did not open their meeting until the advertised programme of the Democrats had been filled, and their speakers had left the ground.

We have inquired and can say authoritatively that there was no effort on the part of either Republican or Liberal to interfere with the meeting during its progress. After the advertised speakers had finished Mr. King was called for, and made a short, pithy speech, which was decidedly more in accord with the sentiments of the entire crowd than that of the Democrats. There was no interruption of the meeting either by Republicans or Liberals in any way whatsoever.

Cumberland County Liberal Convention.
This convention convened on the 30th of Sept. brought out the best ticket ever submitted to the good people of that county. With such men as Powers, Blocker, Lutterloh, Perry and others, the ticket will be elected by 500 majority, and ought to be; the county will then have good representatives in the Legislature and faithful county officers. With such men as Guthrie heading the ticket and with the county nominees we have no fear of the result.

Special Telegram from Coke to Kingsbury.
Dear Kingsbury, you are entitled to a position on Jarvis's staff for the faithful manner in which you are obeying orders Nos. 1 and 2. You shall have it, and then you will be called Karsel Kingsbury. Go on, my dear boy. On the 7th you shall have your Karsel's commission.

"There is literally an interregnum at Washington. Only two members of the cabinet are on hand."—Star.

Will the Star be fair and state that Gov. Jarvis and all the state officials have been absent from Raleigh ever since the campaign opened in July last, doing nothing but making political speeches.

The Democratic party have arrested the officers and employees at the penitentiary, the Insane Asylum, the Deaf and Dumb Asylum, and all the candidates for offices five per cent. Don't forget this, fellow-citizens, they pay high salaries so they assess them for campaign purposes.

No one expected Georgia to go any way but Democratic. It has been giving 100,000 majority. The majority was a man in Congress who is well acquainted with the people and their necessities.

WORKING MEN READ.

Polity, Hypocrisy, Sham.
From Friday's issue of the Star we learn that the young men's club passed a resolution to keep open a book for enrolling the names of working men out of employment for the purpose of procuring them something to do.

We presume this action of the club was stimulated by the reception the "hard fisted" gave their speakers in the Fifth Ward Wednesday night, and if the blooded y. m. d. c. think by adopting this plan they can save a vote, we can assure them they now, as they always have heretofore, underate white working men's sense.

This can be readily seen by the number of names they enroll. We venture to say that there will not appear on their book between now and election day, the name of one working man who has any self respect or character.

The letter of Mr. M. E. Robbins in another column will show working men whether they desire to help them or to catch their votes. Why do they wait until one month of election day to show their appreciation of the working men?

How many working men attend their meetings?

Why does Senator Ransom fix the value of a day's work in North Carolina at 75 cents and write to the government that labor, which everywhere else is paid $1.50 a day, for, can be had in his state for that amount?

Let every working man starve rather than be bought by such a contemptible trick. Let these white handed genies see that you are men, not beggars. This book plan is an insult to your manhood, and the working man who is lost to all sense of self-respect as to allow his name to go on it, ought to be tabooed by his fellows.

This shows their opinion of you, they think you are for sale, they have failed to intimidate you, now they want you to sell your political birth right for a mess of pottage.

Read the names of the men who called and organized that meeting and you will see what it is done for—not one mechanic among them.

Read Mr. Robbins' letter, and act like men.

Vance to Ransom.

Vance sends greeting to Ransom: I cannot get any one to tell my dirty stories; the people are tired of me, what shall I do, Matt?

Ransom to Vance—I find it the same way. I believe all the people have turned d—d fools and joined the liberal party. The fact is, Vance, Tom Jarvis and prohibition, and his corrupt administration, have killed the Democratic party.

Zeb Vance—that is so, Matt, but what shall we do?

Ransom—Obey Coke's order No. 1. Every man must commence at once; the order must be carried out, if I don't rally the people, then I can't get back to the Senate.

Vance—Well, Matt, I am an old hand at that business. I have taken the button a great many times, and if I don't win this time it will be the first time I ever lost. The people must be fooled, and I am just the Zeb to do it.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Oct. 6, '92.

EDITOR POST.—I see by a card published in the Democratic press that they propose getting employment for working men who need it. Now I desire to show that the terms on which men are to hold the employment they now have, is by voting the Democratic ticket.

I attended the Liberal meeting held in the Fifth ward, and was outspoken in expressing my opinion of the truth of the Liberal's indictment of the bourbon bosses. When I went to my work I was informed by my employer that my services were no longer required, though the fall business had just commenced, and I had plenty to do. I appeal to my fellow workingmen to stand up against this tyranny and intimidation. Every employer has in his service several colored men, but he does not discharge them. It is the working white men they are after.

GREENSBORO, Oct. 3, 1892.

The Republicans of Guilford county met in convention Saturday, September 9th, and put in nomination the following ticket:

Boots—A. S. Holton.

House—J. F. Davis, J. S. Marrow.

Treasurer—Joseph O. Casey.

Surveyor—W. S. Bowman.

Coroner—D. C. Llewellyn.

Sheriff—T. M. Safford.

