NEW BERN, MAY 18, 1867.

Reading matter on every page. It than ever.

SHALL NORTH CAROLINA BE RESTORED.

The final action of the Supreme Court of the United States, in the Georgia and Mississippi cases is certainly a matter of the deepest significance to every citizen of the un-reconstructed States. Every intelligent and thinking man, must now be convinced that all attempts to prevent the government from carrying out the plan provided by Congress, must prove utterly abortive. The complete success of the measure, chiefly rests with the Southern people. If they decree by their course of political action, that the plan proposed is to be a finality, it will be so, and the great problem of re-admission will be completely solved. That Congress is finally and honorably pledged before the country and the world, to meet the terms laid down with inflexible fidelity, there can be no dispute. Congress means to do this, and why any longer doubt it? that the republican ball "goes rolling on," Regarding this position, then, as the cor- gathering strength and power at every rect one, does it not behoove us all, white evolution. All other questions of a political character, sink into insignificance, when compared with this present living vital subject of reconstruction.

WIT AND RIDICULE.

The field of "wit and ridicule" must. by common consent, be hereafter abandoned to the Editor of the "Journal of Commerce." The very fact that he cooly and gravely presents himself as an expert in the use of these weapons, is certainly one of the keenest and most crushing attempts at wit, of which we have any recollection. In vain, may any modern wit-"tax his wits" to excel the sharpness of this performance. Look well to your laurels John G. Saxe!

THE ASSAULT AT MOBILE.

The flagrant and outrageou sassault made upon Judge Kelley and his friends at Mobile (attrocious at any time,) may be regarded as particularly unfortunate at this juncture. For the sake of the country, and the South especially, we trust the event may meet with the most positive and decided reprobation. We will not believe that any great number of Southern people will countenance the outrage, from the patent fact, that if the right of free-speech has not been secured, nothing, whatever, worth securing has been established. A man of Judge Kelley's prominence and acknowledged ability as a member of Congress, and his well known characteristics as a corteous and high minded gentleman, should have precluded the possibility of insult or assault at any time or place.

We will await the result of the unfortunate event with deep anxiety, hoping ters, mob-violence, springing from any and all sources may be effectually put down. So far as this locality is concerned, we do not doubt but that Judge Kelley could be heard just as peaceably as in front of his own dwelling in Philain Mobile at least, the spirit of the rebellion is still fresh, and that the military power of the government will have to be brought vigerously into requisition.

To the honor of many leading Southern An Assault on Judge Kelley-Several Person citizens of Mobile, we see the bloody affair meets with their open condemnation. Such we trust will be the spirit, evinced by every honorable and law abiding resident of the South. If the opposite feeling should unfortunately be shown, then, indeed will the real spirit of radicalism in the North receive a stronger impetus

WITHHOLDING THE NEWS

In view of the fact that both of our contemporaries of this City, have lately been defending the superior loyalty of men who make a boast of their treasonable record, it is not surprising that they failed to give any account, in their yesterday's issue of the infamous rebel assault made upon Judge Kelley, at Mobile, on Tuesday last.

It is rather singular that newspapers, who clip a column of " Telegraphic News' from their mail, should fail to find in the same mail an account of a serious riot in one of our largest cities. It seems to be an unpleasant task for these journals to report the practical workings of their

The colored people of Wayne county held a mass meeting at Sauls' Cross Roads on the 12th instant, and were addressed by James E. O'Hara. It is most gratifying for us to know that it was one of the largest meeting that has ever been held at the above-mentioned place, there being present about five hundred colored people and one hundred or more whites.

Notwithstanding the whites, I dare say, were on the other side of the fence in their views, they earnestly listened to the true prin-ciples of the National Republican party, plainly set forth by the speaker; and I have every reason to believe that the seed fell upon good ground, and will bring forth fruit abundantly.

THE NEWS

By Telegraph to the New York Tribane REBEL RIOT IN MOBILE.

Mobile, Ala., May 14—Midnight.—A murderous and bloody affair occurred here this evening. A desperate attack was made upon Judge Kelley, and the body of gentlemen who surrounded him, on the steps of the Old Court-House, at the corner of Government and Rov-

d str., during the meeting held this evening. The Judge had been speaking about a quarter of an hour in a frank and temperate man ner, when there appeared to be a disposition to create a disturbance on the outskirts of the meeting. Cries of "put him down," were heard, to which Mr. Kelley replied: "I tell you that you cannot put me down. The 15th Infantry are at my back, and if they cannot keep the peace in Mobile, the United States Army can.

