Come sit by me, Katy, and tell me Of what he was talking last night! When you stood at the gate till the moon-Had quenched all the stars with their light!

You came back with cheeks growing crimson, And eyelashes glittering with tears, And a smile, which half sad half triumphant, Still over your sweet mouth appears.

Did he talk of the beauty of summer?
Or praise the wild rose's perfume? Or speak of our arbors so rustic, Where woodbine and jessamine bloom?

He told you a "story" Oh! did he?
Well, Katy dear, tell it to me!
You've "almost forgot it?" Already!
How very much flattered he'd be.

You say you "think I may guess it!"
Yes, Katy, the story I know;
"Tis an old tale, yet always a sweet one—
I'm certain that you found it so.

It was new in the first days of Adam, When wandering through Eden's fair bow-In Eve's little ear it was whispered, While she, blushing, played with the flow-

You're blushing, too; what is the matter? Why, what are you crying about? Your grandfather told your grandmother The very same story, no doubt.

Just three little words tell this story-What thousands of hearts they have thrill-How many with joy have they gladdened! How many with sorrow have filled!

These three little words: "I love you!" You see 'tis the very same tale That you heard there last night by the wood-Beneath the moon's silvery veil:

Don't say that I know nothing about it— You know very well it is true; But Katy, my dear, did you tell him The same story that he told you?

GREEN THINGS GROWING

BY THE AUTHOR OF "JOHN HALIFAX." Oh, the green things growing! the green things

The fresh sweet smell of the green things growing! I would like to live, whether I laugh or grieve, To watch the happy life of the green things

Oh! the fluttering and pattering of the green things growing; Talking each to each when no man's knowing; In the wonderful white of the weird moonlight, Or the gray dreamy dawn when the cocks are

I love, I love them so, the green things grow-

And I think that they love me without false For by many a tender touch they comfort me

With the mute, mute comfort, of green things And in the full wealth of blossoms glowing,

Ten for one I take they're on me bestowing.

Ah! I should like to see, if God's will it might Many, many a summer of my green things

But if I must be gathered for the angels' sow-Sleep out of sight awhile-like the green things

The proper folk-songs of this country should be sought, we suppose, among the aborigines, but the capacity of the Indian for music does not appear to be equal to his reputed capacity for eloquence. The negro possesses both these gifts in a high degree, and it is singular that no one up to this time has explored for preservation the wild, beautiful and pathetic melodies of the Southern slaves. Their secular songs, or what purported to be such, have in time past found their way into all mouths; but their "spirituals"—the genuine expression of their eminently religious nature—have only recently claimed attention. We are able to announce a collection, based on the Port Royal hymody, and including the songs of as many Southern States as are obtainable, which will be published either in the course of this will be published either in the course of this year or at the beginning of the next. proposed as Article XIV of the Constitution of the United States. As this amendment forms part of the basis of reconstruction adopted by Congress, we publish It for general information and reference.

The amendment has up to this date (April 4) been ratified by the following States: Connecticut, Illinois. Indiana, Kansas, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Massachusetts, Nevade, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Vermont, West Virginia, Wisconsin-21 in all.

The amendment has been rejected by the Legislatures of Delaware, Maryland and Kentucky, and by all the unreconstructed "States," to wit: Alabama, Arkansas Georgia, Florida, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Texas and Virginia-13 in all. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representa-tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, (two-thirds of both Houses concurring,) That the following article be proposed to the Legisla-tures of the several States as an amendment to the Con-stitution of the United States, which, when ratified by three-fourths of said Legislatures, shall be valid as part of the Constitution, namely;

ARTICLE XIV. SEC. 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law, which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life liberty or water without due processes of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

SEC. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State, excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for Plesident and Vice President of the United States, Representatives in Congress, the executive and indicial officence. sentatives in Congress, the executive and judicial offi-cers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State, being twenty-one years of age, and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion or other cruze, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the propertion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years

SEC 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States or under any State, who having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, and I or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may by a vote of two-thirds of each House remove such disability.

But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in id of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims shall be held illegal and void.

SEC. 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article.

BILL FOR RECONSTRUCTION. The following is Senator Sherman's substitute for Stevens' bill, with Wilson's and Shellabarger's amendments in the House, as it was finally passed. Wilson's amendment is the latter portion of section five, com-mencing at the word "provided." The sixth section is Shellabarger's amendment: A BILL TO PROVIDE FOR THE MORE EFFICIENT GOVERN-MENT OF THE REBEL STATES.

Whereas, no legal State governments or adequate protection for life or property now exists in the rebel States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana, Florida, Texas and Arkansas; and whereas, it is necessary that peace and good order should be enferced in said States until loyal and republican State governments can be legally established.

