THE REPUBLICAN is issued as an Independent and Progressive Journal which shall reflect the sentiments and opinions of the unmistakable loyal population of Eastern North Carolina, in an uncompromising opposition to the doctrine of Secession, and by a fearless advocacy of the eternal principles of

Union, Liberty and Equality before the Law.

The Republican will be devoted to the common interests of our people, with "malice toward none and charity for all"; it will plead for the maintenance inviolate of the National Government and its credit; the education by all available means of the people; the encouragement of immigration and the development of our agricultural, mineral and commercial resources.

UNCONDITIONAL UNION PAPER
in "Eastern North Carolina," the advantages which the Republican will offer as an advertising medium are apparent.

Frank P. Blair's War Policy.

It is well enough to keep the war-like letter of FRANK P. BLAIR before the people. Democratic papers have become frightened at the startling propositions it contains, and hence they suppress it. They dare not keep it before the eyes, even of their friends, and yet it is the red badge of the Democratic Party.

A BRIGHTER DAY

Harness the impatient years,
Oh! Time! and yoke them to thy imperial car!
For, through a mist of tears,
The brighter day appears,
Whose early blushes tinge the hills afar.

The dark blue Midland Sea
And the golden bay of the West
Of Western waters which once halloed thee queen!

The fiery cozzers sing
Their necks aloft, and snuff the morning wind,
Till the feet moments bring
The expected sign to spring
Along their path, and leave these glooms behind.

To thee the ancient Deep
Revealed his pleasant, undiscovered lands,
From mines whose jewels sleep
Tilled plain and vine-clad steep,
Earth's richest spoil was offered to thy hands.

Yet thou, when land and sea
Sent their tribute with each rolling wave,
And kingdoms crouched to thee,
Wert false to Liberty,
And therefore art thou now a shackled slave.

Put forth the sleeping strength that in thee
Lies, and reap the shameful chain,
And force that tyrant slave
To flee before the anger in thine eyes?

Then shall the harnessed years
Swing onward with thee to that glorious height
Which even now appears
Bright through the mist of tears.

The dwelling-places of Liberty and Light
To the Republicans of North Carolina.

Follow, Citizens.—We bring you "dixies of great joy." The great States of Ohio, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Nebraska have just voted for members of Congress and State officers, and the Republicans, after a most animated contest, have achieved a glorious victory.
We have carried Indiana by seven thousand, Pennsylvania by fifteen thousand, Ohio by twenty thousand and Nebraska by two thousand.
Grant heads the column, and his march is onward to victory as in times past, when he conquered for the nation at Shiloh, Vicksburg and Appomattox.—On his banner is inscribed those beautiful words, "Let us have peace!"—and millions of his countrymen are rallying around it.
This result in these States secures as the victory in November, if we are only true to ourselves.
Our opponents are beaten at the North, and here in the South they are dispirited and depressed. One gallant and united charge along the whole line on the 3d day of next month, and the day will be ours. The fruits of this victory will be peace, liberty and justice to all—a cessation of bitter party strife—a settled condition of affairs which will insure industry its reward, and lead to general prosperity and happiness among the whole people.
Best in mind, fellow-citizens, the importance of the election of the third of next month. We must carry this State for Grant and Colfax, and elect all our members of Congress. We can do this by thirty thousand majority.
Impress upon the people the necessity of registering their names as voters.
Let it be known also that there is but one day for voting. Let every Republican resolve that he will devote all his spare time to this work up to the evening of the election. And on the day of the election, let every Republican be at the polls early in the morning, with his vote ready to cast, and after he casts it let him work with others all day for the cause.
This is the way our friends won the day in the States mentioned, and we can do it here by similar efforts.
Fellow-citizens, the election is near at hand. Let us improve the time. Let every man do his duty, and after the 3d. of November let the Republicans of North Carolina will swell the chorus with millions of others for GRANT and COLFAX, LIBERTY and UNION.
C. L. HARRIS,
Ch. Rep. State Ex. Com.
Raleigh, Oct. 16, 1868.