The tumult suddenly broke out at this point by a sudden rush toward the platform, and a the meeting last night. general scattering of the crowd. About 100 people were on the platform, including many eminent citizens, reporters of the local press, and the correspondent of The N. Y. Herald, who sat beside Judge Kelley, and the correspondent of The Philadelphia Inquirer. This rush seemed to be the signal for the melee to commence. The Chief of Police attempted to arrest a ringleader on the borders of the crowd and he drew a pistol on him. The cry of "Fire!" was then raised at the corner of Royal st., and instanlly a perfect fusilade of pis tols was opened on the crowd who occupied the platform. In a moment'a colored man who stood beside your correspondent fell, being struck in the head. Again the cry of "Oh; God!" and a heavy fall announced that another had been laid low. Some friends dragged Judge Kelley from out of the range of fire, and finally succeeded in getting him away un-

For several minutes the fire continued to be directed to the platform, the occupants of which were hastily making their escape, while others endeavored to protect themselves by getting behind the table, which afforded little protection, as those nearest the platform were evidently firing under it. One man was badly wounded by a shot thus aimed, and a ball glanced off a water bucket which fortunately stood between your correspondent's head and the assassin's benevolent intentions

The firing was by this time directed right and left among the crowd in the street, who be no attempt on the part of the police to arrest the violence, or if there was it was ineffectual, for the Rebels had it all their own way.

It is impossible to tell at this hour how many were shot. I saw three fall in my immediate vicinity; but I occupied the place of a target. I saw one poor boy carried off the ground

It was evidently a preconcerted affair, and was probably stimulated by incendiary articles in the Rebel press for the past few days, Col. Shepperd who commands the military here, at once dispatched a body of troops to the Battle House, where Judge Kelley is stopping. They are now on the ground in front of the hotel, where Col. Shepperd has taken up quarters for the night. The city at present is quiet. The Republican party is not as strong here as in New Orleans. All the municipal offices are filled by Secessionists, whose hostility to the Government has not abated a jot. Even some of those who have accepted pardons, with all its sworn obligations, are still, in word and action, it is said, bitterly opposed to the legislation of Congress, and to a great ex-has detailed a guard to take possession of that locality until morning. The whole military force, who are encamped about a mile from the place of meeting, have been ordered into the city, and are now posted at different points, prepared for attempt or re-

Judge Kelley very cooly descended from the platform, amid the fire, pushed his way through the crowd, reached his hotel in safety, the rebel papers, that he had made a conhat, who subsequently got off with the only hat left on the table, which fortunately proved to be Mr. Kelley's, and therefore there was no loss of property in hats. It is said that several white men, who probably had no part in the attack, were shot in in the melee. Mr. Goldsmith was killed, and Mr. Podberry, late Chief of Police, was shot in the forehead. A policeman had a ball put through his wrist.

It appears that shot, guns and muskets, as well as pistols, were used, but the firing was so rapid and continuous that it was difficult to tell what kind of arms were employed.

If any disposition to renew the riots is shown it is probable that the city will be placed undermartial law. Col. Sheppard is now in council with Mayor Withers upon the subject, and before morning we shall know the result of their

To add to the confusion, the fire alarm was rung, which brought an additional crowd to the spot. The rush made toward the stand was resisted by such of the gentlemen as were around. The excitement to-day is so great that the investigation is postponed. The Mayor and Col. Shepherd will make a rigid inquiry into the matter. The United States troops are still posted throughout the city, a squad occupying the front of the Battle House. We Col. Shepherd has acted nobly. He was at the scene of the riot during the massacre, and hastened to the camp to call out the troops. He is now in Judge Kelley's room in the Rattle House. The individual state of the confusion, the fire alarm was a registration of the male citizens of the United States, 21 years of age and upwards, residents of North and South Carolina, not disfranchised for participation in the rebollion.

Since writing the forgoing, we have received additional particulars of the riot and mob at Mobile. The occurrance as it will be seen by the latest news, was one of the most shocking and deplorable character. It demonstrates clearly, that
