BY W. W. ALEXANDER. MING TTEN THE REAL PROPERTY.

Far on distant outpost pacing, Twilight shadows round him chasing, Watchfully his danger facing-Walks the sentinel alone. Tried and true in many a battle. In the fiercest din and rattle. In the charge of men and cattle-Foremost ever was he known.

IL ( and ) with Pauses he and it were seeming. That his mind in fancy teeming. Was of home and loved ones dreaming, As he pauses there alone;-Dreaming of his father, mother; Dreaming of his sister, brother; Dreaming, too, of still another, While the stars above him shone.

III.

Happy dreams of coming pleasure, When from war he would have leisure For enjoyment without measure, With the loved ones dear at home :--And his eye lit up more brightly, And his heart heat fondly, lightly, As he thought how they would nightly Think of him where'er he'd roam.

There he stood and dreamed and pondered Dreamed of home and never wondered If those ties would e'er be sundered-Happy, heedless sentinel. Those who will in this life borrow Trouble for the coming morrow, Add unto their store of sorrow. That the future's hid, is well.

A GREAT FAMILY FESTIVAL -An English paper says: "Lord Warkworth's coming of age at the end of next month will be celebrated with extraordinary rejoicings at Alnwick Castle the ancient seat of the illustrious house of Percy. The young Lord Warkworth will at-tain his majority on the 29th proximo, on which day agrand entertainment will be given to upwards of one thousand persons, tenants and others, on the extensive family property in the north. The great tent constructed by order of the third Duke, expressly for the reception of Queen Victoria and the late Queen ception of Queen Victoria and the late Queen Adelaido, and the late Queen of the Belgians, calculated to accommodate upwards of one thousand guests, is to be taken from Sion, Isleworth, to Alnwick. The marquee is to be erected on the lawn adjoining the castle, where the whole of the tenantry on the ducal estates are to be entertained." JEBUSALEM.—The British consul at Jerusa-JERUSALEM,-The British consul at Jerusalem reports that the population of that city in 1866 was 18,000, of whom about 5,000 were Mohammedans, 9,000 Jews, and the remainder Christians of various denominations. Two lines of telegraph connect Jerusalem, with Europe. The chief native industry is the manufacture of soap and what is called Jeru-salem ware, consisting of chaplets, crucifixes, beads, crosses and the like, made principally beads, crosses and the like, made principally of mother-of-pearl and olive wood, and sold to the pilgrims who annually repair to the Holy City to the number of from 6,000 to 8,000. The principal imports from England are cotton and colonial goods. Of the former some three or four hundred bales, of the value of from £16,000 to £20,000, are imported annually. ANTI-RITUALISM.-In order to guard his fold against the ritualists, the Bishop of Man-chester, England, now propounds the follow-ing queries, among others, to candidates for priest's orders; "What are the rules of our church with respect to the bread and wine church with respect to the bread and wine used at the Lord's Supper, and with respect to the consecration of the elements, and what breaches of these rules have been fallen into by some few clergy? State the reasons there are against these practices. What vestments are to be used by the clergy in their ministra-tions? Give your reasons against reviving the use of obsolete vestments, such as the cope and the chasuble."
