NEW ADVERTISEMENTS IN THIS ISSUE. MITCHELL, ALLEN & Co.-Patent Laboraving Well and Pump, Ice Pitchers, &c.

MARRIED .- In the Methodist Church, in this ity, on the 27th inst., by the Rev. R. W. Villis, Mr. R. R. HILL to Miss ELLEN E. HILTON, all of this city.

THE SECOND CONCERT for the benefit of he Episcopal Church was given on Thursday vening. We regret that the inclemency of he weather prevented a large number of adies and gentlemen from hearing one of the inest and most classical amateur performances that has been, or is likely to be, offered good will to men, I have selected it and re-

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING. - The annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Atlantic & North Carolina Railroad commenced in this city on Thursday. John D. Whitford, Esq., Dr. J. B. Hughes, C. C. Clark, Esq., of Craven, and John C. Washington, Esq., of Lenoir, President for the next year.

heard as yet of any arrangements for a grand Meteors and Elm City Club, just organized.

In our opinion such a match would be most vigorously contested, possessing as both Clubs do, so many excellent players. We believe it would be "nip and tuck" between them, and create more excitement than any game since HOT-HEADED MEN, as well as those whose brains are always cool, should repair to Phair & Farr's, on Pollok street, and select a suitable covering for the cranium; and although the weather of late has been far from being fair, dictator, but I do say that it seems to me that yet Messrs. Phair & Farr are entirely fair and reasonable in their prices, and cannot be outdone by any in New Bern. There you will find all descriptions of goods, and of hats no end, from the boy's chapeau to the Mexican | divine law, and let it be a human law. sombrero. Try them on !

DISAPPEARANCE OF FISH STALLS .- The unsightly fish stands, which have so long offended the public eye at the Middle street market, have been removed, in compliance with a resolution of the City Council. A commodious stand has been prepared for the fish venders in the rear of Messrs. Woolcott & Tinker's store, where our citizens can procure any species of the finny tribe the market may afford:

THE HEAT.—At 12 M. yesterday the mer- Bryant Mary Becton Mrs Eliza cury, in the Club House, rose to 88 degress.

A SHARK STORY .- Mr. Wilson, who is the nocturnal guardian of the property deposited on Foster's wharf, reports seeing a large shark Wednesday morning, in the river at that point. Mr. W. is a weather-beaten mariner himself, and has ploughed many a furrow on the briny deep. He thinks the man-eater would have measured from 12 to 15 feet. Swimmers be cautious how you plunge into the purling stream.

INTERESTING COLLOQUY .- Two meagre individuals, piratical-looking craft, were loitering around the auction stores last evening, and finally came to anchor on a contiguous bench. It seems that they had entered into a mutual pledge, on the 3d of June, not to drink any beverage or decoction other than aqueous fluid, until the 4th of July, the time of the contract being limited to one month. They congratulated each other that their day of deliverance was at hand, and repined over the severe privation they were enduring. Said the leanest one: "On the Fourth of July I'll be dog on'd if I don't go it stone blind to pay up for all

Ho! FOR A GOOD TIME. -Go to the corner of Craven and Pollok streets, and you will see a notice on the Northwest corner, summoning the members of the Phiseosnoscospocraphy Society to meet this evening, to make arrangements to celebrate the Fourth. Everybody is invited to join the society.

THE Fifth Ward Republican Association met at their Hall on Thursday evening. Mr. Hibbard, the Chairman, introduced the Rev. A. A. Ellsworth, who addressed the meeting. Mr. John Randolph made a few pertinent remarks, and was followed by Messrs. Hubbs and Hibbard.

On motion of Mr. Geo. Fisher, a vote of hanks was given to Mr. Ellsworth.

Resolved, That the next and all regular meetings of the Association in future be held on Friday evenings. The meeting adjourned, after singing the following thrilling song, set to a most appropriate and melodious air:

When Slavery Dies There'll be Freedom.

BY MINNIE WATERS.

When slavery dies there'll be freedom. Then only then, then only then; When slavery dies there'll be freedom, Then and only then. Though Peace should be our watchword. And plenty crown our board: If the poor slave is left in bondage, Chains will be worse than the sword.

Chorus.-When slavery dies, &c. Ye chiefs of the nation take warning. Speak for the right, speak for the right— What care ye for slander and scorning, Truth will seek the light. Our land, God will defend her,

When purged of guilty stains; When brother to brother shall render, Freedom from bondage and chains. When slavery dies, &c.

Come listen, ye men of the nation, This is the hour, this is the hour, To help in your country's salvation, Ere God's dread wrath shall lower. Hark now to Sinai's thunder. And Sinai's lightning see,-

Go burst all the bonds asunder, Say to the slave, "be ye free!"
When slavery dies, &c.

BEAUFORT N. C., June 24th, 1867. Mr. EDITOR:-As your paper seems to be one of the most liberal and law abiding, as well as an advocate of peace, equal rights and to a New Bern audience for some time to publicity to sentiments, which I conceive to be correct, and which I am sure must be ad quest a small space in its columns to give mitted by all, who are just to all, and hu man rights men. It is a fact indisputable, though painfully acceded, that if an opinion is expressed by an honest and sincere man, that man for his opinions is denounced, and by some is called a very bad man. Men of this illiberal class belong to that party (well it being too young to have a name), suffice it to say, they are opposed to the Republican party. Now ought, and can this state of things exist, and will they continue to exist? I trow not. I honestly believe that this country is to be free, not in a restricted, but free in its widest and broadest sense. Not free merely as respects the bodies of human beings, but a country free to think, free to speak, free to write and free to vote. The Almighty will most assuredly bring about this state of things; and I as firmly believe it, as that his were elected Directors for the coming year.

John D. Whitford, Esq., was re-elected dom and slavery. Who of those on the side of reason and the Bible, and who have BASE BALL ON THE FOURTH.—We have not mighty's hand was not only in, but conducted and ended the war; and if so, who could still match, on the Fourth of July, between the question his wisdom and goodness in that the end was just and right. Some people (of course not christains) argue that God had nothing to do with the war, and has less, if possible, to do with us, his creatures. It is no wonder that people of this class think themselves better than other people, and that those who differ with them are wrong. And it is no wonder that when one class of people think that between the Nationals and Meteors. Who themselves better than another class, that they should be uncharitable, and have limited views of their Maker, and less of his overruling Dog LAW.—It will be remembered that providence. When they resolve not to think more highly of themselves than they ought, is to do unto others as they would others do unto them, then there will be less fault-finding, and uncharitableness, and a disposition to raise up the bowed down and an effort to eradicate
