tion. Grant is a man that the people North and South, Democrats and Republicans, will learn to respect and honor, even if that is not the case at present. Already he has made his policy known in regard to appropriations, and is strongly in favor of retrenchment. He will not sanction the wholesale expenditure that has been going on for the last few years. He says, pay the old debts before making new ones; and already government officers who hope for favor under his administration, are "hauling in their horus," and learning that conomy is wealth. His stated ideas in the matters pertaining to the expenditures of money are now causing retrenchment in the different departments, and all the people are looking forward to more pro-perous

Good bye Christmas. With allthe enjoyment incident to the day, it has gone, and we all resume our labors again, feeling better for the general exchange of good feeling, and for the delicacies that have loaded the festive board. It gives us great pleasure to say that drunkenness and riot were the exception, and not the rule on that holiday, and the streets presented a quiet and orderly appearance. The small boys burned a good many fire erackers, and considerable powder was burned by older people, but we have yet to learn of any serious accident or affray. Our exchanges all did the right thing for the occasion, in one way and another. Some of them had long and prosy articles by the column, that nobody would read, and others short spicy articles, that it was a pleasure to peruse; business was suspended, churches were opened and some of them well attended, and the great pleasure day of the season was enjoyed to its fullest extent.

If the New York Central Railread Company are making the great profits they exhibited by their scrip dividends, the revenue the United States should receive from it will be quite an item. We cut the following from the New York Tribune:

"The Directors of the New York Central Railroad Company recently made a serip dividend of eighty per cent. out of the alleged earnings or profits of the last few years. Presuming this fair and legitimate, we respectfully ask if there be not a considerable Income Tax due thereon to the Federal Treasury? If the earnings or profits of the Road had all been divided annually, and new stock (or scrip) issued to represent the increased value of the property, something handsome must have accrued therefrom to the Treasury. Will the Supervisor of Internal Revenue for this district be good enough to inquire into the matter? We want nothing but what is just.

The New York papers are full of reports regarding the arrest of Mr. Samuel Bowles, of the Springfield (Mass.) Republican, and his incarceration in Ludlow street jail in New York city. He was dollars' worth of point lace. taken at the Fifth Avenue Hotel in the evening, hurried away to jail in a carriage, and no body was allowed to com- on Friday. Both O'Baldwin and Wor municate with him till the next morning, so here he was obliged to stay. The cause of the arrest and libel suit was the appearance of an article in Mr. Bowles paper not particularly complimentary to against long skirts, &c., in ladies' dresses. Mr. Fiske, nor accusing him of being ex. And he adds: "On the other hand I paper not particularly complimentary to tremely honest. No body who knows will say, ladies, if we ask you to make of Mr. Fiske or his transactions, doubt that every word of the offensive article was strictly true, and this is no doubt the reason that Fiske felt particularly gronty about it. Mr. Bowles was liberated the next morning on $50,000 bail, and from a personal knowledge of the anxious inquiries: "Every one of you gentleman, we venture the assertion that pull off your coats, leave off your army he will yet get even with the notorious sixes, quit whiskey, go to work, make a railroad speculator. Millions of dollars could have been raised as security for his appearance within an hour of the time he was arrested, but the villainous arrangements of the New York Courts helped to evade the question, and while the roadside holding a horse which he they were beating about the bush the recognized. He asked the boy who was night passed. Well, Mr. Fiske, if you don't find your self in a pretty kittle of fish before you get through with the in the woods." The "crazy Dutchman" affair, then we are sadly mistaken in the was Prof. Louis Agassiz, character of Mr. Bowles.

For the past few weeks, the papers in "I would not dy in Ortum, this State have been filled with articles and notices in regard to the Swiss emigrants, who were brought here to settle When sassidge meat is phryin', grants, who were brought here to settle delicker, and who have not been Ow! who would think of dyin. treated as free men deserve. There has been so much raid, some of which was nothing loss than falseloud, by papers who tried to uphold the samply on of these people, that Mr. G. Watersonn, a Nuclea who influenced his friends to come here and settle in flyde, a few years ago, has taken the trouble to inform us in regard to the way they are treated.

He says they have been told they were to take the place of the negroes who were formerly slaves, and that in fact they have been treated as such. That they were Green promised a part of the crop in return for their wages, and when it was harvested 000 france. they have been driven from the plantstions without money or cotton to show for their labor. That they had actually begged themselves away from the county, and have become scattered, some go ing to the Atkinson plantation, near Goldsboro, and others nobody knows where, trying to find a place where honest toil would be repaid.

These people came with high hopes of pleasant home, and willing to work for t, and these hopes have been thwarted and they are scattered with no prospect asked. of coming together again, and without soney to enable them to go to the land they have left. Now who will say that this is right? It is a showne. We do not accuse all the planters of having the Grant will receive no visitors after 12 o'vlock heart to do this, and do not believe it would be just toward them to say that a majority would do it, but we do say that the fact that it has been done cannot be contradicted, and it is a disgrace to the men whose names are connected with the resolves a device of his personal estate to his

DEAN Sin: I have made a chemical examination of a sample of your Schledam Schnapps, with the intent of ditermining if any toreign or injurious substance had been added to the simple distilled spirits.

The examination has resulted in the conselusion that the sample contained no poisonous or harmful admixture. I have been madle to discover any trace of the distertions substances which are employed in the adulteration of liquors. I would not bestate to use my-self or to recommend to others, for medicinal purposes, the Schledam Schnapps as an excellent and unobjectionable variety of gin.

Very respectfully, yours.

Dean Sen: The want of pure Wines and Liquors, for medicinal purposes has been long felt by the profession and thousands of lives have been sacrificed by the use of subtreated articles. Belirion tremens, and other diseases of the brain and nerves, so rife in this cuntry, are very rare in Europe, owing, in a great degree to the difference in the parity of the spirits sold.

We have tested the several articles imported and sold by you, including your Gin, which you sell under the name of Aromania schiadam Schnäpps, which we consider justly entitled to the high reputation it has acquired in this country; and from your long experience as a foreign importer, your Hostied Wises and Liquors should meet with the same demand.

We would recommend you to appoint some of the respectable apothecuries in different parts of the city as agents for the sale of your Brandles and Wines, where the profession can obtain the same when needed for medicinal purposes.

We remain your obedient servants,