Therefore,

Be it enacted, &c., That said rebel States shall be divided into military districts, and made subject to the military authority of the United States, as hereinafter prescribed; and for that purpose Virginia shall constitute the 1st district; North Carolina and South Carolina the 2d district; Georgia, Alabama and Florida the 3d district; Mississippi and Arkansas the 4th district, and Louisiana and Texas the 5th district.

Sec. 2. That it shall be the duty of the President

SEC. 2. That it shall be the duty of the President to assign to the command of each of said districts an officer of the army not below the rank of brigadier general, and to detail a sufficient military force to enable such officer to perform his duties and enforce his authority within the district to which he is assigned. SEC. 3. That it shall be the duty of each officer assigned as aforesaid, to protect all persons in their rights of person and property, to suppress insurrection, disorder and violence, and to punish or cause to be punished all disturbers of the public peace and criminals, and to this end he may allow local civil tribunals to take jurisdiction of and try offenders, or when in his judgment it may be necessary for the trial of offenders, he shall have growing;

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

Resolutions adopted by the Republicans of North Caro-lina, at a Convention held in Raleigh, 21th March, Having assembled in the City of Raleigh on the 27th of March, 1867, in conformity with a timely and patriotic call, reflecting the sentiments of the loyal men of the State, and believing the time is at hand when an open and fearless expression of sentiments, opinion, and purpose is argently demanded: therefore,

1. Resolved, That in view of our present political condition, our relations to the National Government and the people of all sections of the country, we do this day with proud satisfaction untuit the brilliant and glorious banner of The Republican Party, and carnestly ap peal to every true and patriotic man in the State to rally to its support.

The splendid and patriotic record made by this great the splendid and patriotic record made by the general govpolitical organization, in standing by the general gov-ernment with an inflexible resolution, in carrying forward profound measures of statesmanship to a success ful issue, and the powerful aid given by it in finally overthrowing and prostrating the most gigantic rebel-lion of ancient or modern times, should command the respect and challenge the admiration of every candid 2. Resolved, That the American Congress is eminently entitled to the profound thanks of the whole country for its persevering, persistent and heroic devotion to the great principles of human rights as enunciated in the Declaration of Independence; that in the name of the patriotic people of this State we feel warranted in cordially assenting to and accepting the reconstruction plan recently and finally adopted by that body, and to the end that peace and order may be permanently secured and every industrial pursuit resumed and encouraged, we pledge ourselves to the every feir and legitimate may be pledge ourselves to use every fair and legitimate means to influence public sentiment to the nearest possible approach to unanimity on this subject.

3. Resolved. That we rejoice that the dogma long propagated, of the right of peaceable secession under the Constitution, has been forever overthrown by the majestic uprising of the American people, in crushing out the late rebellion by force of arms; and that the doctrine that the supremacy of the general government has been established, and that the paramount allegiance of the citizen has been acknowledged as due to the 4. Resolved, That we sincerely exult in the fact that as a nation we are now absolutely a NATION OF FREE-MEN, and that the sun in all his course over our wide MEN, and that the sun in all his course over our wide spread country no longer shines upon the brow of a slave. Without reservation we heartily endorse the grat measures of Civil Rights and Impartial Enfranchisement without any property qualification, conferred without distinction of color, and that we are ready to unite in the early practical attainment of these inestimable privileges. Although the mortal remains of ABRAHAM LINCOLN now rest silently beneath the soil of his adopted State, yet his voice still rings like a clarion his adopted State, yet his voice still rings like a clarion through the land, earnestly summoning every American en to the support of the great Party of Liberty and Emancipation.

5. Resolved, That as the most potent and efficient means by which the South can speedily regain her lost prosperity, we earnestly advocate the spreading of knowledge and education among all men, and that to the attainment of this great end, we demand and shall per-sistently and firmly insist upon the absolute right of free discussion and free speech on all subjects of public in-

6. Resolved. That we join in an earnest wish for the maintainance untarnished and undimmed of the public credit and plighted faith of the nation.

The following resolution was offered by Mr. J. R.
O'Hara, of Wayne, and adopted:
Resolved, That this Convention tender their sincere thanks to Jas. H. Harris for the zealous and efficient manner in which he has labored at the North for the manner in which he has labored at the North for the cause of all loyal men in North Carolina and for her speedy return to the Union.

Mr. W. P. Henderson, of Davidson, offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That we esteem ourselves fortunate, in that so experienced and accomplished a statesman and soldier as Major General Daniel E. Sickles has been appointed to the command of this military district. We tender to him our hearty co-operation as loyal citizens in the performance of the important duties that have been devolved upon him.

Resolved, That we are gratified to learn that Gen. John C. Robinson has been assigned to the command of this State, under Gen. Sickles. His former administration of military affairs in this State has been such as to give us a most favorable opinion of his peculiar fitness for the position thus assigned him.

Mr. Carter introduced the following, which was also adopted:
