NEW ADVERTISEMENTS IN THIS ISSUE. MITCHELL, ALLEN & CO.—Agricultural Implements, Cotton Gins and Hardware.

STOCKHOLDERS MEETING.—The meeting of the Stockholders of the A. & N. C. R. Co. will be held at Lowthrop Hall to-day at 10 o'clock.

The Concert and Festival last Evening. The Concert and Festival for the benefit of the Episcopal Church, last evening, was a decided success. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather a large and fashionable audience assembled at the Court House.

Mocking Bird Chorus. SCHUBERT. Duet.—La Serenade. DONIZETTI. Solo.—Luca di quest' anima. VERDI. Trio.—From Attila. GANZ. Solo.—Nightingale's Trill. ANON. Quartette.—Craigiele. ANON.

It has never been our pleasure to hear a better amateur performance. Where all did so well, it is difficult to speak more in praise of one than another, but we cannot refrain from expressing our admiration for the excellent rendition of Schubert's Serenade.

The "Nightingale's Trill" was sung in part second, as an encore piece. Much taste was displayed in the selection of pieces, and the common custom of selecting Italian music only for the concert room, was happily deviated from by the excellent rendition of the German compositions.

MAYOR'S COURT.—There is an interregnum in the business of the municipal tribunal again. The attention of the police has been occupied in gathering up female delinquents in arrears to the city treasury for fines imposed.

COURT OF BANKRUPTCY.—Applications for the benefit of the late bankrupt act of Congress will now be received by R. F. Lehman, Esq., Register for this 3rd Congressional District, at his office on Broad street, three doors from Middle.

A NEW BASE BALL CLUB was organized in this city on Tuesday evening. "The Elm City Base Ball Club" is the name adopted. The following officers were elected: ROBERT HANCOCK, President.

THE FOURTH OF JULY.—At a meeting of the New-Berne Steam Fire Engine No. 1, on last Monday evening, it was resolved to parade on the approaching Fourth in full uniform.

THE FIFTH WARD REPUBLICAN ASSOCIATION meets at the Ward Room in the building on Pollok street, two doors above Fleet street. The room has been placed in complete order, and ample accommodations made to seat all the members of the Association and others who may attend.

THE SIXTH WARD REPUBLICAN ASSOCIATION will meet to-morrow (Friday) evening, at St. Philip's school house, corner of Muddy and Queen streets, at 8 o'clock. An election of permanent officers will be held, and other business of importance will come up before this meeting.

Messrs. Good, York and others will speak on the occasion. Let there be a full attendance.

THE THERMOMETER.—The highest range yesterday at the Club House, one of the coolest places in the city, was 92 degrees Fahrenheit in the shade.

RAILROAD NOTICE.—Messrs. Oliver, Hubbard and Pearce, the Committee appointed at the last meeting of the Stockholders of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad, to verify proxies, will be at the place of meeting half an hour before the time of assembling, for the purpose of attending to the duties of their appointment.

MAN KILLED ON THE RAILROAD.—A colored man named John Fisher was instantly killed near Southwest Creek, the scene of the late Railroad disaster, while assisting to raise a trestle.

BASE BALL.—THE TENTH RULE.—For the information of base ball players we state that the President of the National Convention has notified the Secretaries of the Clubs that hereafter the tenth rule must be observed and actually adopted, and not as mistakenly heretofore printed. Here is the rule as it is now in force:

Sec 10. If a batsman strikes a ball on which one ball has been called, no player can make a base on such a strike, nor can any player make a base if the batsman strikes a ball on which two balls have been called, nor if he strikes a ball on which three balls have been called, nor more than one base be made by each player occupying bases; in the latter event the batsman shall also be called to one base. If he strikes a ball on which a ball has been called, sections 8 and 9 of the rules shall apply. In either case the ball shall be considered dead and not in play until settled in the hands of the pitcher; in neither case shall it be considered a strike; and if a batsman wilfully strikes at a ball out of the fair reach of a bat, for the purpose of striking out, it shall not be considered as a strike.

NAVIGATION CLOSED.—The tide has fallen in the western suburbs of the city, and the waters have subsided. The weather, for the two days past, has been equal to the temperature in the torrid zone—hot enough to satisfy a native of Senegambia. But the flood has gone, and left behind, high and dry, a million of croakers—vulgarily called frogs. Their lives would not be safe for one moment were they in the vicinity of the frog-eating Frenchmen in the camp at Chalons, or the field of Mars. We are blessed now with fervent heat—next week we shall have the "dog days." Vive les croqueuses et le chaleur.

GOOSE PIES.—A demure looking female was jogging along Queen street yesterday afternoon, and while endeavoring to ford a pool at "the frog pond," slipped from the stepping stone and let slide her burden of goose pies from her head, thus playing the deuce with her tray. Hungry urchins gathered up the debris, "and munched and munched," like the tailor's wife in Shakespeare, who had "chestnuts in her lap." Materfamilias vanished from the scene, repining at the rainy season.

WHISKY BY THE GALLON.—Whisky was particularly active on Tuesday. Groups of men in various localities of the city who were chiefly matelots on liberty had selected shady retreats and were convivially disposing of their gallons. Soon after, we returned along the same route and found all quiet, or as Billwill-wisken Skiden observed in his great work on metrical syncope: "A few more old toppers stretched on the ground, All very drunk, sleeping very sound; Wake 'em up, shake 'em up, give 'em fresh air, Take 'em to the Station House and shove 'em in there."

MISERABLE MEN.—Men who are the creatures of circumstances, are sometimes prone to be oblivious of their antecedents, they should remember that "all that glitters is not gold," and that "fine clothes do not make fine men." The education of the cattle pen cannot in any case render a man competent to fill responsible public positions or justify them in attempting to place themselves on a par with gentlemen of refinement and learning. The position will not screen fraud or adulate a deliberate wrong to those sufferers whom ill-fortune may have placed for the time being under them. "Cucullus non facit monachum."

HE LOVED NOT WISELY BUT TOO WELL.—New-Bern has its peculiarities, it's crispulicant diversions and climacteric sequences. Some sections of our city are more susceptible of excitement than others, and South Front street is not an exception. A discarded lover, dramatically inclined, was publicly exhibited in that region, on Tuesday evening, by a resolute young lady. With all his tragic declamation he had forgotten the words of Byron, "Man's love is of man's life a thing a part, 'Tis woman's whole existence."

PERSONAL.—Alex. Eppler, Esq., of the popular firm of Baer & Eppler, took his departure yesterday for New York, on the steamship Ellen S. Terry, after a brief visit, accompanied by the family of his partner, Mr. Kaufman Baer and Louis Heilbronner, the active manager of their auction store. Mr. Eppler returns to New York to conduct the business of the house in that city, and to keep up the supply of fine goods for the establishment here. We wish them a speedy and pleasant trip.

THE WADSWORTH ARGUS thus speaks of the heavy rains in that section: On Sunday last this immediate section was visited by another heavy and destructive rain storm, heavier, it is said to have been, than those mentioned by us a week or two ago. For three hours, from 8 to 11 A. M., the rain fell in torrents, beating down small grain not yet cut, and corn and cotton, and wash lands. We hear of great destruction on all sides of us in consequence of the creeks and branches being unusually swelled, and of large quantities of wheat in the shock left in the low grounds, floated off, and fences swept away.

William Cullen Bryant and the Hon. Henry L. Dawes, Member of Congress, were born in the same house, in Cummington, Massachusetts.
