JUST SO.

The ohly conceivable 'reason which Ir. Dana can give why he will not upport Mr. Gresham for president, is hat "the Republicans must go." This s caudid at least, and it is the whole ruth. "Turn out the rascals," their political adversaries being "the rasals," of course, was the brief and comprehensive platform copied by the Democratic journals several weeks ago from an influential northern daily. "This is all nonsense," blurts out Mr. Dana, when the Herald interviewer talks of campaign issues and political principles. Beware of "rabbits," in the way of tariff and other question of goverumental economy, to lead you away from the chase sfter the offices, cries the Rabigh Observer. And yet this is "the grand old party of principle" bent on rebuilding the t bric of state on the oundations of the fathers! Alas! alas!

R. GRESHAM COMPLIMEN-TED.

Hon. Mr. Gresham, the Posmaster heral ought to feel most hugely lattered, the great Mr. Dana, the apollo four political system, who drives the ire looled steeds of the Sun around out lependent and obeisance-making arth, once regularly in every twentyour hours, inclusive of Sunday for works of charity; and who in sheer nity for the Star route contractors, having eclipsed them in their own game; this great Mr. Dana, we say, only fall ing short of his mythological predecessor in the graces of ready speech, admines to extravagantly the "perfectly pure, upright, honest and able" mem ber of the cabinet from Indiana that he could "almost exhaust the Eoglish language in his praise." Not improbably the modest Postmaster General would have been quite overcome by such rapturous declarations had he not discovered, a moment later, that it was the English language alone, and unassisted, which was to bear the burthen of such devotion; for when asked if he could support his friend for the presi dency, "Oh, no;" was the prompt and candid answer, "because the Republicans must go!"

ment of the Herald, that it is very kind and condescending on his part to take N. C., one of the very best lawyers in the people into his confidence at this the state, proposes (so we have been ininteresting political conjuncture. If formed by a brother attorney) to get up generally aware of how highly they a condensed report of the North Carohave been honored, quite likely it is lina Supreme Court decisions for the benefit of the bar of the state. This that they would have hung their sweaty will certainly be a very timely and usenight caps on the moon to do him revful publication, and we know of no erence, and uttered a deal of stinking breath enough to bring on a swoon in man in the state so exceedingly well qualified for the work as the above one of so delicate and lady like a stomach. But realiy we glean some sterlgentleman. We heard one of the olding truths from this interview with est and ablest lawyers in North Carolithe chief of the Tribune. The stout and cherry head of the Commercial Advertiser delivers to the Herald reporter such "rugged maxins hewn from life," as seem native to the man who utters them, and which spoken on such an occasion deserve to be regarded as apples of gold in pictures of silver. He clearly discerns the wish of the Democrats to "A great deal smaller, but decidedly more select." So soliloquized the Herald, no doubt, when contrasting its corps of hinkers on the presidential nominaion with those of the active and smbitious Times. Dana, Reid and Hastings; a titanic trinity. No less, perhaps, in their own opinions than in that this particular. We have some men in of others. It has been objected to the practice of forensic advocacy that the indiscriminate defence of right and wrong fends to blunt, in time, the speaker's own moral sensibilities. On an analogious line of thought, we may account for the fact Mr. Dana, with special facilities for sounding every depth and shoal of Mr. Tilden's political designs, should have been so sigually uninformed therein as to make his late confident utterances almost ludicroas in their variance from the truth. His practices in the art of sophistry, to give consistency and verisimilitude to Dorsey's timely and serviceable disclosures(?) have made him the dupe of his own powers, and his nature has become subdued to what it works in. We almost regard it as proridential that, just as he is tempted to put his talents to such bad uses, his capacity for leading others into error is so happily diminished, by such an instance of his pretentious short sightedbess. The brilliant but shailow Mr. Watterson may be deceived, but the subile and unerring Dana cannot go astray. He "cannot conceive of any intelligent mind believing for an insant ' that Mr. Tilden would accept a nomination. So, that settles it. "I am Sir Oracle, and when I ope my lips et no dog bark." Meanwhile the vetetan of the cypher dispatches has sprung his mines underlying the Union, and there's a new collector." "Who is it?" was the cuery. "Isaac J. Young," was with Reid in regarding Arthur as the inan to nominate. While these "interviewers" continue the customary quantity of taffy and twaddle; they contain also much food for solid thought, and we can but thank the Herald for a kind and timely service.

OFFICE HOLDERS.

The Democratic, party has always tried to make it appear that the Federal office holders of North Carolina. have paid the expense of the Republican campaigns; nothing could possibly be wider the mark. The fact is, there are no other class of officers under the sun that pay so little for election pur poses as the Federal officers of North Carolina do. If you want to strke the ordinary sand of a N.C., Federal office holder speak of money to him, and succeed entirely. They will pay out some and offer a little liberal when delegates are to be made, but that is because they want to be elected themselves as said delegates. But if they are called on during a campaign, or keeping up New York. the organization other than the sbove. they will run to some Democra ic paper with the news. Of course there are some few honorable exceptions, a few who believe they owe something to the party that honor them with office, but they are the exceptions. North Carolina needs a shaking up very badly in high office that toady too much for the sake of recognition by certain Democratic society, they should be kicked out of office and that very soon.

LICENSED DEFAMERS. Again and again will the persual of 'Dorsey's Budget" manipulated by Dana, recall to our memory some pregnant passage in Sheridan's immortal "school for scandal."

"Oh Lud, Sir Peter," cries lady Sneerwell, "would you deprive us of our privileges?" "Ay, Madam," he an swars, "and then no person should be permitted to kill obaracters and run down reputations, but qualified old maids and disappointed widows,"

As all the offices of life are most profitably filled by those best qualified for the work to be done, we would respectfully suggest that the monopoly of licensed slanderer for the United States (if not against the "genius" of the constitution to establish and confer such) be given to the New York Sun. Then, not only the ladies, but the wen and little children would have abundant opportunity to try Mr. Garrick's remedy for count, "caused by a dearth of scandal, should the vapours distress our fair once let them read the papers