No nomination was made for clerk of the court or register of deeds, as a majority of the delegates thought it inadvisable to do so, but left them open for any independent candidates to take advantage of.

Capt. J. A. McMillan.

This gentleman is one of the most faithful men Duplin county has ever produced. He has never been found wanting when his county called for any sacrifice at his hands for the good of her people. We believe if the liberals and Republicans will insist on him running for the Senate he can easily be elected. The people have perfect confidence in his integrity and ability, and we hope he will consent to run.

A Card of Thanks.

I desire in behalf of myself and the balance of the crew of the Flying Pan Shoals Light Ship, to return thanks to Captain Gabrielson, of the Revenue Cutter Colfax, for his many courtesies extended to us, and to congratulate the service upon having such a faithful, efficient and gallant commander, and hope that the service and the country may long profit by his seamanship and ability.

J. H. DOSHER,

Keeper Flying Pan Light Ship.

Lookout, for it is rumored that the negroes are going to rise. This is campaign year, and all kinds of lies must be told to scare the white people and make them unite against the negro. We are certainly surprised at Bernard for allowing such infamy published in his paper, under the circumstances that the colored people have always supported his paper. Probably a third of its circulation is among the colored people, and yet he allows them to be slandered in its columns.

Democrats in Virginia have made application to the United States Court for United States Supervisors of Elections. This shows that the law is intended to give a fair election to those in the minority. The Democratic poll holders have committed frauds on the ballot box, this has been admitted time and again by the Wilmington Star, and now the Republicans are thinking about getting United States Supervisors to protect them from frauds, the Star raises a howl. It is because the Star desires the frauds of 1890 repeated in 1892? We do not think so; but its course is likely to mislead its party friends and encourage them to again count out Republicans. We desire to call the Star's attention to the Halifax frauds, and the conviction of the criminals, and to say that should the poor men who are registrars and poll holders in this district, allow themselves to be used again as tools to commit the dirty work of Coke and his corrupt gang, they will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

We simply ask for a free vote and a fair count, equality and justice; this every fair-minded man is willing to give, including the editor and proprietor of the Star, and we ask that paper to come out now before the election, and put itself on record in favor of a fair election. Will you do it, gentlemen? We will await your answer.

SMITHVILLE, N. C., Oct. 4th 1892.

EDITOR POST.

In pursuance of a call of the Executive Committee of Bladen and Brunswick counties, delegates from each county assembled at North West, Brunswick county, Sept. 30th 1892, for the purpose of electing a nominee for the Republican party to represent the district for the next two years in the Senate of N. C.

Upon motion, John Newell Esq. was made permanent chairman and Chas. McDonald, sec'y.

The nomination of a candidate next being in order, upon motion of a Brunswick delegate, Robt. H. Lyon of Bladen, was made the nominee by a unanimous vote. No further business being before the house the following resolutions were offered, received, and adopted, viz:

Whereas, it is understood that Robt. H. Lyon Esq., the liberal sentiment of the district for the Senate. And whereas this convention has confidence in his ability in his peculiar fitness to represent the people of the district, and in his sincere devotion to the principles and purposes of the present coalition against the Democratic party.

And whereas the Republicans of this Republican district are willing to show by endorsing a liberal for the Senate that they are willing to accept the coalition movement in good faith, therefore resolved that we endorse Robt. H. Lyon Esq. as a candidate for the Senate in the counties of Bladen and Brunswick.

Republicans of Bladen and Brunswick, let us pull together; let every man put his shoulder to the wheel, and let us show to other counties in the State that our intention is, as far as is in us, to carry the election of Deebury, Canaday, Lyon, Doby and every county officer to victory.

CHAS. McDONALD, Sec'y.

Ab! Indeed.

Senator Ransom was wearing a yellow calico shirt.—Morning Star.

Ab, indeed. I Senator Ransom any better than many a hardworking, honest man, who has not got anything better than a yellow calico shirt to wear, that it should be bruited about as an extraordinary piece of condescension for him to wear a calico shirt. Just think how he will gladden his cleave when arrayed in apertly linen and strutting his grandiloquent swagger in Washington, thinking how he "whipped up" the "poor white trash" in North Carolina by making it conspicuous that he was enough like them to descend to the wearing of a yellow calico shirt.

LOCAL CHIPS.

Does your new house suit you. Register! Register!!! Register!!! Our streets are getting dry and dusty. Some very fine New River Oysters are now coming in.

Pender Superior Court convenes on the 15th of December.

It seems to be a hard matter for the Democrats of the state to get organized.

The Passport has been thoroughly overhauled and is now ready for towing.

Don't forget that if you want to vote at this election that you must Register.

Let every Republican and Liberal see to it that his name is properly registered.

The Daily Review has been moved to new quarters on Market between Front and Second streets.

Dr. Deems lectured in Raleigh for the benefit of the building fund of the Edenton Street M. E. Church on Thursday evening last.

Our Jewish friends gave a complimentary ball at Germania Hall on Thursday night last, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Meeks, and Mr. and Mrs. Kasproff.

The old shingle house in the rear of the McRee house, on Second bet. Market and Princess streets, and the old "poof house" both of which are in a very bad condition, and are in need of repair, have been ordered to be torn down by the city authorities.

