That sheds its halo round us still Of soft immortal light, When we change youth's golden coronal For a crown of silver white, A love for sickness and for health, For rapture and for tears, That will live for us and bear with us, Through all our mortal years.

And such there is :--there are lovers here, On the brink of the grave that stand, Who shall cross to the hills beyond, and walk Forever hand in hand. Pray, youth and maid, that your fate be theirs Who are joined no more to part; For death comes not to the living soul. Nor age to the loving heart !

Summer's Walrussia pamphlet begins at the me of Behring's discovery and continues to he speech made upon the purchase by the hairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations. It is very learned and very long, would fill a whole issue of the New York Triwould fill a whole issue of the New York Tri-bune, if set in solid type, and leave eight col-umns to spare for the next day. Every col-lateral question in history, in science, in ethics, in classics—in everything that can be conge-nially and cogently whipped into line to bear upon the matter—has been done, with all that terseness of diction, that felicity of figure, and withal simplicity of statement that char-acterize the pen of the Massachusetts statesdans and the call, reflecting the sentiments of the loyal men of the pose is urgently demanded : therefore, 1. Resolved, That in view of our present politi condition, our relations to the National Government a the people of all sections of the country, we do this of with proud satisfaction unfurl the brilliant and glorid banner of THE REPUBLICAN PARTY, and carnestly peal to every true and patriotic man in the State to ra peal to every true and patriotic man in the State to rai to its support. The splendid and patriotic record made by this gre political organization, in standing by the general go ernment with an inflexible resolution, in carrying its ward profound measures of statesmanship to a success ful issue, and the powerful aid given by it in final overthrowing and prostrating the most gigantic reb-lion of ancient or modern times, should command the respect and challenge the admiration of every cand man. man.

2. Resolved, That the American Congress is eminer 2. Resolved, That the American Congress is eminent entitled to the profound thanks of the whole count for its persevering, persistent and heroic devotion to t great principles of human rights as emunciated in t Declaration of Independence: that in the name of t patriotic people of this State we feel warranted in c dially assenting to and accepting the reconstruction pl recently and finally adopted by that body, and to the e that peace and order may be permanently secured a every industrial pursuit resumed and encouraged, plader ourselves to use every fair and locationate merpledge ourselves to use every fair and legitimate me to influence public sentiment to the nearest possible proach to manimity on this subject.

 Resolved. That we rejoice that the dogma long p pagated, of the right of peaceable secession under Constitution, has been forever overthrown by majestic uprising of the American people, in crush out the late rebuilion by form of arms, and that ont the late rebellion by force of arms; and that doctrine that the supremacy of the general governm has been established, and that the paramount allegis of the citizen has been acknowledged as due to
