COMMISSIONS.

It is my intention to start on Monday (16th), for New York, Boston, Albany, and Utica; I shall return by the way of Washington. Any persons having commissions they wish executed in any of the above named cities can make arrangements to that effect, by calling on, or addressing, C. A. NELSON, Nov. 12th-54, Camden, N.C. Examine the goods and prices at BAER & EPPLE'S, Pollok street.

WORTH ADOPING AS A MOTTO.—One of the finest passages in Bulwer's "Richelieu" is the following: "Richelieu.—Young man, be bitter, for note you from the hour I was cast prisoner, think your condition stars rain-fortune on you." "Providence.—It'll fall!" "Bible.—'Fall'—In the bright lexicon of youth, which faith reserves for a glorious manhood, there is no such word as fall! And why should a young man fall, if he be honest, if he be honorable, if he be ardent if he be gifted with moderate intellectual powers, if he be right in heart, and strong in virtue, he will not fall. The youth is the father of the man, and if he has in himself the elements of glorious manhood, he can smile at the bitterest opposition of men.

LADIES ATTENTION.—Dress-Trimmings and Buttons at Half prices at BAER & EPPLE'S, Pollok street.

It is proposed to have a Thanksgiving Dinner, after the New England style, at the Congregational Chapel, on Middle street, on afternoon of Nov. 28th. All persons interested, and particularly the ladies, are requested to meet at the residence of I. Edwin West, corner East Front and Change streets, on Monday evening next, for the purpose of making arrangements.

Great reduction in the price of Photographs, at MORGAN'S GALLERY.

Corrections.—We take pleasure in stating that we have been positively assured that the firm referred to in our article headed "Political Intolerance," in yesterday's issue, did not discharge Mr. Starkey for his political opinion, but as they assert, for neglect of duty.

Prints and Domestic at wholesale prices at BAER & EPPLE'S, Pollok street.

Mayor's Court.—Before His Honor Mayor Palmer: Sam Hatch was arraigned on a charge of having stolen property in his possession belonging to Mr. Frederick Boesser. It appears that a few nights ago Mr. Boesser's house had been entered by burglars, and several articles of bedding taken therefrom, and it was a part of this property that had been found with Hatch. From the examination had, it appeared that Hatch was guilty of any part in the burglary, as he had bought the goods (a couple pair of blankets) from the notorious Ben Moore, the escaped member of the chain gang, and scoundrel that stole and slaughtered a cow recently.

Upon being interrogated, Hatch gave information in relation to Moore, that it was thought would lead to his capture, and accordingly sergeant Colgan and officer Keeler were sent in quest of the doubtful Ben, who, when the policemen arrived near the scene of action, in the extreme upper part of town was seen quietly coming out of the house to which they had been directed. Ben saw the guardians of the peace (?) approaching, and immediately "gave leg bail for his honesty," nobly pursued by the energetic Sergeant and officer Keeler. Ben soon tired the Chief out, but Keeler hung on his trail for some time, and during the chase fired several shots after the fugitive, but without any effect. The chase was continued until the officer found himself clear beyond the limits of the city and on the edge of a swamp, into which Ben had taken refuge, a hunt in which fail d to find him.

This Moore is a notorious scoundrel, and every effort should be made to capture him. He goes on from one villainy to another, and seems to bid defiance to all law and order, and the efforts made by the authorities to capture him.

Geo. W. Nason, Jr., Gen'l. Ins. Agt. ARREST.—Henry Fair was yesterday arrested by U. S. Deputy Marshal Kibbe on a charge of attempting to pass counterfeit U. S. coin. An examination was had and Fair discharged for lack of evidence.

GET THE BEST.—Home Manufacturer Ready-Made Clothing at BAER & EPPLE'S, Pollok street.

Young Folks.—For November, containing articles by E. Stuart Phelps, Celia Thaxter, E. Kellogg, Mrs. A. M. Wells, Clara Lott E. Bates, C. H. Webb, Frowbridge, and others, with the rich variety of illustrations, puzzles, music, and poetry, which makes it so popular for the young people. $2 a year.—Ticknor & Fields, Boston.