The Democrats had a speaking at the Oaks on Wednesday night last, where there was gathered together about 100 Democrats, 20 Republicans and 25 Liberals; and yet the Review says there was a goodly crowd present.

Messrs. R. J. Scarborough & Co., are fitting up the store on the south side of Market street, formerly occupied by Mr. E. Thorburn, and will in a few days open a first class grocery store. Success to you Robert.

CITY ITEMS.

Look to It!

Remember that an entire new Registration is necessary this election. The last registration will not answer for the election in November next. The last election was for City Aldermen and a different set of books were used, and now for the November election another set of books are to be used. Look to it, Republicans and liberals, and see that your names are properly registered.

John Has Got It!

If you want good oysters, or a good meal of good-well, you know where just step over the way to John's, at the North Carolina House, and you can get it, John keeps everything in first class order, and if he is not present himself, he has "A Poppe," who will attend to your every want with pleasure.

We publish below the bids for the work for improving the Cape Fear River. The bids on this work were: R. Moore, Mobile, Ala., 17-20 cts. per cubic yard. The National Dredging Company, of Wilmington, Del., get the work at 14-10 cts. They are to commence work in January.

Judge Meares and his Criminal Court.

Judge Meares decided on last Friday in open court, that there should be at least one distinction between his court and John Robinson's dress; so when the audience in court applauded at the rendition of a verdict of acquittal in a case which had been heard by the Honorable Judge Meares, he sent the applauders, or so many as he could identify, to jail. John Robinson's clown laughs at applause. How things do differ some times.

In Memoriam.

The Fifth Ward Meeting.

Wednesday pursuant to advertisement, the people of the Fifth Ward met in the Fifth Ward. Messrs. John D. Bellamy, A. G. Ricard and John C. Davis, after being asked to divide time with the Liberals and Republicans and refusing to do so.

Mr. Ricard led off in a kind of sing-song, revised history of the Republican party, and in the course of his remarks endeavored to introduce what to him might have been a joke, but which to the audience proved a source of amusement. It commenced in China went over to Ireland, and then, like John Kelly, got mixed up with the Republican party. As Mr. R. turned over the leaves of his little speech we heard an aged colored woman remark: "Dat white man is doing got a song book and is singing."

Mr. R. was frequently interrupted by the working men in the audience plying him with very pertinent questions which he failed to answer.

Mr. R. was followed by Mr. Davis, who started off on a regular biographical sketch of himself presumably; giving his opinions and experiences of how young men should go through the world and fight the battles of life, when which he drifted into politics and pitched into the Republican party and Col. Canaday in regular Websterian style. "The boy stood on the burning deck" fashion.

Then followed John D. Bellamy, Jr., who gave notice of the ring succeeded by a policeman in full uniform who introduced him as only a policeman of his ability knows how: Mr. B. came forward as smilingly as if he saw a sea in the far distance, and at once opened on the grand old Democratic principles which "Boss" Greeley so ably represented; from these somewhat stated theories he branched off on the tariff, and showed Morrill of Maine, John C. Calhoun, Madison, Jefferson, and all the other great tariff authorities that they had all been in error, he did not say anything about peanuts at 25¢ cents a bushel or rice at 25¢ cent, but dealt in heavy commodities such as steel rails, &c. But anyone could see that John D's heart was not in the thing.

After Mr. Bellamy had concluded, the policeman above mentioned, no doubt feeling dissatisfied with the manner in which the regular speakers had presented their case, mounted the stand and in a flowing manner and ornate style, gave his audience a logical, rhetorical and finished dissertation. His flashes of wit were only equalled by the scintillations of lantern light from his brass buttons. This exuberant fancy brought delight to the heart, and a smile to the face of all the small boys who heard him. We commend him to the notice of the Police Committee of the Board. He is out of his sphere, such talent should be recognized, and such ardent seat rewarded.

With the exception of Mr. Bellamy, we failed to hear either of the speakers mentioned in going into the Fifth Ward they were in the wrong paw, which fact Mr. Ricard acknowledged by saying he would be agreeably surprised if he made one vote.

After the speakers, as advertised, had spoken, the Liberals and Republicans held a meeting on the same ground, and though the hour was late, the crowd all remained and judging by the cheering and enthusiasm, as compared to the Democratic meeting, was much more than the other.

Mr. E. H. King spoke for the Liberals and showed the working men where their interests lay in the coming election. He was repeatedly cheered by the crowd and was compelled to remain the stand and continue, twice after ending his speech.

He was followed by Mr. Taylor in a speech addressed to the colored voters of the ward.

The old bank yard is all right for the Liberal-Republican ticket this time.

Board of Aldermen.

The Board of Aldermen met in regular monthly session on last Monday afternoon.

The committee on Public Buildings reported progress on the sale of the Ninth Street District House.

The committee on Fire Department reported that the electric alarm was working satisfactorily.

The mayor stated that complaint had been made to him that Mr. W. Lattimer was encroaching upon Northway's alley with his wall. The City Surveyor had made a survey of the premises, and submitted plans showing that there was no encroachment by Mr. Lattimer.
